AT THE CROSSROADS

Next Tuesday is a historic day in the annals of the United States of America. It is a day on which the people will determine the destinies of future generations. No one person or group of persons can foresee future events nor can anyone predict where the election of this candidate or that candidate will lead. All that any voter can do is to think things through and make his decision on the basis of fundamental beliefs and truths.

Frequently in the course of life one finds himself faced with problems and situations which seem almost too big to bear. That is the crossroads at which the world has been standing for the past few years and at which America arrives tomorrow. Yet the bigger the problem the easier it is faced when it is stripped of all entanglements and reduced to that trust which always has been, is now, and always will be the guiding light of human man—Faith in God.

The human mind has been given control of his own destiny in some respects by the power to choose a course—yet the ultimate goal of that course or collection of courses, is reached only through God's will. There are many factors which will determine the road which this nation will take by the decision of the election but the goal will be reached only by a rebirth of spiritual strength and inherent faith which has been lost in the trying years of the past.

Party Lines Have Disappeared

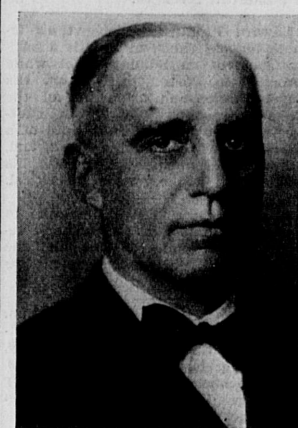

The election next week is no longer a contest between two parties of the people. The designated Republican candidate is not a Republican such as those who have usually carried the political banners. The third-term candidate is not a Democrat such as those who carried the banner before him. Party designation means nothing in our 1940 national election. While various factors, some espoused by Republicans and some espoused by Democrats, will unquestionably affect the outcome they are only minor issues advanced to attract votes of certain groups. These issues only serve to becloud and confuse the fundamental questions. It would take columns of printed matter and hours of speaking time to analyze and attempt to explain the reasons behind and the effect of these many political angles on the current campaign now approaching an end. We refer to the continuing abandonment of the New Deal by leading Jeffersonian Democrats, the division of the labor vote, the promise of support to one candidate or another by groups supposed to represent views of various races, age or youth, war or peace, government workers or private employees, working or idle, industrial or farm, North or South, or East or West. Politically effective—yes, but fundamentally not the vital or real issue.

Neither are the personalities of the candidates an issue although many votes next Tuesday will be cast on the like or dislike of one or the other. A moment of thought makes it clear that in this great democracy any man who has been chosen to be a candidate for the greatest public office in the world must have certain abilities of leadership, qualities of character, and physical energies to enable him to administer that office according to the dictates of his beliefs. Eight years ago the people turned to a man who inspired in them a trust and confidence in the solution of our domestic problems. Today that candidate tainted his third-term nomination and seeks to perpetuate his tenure of that office. In so doing he has destroyed that trust and confidence which would have been strengthened by a refusal to break down the very foundation of our free country. By the same token such domination takes

Community Forum Meeting Sunday

Past becoming one of the outstanding forums in America, the Newton Community Forum opens its current season next Sunday, November 3rd, with James T. Williams, brilliant journalist of Washington, D. C., as the speaker. He leads a 1940-1941 program that includes such headlines as Bruce Bliven, Will Durant, Vera Dean, Dr. Fishbein and Elmer Davis.

Former editor of the Boston Transcript, on the staff of the Associated Press and now a contributing editor to the Army Navy Journal, James T. Williams has covered world politics for the American press for thirty years. At a time when it is difficult to obtain it, Mr. Williams brings to the Newton Forum first hand information on the vital issues that face America today.

Few men can match his experience. A clear thinker, Mr. Williams has the faculty of deep penetration and the ability to put the world's news on the scales and weigh it accurately. His interpretations are trustworthy, his conclusions sound, his convictions strong and impartial. He is known as a straight from the shoulder speaker. He comes from his listening post in Washington primed with fresh facts and significant observations on the most important events and personalities in the news.

Mr. Williams' subject will be "Are the Real Issues in America National Defense and Foreign Policy?" The Newton Community Forum is held in the Newton High School Auditorium Sunday afternoons at 3:30. All citizens are invited.

Take Legal Action To Stop Business In Residence Zone

As a result of protests by Oak Hill residents City Solicitor Joseph Bartlett has filed a bill in equity in the Middlesex Superior Court to stop Robert E. Cuniff from conducting a trucking, gravel and loan business at 393 Brookline st., Oak Hill, which is a single residence zone. This section of the city was zoned for residence in 1922 and it was not until some time later that Cuniff began to use his property there to park his trucks and to store loan on the land. The City Solicitor filed a motion to have the case referred to a master.

Pistol Range Plan Must Be Changed

The proposed revolver range which was to have been built alongside police headquarters at West Newton as a WPA project, will not be erected under present plans, because WPA executives at Washington have decided it would be too costly. The estimated cost of the revolver range, according to WPA engineers would be $17,190. It is probable that new plans will be drawn up. The range had been planned to be 108 feet long, 16 feet wide and 9 feet high. It was to have acoustical walls and ceiling, and a special lighting system. The Newton Police Department has been asking for a practice range since it was deprived of the use of the National Guard Armory at West Newton because of army regulations.

Health Officer Choje Resigns

Dr. Harold D. Choje, for the past 5 1/2 years Director of Public Health for the City of Newton, has resigned to accept an appointment of Associate Professor of Public Health Administration at the Harvard School of Public Health. Under Dr. Choje's administration the Newton Health Department has greatly expanded its activities and increased its effectiveness. It is expected that the name of Dr. Choje's successor may be submitted to the Board of Aldermen at its next meeting. Dr. Choje's letter tendering his resignation, follows:

October 4, 1940.

Mr. John C. Madden,
378 Centre Street,
Newton, Mass.

Dear Mr. Madden:

I herewith submit my resignation as Director of Public Health for the City of Newton effective at the discretion of the Mayor.

I should like to state that my experience working with the city administration, the members of the Board of Health and the staff of the Health Department has been one of the most pleasant of my life.

It is only after long and mature consideration that I take this action, but an opportunity has been presented to me to attempt to make a major contribution to my chosen profession and I feel that I must give considerable time and attention to this work. It would be unfair to me to attempt to retain the directorship of Newton under the circumstances. Before October 15th, I shall prepare a written statement for the Board outlining the progress that has been made to date, and indicating the fields to which I believe my successor should give attention.

Again I thank you and the members of the Board of Health for your many courtesies and for the pleasure of working under your direction for the past five and one half years.

Very respectfully yours,
H. D. CHOJE, M.D.,
Director of Public Health.

Newton Firemen Answer Tax Payers Asso. on Two Platoons

Present Arguments In Favor of System

Thomas P. Joyce, president of the Newton Firemen's Welfare Association today issued the Association's answer to the Statement of the Newton Taxpayers' Association on Wednesday, October 23rd, 1940.

In answer to the statement issued by the Newton Taxpayers' Association we would like to call attention to the very first paragraph in which they say "The Newton Taxpayers' Association, Inc., is definitely opposed to the addition at this time of a Two-Platoon system for our fire department. The question is not one of added protection for the citizens of Newton, but is entirely a labor problem." We agree with this statement that the question is entirely a labor problem and we feel that the people of Newton, our employers, have a right and duty to give this labor problem serious consideration, especially since this schedule of hours was thought to be of vital necessity more than twenty years ago by the then Governor Calvin Coolidge, and has been adopted by every city of the Commonwealth with the exception of Newton. In Newton we have thirty-seven of these clerical men.

Further on in the same paragraph mention is made of the patriotic duty of the employees towards those who pay the taxes, and here too, we would bring to your attention the fact that your firemen are very proud of the rating enjoyed by our fellow citizens here in Newton. In the city of the six cities in the United States that are eligible for Class II rating out of all the cities in the country whose population is between 30,000 and 100,000. Certainly the firemen must recognize their patriotic duty when they can point to a record like this, even though such a splendid service has not brought working conditions on a par with any other city in the State. Of course the Taxpayers' Association would not have us believe that the duty of service and patriotism should be practiced solely by firemen, but should also be indulged in, to a certain extent, by all regardless of position in life, and certainly patriotism and fair treatment of city employees would seem to go hand in hand with particular attention being given the only group of employees who still work under the same conditions under that they worked twenty years ago.

In the second, third and fourth paragraphs of the statement, much is said about ratings and per capita fire loss, ending with the statement that four of the six cities above referred to are in Massachusetts and, that Newton enjoys the lowest per capita loss from fire of all these cities, seeming to justify the continuance of a schedule of hours that compel a man to stay on duty, day and night for two days and then giving him twenty-four hours off duty. The Taxpayers' Association claim a per capita loss of

Boy Seriously Injured by Hit-Run Driver

Saturday evening at 6:10 as Joseph Coffey, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Coffey of 105 Pearl st., Newton, was crossing that street at the intersection of Thornton st., he was hit by an automobile and hurled into the air. The child landed on the front bumper and left fender of the car. The driver of the car did not stop. As the car reached Bacon st. an eighth of a mile from where the boy was hit, a woman pedestrian seeing the child dangling on the fender, screamed. The driver of the car swerved the automobile, the unconscious child was hurled off, and the car ran over his body. The car continued on toward Centre st. and disappeared.

Sheldon Brown of 47 Gardner st., Newton, who was approaching in his automobile picked up the Coffey boy and rushed him to the Newton Hospital. There it was found that the boy had a probable skull fracture, a fractured left leg, brain concussion, possible internal injuries, besides bruises. His name was placed on the danger list.

Sergeant Sullivan with Patrolmen Goddard and McEnaney hurried to the scene and on Pearl st. found pieces of a headlight from a 1936 Pontiac car and also part of a broken strut from the bumper. Only two of the numbers on the registration plate had been observed by witnesses. A description of the car, and also of the headlight were sent out on the police radio.

Sunday afternoon Captain Veducio of the Newton police received a telephone message from a Boston attorney who said that he had been retained by the driver of the car that hit the boy. He stated that his client was unaware that he had hit the Coffey boy, until he read about the accident in the newspapers on Sunday and observed that a headlight on his car had been broken. The lawyer said his client would come to Newton police headquarters on Monday morning and surrender.

Want More Study On Lot Zoning

Monday night a meeting was held at the office of Howe Associates at Newton Centre which was attended by about twenty. Most of those present were Newton realtors, and a few bank officials also attended. Alderman George Rawson, chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee of the Board of Aldermen, had been invited to explain the proposed ordinance which will zone Newton into several districts, according to various sizes and restrictions on house lots. He was accompanied by Alderman Clifford Walker, also of the Claims and Rules Committee.

The realtors present expressed the opinion that the proposed ordinance is too drastic, and should be modified. They contend that even though the ordinance would give the Board of Aldermen the power to make exceptions in the cases of lots that cannot be properly restricted according to the district provisions, it is still not fair to many property owners, and that the sizes (and frontages) of lots should be reduced.

As a result of the meeting the realtors are circulating the following petition:

We, the undersigned, citizens, and owners of real estate in the City of Newton, respectfully request that final action on the pending proposed changes in the Zoning Ordinance of said City be postponed until all persons interested shall have had an opportunity to study such changes in their final form. As now proposed, the revised Zoning Ordinance differs in many respects from the revision originally submitted to the citizens at public hearings held throughout the City. We believe that it would be a mistake to enact into law the

Training Courses For Girls In Newton Schools

At a meeting of the Newton School Committee on Monday night the question of Newton assuming the cost of providing education for children who reside as patients at the Peabody Home for Crippled Children at Oak Hill was again discussed. Recently trustees of the institution asked the Newton School Department to provide such education for children there as the law requires. The budget of the home for educational purposes has been $7050 for seven teachers and $500 for supplies. The city has co-operated to a degree and WPA funds have been used for an educational project at the home. Of 60 children living there, only 2 were residents of Newton before going there. As the School Committee is in doubt of the legality of Newton standing the cost of educating all the children at this institution, City Solicitor Bartlett has been asked to rule on this question.

A letter was received from Alderman Carroll Hoffman expressing his appreciation of the promise recently made by the School Committee to co-operate with the Aldermen in the matter of presenting a budget for the School Department as soon as is practical. Hoffman has been the leading critic of the alleged extravagance of the Newton School Department the past couple of years.

Supt. of Schools Warren told the committee that a course of training in light manufacturing operations for girls will be started in the basement of the Peirce School at West Newton. He stated that this course will be for the purpose of enabling girls mechanically minded to assist in the National Defence Program, and that the salary of the teacher will be paid from WPA funds. He said that he hopes the course eventually will become part of the regular school program in Newton.

The class will comprise 20 girls over 18 years of age and preferably high school graduates. Half of this number will be taken from WPA lists, and the other half from the State Employment Service lists. The class will be conducted five days each week from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., with one hour for lunch. The course will take 15 weeks. The benches and electric wiring in conjunction with the course have been provided by boys from the Newton Trade School, and the equipment has been loaned by Newton manufacturing companies. Among the industries co-operating are the Raytheon Company at Nonantum, the Arkwright Switch Company and Carr Fastener Company at Newtonville, and the Waltham Watch Company.

Supt. of Schools Warren stated that the project has been started at the request of these companies, and that girls who complete the course will be given employment by these manufacturers. The girls will be taught to operate foot presses, drilling machines, power presses, polishing machines, turret lathes, automatic screw machines, welding and soldering.

Mr. Warren also told of the progress which is being made in the class in retail selling which was started on Sept. 16 at the Cabot School, Newtonville. Of the 20 girls in the class, 19 graduated from high school and one from New Hampshire University.

Big Republican Majorities Are Assured In This City

With 40,911 voters registered in the city of Newton the vote at the presidential election next Tuesday is expected to far surpass any previous total vote cast in the history of the city. The unprecedented interest in the campaign which is drawing to an end also indicates that the total vote will pass the 90% mark. It is further anticipated that the voting will exceed some 36,000 ballots with the usual overwhelming majorities being given to Republican candidates.

Newton has long been noted for its large Republican vote due not only to the character of the city as a whole but due also to an organized effort by party workers. Considerable increased activity has been noted in the current campaign on behalf of the Democratic party but with the many angles of the presidential campaign to be considered as well as the friendly feeling of many Newton Democrats for several of the Republican candidates for state offices it is probable that there will be considerable "splitting" of the ticket.

All usual polling places will be open during the voting hours from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m. with both party organizations providing transportation for those who are desirous of getting to the polls. There has been a much greater use of the absentee voting privileges than in former years indicating the interest in the forthcoming election among those persons who will not be in the city on Tuesday.

The Republicans will stage a Victory rally on Monday evening at the Columbus Hall headquarters in Nonantum, at 7:30 o'clock. Among the speakers will be candidates on the state ticket as well as Mayor Paul M. Goddard, Hon. Edwin O. Childs, Senator Arthur W. Hollis and Representative candidates Clarence C. Colby and Loomis Patrick.

Number of Newton Draftees Unknown

Although the numbers of young men in Newton who registered for selective military service were drawn by the Newton draft boards last week, and the draft lottery at Washington was completed on Wednesday, definite information as to the probable number of young men who will be drafted from Newton is still lacking. It will not be known until word is received from Washington and from the Massachusetts Headquarters for the Selective Service in Boston. Newton's quota will be determined to considerable extent by the number of young men of this city who have voluntarily enlisted in the Army and Navy. Since Registration Day about a dozen of those who registered have enlisted in either the army or navy. Draft Board 112 reports 6 such enlistments; Draft Board 113 reports 5, and Draft Board 114 reports 1.

In the lists published in newspapers, both the lists of numbers assigned by the local boards, and the lists of the numbers drawn in the Washington lottery, several mistakes were made. In reply to a comment on the fact that in the assigning of numbers by the local boards, a few sets of brothers received consecutive numbers, which would seem to indicate away the opportunity this great nation has always offered for a free election. No one man is indispensable in either our public or private business life. And by the very frailties of human nature no man can ever avoid the misuse of power, the influence of friends, the conceit of leadership or waste of physical strength unless he is actuated by the spirit of selflessness, sacrifice and faithfulness to fundamentals.

Three Basic Truths in Current Campaign.

We need only consider three basic truths in our consideration of the problem the voters face in the national election. Each of these truths have been faced before in the comparatively short life of America which first saw real freedom less than two hundred years ago. Each of these truths has been met with the living spirit of our forefathers who possessed that inherent faith in spiritual guidance, which enabled them to found and build the America we all love.

The first of these truths is the familiar story of states' rights versus Federal domination. Wise were the statesmen who incorporated into the Constitution of the United States the bill of rights and the right of each state to make its own laws. In a nation like America we must have Federal government as a link between states, but we must remain ever alive to the dangers which threaten when the Federal government takes control. The New Deal is a new Federalist party of the days of Alexander Hamilton which passed into oblivion when the voters of the country expressed their faith in the Jeffersonian principles of democracy. It rose again in the days of the Civil War and once again true democracy survived and the Union was saved by the guidance of America's greatest character, Abraham Lincoln—whose spiritual influence was paramount. Today we are faced again with a Federalist party—and in shaping the destinies of this nation, if democracy is to survive, the voters will cling to that faith in our American tradition by rejecting the Federalist regime and putting their trust and faith in the crusade of one man who sees the necessity for sacrifice, service and spiritual guidance.

The second of the truths to be faced is the concentration of power in the hands of one man—the President of the United States. In the past eight years no less than sixty-seven emergencies have been declared, each giving to the President more powers of control. The President himself has said that these powers in certain hands would be dangerous. We have no feeling that the President desires to become a dictator but we do contend that many of these powers should be turned back to Congress. We also contend that no man can avoid the misuse of power when he comes to believe that he is indispensable. And the continuation of that power in the office of president is hazardous to the safeguards of American democracy. By the exercise of control over the payrolls and welfare of millions of persons it is but a short while before that system is put to use to perpetuate the power of those in office. Today it is being so used. It must stop, or democracy has failed.

The third truth we must face is that of faith. Where today can one find in the current political campaign a refutation of the strength, principles and faith which Wendell Willkie has inspired in the American people. The New Deal makes its campaign by labeling the Willkie campaign a "falsification of fact." The charge is deliberate but it is skilfully woven into masterful politics. There has been no "falsification" by Willkie. In his strength, in his faith in American democracy, and in the spiritual guidance which he portrays lies the real destiny of America. We stand at the crossroads—will we choose the road of Faith?

STATE POLITICS

Like the nation, Massachusetts stands at the crossroads in the election next Tuesday although the same crisis which exists in the national election does not appear in the state. Our state election, however, is of similar grave importance. Two years ago the people ended a ring of extravagance, waste, and political patronage that had penetrated deep into the vitals of state government and threatened to bring financial disaster within our borders. In two years Governor Saltonstall has accomplished a great deal, yet there is still more that must be done. Our state debt has been reduced by half to a figure approximating twenty millions of dollars. As against a deficit in free cash in the State Treasury when Governor Saltonstall took office we now have a sizable working balance. In consideration of the situation we must not overlook the fact that more than 75 per cent of the 351 cities and towns in the state were enabled to declare lower tax rates in 1940 than in 1939 due to the lessening of the demands upon them by the state tax in balancing the state budget. Opposing Governor Saltonstall is the Democratic candidate, Attorney General Paul A. Dever. The election of Dever means a return to the former discarded administration of wastefulness and extravagance. Mr. Dever failed to act in the Dowd case, he failed to exercise control over an insurance company failure, and he weakly attempted to exonerate his assistant in the misuse of his office. Governor Leverett Saltonstall has always typified honesty, integrity, and fairness in office as well as ability, tact and courage. The state cannot afford to lose his services. Governor Saltonstall needs such men as Lieutenant Governor Horace T. Cahill, Secretary of State Frederic W. Cook, State Treasurer William F. Hurley, State Auditor Russell A. Wood, to be re-elected with him and he needs the election of Robert T. Bushnell as Attorney General to enable that office to function efficiently and co-operatively. And in Washington we need Henry T. Parkman as co-Senator with Henry Cabot Lodge.

LOCAL POLITICS

Were it not for the fact that many voters next Tuesday will only vote for President or at best most of the state offices two we would need not make reference to other candidates on the ballot. Newton is a Republican stronghold and will unquestionably elect the G. O. P. candidates for local or minor offices. However, we urge the voters to go through the ballot and vote for the Republican candidates for county offices as well as for Senator Arthur W. Hollis for the State Senate, Rep. Douglass B. Francis and Mrs. Margaret L. Spear for Representatives from the 5th Middlesex District, Clarence C. Colby and Loomis Patrick for Representatives from the 4th Middlesex district.

THE CONGRESSIONAL ELECTION

Once again we are faced with a stern duty and task in the election of a Congressman from the ninth district. Congressman Robert Luce carries the standard of the Republican party. He has served many years, faithfully and with ability. We trust that he will be re-elected. Not only is it imperative that we return him to office because of his advocacy of Republican views but because of the dire need of rejecting the New Deal and third term issues. The Democratic candidate is an advocate of the New Deal, has participated in its proposals, and unquestionably would support many of its future policies in the event of its continuation. Re-elect Congressman Luce by a decisive margin.

THE REFERENDA

Newton voters who cast a complete ballot next Tuesday will face six questions of referenda at the end of their ballots. The first question deals with the establishment of the two-platoon system in the fire department. We shall vote "Yes" in the belief that the merits and benefits, both to citizens and to the firemen, outweigh the solitary argument of additional cost. While it is true that these costs have been variously estimated from $25,000 to $80,000 each year the top figure represents approximately 50 cents per thousand on our tax rate. To the average taxpayer it represents approximately five dollars per year. And it is not beyond the realm of possibility that this amount can be absorbed without the necessity of an increased rate.

The next three questions will determine the license question in Newton. We shall vote "No" on all phases of this matter with the full realization that there are some economic benefits to be gained by the proper conduct of the sale of light wines, beer, and packaged goods in Newton if it is possible to procure them legally elsewhere. We have not the slightest intention of interfering with the rights and liberties of others to do as they please with their lives or whether they indulge in the use of intoxicating liquors or not. But we do maintain that any community is better off without the moral temptations offered. Temperance, prohibition or abstinence begin in the home—they cannot be forced upon a free people by legislation and a no license community is almost universally a better community.

Two questions of public policy complete the referenda, providing a sufficient number of voters express themselves on these questions the Senator from the district will be instructed to vote for or against two legislative acts. The first deals with increased weekly payments to each recipient of old age assistance. Under present legislation the maximum payment by the state and community is $15.00 per month which formerly equaled the amount granted under Federal old age assistance. This latter amount has been increased to a maximum of $20.00 per month so that if equalled by a state increase to ten dollars a week the recipient would receive $40 per month.

The second question of public policy deals with the establishment of a state lottery the net proceeds of which would be used to provide additional revenue for the old age assistance fund. We trust the voters will instruct their Senator to vote against the establishment of a lottery. The purpose or use to which the funds would be put is beside the point. A state lottery is a distinct danger to the morals of our people.

Service League Holds Meeting At Grace Church

The annual fall dinner of the Men's Division of the Service League of the Episcopal churches of Greater Boston was held in Grace Church parish house at Newton on Monday evening. About 200 men from 22 churches in Greater Boston were present. Norman Hutton of St. Andrew's Church, Wellesley, presided. The guest of honor was Bishop Henry Knox Sherwill and another guest was Right Reverend Harry Beal, bishop of the Canal Zone. They and Rev. H. Robert Smith, rector of Grace Church, were the speakers. Bishop Beal told of the work which is being done to safeguard the Panama Canal. He said that more than 400 ships pass through the canal each month, and that one new British ship goes through it each week.

Bishop Sherrill said that the future of the world will depend on the spirit of the people and their relationship with God. Those present were told of a campaign which is planned to raise $300,000 to finance missionary work of the Church of England in the Western Hemisphere.

His bicycle broke and a portion of the broken part entered his groin, causing intense agony. With the aid of a policeman he reached his home, and, although recovering somewhat, his condition is still regarded as critical.

People in Thompsonville and Oak Hill have been considerably annoyed of late by persons gunning in the woods on Sundays in those sections. Four young men were recently arrested by Newton police for that offense, and fined in the Newton court. Last Sunday Officers Purcell and Fletcher were on the watch for Sabbath breakers and arrested two young men who gave the names of Robert Cook and John Adams. It should be understood that gunning within the limits of Newton is forbidden on all days of the week, according to Section 23, Chapter 16, of the City Ordinances.

"Salix" for malaria and rheumatism at Hubbard & Proctor's.

A son of Mrs. Livermore's, who resides over the Newton postoffice, was seriously injured last Thursday morning. He and other boys were after chestnuts at Kenrick Park. One of the boys threw a brick up into the tree and it fell on young Livermore's head, cutting the scalp open and laying the skull bare.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night Michael Mullen was granted a permit to erect a wooden stable, 20 by 25 feet on Adams st. Fred Smith was granted leave to withdraw on his petition for a permit to build a stable 40 by 50 feet on Brook st., Newton.

The Gamewell Fire Alarm Telegraph Company at Upper Falls made connection with the gas main on Wednesday and used gas light for the first time. They are now relieved of the unsatisfactory naphtha gas they have been using and have good light.

The McKinley Tariff Bill has been of great benefit to one corporation in Newton, the Nonantum Worsted Co. This local industry is making preparations for a large increase of business. It has 100 looms, of which only 20 have been kept busy. Not only will all 100 looms be started in operation, but 20 more will be added. The new tariff will enable worsteds to be made in this country and sold at a profit.

The committee appointed by the trustees of Newton Cottage Hospital to look after the problems of drainage and sewerage in Newton has gone about its work with a good deal of energy. The committee has conferred with the Metropolitan Commission and is pleased to learn that the main sewer will be ready for Newton to enter some time in 1891 instead of 1892, the date first set. The outlet of the Metropolitan sewer is not big enough to provide for surface drainage so some other means must be found to provide for this. Bullough's Pond, where the city provided a bathing place, is seriously contaminated by sewage from cesspools which flow into the brooks emptying into the pond. The committee believes that the dam

Powers' Paragraphs

Next Tuesday the most important Presidential election in the history of this country will occur. On its results will depend the future of the U. S. A. In my opinion 75 per cent of the readers of the GRAPHIC favor the election of Wendell Willkie. If I were tactful (or, insincere), I would tell my readers that I believe Willkie will be elected. But, I shall be frank. I believe Roosevelt will be re-elected. I also believe that his re-election will mean that this country will be at war in the near future, despite the President's assertions that he stands for peace. I am not questioning his veracity, but, I can't see how his utterances and acts are other than progressive steps toward the rapid involvement of this nation in the world-wide carnage. Possibly, we could not stay out of the war even though Mr. Willkie were elected.

The great majority of the people of this country are strongly opposed to the U. S. A. becoming involved in the war. Why, therefore, is it reasonable for me to think that the President will win, despite his belligerent utterances? First, because so many millions of people in our nation have been, and are recipients of relief from the government under President Roosevelt's administrations. Second, because so many millions of the working class believe that legislation passed under the New Deal, and favorable to labor, will be revoked should Mr. Willkie be elected. The Republican candidate has repeatedly asserted he favors the retention of this legislation, but from our contacts with wage earners, many of them are sceptical. On the other hand, we have met a number of working-class people who formerly voted for Roosevelt, and who will vote for Willkie next Tuesday.

The election on November 5 will be decided on two issues. The first is—whether or not a majority of the people of the U. S. A. believe that the President sincerely means to keep us out of war, or a majority believe that Mr. Willkie will keep his promise to relief recipients, the proletariat, and the farmers. A tremendous advantage the President has, and which he has been taking advantage of, is—the support of hundreds of thousands who have obtained employment in war industries, either in those conducted by the government, or by private enterprises. A majority of humans reason by their stomachs rather than by their brains.

The second issue is—the third term. Many realize that the President with the billions of dollars he has had during his two administrations to give to relief recipients and to those obtaining jobs in new government activities, has built up a tremendous following. They fear that to continue him in office, with the added billions of dollars his administration will have to spend the next four years, will result in a political machine (or bloc) in this country which will be almost impossible to defeat in the future. Are there more voters in the U. S. A. composed of those who disapprove of President Roosevelt's policies, domestic and foreign, or who disapprove of a third term, than there are voters who believe that Mr. Willkie will be reactionary, or has not the experience to deal with the existing crucial situation? On these questions the election of next Tuesday hinges.

Dorothy Thompson, the leading lady oracle, who has her picture at the head of her column in newspapers in a coy pose, with her phiz resting on her right hand, used to write about communing with "the grouse." For some time past after reading Dorothy's comments, one might think she had shifted from communing with "the grouse" to "magpies" the "Yesterday." Dorothy Thompson in her column, advocated a union of this country with Britain, and the use of our armed forces to defend possessions of Britain in the Far East. Dorothy, who would sacrifice our young men's lives to defend foreign em-at the pond should be ripped up, the pond cleaned out, and the brooks throughout the city should be widened, deepened and covered. By this means the swamps in the city would be drained and much of the malaria which has been prevalent in Newton would be prevented.

Sunbeam Chats

I'm all excited 'bout Halloween. This year my Mother is having a party for us all and even I can sit up a little later. Already my big brother is making the jack o' lanterns which look so fierce, I shiver. But believe me the insides of the pumpkin tastes pretty good the way my mother cooks it. She certainly knows how to make vegetables taste good, since she talked to the nutritionist at the Well Baby Conference.

(Sunbeam Chats are sponsored by the Newton District Nursing Association.)

pires, lost no time in hastening back to this country from Europe when the war broke out last year.

The writer will join with Governor Saltonstall, the clergy of Newton, and we hope a majority of this city's voters, in favoring the establishment of the two-platoon system in the Newton Fire Department.

The writer will vote for the retention of granting licenses to package stores and the sale of malt and wine beverages in Newton. We believe it is preferable to enable residents of Newton to obtain alcoholic beverages in this city, under proper supervision, rather than have them go outside the city and drink to excess. Occasionally drunken men are seen on our streets. Most of these unfortunates do not get drunk on liquor obtained from package stores or in beer dispensaries. They become "soused" on alcohol purchased largely in stores which do not have a liquor license.

We shall again vote in favor of a State Lottery. We repeat that a large percentage of our people gamble in one way or another. We believe the comparatively few dollars the majority would lose in a year in a State lottery to be far less harmful than the many dollars they lose in pari-mutuel gambling, card playing and stupid stock speculation (notice we don't say investing).

With real estate burdened by over-taxation, with new taxes being added, why not divert to useful channels some of the many millions which go into the pockets of race track owners and other gambling moguls?

For the past couple of years there has been a lot of talk about "isolationism." Persons who favored the U. S. A. remaining aloof from foreign entanglements, so that it will not become involved in the war between European nations, have been criticized as "isolationists." We have been told that we must become involved in foreign affairs because we need foreign trade. It is estimated that 15 per cent of our products are exported, and that our standard of living will be lowered to that extent if we don't have reciprocal trade agreements with foreign nations. It would be better for the American people to have their incomes lowered 15 per cent than to have them reduced 50 per cent or more, attempting to compete with totalitarian countries in Europe, operating on a barter system, or with the coolie labor of Japan and other Asiatic countries.

The City of Waltham is supposed to be friendly and co-operative with its neighbor, the City of Newton. But, for many years the City of Waltham has imposed on the City of Newton by persisting, despite repeated complaints, of using as its public dump a low area alongside the Charles River at the Newton line adjoining Woerd ave. In fact, part of this dump is within the limits of Newton. Not only has this dump been a detriment to the health and comfort of many residents in that part of Newton within a radius of a half mile or more, but it has necessitated Newton fire apparatus and firemen frequently going to Waltham to assist firemen of that city when they fought fires at the dump. Waltham officials promise to stop dumping at this area. But, they have made promises before. Perhaps legal action by citizens affected might bring some results.

The public is being continually informed that the present war is a new kind of war; a war of machines not men. The U. S. A. is also making preparations for a new kind of army when it provides for "hostessess" in its military force. The ladies who will be given these nice jobs will probably rank with Lieutenants or higher, insofar as salaries are concerned; will be eligible for pensions and disability compensation, and other emoluments. Why doesn't the Army establish corps of young lady dance partners for the young men who will enlist or be drafted into military service?

We can't understand the reasoning processes of those political orators who ridicule the contention that there is danger of this country being invaded by the totalitarian nation, and in the same speech laud the preparations which are being made for National Defense. If this country is in no danger of being attacked in the future, why approve of the spending of billions to defend it from attacks allegedly impossible?

In making an apology for allegedly kicking a negro policeman in New York, Stephen Early stated that—"I do not believe that I did anything wrong in this incident." If I were Mr. Early, and I did not think I did anything wrong, I would not apologize.

Newton Main Library To Be Open On Sundays

The Reference and Circulation Departments of the Main Library at Newton Corner will be open every Sunday afternoon from next Sunday, Nov. 3, through the last Sunday in March, 2:30 to 5:30 p. m. The Art and Music Rooms on the ground floor, however, will be closed, as will all the branch libraries, and the Boys' and Girls' Library on Vernon st.

Harvard Student Gets In Wrong

Frederick Van DeRogers, a Harvard student, was in the Newton court on Wednesday charged with speeding. Traffic Officer Whelan testified that the defendant was not the driver of the car he stopped on Watertown st. on October 20 after a chase. Van DeRogers told Judge Mayberry that on that day he had loaned his car to a friend, Ian Thompson of Brattle st., Cambridge, another Harvard student. Thompson showed Patrolman Whelan Van DeRogers' registration which was in the car, and said he did not have his license with him. He told the policeman that he was Van DeRogers. Judge Mayberry continued the case until November 16 and ordered complaints issued against Thompson on four charges: speeding, not stopping when signalled to do so by a policeman, giving a false name, and driving without a license.

Newton Girl Given Shower By Triangle Club

On Monday evening, Oct. 28th at the home of Mrs. A. B. Fogelson a miscellaneous shower was tendered Miss Florence K. Ross by members and friends of the Blue Triangle Club of Newton, Inc. Miss Ross is soon to become the bride of Malcolm M. Winslow of Sheffield, Pennsylvania. The evening began under the guise of a Halloween party but the bride-to-be found at the end of a cobweb an array of beautiful and useful gifts. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Viva Colburn of Morse st., Watertown on Monday, November 4th.

COMPANIONS OF THE FORESTERS

The Companions of the Foresters of America, Echo Circle No. 961, held a joint installation and initiation at Odd Fellows' Hall, Newton Highlands, on Tuesday evening, October 22nd.

Deputy Rose Mason of Columbia Circle and Marshal-Grand Trustee Helen R. Gentile of Columbia Circle and board of Grand Officers installed the following officers:

Chaplain, Mrs. Nora Mahoney; Junior Past Chief Companion, Mrs. Blanche Hunt; Chief Companion, Mrs. Annie McGuirk; Sub-Chief Companion, Mrs. Florence Daley; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Louise Hoyt; Financial Secretary, Mrs. Nellie Fontannay; Treasurer, Mrs. Agnes Fontannay; Right Guard, Mrs. Mary Springham; Left Guard, Mrs. Mary Fontannay; Inner Guard, Mrs. Mary Quirk; Outer Guard, Mrs. Catherine DeRusha; Chairman of Trustees—Mrs. Martha Doyle; Two-Year Trustees, Mrs. Theresa Murray; Three-Year Trustees, Mrs. Louise Daley.

The following new members initiated were: Mrs. Grace Kander, Mrs. Edith Lynch, Mrs. Theresa Kenney and Mrs. Louise Daley.

Many gifts were given, among them a beautiful fitted suitcase to Mrs. Agnes Atwell for 20 years' service as Treasurer. Gifts were given to Recording officers—Mrs. Theresa McLaughlin, Mrs. Nellie Bennett, Mrs. Gertrude Cleary, Mrs. Nora Mahoney and also to the Grand Deputy and her Marshal and the Chief Companion, Mrs. Annie McGuirk.

Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held on Nov. 12th at Odd Fellows' Hall in third in a series at Whist parties. The chairman will be Mrs. Florence Daley and the committee, Mrs. Mary Taylor and Mrs. Viola Andree.

LYDIA PARTRIDGE WHITING CHAPTER, D. A. R.

The opening meeting of the Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R., for the season 1940-41 was "Guest Day" at the Women's Club Workshop of Newton Highlands on the afternoon of October 22nd, at 2 p. m.

The Workshop with its attractive Fall decoration of flowers and music by the Dorothy Baker Trio welcomed the arriving guests.

Each State Officer was presented with a "Nose-gay" corsage and requested to be one of the receiving line with the Chapter's regent Mrs. James F. Cooper. All the State officers and State Counsellors were present.

Eleven Regents and officers from neighboring Chapters and friends of members of the Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R., brought the attendance up to well over one hundred.

The regent, Mrs. James F. Cooper, presided. Mr. Ben Roberts of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church was introduced and opened the meeting with an Invocation.

Mrs. Albion H. Brown gave a report of the splendid work which has been done by members for the War Service.

Miss Ethel L. Hersey, state regent, who spoke of the Golden Jubilee which has been celebrated, was presented by Mrs. Cooper.

Miss Hersey welcomed eight new members into the Chapter. As a new member's name was called the acting Pages, Miss Geneva Brown, Mrs. George Gibson and Miss Marion Stratton presented each one with a corsage.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Young accompanied by her husband, Mr. Randall Young at the piano sang two groups of songs of "long ago."

Margaret Louise Wood, speaker of the afternoon, took for her subject, "Around Cape Cod Hearst Fires."

A social hour and tea served by the hostess, Mrs. Richard A. Cody and her assistants brought a very enjoyable "Old Fashioned" afternoon to a close.

WHY WILLKIE WILL WIN

(A Political Analysis)

There are six fundamental political differences between this campaign and the two previous ones. They all point to a Willkie victory but the one vital factor necessary to make the Willkie campaign an overwhelming success is that the hopes of Willkie's supporters ripen into reasoned convictions that Willkie will win.

These marked changes from previous campaigns and reasons why Willkie will win are:

1. The 1940 New Deal campaign lacks a smooth running organization and effective leadership compared with the 1932 and 1936 contests. Many individual figures responsible for former New Deal victories are either absent or working for Willkie and others are limited in their political activities by fears of the Hatch Act. As a result, many mistakes have been made and others may be expected before the campaign ends. Equally important has been the rise of a younger and more aggressive leadership among the Republicans.

2. Willkie has all the advantage in the "Anti" part of the campaign. The third term tradition is based on a practical political fact that no one can be President for eight consecutive years without setting into motion a strong wave of opposition. The marshalling of this "anti" force, available to Willkie but not to Roosevelt, is at least 50 per cent of the effectiveness of the campaign. Willkie has never held public office and it is extremely difficult for the opposition to find enough against him politically to make attacks stick. Willkie, on the other hand, has plenty of political ammunition and a broad target at which to shoot. There is a tremendous reserve of "anti" facts which can be used to convince undecided voters—a factor which assures continuation of the present upward trend already established by Willkie.

3. Willkie is superior to the Republican 1932 and 1936 candidates in attracting power. We have this time a colorful and dynamic leader who at least matches his opponent in drawing power.

4. Willkie has attracted people from all factions, racial and religious groups by the high moral and ethical standards followed in the conduct of his campaign.

5. The timing of the Willkie campaign is nearly perfect and the selection and definition of issues is excellent.

6. Willkie already has a major slice of the independent vote and has made important inroads into the opposing party's vote. This is the vote which always decides our National elections.

A generally recognized Willkie victory a few days before the election will mean Willkie's election will be decisive because many of the "everybody loves a winner" votes will swing over to his bandwagon.

CAROL J. HOFFMAN.

FAVORS AIRPORT

To the Editor:

It would be a strange neglect of an approved American custom, if I should give no formal expression to a matter of vital interest to the citizens of Newton.

Only recently a news dispatch from Washington stated that Newton was on the list of Cities and Towns throughout the country which had been selected as a possible site for an airport, in the furtherance of our National Defense Program. This news surprised a few residents, but how the majority rejoiced to think that Newton would take its place in the Defense Program.

On October 21, 1940, the well-to-do hucksters of Oak Hill went on record through its improvement association, as being strongly opposed to the establishment of an airport in the wretched fields and waste land in Franklin G. Balch, Jr. Dr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Holmes, Dr. and Mrs. Leslie A. Russell, Dr. and Mrs. Sydney Stillman, Dr. and Mrs. Sylvester McGinn and Mrs. C. Faulkner Kendall.

ton citizens want an airport established in Newton, and Oak Hill is an ideal spot.

As a nation, we have a given problem to solve, that being to put the United States on a war-time basis, with a full war time strength. If we undertake the solution there is, of course, always danger that we may not solve it right, but to refuse to undertake the solution renders it certain that we cannot possibly solve it right.

The timid man, the lazy man, the overcivilized man who has lost great fighting, masterful virtues, the ignorant man and the man of dull mind—all these, shrink from seeing this nation undertake its new duties; shrink from seeing us do our share of the work by bringing order out of chaos; these are the men that believe in the cloistered life which saps the hardy virtues in a nation, as it saps them in the individual; or else they are wedded to that base spirit of gain and greed which recognizes commercialism as the be-all and end-all of national life, instead of realizing that national greatness can only be accomplished through national unity, the unity that today all America has accepted.

The threat from the Axis powers has awakened the American people to the need of additional defense. It is fortunate that the U. S. Government has selected Newton as a site in which to construct an airport. It is indeed most fortunate, not for the citizens of Newton, but for all the citizens of this New England state.

America's security can be attained only through national defense, and not through an improvement Association. Let our object be, Our Country, Our Whole Country, and nothing but Our Country.

Sincerely,
THOMAS F. WATERS,
41 Summit st., Newton.

Fire In Newly Occupied House

Mrs. R. H. Darling moved into the first floor apartment at 352 Waltham st., West Newton last Saturday morning. She was visiting Mrs. B. F. Thurston who resides on the second floor apartment when she smelled smoke. Rushing downstairs she found that a new fire which had been started in the furnace had ignited some combustible articles and had worked between partitions. Box 318 was sounded and the fire caused about $500 damage before it was extinguished. The house is owned by Mrs. Dana Libby of Rumford, Rhode Island.

Falls From Tree, Fractures Leg

James Ryecroft, 32, of Concord st., Framingham fell 30 feet while working on a tree at property owned by Lasell College at Maple st., Auburndale last Friday. Fellow workers carried him to the office of Dr. Koeber at 69 Maple st. Dr. Koeber found that Ryecroft's left leg was broken. Ryecroft was taken to Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

Christmas Arcade For Benefit of Hospital

The "Christmas Arcade" as conducted by the Ladies Committee of the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital, will take place in John Hancock Hall, St. James ave. entrance, on Wednesday the 13th, Thursday, the 14th, and Friday, the 15th, of November, from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m.

The Arcade's main purpose is to raise funds for the hospital, but at the same time it will afford every one an opportunity to Christmas shop at their favorite Boston stores, and to select any type of gift imaginable. More than 30 Boston stores will maintain booths at the Arcade.

Those working for the Arcade in Newton are Mrs. Dorothy Simpson (Luncheon), Mrs. Sinclair Weeks, Dr. and Mrs. Louis M. Spear, Dr. and Mrs. Franklin G. Balch, Jr. Dr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Holmes, Dr. and Mrs. Leslie A. Russell, Dr. and Mrs. Sydney Stillman, Dr. and Mrs. Sylvester McGinn and Mrs. C. Faulkner Kendall.

Putnam Is Candidate For Re-Election As Clerk

The lawyers from every section of Middlesex County have endorsed the candidacy of Frederic L. Putnam, present Clerk of Courts and candidate for re-election to this important office.

Few, if any, have more legal information at the tips of their fingers than has Mr. Putnam. Every single case, whether it be civil or criminal, goes through the county clerk's hands. Often his opinion is asked in order to ascertain the legality of some question. The speed and accuracy in which he delivers information have been commended by the courts time and time again.

He is clerk of the Supreme Judicial Court, of all branches of the Superior Court including probate, divorce and criminal practice, and is in addition, clerk of the County Commissioners and in charge of naturalization in Middlesex County under the Federal Government.

Frederic L. Putnam is as well known as any other official in the county due in a great measure to his 30 years of service as an assistant clerk prior to becoming clerk.

Edison Lineman Badly Burned

Rosario Lipoma, 37, of 365 Water-town st., Norantum, employed as a lineman by the Edison Company, was critically burned last Friday about 2 p. m. while working on a pole at Cabot st., near Eastside Parkway, Newton. He fell on live wires and before other Edison men nearby could shut off the current and rescue him, Lipoma's right arm was terribly burned from the elbow to the shoulder. He also received severe burns on both legs. A physician was called and applied a tourniquet to stop the flow of blood from the burned arm. Lipoma was taken to Newton Hospital in the police ambulance and his name placed on the danger list.

Mt. Alvernia Club To Hold Supper Dance

The Mt. Alvernia Club of Chestnut Hill will hold its annual supper dance on Tuesday, November 19, at the Copley Plaza Hotel under the direction of Mrs. James H. Connors, general chairman.

On Wednesday last Mrs. Connors was hostess at a tea for members of her committee. Assisting in making final arrangements for the dance are Mrs. Joseph F. Nineteen reside in Newton and one in Waltham. They were selected from 65 applicants.

Referring to the National Defense Course for young men, the third session of which started on October 1, Mr. Warren said that 37 are attending this session, of whom 31 attended the previous course last summer. Of those taking the course, one man secured employment.

The School Committee voted a $300 increase in salary to Mrs. Elizabeth Ellis, kindergarten teacher at the Hamilton School, because she will also teach an afternoon class at the Franklin School. The resignation of Ernestine Wright, formerly a teacher at the Day school was accepted. Sabbatical leaves were granted to Avis Walsh, teacher at the Warren School; and to Dorothy Carle, teacher in remedial reading.

The application of a group of Auburndale residents to use the gymnasium of the Warren school at West Newton on evenings for badminton games was granted. Recently a similar application from a Lower Falls group to use this gymnasium was granted. The Lower Falls group had previously been turned down. Each group will pay for the janitor's services.

Newton Residents Pass Bar Examinations

Four Newton men were among the 185 successful candidates who passed the recent bar examinations. A large majority of those who took the examination failed to pass. The Newton residents are—Winslow Beckwith, 4 Winslow rd., West Newton; Morton Goldfine, 50 Woodchester drive, Chestnut Hill; John M. Hill, 2nd, 46 Bemis st., Newtonville; John M. Skillful Hands Needed, Too

A change in our system of education that runs sharply counter to the thinking of the majority of our parents and their children in the past two decades was recently advocated by the American Youth commission, a group of distinguished citizens appointed by the American Council on Education.

In its report, the council suggests that "we abandon the mistaken notion held by many parents who assume that the only road to a higher social and economic status for their children leads through the traditional academic, college preparatory curriculum."

The commission urges the elimination of subjects of less importance in order that occupational adjustment services may be added. It lays greater importance upon the practical at the expense of what has been called the cultural.

The job of our schools is to best fit our children for a job in life. We need men who can work skillfully with their hands just as we need men who can work skillfully with their brains.

Wolves Scarce

Predatory animals appear to be scarcer than usual in the Goodpaster country and game seems to be normal in the quantities, according to J. W. Thompson, veteran trapper of Alaska.

"I brought only one predator hide for a bounty," he declared. "The pelt is that of a coyote. I didn't see tracks of many wolves or coyotes in the past winter."

"The big game in the Goodpaster district consists of moose, bear and caribou. The occurrence of these animals at present is normal."

"On my way I saw a band of 40 caribou. They stood the winter well."

"Mining will be active this season on the upper reaches of the Goodpaster."

Odd Cooking Method

New Zealand Maoris do much of their cooking in hot springs, placing the food in a wicker basket covered with a blanket and suspending it in the hole.

No Traces Left

There is no vestige left of the ancient Jewish temple in Jerusalem. It was razed and later the ground over it was plowed.

Charles Wesley

Charles Wesley was the author of more than 6,000 hymns. More than 500 hymns of John and Charles Wesley are in common use today.

—Wanderer Sent To State Farm

Carver Williams, a colored man from Monroe, North Carolina, was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday charged with vagrancy. Carver was apprehended on the Worcester turnpike on the evening of October 18 by Patrolman Mageletta of the Metropolitan police as he was soliciting alms at a filling station. Carver's fingerprints were taken and while North Carolina authorities were communicated with, Carver was held at the East Cambridge jail. Word was received that Carver had no police record, so he was brought in to the Newton court on Monday. Carver, a mild appearing man with a profuse shock of hair, assured Judge Mayberry that he had "done nothing" and asked to be permitted to return to North Carolina. Asked how he would get back to his home, he replied that he would use the same means he had used to travel North—by walking. Judge Mayberry decided that Carver would be better off with the winter approaching by having some definite domicile, so he committed him to the State Farm at Bridgewater.

Stop Worrying About Your Hair!

The new MOR-LOX Mullein Treatment is now available to the people of Newton, and this remarkable mullein plant formula for the relief of Dandruff, Excessive Hair Fall, and Itchy Scalp is now being dispensed by our own prescription department.

This is the remarkable, non-alcoholic, natural plant treatment featured in a recent article by the famous columnist, George Jean Nathan. When it appeared in newspapers from coast to coast, more than 15,000 readers besieged Mr. Nathan with telegrams, letters, and telephone calls, so great was their interest in this new way to relieve hair and scalp disorders.

The MOR-LOX Mullein Treatment is simple, is not sticky, or messy, and if used for a reasonable length of time in conjunction with our suggested fingertip scalp massage, and a vegetable soap shampoo once a week, we believe you will find it both helpful and efficient.

A full month's twice-a-day treatments cost less than 3 cents each, and we suggest your trying it now—before your present disorders become worse.

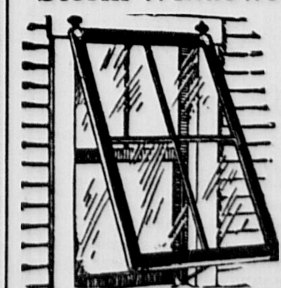

Give your hair and scalp the care they deserve. Start your MOR-LOX Mullein Treatments TODAY.

At West Newton

Sigvald Ramsland, 61, of 34 Whitlowe rd., West Newton, was found dead in his home on Thursday, October 24 by John O'Brien of Golden Ball rd., Weston. O'Brien had gone to the house to get a radio set which he had left with Ramsland to be repaired. Receiving no response when he knocked at the door, O'Brien entered the house and found Ramsland lying dead in a bed on a second floor room. He notified police. Medical Examiner Gallagher was called and stated that the man had been dead four or five days. He found a can that had contained cyanide in the house and reported that Ramsland's death had been caused by taking some of this poison.

Mr. Ramsland was born in Lyngdal, Norway, 61 years ago and had been employed at the Waltham Watch Company for many years. He had conducted a watch repairing business at his home. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Victoria (Peterson) Ramsland; a son, William Ramsland; and three grandchildren. His funeral was held on Monday and cremation was at Mount Auburn.

CARRIE A. SHURTLEFF

Miss Carrie A. Shurtleff of 40 Chase st., Newton Centre died on October 24. She was for 16 years superintendent of the Corlies Memorial Hospital in China, conducted by the Woman's Baptist Foreign Missionary Society. She retired from this position in 1935. Miss Shurtleff was a graduate of Wheaton Seminary and the nursing school of the New England Baptist Hospital. She was a member of Tremont Temple Baptist Church. Her funeral service was held at her late home last Saturday afternoon; Rev. C. Gordon Brownville of Tremont Temple Baptist Church officiated. Burial was in the family lot at Somerset, Massachusetts.

MARY N. WETHERBEE

Mrs. Mary N. Wetherbee, wife of Frederic A. Wetherbee of 211 Bellevue st., Newton, died on October 31. She was born in Boston 85 years ago, the daughter of George and Elizabeth (Ware) Lane. She came to Newton to reside when a child. Mrs. Wetherbee was a member of Channing Church for many years. She is survived by her husband; one brother, Frank Lane; and a sister, Mrs. Caroline Heizer, both of Boston. Her funeral service will be held at her late home on Sunday at 3 p. m.; Rev. Chester Drummond will officiate. Burial will be in Newton Cemetery.

JAMES GREENWOOD

James Greenwood of 17 Austin st., Newtonville, died on October 25. He was born in England 90 years ago and had resided in Newton for 65 years. He was a carpenter by occupation. Mr. Greenwood is survived by two sons, William and Richard Greenwood; and a daughter, Mrs. Brown. His funeral service was held on Monday; Rev. J. F. Knotts officiated. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

ARTHUR COX

Arthur Cox of 836 Walnut st., Newton Center, died on October 26. He was born in England 64 years ago and had resided in this city for 43 years. He was employed as a gardener at Newton Cemetery. Mr. Cox is survived by a son, Robert Cox of Mississippi; and two daughters, Mrs. Elin Young of Mount Vernon, N. Y., and Mrs. Florence O'Connor of Newton Center. His funeral service was held on Monday; Rev. M. Russell Boynton officiated. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

Elderly Woman Is Found Dead

Mrs. Alice M. Martin, 72, of 11 Prescott st., Newtonville, shot herself with a revolver in the yard at the rear of her home on Sunday morning. She had been in poor health for several years. Her husband, George H. Martin, had gone to Newtonville sq. to buy a newspaper and during his absence a neighbor visited the house to call on Mrs. Martin. Not receiving any response when she rang the doorbell, the woman walked toward the rear door and discovered Mrs. Martin's body.

Mrs. Martin was born in Boston and had resided in Newtonville for about 25 years. Her funeral service was held on Tuesday afternoon and burial was in Newton Cemetery.

Warns Parents Of Whooping Cough In Young Children

Warning parents of young children that whooping cough is a serious menace and among the communicable diseases of childhood is the leading cause of death to infants under two years of age, Dr. Arnold B. Armstrong, Third Vice-President of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company advocates a nation-wide campaign to protect babies from exposure to this disease. Many parents believe this childhood ailment to the extent that it is accepted as "just one of those things that Johnny must have sooner or later." Yet, whooping cough is a serious disease with a death rate that now exceeds that for diphtheria, and that is more than twice the rates for scarlet fever and measles combined. The disease proves fatal for one out of every ten babies who contract it in their first year of life.

Medical authorities point out that actual "whooping" is not a universal symptom of the disease, and that, contrary to general belief, the ailment itself is not seasonal in its attacks but has an incidence that is fairly uniform throughout all periods of the year.

Dr. Armstrong's warning against whooping cough is the first note in a nation-wide campaign to combat the disease which the insurance company plans to promote early this fall. The campaign will stress, among other facts, the point that whooping cough is a highly contagious and often fatal disease, especially for babies and young children; that it is most important to keep infants away from those who have or are suspected to have whooping cough; and that its chief danger for older children is the attendant weakness which makes victims especially susceptible to pneumonia or an allied infection. In fact medical records show that pneumonia is a complication in nearly 75 per cent of all attacks of whooping cough that end fatally.

"A child with whooping cough is an ill child," Dr. Armstrong says, "and if you suspect that your child has contracted it, he should be put to bed in a room by himself, and the family doctor called. Other children, especially infants, should be protected from exposure to the patient."

"The doctor can do much to relieve the child's distress and to guard against complications and serious after effects. Careful feeding is important. Simple, nourishing food, that is easily digested, should be given during both the acute stages and convalescence. Rest also is particularly needed, as well as plenty of fresh air and sunshine. Over-activity and excitement should be guarded against and in cold, windy, or wet weather, the child should be kept indoors. To protect the sufferer from other infections, and other children from contracting whooping cough, contact with other persons should be limited as much as possible."

"To protect others, and even in treatment, the doctor may wish to give a vaccine, which is harmless and seems to be useful in many cases. Once the child has recovered, he is usually immune from whooping cough for life."

The Liquor Question . . .

- In the light of experience prohibition was a failure because it attempted to do the impossible—take away by legislation the exercise of a natural right of man.
- As long as grain can be distilled and grapes pressed, Alcoholic Beverages will be sought and used by the general public. If this industry is not permitted to exist legally it will exist illegally with far more detriment to the community. What we can see and reach we can control; what is hidden and secret we cannot control.
- In these days of business recovery when the question of making municipal income balance with public expense is a difficult one, where is the advantage of outlawing, at increased expense, an industry that directly or indirectly affects the employment of several hundred people, contributes well over $30,000 in fees and taxes to the city, yields an annual rental to real estate owners of $60,000, dispenses a payroll in excess of $200,000 annually?
- Vigorous community business depends upon employment, payrolls, purchasing power. Eliminating the alcoholic beverage industry naturally will react on all business because it narrows down purchasing power, not only by a drop in employment but by a shift in the business of that portion of the community accustomed to the purchasing of alcoholic beverages.
- Is it logical to think that Newton residents accustomed to purchase liquors will change habits of living because their own community cannot supply their needs? The experience of many years past indicates that they will direct their shopping tour to neighboring communities where all their needs can be supplied, thus depriving all local merchants of commerce rightfully theirs. With the modern facility of the automobile this effect can only be intensified.
- These perfectly logical and normal facts are presented for the benefit of thinking citizens who are necessarily interested in the question of community prosperity, municipal income and their relation to the individual.

50th Anniversary Of Daughters of Union Vets

The Mrs. A. E. Cunningham, Tent 2, Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, celebrated their 50th anniversary on Tuesday evening, Oct. 22, with a banquet at the Newton Memorial Building. The only charter member of the Tent, Mrs. Matilda Caldwell, was present and presented flowers by her family and friends. The Tent Secretary, Miss Nellie Osborne, gave the history of the Tent, and concluded by presenting Mrs. Caldwell with a gold past president's badge. The guests of the evening were Mrs. Mattie R. Tucker, National President of the organization, and also a member of the Mass. Dept., the National Councilor, Past Nat'l. Pres., Mrs. Nellie Goodman; Past National President, Mrs. Agnes McCoy, Nat'l. Secretary; Past Department Pres., Mrs. Anna Robinson, Nat'l. Guide; Miss Elizabeth Douglas, Dept. Pres. of Mass.; Miss Helene McCormack, Dept. Aide; Commander Wendell Mick of the Newton Camp, S. U. V. C. W.; Commander Arnold of the Watertown Camp, S. U. V. C. W. During the evening Mrs. V. C. W. Durkin presented a telegram received from Miss Katherine R. A. Flood of Topeka, Kansas, now Secretary to the Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic. Miss Flood is a member of the Newton Tent, a Past Department Pres., and Past National Pres. of the organization. The Mrs. A. E. Cunningham Tent is the oldest patriotic organization in the City of Newton. The president, Mrs. Velma MacKay, presided.

HARMONY COURSE FOR ADULTS

Because of unusual interest in understanding more about music, the All Newton Music School is offering a course for adults in harmony for which a limited number of registrations are being accepted up to and including Saturday, Nov. 2.

On Monday, Nov. 4, this course of 15 lessons will begin at the Y. M. C. A., Church st., Newton, and will continue through February on Monday mornings from 9:30 to 10:30 o'clock. The Music School has arranged for Harry A. Seaver, graduate of the music department of Harvard University, a thorough musician and composer of much promise, to conduct the lessons. Inquiries and requests for further work with Mr. Seaver have come from many who attended his course of lectures last spring on "Understanding Music"—a course that won for him many friends, wide recognition and praise.

The lessons will be of a serious nature and will appeal to music lovers and music students who are eager to do some study along the line of harmony. A very small fee will be asked for the complete course, so that any one interested may have the opportunity at little expense.

The All Newton Music School also announces that a flute department is being organized under one of the best known flute teachers of Greater Boston. The lessons will be individual and will come under the regular curriculum of the school on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. The schedules of a limited number of pupils only, but there is still time to register before the first session for this work. Further information may be had concerning the harmony course or the flute lessons at the Music School office on Tuesday or Thursday afternoons or Saturday mornings, in the Clafin School, Newtonville.

Central Club To Hear Talk By Ambulance Driver

The members of Central Club, the men's organization of Central Congregational Church, and their guests are in for an unusual treat next Monday evening at the church auditorium, according to an announcement by Chet Harvey, president of the club. After the usual dinner and business meeting starting at 6:30 p. m. the gathering will listen to a talk on the foreign situation by Laurence Jump, twenty-six year old American ambulance driver, who has but recently returned to this country after a three-year stay in Europe.

Mr. Jump volunteered as ambulance driver with the French army in November 1939 and was actively engaged in front-line positions for a period of over three months. He was captured by the Germans in May of this year, spent several weeks in German war prisons with Dutch, Polish and French prisoners and only succeeded in escaping from the Nazis last August. He traveled widely in Europe during the crucial pre-war period of 1937-39 enabling him to add to his personally acquired knowledge of European questions and learn the truth about the last eight months of the war and the incredible French strategy.

Central Club anticipates an exceptionally large turnout at this meeting, it's second of the current season.

Special Visiting Night

The week of November 10-16 is American Education Week, and towns and communities in this country are focusing the attention of parents and citizens on the present-day program of education. Very appropriately, "Education for the Common Defense" is the general theme. The Newton High School is planning a special Parents' Night on Wednesday evening, November 13, from 7 to 9. All the teachers will be in their rooms to confer with parents. The school wants their sympathetic co-operation, and believes a knowledge and appreciation of what is done can be acquired best by visitation. Regularly, Parents' Day is the second Tuesday of every month from 3 to 4 p. m.

The Cavalry Club offers a program of unusual interest on Thursday, November 14. Four films will be shown: Kings of the Turf, Life O' Riley, Ride 'em Cowboy, and Thrill of the Thoroughbreds.

Editor-in-chief Donald Holmes of the Newtonian has announced his co-workers, Barbara Peabody is the editor's assistant, Carl Clark is business manager and Sidney Clark his assistant. Department heads include: Proof, Margaret Kent; Art, George Sheridan; Circulation, James Horn, with Marigould Paul as assistant; Advertisement, Donald VanRoosen; Activities, Karyl Kern; Sports, Eliot Mover; Copy, Mary Guiney; Data, Thalia Weston; Features, Margery MacNeil; and Treasurer, Sumner Feldberg, with Edward Capon as assistant.

Alumni Notes

Harold Shapiro, class of 1937 and a senior at Harvard College, has been awarded a first prize and distinction in the music department for three compositions for instrumental trio, entitled "Three Pieces for Three Pieces."

Mavis Hayden, class of 1940 and a freshman at Barnard College, has been elected president of her class. As Alice Drury, class of 1937, is president of her class in the same college, Newton High is well represented on the Barnard campus.

Calendar

The calendar of the school holidays and vacation periods was published this week. Holidays include Armistice Day, Nov. 11; Good Friday, April 11 and Memorial Day, May 30. Vacation dates are Nov. 27 at noon to Dec. 2; Dec. 20 to Jan. 2; Feb. 21 to March 3; and April 18 to April 28.

Clubs

Much activity prevailed in Room 335 as about 70 juniors and seniors assembled for the first meeting of the English Club. During the business meeting Arthur Feinberg, a member of the program committee, gave a very interesting report about the Book Fair, after which a few words of greetings were received from Miss Richardson, the club adviser. The speaker of the afternoon, Professor Gardner of Harvard, who is an authority on China and the Chinese, gave a most enjoyable talk on the development of Chinese books. He illustrated his report with samples of all types of Chinese books, new and old, which he allowed the audience to examine at the conclusion of the meeting.

Newton High's chemists have laid the foundation for the year. Inspecting the chemical wonders of Tufts' Open Night, a candy company, and a soap manufacturing plant represent only a few of the Chemistry Club's proposed activities. Warren Baldwin is president; Dick Bolin, vice-president; Scott Doten, secretary; Bill Leitch, treasurer. Elliot Hutchinson and Don MacRobbie comprise the Apparatus Committee.

Great enthusiasm for the coming season of the Newton Community Forum was shown by the 60 or more students who attended the first meeting of the Junior Forum. One of the most interesting lectures it appears will be that of Jack R. MacMichael, Jr., Chairman of the American Youth Congress. He will be questioned by a panel of former students consisting of Curtis Drury, former president of Junior Forum; Will R. Sperier '32; Beverly Booth and Bob Robbins. Following this particular forum a reception will be given in Mr. MacMichael's honor. The following people have been selected for committees this year: Executive committee, Dana Robinson, Jane Mansfield; Publicity, Scott Doten, Polly Lewis, Thalia Weston, Dana Danforth; Finance, Bob Guld, James Danforth; Membership, Shirley Crafts, Natalie Bigelow; and Reception, Joseph Yarlott, Nancy Concanon; Reception, Janice Ball, Charles Thomas; Music, Marjorie Gregoire; Stage, William Hill, Herbert Colcord; Ticket Table, Jane Mansfield, Polly Lewis; Usher, Donald Hyde, Baldwin Lee, George McEvoy, Carolyn Spence, Jack Lawton, Cooper Eastman, Barbara Green, Joan McGrath, Rene Topping, Jane Drury, Nancy Concanon, Natalie Needham, Virginia Kyle, Helene Shannon, Alice Birmingham, Barbara Moran; Reception, Adrienne Albee, Blanchette Kenyon, Alana Nathanson, Ruth Gutting, Josephine Hess, Roslyn Santer, Dorothy Tarr, Nancy Paivort, Constance Gager, Margaret Kent, Marilyn Fickett, James Horn, James Cornish, Dana Danforth, Robert Warshaw, and Joseph Yarlott.

—Hit and Run

Monday morning the lawyer, Samuel Miller of Boston came to police headquarters accompanied by Kenneth W. Fay, 30, of 82 Forest st., Watertown. Fay, who is 30 years of age, married and employed in Boston garage, told the inspectors in the Newton Traffic Bureau that he had been drinking on Saturday afternoon and had no recollection of hitting the Coffey boy, or driving away. He said that he had driven to a friend's home in Weston after the accident and his car was there. Traffic Officer Dowling went to Weston and took photographs of the car. Newton police obtained complaints against Fay on charges of driving so as to endanger, and leaving the scene of an accident without revealing his identity. Fay was arraigned in the Newton court and Inspector King asked for a continuance of the case. Fay's attorney asked that the case be continued for two weeks. Judge Mayberry said that because of the seriousness of the case he would not grant such a long continuance and set the date for the trial on November 4. The judge asked Inspector King what amount of bail he would suggest and the latter specified $1500, which was set.

Fay was arrested on October 19, 1934 by Patrolmen McCormick and Goddard of the Newton police on charges of drunkenness and driving a car while under the influence of liquor. In the Newton court on October 26, 1934 he was fined $100 for drunken driving and $15 for drunkenness. He appealed. On November 2 of that year he withdrew his appeal, the fines were revoked and the cases placed on file.

—Zoning

changes in the Zoning Ordinance as now proposed without first giving the general public an opportunity to study the same and record their approval or dissent.

The proposed ordinance is the result of many complaints received in the past several years from Newton citizens because of the subdividing of old estates in many of the better residential sections of the city. These estates have been cut into small house lots and in many instances small houses have been built close together. Last April the Newton Planning Board presented the proposed lot zoning ordinance to the Aldermen. Public hearings were held in May, one for Wards 1, 2 and 7; one for Wards 3 and 4; and one for Wards 5 and 6. To meet objections raised at these hearings, several changes were made in the proposed ordinance. The Planning Board referred the ordinance back to the Aldermen on Sept. 11, and the Aldermen on Oct. 2 voted to authorize a final hearing. This hearing will be held tonight.

Scientific Aids

Haystacks with chimneys and mechanical vegetable "tasters" were exhibited to more than 1,000 western Washington farmers attending the second annual field day of the western Washington experiment station in Puyallup, Wash.

The farmers were studying horticultural experiments, poultry and farm animal feeding practices, and exhibits of grass plots, berry field and dairy herds and barns.

The chimney-topped haystacks were exhibited as an experiment in a new method of curing hay. Although results of the experiment are not ready for publication, researchers explained that early studies of the new process already indicate success.

The mechanical vegetable "taster" was demonstrated in the frozen foods laboratories in connection with the station's research in new methods of determining tenderness of vegetables by machinery.

No Flag in 1777

The continental congress introduced the flag resolution in 1777, but the nation didn't have an all-American flag over the Capitol until 1866. English-made cloth was used before that.

Taxpayers Asso. Explains Stand On Two-Platoon

The Newton Taxpayers' Association, Inc. is not opposed to a two-platoon system or any other system for our fire department. The association, however, is in favor of deferring any action which might change our present excellent fire department until a complete survey has been made by experts who cannot only go into the matter of personnel but also can give recommendations on all other phases of the present department, such as equipment, training, fire prevention and locations of stations and possible consolidations of stations, which, incidentally, were built long before motorized equipment was installed.

The addition of a two-platoon system does not require a vote of the people, for the mayor as executive officer of the city can install the two-platoon system at any time upon authorization from the board of aldermen for the necessary appropriation. To vote "YES" for the two-platoon system in November means that the city will be required to install a two-platoon system before any comprehensive study or survey can be made. Intelligent people, when faced with an additional item of $80,000 each year, which would be the minimum cost of an adequate two-platoon system according to Chief Randlett, should defer action until a complete survey has shown what changes should be made.

There has been considerable discussion regarding the added cost to the city for installation of a two-platoon system. A group from the Firemen's Welfare Association originally stated that the added cost would be $26,850 annually. A committee from the board of aldermen who had several conferences over a period of two weeks announced that a two-platoon system could be installed for $50,000. The fact still remains, however, that Chief Randlett, to whom Newton has given the job of operating the fire department, still claims that an adequate two-platoon system would cost at least $80,000 annually. Certainly, the citizens of Newton would not be satisfied with a second-rate fire department.

The question for citizens to decide on Election Day is whether to vote "YES" and force upon themselves a heavy addition to the tax load or whether they shall vote "No" and allow changes to be made intelligently in the fire department after the entire matter has been carefully studied by experts to determine the most efficient and economical method of installation of any new system to be adopted.

Fined $35 For Drunken Driving

Thomas Flanagan of 134 Worcester st., Wellesley, was fined $35 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Monday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested by Patrolmen Cunningham and White after the car he was driving collided at Commonwealth ave. and Prince st. with a car driven by John Twomey of Brighton. A woman passenger in Flanagan's car was arrested for drunkenness. In court on Monday her case was placed on file.

Warren Jr. High

At the assembly on Friday, October 25, the school community and class officers were inducted into office in a most impressive ceremony. After an address by the principal, Mr. Scarborough, Millard Harmon took the oath of office as president of the Warren School Community. President Harmon then administered the oath of office to the following:

Boys' Vice-President, Verne Philbrook; Girls' Vice-President, Ann Macmillan; Secretary of the School Community, Priscilla Munroe.

Captain of Outside Patrol: William Tedesco; Head Host: Charles Rivers and David Gibson; Library Assistant, Philip Reichle; Corridor Monitor, Representative, Michael Nicolazzo; Civic Pride Representative, Joan Wade; Office Assistants, Nancy Schall, Sally Loughman, Nancy Dealy; Representative of Civic Pride Group, Joan Wade.

Three new students have entered Warren within the last two weeks. They are Joan and Geraldine Burns, who have moved to West Newton, and who formerly attended the Our Lady School, and Sheila Wilson, a refugee from England.

Students at Warren are enjoying four new teachers this year. Miss Elsie Dimick has come from Connecticut to teach Latin and General Language in place of Mrs. Ruth French, who resigned to go to Maine; Miss Ida Scheib, who was transferred from the Bigelow Junior High School to replace Miss Ella Brown, teaching English, who resigned in June. Miss Alice Burton, this year replaces Miss Helen Miles, who is studying at Iowa University; and Mrs. Hope Lawton, who is substituting for Mr. Charles Regan, who is studying this year at the University of Southern California.

—Two Platoon

$1.18 in Newton based as follows: "These figures are based on the population figures given in the 1930 census." Let's get up to date and quote directly from Chief Randlett's official Report for 1939, which states on page 4, that the fire loss in 1939 was $148,340.83 or over $2.00 per capita for 1939. This report is easily obtainable from our City Clerk.

If long hours of duty are to be pointed out as the reason for low per capita fire losses and efficiency, how are we going to look upon the per capita fire loss of one city which amounts to $1.05, with 99.9-10% of the fires confined to the point of origin, and this city works hours even less than the Two Platoon hours.

The fifth paragraph of the taxpayers' statement says "After examining these facts you will agree that we are getting about the best fire protection of any city in the country under the able leadership of Chief Randlett." In spite of this statement and in spite of the fact that for several years this able leader has advocated the Two Platoon system, the matter of a Two Platoon system for Newton, therefore, is not a question of protection for the figures show that to be adequate. The whole matter boils down to a labor problem, wherein the hours will be more convenient for the men and there will be more men to do the work of the present force." This would seem to imply that, as it was simply an improvement of working conditions, it was not even worthy of consideration by the public and that a movement to reduce the hours of duty to a figure of eighty-four hours, which is still twelve hours per day, seven days per week, should be sufficient to defeat it in itself.

Chief Randlett in the official Report for 1939 on page 4, gives a list of his 10 worst fires during 1939. A careful examination of these fires reveals that six out of the 10 fires occurred when our department was short handed during meal hours. This part of the official report in itself refutes the Taxpayers' argument. If this "labor problem" was solved our apparatus would never be undermanned by meal hours for there are no meal hours under the Two Platoon.

Speaking of the need of "five men to raise the biggest ladders" they say "by all means, let us install hydraulic hoists on our ladder trucks so that fewer men will be needed for this operation." Our first impulse was to laugh at this suggestion but, when we stop and realize that we cannot expect the average citizen to be familiar with our apparatus, we ask that they explain what they mean. In Newton, we have only one aerial ladder truck. This is already equipped with a hydraulic hoist. Our other two ladder trucks are what are called "city service trucks." It would be impossible to use any kind of a hydraulic hoist, regardless of make or description, with the type of ladders carried on these trucks. Such statements as these show a lack of proper study of the situation.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen of October 7th, 1940, the Taxpayers' Association requested "that if any report on the Two Platoon be sent out it be an unbiased one." This was in reference to sending a report to all the voters. By any stretch of imagination, this report that the Taxpayers sent out could never be called an unbiased one. In view of their request to the Aldermen, could not the Tax group have set an excellent example.

Another statement says, "The men do not work 100 1-3 hours a week. They are on duty that many hours." Would they say that the postman, whose hours have been reduced several times in the past twenty years, is only working when he actually is placing mail at your door, or that the teacher is only employed when actually lecturing to the class, or that the police officer is only actually working when making an arrest or directing traffic, or a lifesaver only working when actually rescuing someone from drowning.

The statement goes on to say "they must be in readiness to be called to work during those hours, but except for a few routine duties about the stations, their time is their own, during which they can sleep, read, follow some hobby or if interested, they might take up something which could bring some financial profit to themselves." As good citizens as well as good firemen, we obey the rule on page 8 of the department rule book which says "All members occupying sleeping quarters in the several stations shall vacate their beds at or before 7 a. m., except Sundays when they may be occupied until 8 a. m."

The 1936 committee of the Board of Aldermen state "Men must always be on the alert which prevents them from engaging in worthwhile study, avocation, recreation or physical recreation." "The long continuous stretches of service have had effect upon the morals, character and temperament of the men." "Every consideration of fairness and regard for the welfare of the men calls for the rearrangement of their working schedule to meet the conditions in the other municipalities in the State."

The statement points out that there is a long waiting list for positions on the fire department, inferring that it is a good job and other men are willing to work under the prevailing conditions, but we point out that we do not know of a single position from President down to office boy, regardless of the type of employment for which there would not be many applicants.

In the next paragraph they quote the cost as being $80,000. We respectfully refer them to the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen where a figure of thirty thousand dollars less than that quoted by the Taxpayers was given as an estimate. The last assertion is as follows: "In a survey just completed for a neighboring town, it is shown that their fire department is definitely overmanned. This is undoubtedly due to the adoption of the Two Platoon system before a complete study was made of the entire department." The Town referred to is Brookline which adopted the Two Platoon system more than twenty years ago when they added fourteen men and no officers to their department. Proof of this can be easily obtained on page 120 of the 1920 Report of the Town of Brookline which is on record at the Town Library.

Four years after the Two Platoon was adopted in Brookline a survey was made, upon request from the Town Fathers, by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. This report recommended more men, but the Town added more men than the survey requested. So it can be seen that the statement of the Newton Taxpayers in reference to a "neighboring town" is based on facts, and the survey that the Taxpayers refer to is of 1940 surely the adoption of the Two Platoon system by Brookline in 1920 is not responsible for this condition.

It is assumed that the officials of Newton would not use a just labor request as a means to overman the Newton Fire Department.

This statement by the Tax group was a little unfair in a campaign in which the firemen have been willing and ready to present the facts, as they are, to any person or organization in the city, even to the extent of soliciting the opportunity to do so. Ours is a fair request borne out by a careful analysis of the facts.

Governor To Vote For Two-Platoon

The following is a copy of a letter sent by Governor Saltonstall favoring the Two-Platoon:

October 29, 1940.

Frank J. Linnehan, Secy. Treasurer, Newton Firemen's Welfare Association, 15 Francis Street, Newton Centre, Mass.

My Dear Mr. Linnehan:

In reply to your letter of October 26 I am happy to inform you that in the interests of humanity and uniformity, I shall be very happy to vote for the adoption of the two-platoon system for the firemen of our city. I realize that it is practically universal throughout the Commonwealth. With kindest regards, I am

Very sincerely yours,
LEVERETT SALTONSTALL.

Cham. Commerce Favors Randlett Recommendation

Following a discussion of the Two-Platoon System for the Newton Fire Department which will appear on the ballot Nov. 5th for acceptance or rejection, the Board of Directors of the Newton Chamber of Commerce by vote went on record as follows:

"That inasmuch as the survey was submitted to the voters of Newton on the ballot Nov. 5th the question of acceptance or rejection of legislation creating a Two-Platoon System in the Fire Department should be as appraised by the voters of Newton as to complete the survey and more important that every precaution be taken to eliminate fire hazards."

DIAMOND JUBILEE

Captain Frank L. Nagle and Mrs. Nagle of Kirkstall rd., have gone to Philadelphia to attend the Diamond Jubilee Convention and celebration of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States, which will be celebrated at the Union League Club of that city. This organization was founded in 1865 as the club of the Civil War and is composed entirely of Commissioned officers or their direct descendants. Massachusetts has but one living original member—Brig. Gen. Wm. H. Bisbee, of Brookline, who celebrated his 100th birthday last January. Maj. Gen. Malvin Hill Barnes, U. S. A., retired, and Capt. Nagle are the delegates from Massachusetts, both of whom are Past State Commanders.

Taxpayers Asso. Stand on Platoons Criticized

The following is a copy of a letter sent by a very prominent resident of Newton to the president of the Newton Taxpayers' Association. The writer, as an executive of a large corporation has had much experience in dealing with the "labor problem."

Oct. 26, 1940.

Mr. Charles B. Jones, President, Newton Taxpayers' Association, 1357 Washington Street, West Newton, Mass.

Dear Mr. Jones:

I am, of course, in sympathy with the general objectives of the Newton Taxpayers' Association. My hesitation in becoming a member of the Association has been due to misgivings as to the soundness of some of the methods it has used to reach the objectives.

My conclusion not to join the Association has in part been reached because of the position taken by the Association in the matter of the proposed Two-Platoon System for the Newton Fire Department.

The communication of the Association appearing in the Oct. 25th issue of the Newton GRAPHIC apparently stated the position taken by the Association. If the issue is, in fact, "entirely a labor problem," the matter becomes one of almost paramount importance.

If the Association does not recognize it as such, it seems to me that the perspective of the Association is seriously obscured. When the Association proposes as the single question the voters should ask, this—"Does our present Fire Department give us adequate protection?" I find myself in complete disagreement with the Association.

Of equal or perhaps greater importance is the question—"Are the voters of one of the wealthiest cities of the Commonwealth content to perpetuate substantially less favorable working conditions for their firemen than are enjoyed by the firemen of every other city of the Commonwealth?"

The members of the Committee of Aldermen who reported on this matter in 1936 and again in the current year are, I believe, as alert to the desirability of economy in government as are the officers of the Association. There was, it seems to me, in this matter an opportunity missed by the Taxpayers' Association to take the position that while its objective was economy in government, that objective was subordinate to the desirability of eliminating unfavorable working conditions for city employees. This position, it seems to me, would have been applauded by the great majority of the citizens and in the long look would have helped to popularize the Taxpayers' Association and, perhaps, increased its influence. The Association might, at least, have taken the position that while it did not urge the adoption of the system at this time, it was not opposed to it in principle. Instead, the Association undertook to discredit the merits of the plan. When it publicly states that an issue involved is "entirely a labor problem," that reference, together with the subsequent comment on the "labor problem" is filled with danger. If the members of the Taxpayers' Association regard a "labor problem" as trifling or as a matter that should be quickly dismissed, I think such an attitude unworthy of the most prosperous people of our community. I believe that such an attitude would be disapproved by Wendell Willkie, who I suspect is the man whose electors most members of the Taxpayers' Association will vote for on November 5th—and incidentally who I hope will be elected.

Not the War

War does not have anything to do with the weather. Dr. J. L. Cline, United States weather bureau forecaster, has declared, "A great many people seem to think that the firing of guns in Europe has something to do with the rainfall we are having this summer," he said. "To prove this is not true we only have to look at the record, which shows plainly that there is nothing particularly unusual about this year's weather. During April, May and half of June, 1940, the war months, we had a total of 14.53 inches of rain. In the same months of 1920 we had 19.33 inches. In the peaceful April, May and June of 1922 we had 23.08 inches. In 1935 the total for the three months was 15.92 inches. So you see we still are far from setting any new precipitation record."

Newton Red Cross Annual Meeting at Woodland Golf Club

Annual Reports were submitted and officers elected at the Annual Meeting of the Newton Chapter of American Red Cross on Wednesday evening, Oct. 23. The meeting was held at 8 p. m., at the Woodland Golf Club, instead of at the Brae Burn Country Club as announced in advance.

Mr. Charles R. Cabot was re-elected chairman; Mr. Edward H. Leonard, vice-chairman; Mr. George S. Fuller, treasurer, and Mrs. James Dunlop, secretary.

Elected to serve on the Executive Committee, besides the four above-named officers, were Mr. Donald Angier, Mrs. Carl H. Hanson, Mr. Joseph B. Jamieson, Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Jr., and Mrs. Henry T. Patch. Chairmen of committees re-elected included: Braille, Mrs. Montague P. Ford; Emergency, Mr. Charles B. Floyd; First Aid and Home Hygiene, Mrs. Charles J. A. Wilson; Gray Ladies, Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Jr.; Gray Ladies, Newton Hospital Corps, Mrs. Austin Bittenbender; Home Service, Mr. William H. Rice; Junior Red Cross, Miss Callista Roy; Life Saving, Mr. Edward H. Leonard; Motor Corps, Mrs. Joel M. Barnes, Capt.; Production, Mrs. Carl H. Hanson; Sewing, Mrs. Stanley Livingston; Knitting, Mrs. David B. Galloway; Surgical Dressings, Mrs. William L. Young; Publicity, Roll Call, Mr. Ernest V. Alley; Roll Call, Mrs. Henry T. Patch, and To Fill Vacancies, Mrs. James Dunlop.

Branch chairmen elected for the various sections of the city are: Newton, Mr. Robert G. Howard; Newtonville, Mrs. F. Lincoln Peirce; Newton Centre, Mrs. E. K. Mentzer; Newton Highlands, Mrs. Louis H. Marshall; Waban, Mrs. Alan M. MacIntire; West Newton, Mrs. Edward W. Fride; Newton Lower Falls, Mrs. P. Clarence Baker; Newton Upper Falls, Miss A. Gertrude Osborne; Auburndale, Mrs. Edward B. Gray; Chestnut Hill, Mrs. Winslow Sears; Oak Hill, Mrs. Judson A. Smith, and Nonantum (Roll Call only), Miss Marion B. Goode.

Branch Personnel, chairmen in charge of Production, Knitting, Sewing and Surgical Dressings, remain the same as recently announced, for each section of the city. In Waban, Mrs. Marjorie K. Mason will be co-chairman in charge of the Sewing Group, to take the place of Mrs. Orville Forte.

Also to serve as Directors, besides the officers and executive chairmen mentioned above, are Hon. Paul M. Goddard, Dr. Egon E. Kattwinkel, Mr. George Lincoln Parker, and Rev. John A. Sheridan. Honorary directors include Mrs. George M. Angier, Mr. Henry H. Kendall, Mrs. Marcus Morton, Mrs. Fred S. Sawyer, and Mrs. Vernon B. Swett.

During the business session, also, tribute was paid to the memory of Miss Ethel W. Sabin, a former chairman, of Newton Upper Falls, and a Charter member of the organization, who passed away recently.

Presented as guests to the audience were Mrs. Alden B. Thresher, chairman of Volunteer Service from the Community Council; Dr. H. D. Choate, Health Officer of the city, and Miss Harriet Parsons, from the Family Service Bureau.

The speaker of the evening, Mr. Robert A. Shepard, executive secretary of the Worcester Chapter of Red Cross, gave a most interesting and inspiring account of Red Cross activities, of Relief Work in New England during the Hurricane disaster; and of the War Relief Work overseas, and of the vital and valuable Red Cross training which is resulting for men and women both in this country and in England, especially.

In speaking of the name Roll Call, he quoted Mr. Henry Davidson, of the Central Committee during the World War, who said, "It is simply the Roll Call of the American People."

Rotary Club

Mr. George W. Wheelright, Vice-President of Polaroid Company, talked last Tuesday to members of the Newton Rotary Club. The speaker was introduced by Rotarian Charles Sprague.

Quite by accident Polarized Light was discovered in the year 1852 but it was not until recent years that full importance of discovery was appreciated and put to practical use. Mr. Wheelright, who was at one time attached to the faculty at Harvard University, explained in detail the three fundamentals of light: color, intensity and wave motion. It is the study of wave vibrations of light which has developed many remarkable uses of Polaroid.

The speaker discussed Polarization mainly from two angles, first, from the angle of developing the third dimension of pictures; i. e., depth. Moving picture fans of the future will undoubtedly be seeing third dimension pictures, but under present conditions movie fans would need to wear Polaroid glasses to see the depth of the objects photographed. Within a year or so camera fans will be able to buy a camera to take still pictures which when shown would display three dimensions.

The second and most pressing need of Polaroid dealt with the treatment of auto headlights, in conjunction with the new type of windshield glass that will remove all the glare which has made night driving so dangerous and unpleasant. Mr. Wheelright indicated this development would shortly be ready to be merchandised, although Polaroid headlights and the new type of windshield will in the beginning be confined to new cars.

Through the use of pictures and Polaroid glasses, the audience was given practical and interesting demonstration of light-wave control.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

The second tea for senior open house was held Wednesday afternoon with Gardner, Draper, Blaisdell, and day students living in Auburndale, entertaining. The hostesses were Miss Wright and Miss Hoag, resident faculty, and Miss Mildred Lane, house president for Gardner, Miss Berkeley and Miss Rhoda Stafford, house president, for Draper, and for Blaisdell, Miss Worcester and Miss Luce with Miss Ruth Bayles, house president.

Miss Esther Sosman, Lasell '36, Alumnae Secretary, went to Chicago on Tuesday to represent the college at the annual luncheon of the Chicago Lasell Club.

Tuesday morning, the senior class in Fashion Design and Illustration presented a program showing how the well-dressed Lasell girl should look at different hours of the day. Miss Polly Irvin prepared the script for the program and Miss Janet Jansing acted as commentator. The models were members of the class.

The Friday morning assembly was given over to Mr. H. E. Jenkins of H. P. Hood & Sons who showed a sound motion picture in color entitled "The Story of Milk." In the evening a Festival of Music was presented by the choir of the Union Church in Waban under the direction of Harold Schwab, instructor of music at Lasell.

The Modern Dance Club held an informal country dance in the gymnasium on Saturday evening.

The vesper service Sunday evening will be a musicale with Harold Schwab, pianist and organist; Anna Eichhorn, violinist, and Verne Powell, flutist.

MEN YOU CAN TRUST

to Conduct your Government on an Honest and Sensible Basis

Wendell L. WILLKIE

for PRESIDENT of the United States

An understanding, humane executive. Up from the land, he knows the problems of agriculture and industry, of capital and labor. Pledged to preparedness and devoted to peace, he will serve every American interest, domestic and foreign, loyally and ably.

Leverett SALTONSTALL

for GOVERNOR

Stands squarely on his record of honest, sensible government, maintaining essential services effectively at the lowest possible cost and without a shadow of scandal. Pledged to continuation of those policies, he merits re-election in November.

Charles L. McNARY

for VICE PRESIDENT of the United States

A pioneer in farm relief legislation; a consistent advocate of sound social reforms; his 23 years in the Senate are a strong record of constructive service, liberal thinking and undiluted Americanism.

Horace T. CAHILL

for LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

Able supporting the policies of Governor Saltonstall and the Republican party, he has contributed much to the reduction of waste and extravagance in State affairs. Continuation of his service is needed.

Robert T. BUSHNELL

for ATTORNEY GENERAL

An able attorney with sound and practical experience in civic affairs and in the administration of public office; the well-rounded lawyer who has won state-wide recognition for honesty and ability.

Frederic W. Cook

for SECRETARY

Never opposed for office by a Republican and never defeated by an opposition candidate for 20 consecutive years, he stands for re-election on his record of conscientious service in an office of great responsibility.

William E. HURLEY

for TREASURER

A faithful, efficient public officer, he has saved the Commonwealth substantial sums. Through his alertness and application of business principles to administration, he has given efficient, economical administration.

Russell A. Wood

for AUDITOR

His fearless exposure of unauthorized expenditure of State funds guarantees the citizens of the Commonwealth that integrity and efficiency will continue to rule as long as he is retained in office.

Henry PARKMAN

for U. S. SENATOR

Unchallenged honesty and ability; rugged and persistent in promoting sound legislation, his energy and sincerity are needed in the United States Senate to insure immediate action for national defense.

Four Speakers Tell Federation of Community Service

The Newton Community Club and the Newton Social Science Club were joint hostesses for the fall meeting of the Newton Federation on Monday, at the Elliot Church, Newton. After the president of the Federation, Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, had called upon the pastor of the church, Rev. Ray Eusden for the invocation, she presented the presidents of the hostess clubs, Mrs. Marvin B. Perry and Mrs. Wallace Wales, and they extended welcomes from their respective clubs.

Lyscom Bruce was the first speaker, and he told of the growth of the Newton Community Chest and also of the Boston Chest and explained how a combine of the two seemed advisable to the present Board, as at present there are the two campaigns to be held each year. A union of the two would, after the first year or two, result, he felt, in a saving of time and energy. He added that from a point of sentiment, he opposed it, but from the practical viewpoint, it seemed wise.

A representative from the Massachusetts Tuberculosis Society was the next speaker, and he told of the latest sending of deaths from this disease since cars is available now for rich and poor alike, due to the funds received each year from the proceeds from the sale of stamps. He commended Newton on the way in which her campaign was carried out each year, and said the Newton cottage at the Sharon camp, was one of the places which he had inspected this summer. All money raised in Newton is used for Newton patients.

At the close of this half hour, the assembly was dismissed, and the groups went to their respective Round Tables where in many cases, speakers had been secured by the chairmen.

Perhaps the group which drew the largest audience was that conducted by the Legislative committee, Mrs. Albert Schaller chairman. She had secured four speakers from the city of Newton to talk on their activities.

Dr. Harold Chope, head of the Health Department, was the first speaker. His report of the health program for the state was not too satisfactory, but he said he could speak in the highest terms of his own workers where the entire personnel was made up of trained assistants. The announcement that he was resigning was received with regret.

Mr. John Haughey of the Street department was another speaker, and he called attention to the new system of lighting which has been installed between Beacon and Walnut sts., with such good results that headlights are not necessary at night.

The Welfare Work of the city was described by Mr. James Reynolds, who told of many of the types of people with whom he is in contact. One of the most serious handicaps to his work is the lack of low priced rentals, which means that his department must assume a part of the rents which would be unnecessary were there the cheaper rentals available in other communities.

Mr. Julius Warren, superintendent of schools, was unable to be present and sent his assistant, Dr. Laura Hooper, who is connected with the intermediate grades. A more democratic school system is being used more and more, and the teachers are having a voice in the administration, which they did not enjoy formerly.

After the question period which followed the four speakers, Mrs. Schaller introduced her state chairman, Mrs. Albert Farnsworth, who spoke of the need at the State College at Amherst for a new Home Economics Building.

Another of the Round Tables which had provided a speaker was the Education department of the federation, Mrs. Arthur Shannon in charge. Her speaker was Dr. Amos Wilder of Andover Newton Theological School, who took for his topic "Youth at the Crossroads." Dr. Wilder first urged that the youth be studied and treated from his present standing, not from that of earlier days.

Times have changed and youth with it, and parents must realize that they cannot stand still and yet have the loyalty and perfect understanding of youth. Home life and its environments play a most important part in the education of youth today. Also of importance are the schools and the churches.

Several of the committee chairmen had members from their state committee to speak. These included Art, Civics, Conservation, International Relations, Press and Publicity and Public Health.

Mrs. James Dunlop, director of the Twelfth district, was the first speaker at the afternoon session and she brought greetings from the state federation. She urged attendance at the coming conferences.

Paul M. Goddard, Mayor of Newton, was the next speaker, and he told briefly of some of the existing conditions at City Hall. He said he could say that the city's debt would be reduced this year, the civil service condition improved, and he said that welfare conditions were better.

Miss Emily Hickey had been expected as a speaker for the afternoon, but was unable to come, and Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, chairman of

The Program committee, announced that at the last moment a substitute had been provided. Mrs. Samuel Braham, a former president of the federation, had been on one of the Good Will tours last summer which the General Federation had sponsored and she told interesting events of the trip to South America.

Another cancellation had been made in the program, that of the "Seeing Fingers," and in place of this, Dr. Bhaskar Hivale, a native of India who had spoken before the International Relations group in the morning, remained to address the afternoon session. Dr. Hivale has been given three degrees by Harvard. In telling of the changes which his country is adopting gradually, he explained that the East could not accept all Western customs, but that they were retaining the best of their own and adding the best of other countries in order to make a perfect balance.

Wendell Willkie says:

"The only difference between this great democracy of ours, the last untouched democracy in the world, and totalitarianism is the continuation in office of one man. Germany found the indispensable man, Italy found the indispensable man, Russia found the indispensable man, and where is their democracy? If there ever was a time in the history of democracy when we should preserve all of its forms and all of its traditions, it is now."

The Founder of Our Country refused a third term.

Never before in the history of the United States have the words of GEORGE WASHINGTON been more timely than now.

In the FAREWELL ADDRESS the Founder of his Country definitely declined to run for a third term as President, although he would have been elected by an almost unanimous vote.

Based upon his long service in successfully directing the War of Independence, his continuous work in the creation of the United States under our Constitutional form of Government, his experience as President for two terms of office, his profound understanding of the ambitions of men for power and of the frailties of human nature, he gave wise and enduring counsel to this Nation.

The Founder of the Democratic Party said:

Thomas Jefferson, the Greatest Democrat, opposed the third term. He said, "Should a President consent to be a candidate for a third election, I trust he would be rejected on this demonstration of ambitious views. That I should lay down my charge at a proper period, is as much a DUTY as to have borne it faithfully."

THERE MUST BE NO THIRD TERM!

Because it violates the American safeguard against usurpation of power as established by Washington, Jefferson, Jackson, Cleveland.

Because power too long held destroys the mental balance of the holder and causes him to believe that his will alone should be the law.

Because a third term opens the door to DICTATORSHIP.

Because it perpetuates in office the hangers-on, job-holders and henchmen of the administration whose only wish is to cling to power and importance. We do not want four years more of Ickes, Corcoran, Hopkins and Madame Perkins.

Because the United States of America cannot live if strangled by a one-man government.

Democratic Platform of 1896:

"We declare it to be the unwritten law of this Republic, established by custom and usage of one hundred years, and sanctioned by the greatest and wisest of those who founded and have maintained our government, that no man should be eligible for a third term of the Presidential office."

Third term "fraught with peril to our free institutions," says DEMOCRATIC U. S. Senate

On Feb. 10, 1928, the Senate of the United States adopted the following resolution:

"That it is the sense of the Senate that the precedent established by Washington and other Presidents of the United States in retiring from the Presidential office after their second term has become, by universal concurrence, a part of our republican system of government, and that any departure from this time-honored custom would be unwise, unpatriotic and fraught with peril to our free institutions."

Among those who voted to approve this denunciation of the third term as "unwise, unpatriotic and fraught with peril to our free institutions" were Senator Alben W. Barkley, permanent chairman and second keynoter of the Democratic convention in Chicago; Senator Robert F. Wagner, chairman of the platform committee of the same convention; Senator Key Pittman, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate; Senator Pat Harrison, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Senate; Senator Henry F. Ashurst, chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the Senate; and the following other distinguished Democrats, all members of the present Senate: Gerry, Glass, Hayden, King, McKellar, Neely, Sheppard, Smith, Thomas of Oklahoma, Tydings and Wheeler.

Let's Give the Country Back to the People! VOTE FOR WILLKIE!

WOMEN'S CLUBS

State Federation of Women's Clubs. Travel class of the W. N. W. E. C. will meet at the home of Mrs. Paul E. Carlson, 93 Adena rd., West Newton, on Monday, Nov. 4, at 2:00 o'clock. Mrs. William D. Keefe will assist. Papers will be read on Mississippi and Tennessee by Mrs. Frederick E. Waring and Mrs. Louis A. Wilson. Hobby Class will meet at the home of Mrs. Frederick L. Legnard, 14 Foster st., Newtonville, Mass., on Tuesday, Nov. 5, at 2:00 o'clock.

Newtonville Woman's Club

"Puppetry Through the Years" is the title of the first regular program to be presented by the Newtonville Woman's Club, November 5th. The Kingsland Marionettes are prepared and organized by Mabel Kingsland Head and Cedric R. Head. This talented couple are among the leaders of their art in America as they write the plays, design and build the puppets and settings, and personally present the programs. This unique entertainment combines in pleasing manner a short history and background of puppetry, an exhibition of puppets from other countries, a short selected program with marionettes, and a demonstration of the various controllers used in the manipulation of all classes of puppets. The repertory includes dramatic numbers, short novelties, dances, tricks, and even a circus on strings.

The annual contributions of jellies, old cotton and linens for the Newton Hospital will be gratefully received by Mrs. Raymond Tucker, Chairman of the Hospital Committee, at this meeting.

The American Home Committee, Mrs. Walter F. Burt, Chairman, presents the second in the series of dancing classes, with Russell D. Curry, instructor, at the club house, Thursday evening, November 7th, at 8 o'clock. Refreshments will be served.

Waban Juniors

Several guesses and many comments have been made on the subject of the next Waban Junior Woman's Club speaker. At 8:00 p. m. on Monday, November 4th, Miss Jeanette Lind will address the club on "Beauty from Within." Whether this refers to interior decoration, spiritual or mental improvement, cosmetics or other beauty is a secret until Monday evening. The fact that Miss Lind is the Boston Consultant for the New York Dermatic Salon gives a hint of what to expect. All indications are that the members of the club will hear something new to think about in Fall Beauty. The meeting will be followed by refreshments served by Miss Dorothy Loud, Hospitality Chairman. Miss Nancy Winch is in charge of decorations. President Barbara Swenson announced earlier a bicycle ride for October and a bridge party for November. Extra activity plans also include knitting for the Newton Red Cross, Christmas bags for the Veterans' Hospitals, and work on our contributions for the Peabody Home for Crippled Children.

Newton Juniors

Mothers of the girls will be guests at the first birthday celebration of the Newton Junior Community Club to be held at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium on Monday evening, November 4th at 8:00 o'clock. There will be a talk and movies on "Flower Arrangement."

Miss Gertrude Dennison and her social committee will serve refreshments which will include a birthday cake.

Recent Events

Newton Community Club

Madellene Delight Brooks and her Seeing Eye dog "Verona" were the special attraction at the Newton Community Club on Thursday afternoon, October 24th. Miss Brooks gave a very inspiring talk telling how through "Verona's" devoted service she is now independent. She also sang most pleasingly two groups of songs. Miss Marjorie Johnson accompanied her at the piano.

Refreshments were in charge of Mrs. William Burnett assisted by Mrs. Henry P. Curtiss, Mrs. Ronald L. Gower, Mrs. George W. Wyman, and Mrs. Newton A. Merritt. The table decorations suggestive of Halloween, were arranged by Mrs. Kenneth Chase and Mrs. Thomas Enegess.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The West Newton Women's Educational Club had a most delightful afternoon on Friday, Oct. 25, watching some of its members modeling costumes from many foreign lands. Mrs. Robert Allingham told about the customs and costumes as each model appeared. Those who took part were Mrs. E. M. Martines, Hungarian; Mrs. Frank Hannan, Denmark; Miss Gloria Martines, Wales; Miss Doris Martines, Yugoslavia; Mrs. E. E. Hickey, Mexican; Mrs. F. C. Engels, Armenia; Mrs. Bento Curtis, Finnish; Mrs. E. F. Dunn, Swiss; Mrs. A. M. Hicks, Hawaiian Lady; Mrs. George E. Dennett, Hula-Hula dancer; Miss Louise W. Webster, East India; Mrs. William R. Benson, China; Mrs. Donald W. Whitney, South American Indian. A silver collection was taken for the Cook-mobility to be sent to England by the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs for Christmas. Dr. Constance G. Hartwell of the Fernald School gave an interesting talk about her work in Waverley. Tea was served after the meeting with Mrs. A. W. Colter and Mrs. Leo Oakie as hostesses and Mrs. Vernon E. Blagbrough and Mrs. Frank L. Ogilvie as pourers.

West Newton Community Service Club

An informal program at the Newtonville Library was enjoyed by the friends of the glee club of the Community Service Club of West Newton, which was put on to enable them to purchase gowns for the club members and for guest singers, on Monday evening, October 28.

Mr. J. W. F. Macdonald, husband of one of the glee club members, showed colored moving pictures of Yosemite Falls in the spring, when the melting snow makes them more beautiful than at any other time of the year. Equally delightful were the scenes of the New York World's Fair, Niagara Falls and the Saguenay River. His explanations of the pictures, as he went along, were most entertaining.

The glee club directed by Mrs. Marjorie Kingsbury sang, "The Star" by Rogers, "Sweet and Low" and "The Big Brown Bear."

The Auburndale Review Club

Wearing a dress that dated back to the founding of the Review Club fifty years ago, the president, Mrs. James G. Patterson greeted members of the club on Tuesday morning at her home, 333 Central st.

Last May Mrs. Patterson represented the club when the Pageant was given at Swampscott depicting the pioneer club women of Massachusetts. The gown which she wore is the property of Mrs. Guy M. Winslow of LaSelle, and the audience was told that the pearl gray fabric was made from a Philippine fiber. The many ruffles on the skirt and low bodice were edged with deep blue silk lace.

To those not so fortunate as to be present at the Swampscott meeting, her report gave a splendid idea of the beauty and dignity of the pageant. The two living Charter members of the club, Mrs. William H. Blood and Miss Lilla Rider were present and wore the medals which had been presented them from the club.

There were echoes from the meeting of the Newton Federation the day before, when the Legislative chairman, Mrs. William Tenney and the Literature chairman, Mrs. Susan Tuttle reported from their respective Round Tables.

"Some Latin American Fiction" was the first topic on the program, and Mrs. Philip Chase briefly reviewed chapters from several recent books by South American authors. She explained that back as far as the time of Cortez, the stories of their adventures had been well told. The intensity of style marked nearly everything in the line of literature.

Mrs. John Williams had the second paper and vividly described the building in Washington dedicated to friendship between the two Americas. The corner stone of this edifice, built by a Massachusetts builder, was laid in 1908 and completed in 1926, and is of marble.

The last paper was read by Miss Elizabeth Eaton in which she compared the two Americas and explained why Latin America, although much larger than Anglo America, had lagged behind in development.

Newtonville Woman's Club

A most colorful Bazaar, "Pot of Gold," was held at the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday, October 29th, under the direction of Mrs. Robert Lindquist, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. The Club colors of blue and gold were used extensively in the decorations of graceful palm tree and leaf effects. The tables, wearing full ruffled skirts of gold and blue, were teeming with a wide variety of useful and attractive articles.

Morning coffee, lunch, afternoon tea and dinner were served during the day and early evening. An entertainment of sound movies and the wonderful "Pot of Gold" grab bag, at the end of the rainbow, were the highlights for the children. After dinner, chess and bridge were played in the game room, under direction of Mrs. A. Gordon Weinz.

Those having charge of the various tables and activities were as follows: General Chairman, Mrs. Robert Lindquist; Decorations, Mrs. Charles H. Abrams, Jr.; Lunch and Dinner, Mrs. Erskine A. Gay; Morning Coffee and Afternoon Tea, Mrs. George Hinman; Game Room, Mrs. A. Gordon Weinz; Children's Entertainment, Mrs. Ernest Kuebler; Fortune Telling, Mrs. Frederick W. Harding; Candy Table, Mrs. Frank LeB. Aurelio; Food Table, Mrs. Horace Orr and Mrs. Frank Clark; Gifts, Mrs. Robert Lindquist; Grabs, Mrs. Reynold Grammer; Handkerchiefs, Mrs. Henry E. Johnson; Household, Mrs. Edward Ovington; Knitting, Mrs. Robert Whitehill; Twenty-five Cent, Mrs. Lucius P. Jones; White Elephant, Mrs. Clarence Wentworth.

The most anticipated feature of the day was the awards of the prizes offered by the various tables. Those receiving gifts were: Candy Jar, Mrs. Frank LeB. Aurelio; Hornel Ham, Mrs. Elmer Billings; Decorated Cake, Mrs. Horace Orr; Hand-knit Afghan, Miss Alice Rich; Casserole, Mrs. Hester Thompson; Radio, Mrs. Harry C. Hadd; Silex, Mrs. Walter Marsh; House coat, Mrs. W. A. Stockwell; Hammered Tray, Mrs. Chester S. Merrill; Silver Dish, Mrs. Perez B. Howard; Dressing Case, Mrs. B. Howard; Doll, Mrs. Christine Jones; Woman's Club, Stephanie Lindquist; Lace Tablecloth, Mrs. F. G. Ingraham; Sales Certificate, Mrs. Francis Mahan, Jr.

The Guessing Contest, as to how many pieces of gold in the Pot of Gold, was won by Mrs. John P. Kibrock.

NEWTON W. C. T. U.

Youth's Temperance Council will be featured at the meeting of the Newton W. C. T. U. on Thursday, Nov. 7, at 2:30 p. m. in the Parish House of the Newton Centre Baptist Church. Mrs. Albert W. Davis, leader of the work among children will have charge of the program. There will be speakers from the Young People's organization. Special music and tea. All interested in teaching children the facts about alcohol are invited to be present.

WEST NEWTON W. C. T. U.

The West Newton W. C. T. U. will hold their regular Evangelistic meeting at the home of Mrs. H. A. Rich, 78 Adella ave., West Newton on Monday evening, Nov. 4, at 7:45. The leader will be Mrs. Christine Carroll and the assisting hostess, Mrs. Gerhardt. The food sale which was to be held on Saturday morning by the West Newton W. C. T. U. has been indefinitely postponed.

Exhibition Of Paintings
At Newtonville Library

There will be an exhibition of landscapes and portraits in oil by Richmond Knapp Fletcher of Waban at the Newtonville Branch Library from Oct. 28th to Nov. 30th. Mr. Fletcher was formerly an architect associated with the firm of Cram and Ferguson where he contributed important design work to the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, New York. During the past eight years he has turned his hobby of sketching and painting into a successful vocation, specializing in portraiture and covering a territory including Pennsylvania and Missouri. His most recent portrait is that of the Hon. John Hay, for the Theta Delta Chi Fraternity.

There is also an interesting exhibition of shell ornaments and novelties made by Mrs. Ruth Walworth of Newton. She has written a book with the title "Shell Craft" which explains how she makes these unusual and charming creations all made of shells.

The library is open daily from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., closed holidays and Sundays.

NEWTON SPORTS

Tomorrow's Forecasts

Medford at Newton—Here is a close one. Both have played and won from Brockton and both have played and lost to Everett. The losses to the Red horde were by identical scores, 0 to 14. The wins were 13 to 0 and 13 to 7 respectively. But comparative scores mean little. Medford has scored seven touchdowns in six games and Newton four in five games. The Mustangs have scored but two points after their seven touchdowns and Newton two out of four, giving Newton a slight percentage edge. We will string along with Newton again to win by either a one touchdown or a one point margin.

Fitchburg at Brookline—The impotent Fitchburg team has scored but three touchdowns in six games, all against Hyde Park yet defensively they have been showing improvement holding Brockton to a 6 to 0 score last Saturday. The Wealthy Towners should have enough power to score at least once to win and give the upstarters their fifth straight defeat.

Waltham at Everett—Can Waltham do what five other Class A teams have attempted and failed? The Watch City could not turn back Lynn English last Saturday and the Glidea clan is on an even rating so it looks like Everett by a one or two touchdown margin.

Woburn at Melrose—Melrose packs too much smartness for a stubborn Woburn crew with the former due to win by two touchdowns or more. The Ell ponders are running second in the race for Class B honors five steps ahead of Woburn.

Quincy at New Bedford—The Quincy team has won three and lost three against stiffer opposition than New Bedford which ranks two steps above the Granite City outfit in the Class B standing. Once again we will string along with Quincy for a win by a small margin.

Brockton at Arlington—It looks like Arlington will be the third team to defeat the Shoe City outfit. The 1939 champions have slumped considerably this season losing to Medford and to Newton and just barely beating out Fitchburg last Saturday. Arlington, with an inexperienced team to start with, has come along to hold fourth place in the Class A rankings. An open date last Saturday may not have helped the Spy Ponders but unless they are badly off form they should take Brockton inasmuch as they have won four of their five games including victories over Malden and Lowell in Class A and Fitchburg and Chelsea in Class B. Their one defeat was at the hands of Leominster. The score should read Arlington 13 to 7.

Lowell at Lynn Classical—This game will be played tonight under the lights. Lowell ranks far down in the Class A ratings, below Newton and Medford and it should be Lynn Classical by two touchdowns at least for Captain O'Leary, Boley Danciewicz and gang.

Newton Bows To Lynn Classical

Score 6-0 Until Last Five Minutes of Play

Bowing to Lynn Classical in a 20 to 0 game at the Dickinson stadium last Saturday the Newton High football team suffered its third loss in five starts. The 20-0 score does not indicate the fact that two of the Lynn scores came late in the game when Newton was desperately trying to tally the tying or possibly winning points. An unfortunate fumble in the second period had set the stage for Lynn's first score but as the point after the touchdown was not scored the orange and black not only had a chance but threatened several times to even the count.

The Lynn team with a versatile running and passing attack and with Captain Francis O'Leary aided and abetted by Boley Danciewicz, 15-year old star quarterback, proved superior to a Newton offense which was largely borne by Joe Beatty. The Lynn line had the jump on the Newton forwards most of the game. Danciewicz scored two of the touchdowns and O'Leary the third with Simorowski booting two of three placement tries.

Late in the initial period Canning, Lynn end, recovered a Newton fumble on the latter's 34. On second down a nifty Danciewicz to O'Leary pass carried the visitors to the six yard line, as the period ended. On the third play after the teams had changed to the west end of the field Danciewicz went over for the score.

Late in the fourth period a long pass to Canning brought Lynn to Newton's six-yard line again. The old statue of liberty play with O'Leary carrying put the ball on the 1-yard line from where O'Leary plunged over for the score which sealed sure defeat for Newton. The placement try was good.

Newton began a late game aerial barrage with O'Leary intercepting one of Betts' heaves on the Newton 30 and running to the Newton four yard line. Danciewicz went over on fourth down and the goal was made for the twentieth point.

Early in the game Newton made a long march deep into Lynn territory only to have an intercepted pass halt the advance. In the second period two attempts by Newton were frustrated by fumbles while in the second half of the game fumbles and interceptions stopped the local forces.

First Period

Joe Beatty ran the kickoff back from the goal line to his 25. On fourth down Beatty kicked to the Lynn 35. Lowry and Avantaggio stopped Lynn on two plays before Danciewicz kicked with the high wind rolling the ball over the goal line. In three smashes from the 20-yard stripe Beatty picked up 21 yards, the last gain being for 14 stride, for a first down. Beatty, Avantaggio and Fahey made it first down again. Avantaggio sithered off tackle for ten yards but in shifting the ball to free his arm to ward off a tackle fumbled and Lynn recovered on their 38. A few plays later, set back by an off-side penalty Lynn took to the air with a 20-yard heave from O'Leary to Papegelis at end which set the latter free to the Newton 38 for a Lynn first down. Here Newton held to take the ball on downs on their 34 after two passes had fallen incomplete. Putting the ball in play Fahey fumbled and Canning recovered for Lynn on the Newton 35 and the visitors had their chance. Danciewicz's pass to O'Leary and a plunge by Zanni ended the period.

Second Period

Joe Beatty stopped Danciewicz on the 1-yard line and O'Leary was thrown for two yards loss but on the next play Danciewicz went over. The try for point was off to the right. Lynn kicked off with Fahey returning the ball to the Newton 38. Lynn took possession on a Beatty punt and a clipping penalty set them back to their 13 yard line, where Allen Hugo recovered a Lynn fumble to give Newton a chance. Beatty and Fessenden picked up four yards in two tries. Beatty's pass to brother Bob was inches high as the wind carried it out of his reach on the goal line. Brown broke through to nail Fessenden for an eight-yard loss and it was Lynn's ball on downs. O'Leary ran the end for 17 yards but then the visitors stalled and the ensuing punt went out at the Newton 30. A backfield mix-up cost Newton eight yards but Joe Beatty got away for a 17-yard romp and then a plunge for a first down. O'Leary intercepted a Beatty pass with time for only one play remaining.

Third Period

Joe Beatty ran the kickoff back 20 yards to the Newton 40. An offside penalty set Newton back but a Beatty pass for 36 yards clicked. Joe Beatty ran the end for ten yards and another first down as Newton swept down the field to the Lynn 14 yard line. With fourth down and three to go Beatty's pass was intercepted by O'Leary and Newton had been stopped. Lynn tried a quick kick on a second down which Joe Beatty returned to the Lynn 45 yard stripe. A Newton fumble was off-set by Fessenden's interception of a pass on the Newton 40-yard stripe. Beatty and Avantaggio picked up a first down but Newton tightened. Beatty's nifty punt bounced outside on the Lynn 2-yard line and the visitors were in a hole. Beatty took the ensuing kick on the 30 and ran it back to the 15-yard marker. Beatty picked up 7 yards and Newton was again threatening. Beatty's pass was intercepted by Danciewicz and the Lynn star was off on a 60-yard run which Healey stopped by overhauling the Lynn youngster. Joe Beatty intercepted a Lynn pass to give Newton the ball on their own 30 as the period ended.

Fourth Period

An exchange of punts gave Newton the ball on their 30-yard line again. Booth, who had replaced Beatty, fumbled and Lynn recovered. Here Canning took a pass to the 6 and O'Leary ran on the statue of liberty play to the 1 from which point Danciewicz plunged over and the point was good to make it 13 to 0. Lynn kicked off and on second down O'Leary's interception of Betts' pass gave Lynn the ball again in the shadow of the Newton goal as he raced to the 4-yard line. Danciewicz again went over, the kick was good and Lynn led 20-0. During the rest of the period Newton filled the air with desperate passes with Betts and Norcross on the heaving end and McEvoy and Brickett on the receiving end of several which ate up a lot of ground. On this march Newton swept from the Newton 18 to the Lynn 15 but to no avail, except to give Newton an edge on first downs of 9 to 4.

Newton Prepares For Medford

Two Teams Evenly
Matched for Game

The Newton High football eleven undismayed by its off-day against Lynn Classical last Saturday will take the field tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock against an in-and-out Medford aggregation. Coach MacDowell lost two regulars and possibly a third this week due to eligibility rules. John Salmon, back, and George Doherty, guard, are the two who felt the heavy hand of scholastic difficulties while John Fahey, blocking back, has had to do extra school duty in an effort to make up an "incomplete" because of absence from an infected leg a few weeks ago. If eligible he will take over the blocking backs duties in a backfield shift made by the Newton coach this week. Charley French will be at fullback with Gus Avantaggio and Joe Beatty at the running back positions.

Allen Hugo will replace Doherty in the line for the only changes planned by Coach MacDowell. Lowry at centre, Bieler at the other guard position, Healey and Kaloudian in the tackle berths and Captain Bob Beatty and Phil Teschner on the wings complete the line.

All members of the squad are in playing shape except Al Savignone whose injured leg will take another week or so of careful handling before he is ready for action. Outside of tender shoulders, sore ankles and bumped knees here and there which do not handicap the owner greatly there are no injuries to speak of.

The visiting Medford outfit is a big and rugged crew which figures to give Newton plenty to handle. The Blue and White lost Chuck Edgerly, another of the famous brothers who have starred for years, a couple of weeks ago but still pack plenty of power and finesse. Next to the powerful Everett team the Medford eleven ranks next strongest of Newton's opponents. On the basis of comparative scores against Everett the two outfits rate even as both lost to the Glidea clan by 0-14.

Medford started slowly losing to Worcester Trade 0-6 and to Melrose 6-7 before turning the tables on Brockton 13 to 0. Then the Mustangs rode to an 18 to 0 win over Somerville but in the past two weeks have tasted defeat at the hands of Lynn English, 7 to 12 and from Everett 0 to 14. Thus with a 2-4 rating the Blue and White ranks below Newton with its 2-3 rating from wins over Woburn and Brockton and losses to Quincy, Everett and Lynn Classical.

Newton will go all out in an effort to score its third victory of the season and if it is necessary to stage an aerial barrage the Newton mentor will send George Norcross to the firing line. Norcross heaved one pass after another in the closing minutes of last week's game in an advance which catapulted the Newton eleven from their own 20 to the Classical 15 in two shakes of a lamb's tail. With the two teams apparently quite evenly matched one of the best games of the season should be staged before the Dickinson stadium on this first Saturday in November.

Last Week's Predictions

Your forecaster only missed two of seven predictions last week, yielding on the Newton-Lynn Classical game and on the Weymouth-Quincy fray. Picking Everett over Medford, Brookline over Framingham, Lynn English over Waltham, Brockton over Fitchburg, and Woburn over Stoneham gave us five hits. The season total to date reads 24 right, 13 wrong and 4 ties for a 58.5 percentage.

Framingham almost upset our applecart by holding a 6 to 0 edge over the Wealthy Towners until well into the second half when Brookline tallied to tie and Nixon booted the point after for the winning edge. Brockton had more difficulty with Fitchburg than anticipated finally returning to the Shoe City with a 6 to 0 margin. Woburn romped with Stoneham for a 31 to 6 win in a game which beforehand looked like a rather even battle. Waltham did not score to upset our prediction of a closer game than the 13 to 0 score which Lynn English maintained. Everett, tied with English for the lead in the Class A title race toppled Medford 14 to 0 in a game which saw the Glidea clan take advantage of its usual breaks and which denied Medford a score without Chuck Edgerly, backfield star.

NEWTON NEWS

The Young Men's Club, recently formed at the Y. M. C. A. selected the name of "Omnicron" at a meeting of the club held last Monday evening. Morton Harrington, president, presided at the meeting and made the following additional appointments: Chairman of the Program committee, Algie Shapalis; chairman of the Social committee, Donald Weeks; Sergeant-at-arms, Malcolm McGary. The club will meet the first and third Monday night of each month and social affairs will also be held during the month. Membership will be limited to fifteen, and provided interest in Young Men's clubs is continued, other groups will be formed. The purpose of the clubs will be to foster closer social relationships among the young men who are its members through physical, educational, and social activities.

The regular meeting of the Board of Directors will be held on Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. Mr. Frank A. Day, Jr., president, will preside at the meeting.

Boy's Division

A very successful Halloween party was held last Saturday morning at the Y for the Cadets in the boy's division. In a costume parade the following boys received prizes for having the best costume: 1st, Edwin Cushing; 2nd, Robert Westermarck; 3rd, William Underhill; 4th, Bradford Browne. After a series of games and plenty of refreshments, the party came to a close.

The Annual Halloween party of the entire Boy's Division was held on Wednesday evening with a very large group in attendance. Games, refreshments, and entertainment by Mr. Joe Lorraine, versatile performer, gave everyone a very enjoyable party.

Every Friday night a dancing class is being held for all those high school members who wish to learn to dance, or improve their dancing. Dancing begins at 7:30 with instruction from 8 to 9. Those who wish may remain and dance until ten o'clock. Mrs. Clara Wisbach is the instructor, and anyone interested is asked to get in touch with Morton Harrington, chairman of the committee.

Bowling

The bowling league finished its second week of competition with team No. 2 holding the lead. Bowling for the leaders are: H. Higgins, M. Billings, Ed. Bosworth, J. Higgins. Outstanding in the league is Ralph Washburn, who holds the high single with 117, the high 3 strings, with 302 and the high average with 98.

Automobile Accidents

A taxicab driven by John Kelleher of Island st., Roxbury, and a newspaper truck driven by Robert Rossman of Allston, collided at 5:20 a. m. Monday at Commonwealth ave. and Manet rd., Chestnut Hill. Kelleher received a probable fracture of the skull and brain concussion. He was taken to Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. Two women riding in his taxi received slight injuries and were treated by Dr. C. A. Riley of 254 Commonwealth ave. They were Mrs. Charles Train of 1035 Centre st., Newton Centre, and Mrs. Harold DeVos of 1 Willow ter., Newton Centre.

An automobile driven by Robert Vogan of 96 Brayton st., Brighton, hit a bicycle ridden by Lawrence Levine, 16 of Pleasant st., Brookline, at Beacon st. and Reservoir rd., Chestnut Hill, on Sunday afternoon. Levine, a messenger boy, was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital. He received a cut on his head and leg injuries. Vogan reported that he was blinded by the sun shining into his eyes.

When Berry Johnson turned around for an instant to talk to Mrs. Herman Goffman of 40 Brackett rd., Newton, Sunday, as he was driving her car on Brookline st., Oak Hill, the automobile left the road and hit a fence. Mrs. Goffman received a knee injury.

John Magee, 15, of 415 Parker st., Newton Centre, lost control of the vehicle on Saturday and went over an embankment on Union st., Newton Centre. He received a wrist injury and face injuries. He was taken to Newton Hospital for examination.

National Education Week Will Be Observed November 10 to 16

Parents Invited to Attend Sessions And Demonstrations In Newton Schools

Governor Saltonstall has called the attention of the public to National Educational Week, which is being celebrated throughout the country from Nov. 10th to 16th, and every school in Newton has planned programs which afford the parents and the citizens an opportunity to see just what is being offered to the children in these days when education like industry shows so many changes from the practices and standards of former days.

The programs are of great variety but every single school, regardless of other events, is extending a cordial invitation to all citizens to visit its classrooms during a regular school session and see what actually goes on day by day. Because such a visit naturally cannot give an opportunity at all for conference between parent and teacher, each school is making special arrangements for some other hours when this all-important contact between home and school can be carried on. Some of the schools are having public assemblies during the week, but these will not present some program specially prepared for that event but rather one calculated to demonstrate normal school activity, such as how the modern school makes use of the auditorium as a regular routine in its educational program. Other schools are holding Open House Parents' Nights, some with special speakers and some merely with exhibition of ordinary work; but all with time for conferences where the parent and the teacher can plan together for the best interests of the child. In a few instances the observance of Education Week is being combined with the regular meetings of the Parent-Teachers' Association.

Whether or not he has children in school, every citizen is anxious that the children of Newton shall have adequate educational opportunities and, while he may feel a little hesitant about visiting a classroom all by himself, Education Week affords him the opportunity to do it with other adults and to see regular classroom activities in a situation as nearly normal as possible. The modern school is striving to promote the maximum possible growth of each pupil in the acquisition of skills, information, habits, and attitudes which contribute to a well-rounded personality, and the Frank F. Carr School, Newtonville, offers the following suggestions to help parents evaluate the activities through which this growth is sought:

1. Is your child working with the others in his group?
2. Is he interested in and busy with what he is doing?
3. Is his attitude one of helpfulness and co-operation?
4. Does he seem happy in his school surroundings?
5. Are there additional ways in which the school and the home can co-operate to better the health, growth, and development of your child in skills, habits and attitudes?

The detailed programs of the various schools are as follows:

Newton High School—Wednesday, Nov. 13, 7:00-9:00 p. m. Conference period for parents in teachers' rooms, and exhibits of pupils' work in Art, Industrial Art, and Clothing. At 8:00 p. m. a special program of recreational activities by girls of the Physical Education Department. At 9:05 p. m.

Red Cross Crusade For Humanity In Annual Roll Call

Nationwide this month of November, the American Red Cross calls the Roll of Americans, the sponsors of its great humanitarian work, at home and abroad.

Not since another war, the World War, over 20 years ago, has there been so apparent for these services which America's organization renders constantly for relief and assistance, and the people realize it keenly and appreciatively. In times of stress and emergency, such as disaster, its work is recognized easily. Such deeds are spectacular. In these days of war overseas, its work also is realized and sustained. These acts of assistance likewise are spectacular.

But there is other work of the Red Cross, work that is going forward daily, weekly, yearly, serving practically every family in the community. This is not spectacular. It is quiet, efficient, steady, but blessed as surely in whatever avenue it serves. And for its continuance it needs as greatly the funds which provide that efficiency and helpfulness, as do the more spectacular relief measures.

Those funds are contributed yearly in the Roll Call. On Nov. 11th, this Roll Call will open by proclamation of the Mayor of Newton, Hiram and Goddard, for this city, and every Newton family is asked to respond with its name upon the Roll, contributing memberships ranging from $1 to $25, or more, to raise the $15,000 to $20,000 needed by the Newton Chapter of American Red Cross, that it may carry forward its vital work.

Chairman Norman Davis, of the National Society, in stating "it is hardly necessary to stress the imperative need for a total Roll Call this November," declares that "the expanding program for 1941 becomes a humanitarian crusade, an American crusade to meet America's own needs."

Heading the Newton committee in charge of this great "humanitarian crusade," carrying it to accomplishment, that Newton families may be served in all its avenues of activities, is Mrs. Henry T. Patch, chairman; Mrs. George Lincoln Parker, vice chairman; and as branch chairmen of the various sections of the city: Mr. Robert G. Howard, Newton; Mrs. F. Lincoln Peirce, Newtonville; Mrs. E. K. Mentzer, Newton Centre; Mrs. Louis H. Marshall, Newton Highlands; Mrs. Alan M. MacIntire, Waban; Mrs. Edward W. Price, West Newton; Mrs. P. Clarence Baker, Newton Lower Falls; Miss A. Gertrude Osborne, Newton Upper Falls; Mrs. Edward B. Gray, Auburndale; Mrs. Winslow Sears, Chestnut Hill; Mrs. Judson A. Smith, Oak Hill; and Miss Marion B. Goode, Nonantum.

The Roll Call closes Nov. 30th, and all who wish to enroll as members, (Continued on Page 10)

Speaker at Forum Pro-Roosevelt, Arouses Audience

Williams Is Heckled By Willkie Supporters

Heckling of the speaker made its appearance in the stormiest session in the history of the Newton Forum, when James T. Williams, Jr., former editor of the Boston Transcript, opened the sixth Forum season, speaking on National Defense and Foreign Policy as the Real Issues before America, before an audience of 900 in the high school auditorium last Sunday afternoon. Feeling that the speaker's claim to non-partisanship was belied by his words, a good portion of the audience asserted itself in the question period, interrupting the Washington editor's replies with calls and denials and fighting for the privilege of questioning him.

Chairman Kirtley F. Mather admitted bipartisan questions both in writing and orally from the floor. Unheralded as a proponent of the President's foreign and national defense policies, the audience was stunned into silence by Williams' outright assertion that these policies were not real issues today, but that "deliberate falsification of the facts about them for political purposes" was a very real issue. He submitted statements and testimony from Judge George Patterson (R.) assistant secretary of war, Col. Knox and Stimson, the chief of staffs of army, navy, and air forces as evidence of "the facts." Mr. Williams is himself an editor of the Army and Navy Journal.

Quoting Washington and Lincoln on the dangers of rampant partisanship, and addressing himself to the intelligence of his audience rather than to their emotions, his speech started slowly. He undertook to examine the historical background of American foreign policy in order to answer three questions: first, what is our foreign policy; second, what its present aims; third, what is the condition of our national defense.

Having showed that our foreign policy was historically based upon the Monroe Doctrine as augmented by the Monroe Doctrine of "enlightened self-interest," he cited examples from many presidencies to show that there is precedent for what are today regarded in many quarters as provocative acts, notably Theodore Roosevelt's protests against anti-Semitic pogroms in czarist Russia, Grover Cleveland's action in the Venezuelan case. He left no doubt as to his position on the matter and his feeling that now, as then, in spite of the violent opposition of prominent persons in the nation, the great mass of people had supported the traditional policy of sympathy for oppressed minorities and for extending our defense frontiers. Washington, he asserted, established the tenet that the U. S. must have a strong enough defense to repel and defeat any aggressor or would-be aggressor.

He felt that our policy in the Far East has greatly strengthened our position with the nations to the South (Continued on Page 10)

Huge Republican Majorities In Newton as Ninety-Four Percent of Voters Ballot

THE CITY OF NEWTON,
Massachusetts
By His Honor
PAUL M. GODDARD
Mayor

A Proclamation

The Annual Red Cross Roll Call for the citizens of Newton will take place in our City from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving. The Roll Call assumes unusual significance this year when men are being called to the service of their country, and when all citizens are anxious to meet any opportunity to be of service during these critical times.

Our City wants to be of assistance to our State and Nation. We want to be prepared for whatever the future may bring, and the Red Cross will always be found in the front lines extending the hand of Mercy. May we, the citizens of this community, always stand back of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross.

PAUL M. GODDARD,
Mayor.

November 4th, 1940.

Would Register Newton Bicycles

A committee of the Newton Safety Council which includes Raymond A. Green, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay and Chief of Police Hughes, is working on the adoption by the City of Newton of an ordinance providing for the registration of bicycles in this city. Such ordinances have already been adopted by a number of cities and towns in this State. It is estimated that there are between 4000 and 5000 bicycles in use in Newton. The State has so far failed to have enacted a law providing for the compulsory registration of bicycles, but local authorities in a number of places have passed ordinances for voluntary registration.

A law compelling bicycles to carry a light at night was enacted many years ago in Massachusetts, but has not been enforced in Newton or elsewhere. The enforcement of this law would have prevented many accidents in the past, and would have saved the lives of many boys and girls who were riding unlighted bicycles after darkness had set in. Another law which should be enacted—and enforced—is one forbidding more than one person riding on a bicycle on a public highway.

State Police Guard Ballots

The ballots cast by Newton voters have been guarded at City Hall since Wednesday by Newton and State police. When very late returns from Fall River, New Bedford, Quincy, and a few other places on Wednesday brought down an apparent safe plurality for Governor Saltonstall to a dubious margin over Paul Dever, Republican leaders had State Police ordered to guard the ballots in those cities and in Boston and other Democratic strongholds. The Democrats countered by demanding that ballots also be guarded in Republican strongholds such as Newton, Brookline, Winchester and other towns and cities. Mr. Dever later asked for a statewide recount.

Offers Reward For Arrest Of Vandals Who Broke Vase

Dr. Harrison Berg of 1643 Washington st., Auburndale, reported to Newton police last Friday that someone had entered the vestibule at his home on that day and broken a large vase which was there. The vase was valued at $50. Dr. Berg offered a reward of $25 for the arrest and conviction of whoever broke the vase.

Saltonstall Receives Largest Vote Ever Given Any Candidate In This City

Ninety-four per cent of Newton's registered voters performed their civic duty on Tuesday and went to the polls. Of the 40,916 voters in the city 38,355 cast ballots. These included some aged and crippled patriots who had to be carried into the voting booths. Newton maintained its reputation as the strongest Republican city in this State. It gave Willkie 25,629 votes as against 12,101 for President Roosevelt. Newton's own son, Leverett Saltonstall, received 27,153 votes, and his leading opponent Paul Dever received 10,557. Results proved that the Governor needed this big majority to win the contest. The vote given Mr. Saltonstall was the largest ever cast in Newton for any candidate for a political office. Congressman Robert Luce received 22,172 votes in Newton, and his victorious opponent, Thomas Eliot, running head of his ticket, received 14,833. For Senator, Henry Parkman, Jr., was given 23,151 votes and David I. Walsh 13,727.

Another Newton resident, Robert F. Bushnell, received a big vote in the contest for Attorney General. He was given 26,684, while his opponent, James H. Brennan, was given 15,181. Newton firemen won a big victory in their fight to obtain the two platoon system. Despite strong opposition from the Newton Taxpayers' Association, Newton citizens voted more than 2 to 1 for the firemen's desire. The vote was 22,612 in favor, and 11,006 opposed. The only precinct in the city to vote against this referendum was Precinct 5 of Ward 5, one of the Waban precincts. In accordance with the State law, the two platoon system must be put into effect within 90 days.

Newton also showed its trend toward liberalism by voting in favor of instructing the Senator from this district to vote for $10 weekly payments to recipients of old age assistance by a vote of 2 to 1. This referendum was given majorities in every precinct except 3 and 5 of Ward 5, both of which are in Waban. A result surprising to many was a majority cast in Newton for a state lottery. The vote was 17,196 for and 15,243 against. Newton maintained its status quo on the liquor licenses; voting in favor of the sale of malt and wine beverages to be drunk on premises where sold, giving a big majority to package store licenses and again turning down licenses for the sale of all liquors for clubs and restaurants.

Voters in Newton flocked to the polling places in large numbers early Tuesday and by noon nearly 50 per cent had cast their ballots. Under the new system in use in this city, precinct officers, other than wardens and clerks, who worked during the day, were replaced by counters who reported in the evening. In addition to those assigned by the City Clerk, some wardens of precincts on their own initiative put other extra counters to work at night. Despite the large number of those working at the polling places, the long ballot with its six referenda delayed returns. It was 1:30 Wednesday morning before the ballots from the first precinct (1 of Ward 2) arrived at City Hall, and it was after 5 o'clock that morning before the ballots from the last precincts reached the City Clerk's office.

A considerable number of aged and infirmed persons came to the polling places, and some of them had to be carried into the voting booths. Both Democrats and Republicans had many workers driving automobiles and checking at the polling places. Candidates also had men and boys handing out cards in the vicinity of the various voting places. Of the about 8000 voters registered this year, it appeared that three-quarters of them voted the Republican ticket.

In the contest for Lieutenant Governor, Cahill, Republican, received 26,630 votes and Gallagher, Democrat, 10,223. For Secretary of State, Cook received 27,600 votes and Mrs. Foley, Democrat, 891. For Treasurer, Hurley, Republican, received 26,048, and Donahue, Democrat, 9474.

For Auditor, Wood, Republican, received 25,441; and Buckley (the unknown) ran ahead of some of the Democrats for other State offices, and received 10,378 votes. For Councillor—Brooks, Republican, received 24,999; and Bennett, Democrat, 10,585. For Clerk of Courts—Putnam, Republican, 24,945; Duffy, Democrat, 10,596. For Register of Deeds, Leighton, Republican, received 25,310; Clair, Democrat, 9,964. For County Commissioners—Bowditch, Republican, received 23,084; and Giroux, Republican, 21,959. Brennan and Kelly, the Democratic candidates received 9786 and 7602, respectively. For County Treasurer, Cook, Republican, received 24,930; and Hurley, Democrat, 10,254.

Detailed votes for various offices and the referenda will be found on Page 8.

Advisory Board For Registrants

The advisory board for registrants in Wards 6 and 7 will meet each evening from Monday to Friday of each week from 7:30 to 8:30 at the Fire Headquarters, 1164 Centre st., Newton Centre.

All registrants in Wards 6 and 7 under the Selective Service Act, who have received questionnaires, may consult this board for advice in filling out their questionnaires without charge.

Brooks Potter is chairman of the board and the following are members: Joseph L. Lockett, Arthur L. Sherin, Hermon Holt, Jr., Edmund O'Callaghan and James A. Waters.

Dr. Ernest Morris Appointed Health Officer of Newton

The Newton Board of Health has appointed Dr. Ernest M. Morris of Fall River as Health Officer of Newton to succeed Dr. Harold M. Chope. This appointment has been confirmed by Mayor Goddard and will be submitted to the Board of Aldermen next Monday night.

Dr. Ernest M. Morris received his A.B. degree from Brown in 1910, his M.D. and C.M. (Chirurgia Magistrus) in 1914 from McGill University. He was then associated with the Royal Victoria Hospital as senior resident physician from 1914 to 1917. In 1918 he joined the United States Army with a commission of Captain and was assigned to detached duty with the British Expeditionary Forces in France.

Following the war he returned to this country and was surgeon at Fort Banks until 1922. At that time, he resigned from the army and took up private practice of orthopedic surgery. In 1927 he was asked to become the Director of Public Health in Fall River and qualified under Health Service regulations. In 1932 the State Finance Commission which had taken over the financial management of Fall River requested that Dr. Morris also assume responsibility of the direction of the hospital. He did this at the saving of large amounts of money for the City, and it is well known that he provided a most effective service both in health and hospital administration for the City of Fall River.

In the summer of 1937 he resigned his position at Fall River to be a candidate for the degree of Master of Public Health at Harvard Graduate School of Public Health. While at Harvard, Dr. Morris distinguished himself with honors, ranking in the upper quarter of his class and was elected to the National Honor Society for public health, Delta Omega.

Following the completion of his work from Harvard, he was invited to become a member of the staff of the Massachusetts State Health Department, which position he has held until the present time. For two years he served as the District State Health Officer in the Metropolitan area and through this association, became familiar with the policies of the Newton Health Department and the personnel.

Dr. Morris has enjoyed the high honor as serving as President of the Massachusetts Public Health Association and has for many years been a member of the executive committee of that organization. He is regarded by all who know him as one of the outstanding health administrators in the Commonwealth.

DEMOCRACY HAS SPOKEN

Some fifty million persons have exercised their right under our free democracy to choose the President of this country for the next four years. Traditions which the minority of persons cherished have been broken, confidence has been shown in the foreign policies and other phases of the administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. The greatest need in this country today is national unity. Although the election was a clear victory for the present administration the voice of the minority is greater than in the past eight years. The acts of the administration in the coming months will reveal America's future destiny. No one man in history has ever held in his hands the power which the President of the United States of America now possesses. The momentous question still to be answered is whether the use of that power will be to weld democracy and freedom together more forcefully than in the past or whether it will be used to perpetuate and increase the domination of government on the people instead of "for the people and by the people."

THE COMMUNITY FORUM

For the first time in the six seasons of the Newton Forum an audience felt compelled to mildly heckle the views of the speaker at the opening meeting last Sunday afternoon. It was obvious that an overwhelming majority of the audience was not in sympathy with the views presented—views which were extremely partisan. We believe, however, that the incident was more beneficial than detrimental—that it will stimulate further interest toward a worthy objective—the stimulation of community thought upon current events and trends on a democratic and non-partisan basis. Frequently it is well for anyone to hear and think over the opposite viewpoint from that toward which we naturally lean by virtue of our environment, education and purpose.

ARMISTICE DAY

Twenty-two years ago on Monday the first World War came to an end with the signing of the Armistice. In many nations the significance of that day has ended, yet in America it is fresh in the minds of millions of citizens. We want no part in another such event. In pausing to honor the memory of those who willingly sacrificed their all let us again resolve that "they shall not have died in vain." Let every effort be toward peace in the world with liberty and justice for all.

THE RED CROSS ROLL CALL

The annual Red Cross Roll Call from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day begins next Monday. Throughout the years this organization has offered relief in times of stress and emergency which is inestimable in the extent of its benefit. Today that need is greater than ever before in the war-torn chaotic world. It is not only a privilege but a duty of citizenship to share in this work. JOIN the Red Cross NOW!

BOOK WEEK

America is unquestionably the most well-read nation in the world. Yet in many places the accessibility of reading material and facilities is sadly lacking. In many ways the quality of reading should be vastly improved. Newton libraries, schools and educational organizations are joining in the observance of National Book Week from Nov. 12 to 16th. The progress of civilization demands improved mentalities which can be aided by careful selection of one's reading material.

THANK YOU

May we express our sincere thanks to the citizens of Newton for their generous adoption of our Two Platoon Referendum. By your vote you have recognized that every consideration of fairness and regard for the welfare of your Firemen called for a rearrangement of their working schedule to meet the conditions in the other municipalities of the State. For this we are most grateful.

Powers' Paragraphs

Last Sunday Registrar of Motor Vehicles Goodwin issued his weekly report of automobile fatalities in Massachusetts. He gave out the doleful information that during the preceding week 26 persons had been killed on highways in this State; 12 more than the preceding week and 11 more than the corresponding week last year. He said that drunken driving and speeding are the principal causes of these fatalities, especially at night when 20 of the 26 were killed. Who is largely responsible for speeding at night? Not the officials and police chiefs of many cities and towns where speed limits of 25 and 30 miles are enforced both day and night. The person who has been advocating (at public expense) not to drive MORE THAN 45 MILES or ANY HOUR AT NIGHT (or on wet streets) is one Frank A. Goodwin, the same Registrar of Motor Vehicles.

The Massachusetts law specifies that anyone convicted of driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor shall be fined not less than $35 or more than $1000, or sentenced to prison for not less than two weeks or more than two years, or a combination of both fine and imprisonment. Some years ago a large percentage of judges in Massachusetts, including Judge Bacon and Judge Weston in Newton, customarily fined drunken drivers $100. Then, it became the custom among district court judges to impose lower fines on drunken drivers, until for years the majority of such judges have been specifying $50 fines, or $35 fines.

The State law specifies that any person convicted of driving while under the influence of liquor shall be fined not less than $35 or more than $1000, or sentenced to serve not less than two weeks in prison or more than two years; or both a fine and prison sentence may be given. Not being a judge or a lawyer, it may seem presumptuous on our part to offer any criticism or suggestion regarding the degree of a penalty to be imposed for drunken driving, or for any other crime. But, not regarding judges as sacrosanct, or believing that all of them are infallible, or even possessors of the "judicial temperament," we venture to ask why so many of our judges make a practice of limiting the penalty on drunken drivers to the minimum, the $35 fine, regardless of the circumstances connected with each particular case? That gives the mind, it would appear that when a law is passed providing a minimum fine of $35 for an offense, and a maximum fine of $1000, or the more drastic punishment of imprisonment up to a long period, that when an operator of a motor vehicle drives while drunk, and causes serious property damage to other automobiles, or more especially injuries to a person, or to several persons, such a drunken driver rates more than the minimum penalty of $35. If not, what are the higher fines or the prison penalties supposed to be imposed for? If judges consistently show leniency toward drunken drivers, regardless of financial losses and physical suffering from their drunken driving causes to other persons, is it reasonable to suppose that progress will be made in discouraging this serious menace to the safety of the public?

The election is over. On a basis of the vote cast in Newton, more than two-thirds of the people of this city are disappointed because Wendell Willkie was not elected President. In this column last week I stated that although I realized that most of the readers of THE GRAPHIC desired the election of Mr. Willkie, my prediction was—that President Roosevelt would be re-elected. Only that I wanted to be somewhat tactful, I would have added that he would be re-elected by a big majority.

The writer can remember many presidential campaigns, but none in which there was such intensity of feeling, such bitterness, as was manifested in this campaign. And I don't except the campaign of 1928 when Al Smith was the Democratic candidate, when religious intolerance ran high, when men were supposed to be braindrummed displayed narrow bigotry, and when the "Solid South" went Republican and deserted the Democratic candidate for President, and proved that its type of democracy does not believe in equality, either as regards race or religion.

The bitterness in the recent campaign was not based on racial or religious factors. It was largely based on political, economic and social questions. Millions of persons in this country object to the New Deal doctrines of the President and his advisers, and other millions objected to the breaking of the "third term" tradition. We have heard citizens, ordinarily peaceful and law-abiding express such intense hatred for the President, that they hoped for his demise. It will be difficult for such as these to obey the plea of Mr. Willkie and other Republican leaders, to accept graciously the President's victory.

Conversely, many prominent persons who publicly advocated the re-election of the President, such as Mr. Ickes, Mayor LaGuardia and others, were not exactly complimentary in their references to Mr. Willkie, and certainly Mr. Roosevelt was not the target for so many missiles as was his Republican opponent.

Last spring when Mr. Willkie was being advocated as a likely prospect to successfully oppose Mr. Roosevelt, we stated in this column that in our opinion the Republicans would make a mistake in nominating him. Why did we think so? Because Mr. Willkie, as head of the Commonwealth & Southern, had come into the limelight, and had obtained national publicity through the large advertisements he had placed in newspapers in many large cities. These advertisements severely criticized the Roosevelt administration for its alleged unfairness to private enterprise, as allegedly evidenced by the unfair competition of the T. V. A. against the Commonwealth & Southern Power Company. While there are millions of citizens of the U. S. A. who agreed with Mr. Willkie, there are more millions who believe in Federal ownership or control of hydroelectric plants. And there are many millions of persons in this country who are opposed to (or prejudiced against) large holding companies which control public utilities. And to these people, Mr. Willkie represented what they consider, rightly or wrongly, predatory wealth. Many of these people did not approve some of all of the New Deal policies, did not approve of Mr. Roosevelt's third term ambition, and probably would have voted for some Republican candidate not affiliated with a gigantic financial corporation as was Mr. Willkie. They were ready to be influenced by campaign arguments that Willkie represented reactionary capitalism.

It is probable that no Republican candidate could have defeated Mr. Roosevelt because of world conditions, the continued successes of the Nazis, the threat of Britain, and the existent threat to the U. S. A. and the other republics in the Western hemisphere. Certainly, Mr. Willkie's lack of experience in governmental affairs, and foreign affairs, handicapped him in the determined fight he made against the President. He has announced that he will give up the fight, and he is being acclaimed by many who supported him as the logical Republican candidate four years hence. God only knows what will happen during those four years. Upon what does he depend? Whether Mr. Willkie is a good man, a good citizen, a social and economic affairs, would make him an acceptable choice in 1944, assuming he will be alive. One thing is certain. Social and economic conditions will undergo changes during the next four years, whether the aggressors, totalitarianism, communism, or otherwise, these changes will be necessary not only to defeat the dictators, but also to prevent a recrudescence of despotism if the dictators will be overcome.

The Newton Free Evening School which will open on November 2 is one of the most successful schools of its kind in the State. This year special attention will be given to industrial drawing and bookkeeping, so there will be a fine chance for young mechanics and others to get a knowledge of drawing, and for a good number to learn how to keep accounts.

At the grand illuminated parade of the Massachusetts Bicycle Club in the Back Bay on Thursday evening 300 bicycle riders were in line. The Newton Club and the Nonantum Club each had 15 men in line, creditably representing the Garden City.

Tenements are much needed in Nonantum and there is nothing that will pay better at this time than a good house to rent.

Prof. Judson Coit of Newton Centre is confined to the use of crutches in walking. He injured his knee in a fall off his bicycle.

If you have children attending Newton High School and who cannot come home for their mid-day meal before two in the afternoon, be careful that they are well attended. Be careful not to let the impatient maid servant advise them to hurry at the meal. Otherwise you may find them when the sweet April smiles upon us prostrate with headaches. Let the daily regime of these rapidly developing young bodies be the object of your best common sense and care.

At this season of the year many of our citizens are accustomed to make their annual contributions to the Pomroy Girls Home. This year let them also remember the Newton Cottage Hospital now so successfully. About $4000 more are needed. Alvah Hovey is receiving subscriptions. As this is our only distinctive Newton charity, we bespeak for it a generous thank offering.

During the summer vacation steam and gas have been installed in Colby Hall at Newton Theological Institution. The unsightly stoves have been removed from the chapel and recitation rooms, and the space given to additional seating accommodations. This change has increased the comfort and attractiveness of the building. The new students this fall number 18.

50 YEARS AGO

The first house built in Newton was located on the lot where Mr. Howland's house now stands on Washington st., Hunnewell Hill. The large elm tree grew out of the cellar of this house.

Street Department workmen cleaned up Washington st. at the Newton Corner business district yesterday, and are at work daily removing the dirt and refuse washed into the street by the recent rains.

Mr. D. R. Emerson of Jewett st. will build six double houses on Jewett st. at Rockland st. when Jewett st. will be continued through the ledge from Gardner st. to Boyd st.

The high winds on Saturday and Sunday nights blew down several trees and a number of chimneys throughout the city.

Why don't some of the prominent political parties have a rally in Elliot Hall and give Newton a chance to hear some of the leading campaign speakers? Do campaign managers consider this? Do political arguments? Or is the difficulty of getting an audience in this city too great to overcome?

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night a communication was received from Miss M. E. Welch, secretary of the Mass. Emergency and Hygiene Association, asking that a playground be secured in Nonantum. It was referred to the committee on playgrounds.

At the meeting of the School Committee on Wednesday evening a petition was received from Waban residents asking that a teacher be provided for that district; they agreeing to provide the expense of a room and furniture until the new school will have been built. It was provided to provide the teacher.

A little girl riding a bicycle on Spruce st., Newtonville had a narrow escape on Tuesday. Owing to carelessness on her part, the wheels of the Singer Sewing Machine wagon came in contact with the bicycle which was badly damaged. She escaped injury.

Four cases of breaking and entering at Waban came to light on Saturday morning. They included Mr. Gould's and Mr. Collins' residences; the almshouse and the Cottage Hospital. From Mr. Gould's home $5 was stolen, and from Mr. Collins' jewelry and two gold watches, also $15 in money. From the safe at the almshouse $50 was taken. The burglars found the key to the safe hid-

"Bachelor Born," the Senior class play, will be given in the High School auditorium on Friday afternoon, November 15, and on Saturday evening, November 16.

Newton High School enjoyed a great rally on the Friday afternoon before the Medford game. Music by the band and cheers from the large throng of pupils and teachers preceded and followed talks by Principal Raymond A. Green, Coach Owen McDowell and Captain Robert Beatty.

The total sum raised in the High School this year for the Junior Red Cross fund was $276.49.

Mr. William Janse spoke to members of the Personality Club and their friends on Thursday. His subject was "Fashion Facts."

Voice recordings were made this week for all members of the Microphone Club by Miss Helen Lee, faculty adviser.

The junior class invited both sophomores and seniors to attend their party on Friday afternoon. In charge of preparations were Margaret Tower, Martha Miller and Ray Eusteden.

On Thursday, October 31, Miss Southard's block F English class was fortunate in hearing an interesting address by the Englishman, Mr. H. Bernard Robinson. Mr. Robinson was introduced by Albert Reed, a member of the class who was responsible for their having this opportunity. The speaker is an artist and many of his etchings and drawings have appeared in English newspapers and magazines. He has just completed designs for a set of plates picturing the Bronx country, to be reproduced in Wedgewood china.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Champagne of the Champagne School of Dancing entertained the sophomores at a class party Friday, October 25. The guests demonstrated the correct method of modern ballroom dancing to the group. After the exhibition, the students practiced the steps under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Champagne.

The junior class was favored on Wednesday morning when they were invited to see Karl H. Maslow's vividly colored close-up movies of plant, animal and insect life, and to hear his clear, enthusiastic, exactly timed tale of how, when, and where all these events happened and pictures taken. He took them all around the year's cycle: summer, fall, winter, and the bursting glory of spring to display the amazing mysteries of backyard and backwoods. Pictures of the hatching of that most elusive gamebird, the woodcock, shots of baby foxes, singing toads, fledgling owls, and the life history of a butterfly were all molded together to make a delightful story of nature's secrets. He highlighted those trembling moments when the cocoon bursts and its damp, stringy, uncertain inhabitant crawls forth and hangs precariously while the whole audience breathlessly watched it pump the stiffening crenelated wings into the wing veins so that this marvelous creation of Nature can fly away to become a part of this world, teeming with life. Unsurpassed, too, was Mr. Maslow's sequence showing a preying mantis looking big as a hopper; then another, shaping egg-cases.

Warren Jr. High

On Oct. 18, Miss Rice and 23 members of the Transmitter Staff attended the first meeting of the Eastern Mass. League of Jr. High School Publications, at the Lincoln Jr. High School, Framingham.

The All Girls' sport assembly sponsored by the Girls' Student Club will be on Dec. 6. Anne MacMillan will officiate. Speeches by the color team leaders, Janet Jackson, Grace Ingalls, Alicia Lane, and Ann Stedfast will follow. The program will be centered around the important division of Jr. I girls in the Color team groups: red, yellow, green and blue. A sport demonstration of Volleyball, Badminton, Basketball and Shuffle Board will follow.

Twenty-four teams participated in the girls' after-school home-room soccer and hockey matches this fall. Rooms 112 and 115 won the 9th grade soccer and hockey. Rooms 113 and 114 won the 8th grade matches. As yet the 7th grade events have not den in a clock. At the hospital the burglar was discovered by a nurse in a corridor, but he made his escape.

Careful surveying is being done between Newton Highlands and Boston for the extension of the Woonsocket branch of the New England railroad.

Sunbeam Chats

Every day before I have my "oats" my Mummy sits me in my high chair to rest a little while. The district nurse said if I was "quiet" a little while before eating, my food would digest better. Whatever that means! Anyhow I never have a stomach ache so I guess she knows.

been played off for the championship.

The following clubs are sponsored at Warren this year: Girls' Woodworking, Airplane and Mechanical Drawing, Painters' Guild, Blue Print, Boys' Leader, Red Cross, Airplane, Ship Modelling, Magazine, Ping Pong, Dramatics I, Hostess, Girls' Printing, Indian Bead, Pet, Sewing, Girls' Leader, Silvercraft, Boys' Book and Readmore, Home Nursing, Boys' Sports, Radiomatic, Doing for Others, Boys' Glee, Transmitter, Dramatics 2, Game, Typewriting, Band, Confectioners, Study, Girls' Readmore, Travel.

The School Community of the Warren Junior High School greatly enjoyed the demonstration of the use of the dial telephone system by Miss Lillian F. Orchard and Miss Mary E. Prendergast, instructors from the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Day Jr. High School

Last Friday's assembly at the Frank A. Day Junior High School heard the campaign speech of those running for Ninth Grade Class Officers. Anna Farina was chairman of the assembly. The following spoke: for president, Joanne Cedrone, Morris Fried and Albert DeCaprio; for vice president, Robert Pillsbury, Vito Piccirilli and Russell Crosby; for secretary, Maris Salvucci, and Ann Plump; and for treasurer, Gloria Casinelli, Jacqueline Hervey, Philip Berquist and Irene Soudou. Elections were held Tuesday, November 5.

Last Friday Day Jr. High played Shady Hill School of Cambridge in soccer for the first time. The results were Day Eighth and Ninth team 1, Shady Hill 0. The Seventh Grade result: Day 1, Shady Hill 0. On Tuesday, October 29, the Day Varsity and Junior Varsity tag football teams played Bigelow Junior High School at the Cabot Playground. Final scores: Bigelow Varsity 6, Day 0, and Day Junior Varsity 30, Bigelow 0.

On Wednesday of this week the Symphony Club of the school went to Symphony Hall to hear another in the series of concerts for boys and girls. Many of the girls also attended Play Day this week at the Warren Junior High School, enjoying outdoor games and also girls' soccer.

Students' Cases Placed on File

Arthur Bell of Cleveland, Ohio, a student at Babson Institute, Wellesley, was in the Newton court last Saturday charged with speeding, and with refusing to stop when signalled to do so by a policeman. Patrolman James Jenkins testified that Bell drove through Nonantum along Watertown st. at high speed on the morning of Oct. 10, and that as the Babson student went by him he blew his police whistle. Jenkins was near a police box, so he phoned police headquarters and Bell was stopped when he reached West Newton by Sergeant Sullivan. Bell testified he did not see the policeman because he was looking for a direction sign. He said he did not hear the patrolman's signal because the radio in his car was on. Judge Mayberry placed the speeding charge against Bell on file. He found Bell not guilty on the other charge.

In court the same day Patrolman Albert Smith charged Marion Baldwin of New Jersey, a Radcliffe student, with speeding and driving without a license in his possession. Judge Mayberry placed both charges against the Radcliffe student on file. Another student, Walter King of Richmond, Ind., who goes to Harvard Business School, was charged by Patrolman Smith with speeding and driving without a license. Smith testified that King was driving an Ohio car and had an Indiana license. Judge Mayberry placed this charge on file, but fined King $5 for speeding.

Arrested For Drunken Driving

Alcide Paquette, 44, of 47 Auburn st., West Newton, was arrested on Nov. 1 by Patrolman Mullen on charges of drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor. He was arraigned in the Newton court last Friday and his case continued until Nov. 7. Paquette was arrested after his car had hit the curb at Beacon st. and Langley rd., Newton Centre, and the two front tires had burst.

Amnesia Victim Falls In Brook

About 8 o'clock last Friday night police were notified that there was a man in Laundry Brook near the Boston & Albany railroad tracks at the rear of 247 Newtonville ave. Patrolmen Goddard and McManey went to that location and found John J. Johnson, 67, of 50 Harvard st., Newtonville. He was in a dazed condition and was sent to Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. Physicians there stated that Mr. Johnson was a victim of amnesia.

Observe Book Week At Newton Libraries Nov. 12-16

An exhibit of the new books for children and young people will be held at the Boys' and Girls' Library, 124 Vernon st., Newton, November 12 to 16. Plan to visit the library during Book Week, which will be observed nationally next week presenting programs vital to private living and public welfare. Through twenty-two years recurring observances of Book Week have contributed to the quality and the quantity of books, to the facilities for their public circulation, to the growing army of men and women fitted and informed to advise and direct a course for wider and wiser use of books.

It is estimated that of the 46,000,000 Americans without access to libraries millions are obviously children. During Book Week we plan to have more books in the home, schools, and library satisfies needs and stimulates imagination, books for wholesome entertainment, friendly understanding, and broadening education.

KARP—FELDBERG

Miss Leona Gertrude Feldberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Feldberg of 116 Cotton st., Newton, was married to Dr. David Karp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Karp of Dorchester on Sunday evening, November 3, in Temple Ohabei Shalom, Brookline. Rabbi Samuel J. Abrams performed the ceremony at six o'clock. A reception followed at the Hotel Kenmore, Boston.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of cream duchesse satin with applique of real Alencon lace, heart shaped neckline, long sleeves and a long train. Her long veil was of cream illusion and her bouquet of white orchids and gardenias. Miss Shirley Feldberg, the maid of honor, wore coral velvet with matching hat and carried blue pashies. The bridesmaids were Miss Doris Rosenberg and Miss Helen C. Aronson of Newton Centre, Miss Janet R. Kinner and Miss Jane S. Nathanson of Chestnut Hill. They wore gowns of turquoise velvet with matching hats and carried blue and yellow pashies.

Ernest Singer of Dorchester was the best man. The ushers were Harold Goldman of Brookline, A. Weiner of Dorchester, Samuel Karp of Brookline, Dr. J. Asakoff of Dorchester, Dr. William Kelly of West Roxbury and Sumner Feldberg of Newton.

On their return from a cruise to Nassau and Havana Dr. and Mrs. Karp will be at home November 20 at 6 Presidential Lane, Quincy.

The bride is a graduate of Simmons College. The groom was graduated from Harvard College and Tufts Medical School and is on the staff of the Quincy City Hospital, Beth Israel Hospital, the Boston Dispensary and the Children's Clinic. He is also a member of the faculty of Tufts Medical School.

Carr of 299 Centre st., Newton, at four o'clock on Sunday afternoon, November 3, in Christ Church, Waltham. Rev. George O. Ekwall performed the ceremony. A reception followed at the home of the groom.

The bride wore blue velvet with wine accessories and carried a bouquet of tallman roses. Miss Helen Szalda, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, and Herbert Pratt Bates, brother-in-law of the groom, was the best man.

On their return from a wedding trip to New York and Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Carr will make their home at 299 Centre st., Newton.

Automobile Accidents

The dangerous spot, where the ramp toward Chestnut st. descends from the Worcester turnpike, was the scene of another accident last Saturday morning at 2 o'clock. A car driven by Howard Ely of Florence, Mass., hit the wall which separates the ramp from the turnpike, and was wrecked. The car was hurled onto the turnpike and impeded traffic. Mrs. Julia Hopkins, 32, of Northampton, who was riding in the car, was injured and was taken to Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

A car driven by Mrs. Frank Jerald of Cherry st., Waltham, stopped on River st., West Newton, last Friday afternoon and was hit in the rear by a car driven by Richard Smith of 115 Randlett Park, West Newton. Jerald's mother, Mrs. Victoria Jerald of Armory st., West Newton, was reported as having received an injury. Smith's wife, Mrs. Dorothy Smith, was also reported as having been injured. A truck driven by Howard Sanderson of Albany st., Roxbury, hit the rear of a car driven by J. M. Joslin of Tappan st., Brookline on the Worcester turnpike about 9:30 a. m. on Wednesday, and then hit a car driven by George Pascoe of 832 Dedham st., Newton Highlands. Joslin claimed to have received injuries. The accident occurred near Woodward st.

To Telephone Users

THE new dial system of telephone service will go into operation at 1 A. M. on Sunday, November 17. At that time every one of the 28,000 instruments served by the Newton-Watertown offices will be "cut over" to the modern dial type of telephone service.

Dependable and uniformly high in the quality of its performance, dial service represents the result of years of progressive research by highly trained scientists.

The new dial equipment has been manufactured by the Western Electric Company in accordance with specifications made by our engineers after careful studies of your requirements for telephone service.

The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company takes great pleasure and pride in making available to Newton and Watertown telephone users this most modern type of service. We know you will enjoy the speed, the simplicity of operation, and the convenience that research, careful planning, and many months of installation work have made possible.

Children's Theatre In Wellesley of Local Interest

Parents and teachers, who are concerned over the lack of high-grade cultural entertainment for children, will be interested in the experiment being tried this winter in Wellesley, where a series of four professional productions will be opened Nov. 13th in the Wellesley Senior High School auditorium, with the Rimsky-Korsakov opera Tsar Sultan, or The Bumble Bee Prince. The programs are produced by a non-profit organization known as Junior Program, Inc. and are being sponsored by the Wellesley Hills Woman's Club, aided by an Advisory Committee including representatives of most of the leading town organizations, and with the full cooperation of Mr. Edwin A. Miner, Superintendent of Schools.

The three later productions in the series will consist of a thrilling Aviation Show, an absorbing ballet based on the adventures of Robin Hood, and a mystery play with a South American background entitled The Emperor's Treasure Chest.

The Junior Program's opera, ballet and players companies have appeared in 35 states and Canada during the past season. Their record of phenomenal growth speaks volumes for the quality of their offerings: from 158 performances in 1936-37, when the project was first founded, to 558 performances in the last year.

Information concerning tickets may be had by calling Mrs. Roger E. Spear at WEL 3435.

Christmas Arcade To Benefit Research Work In Arthritis

Though there has been considerable gain made in the therapeutics of arthritis, with the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital in many instances leading the way, it has become evident in recent years that of greater importance was the necessity of finding the cause of the disease and, ultimately, to learn how to prevent it.

The research in that field currently is being conducted by Dr. Marshall G. Hall and Dr. Theodore Bayles and is in part financed by the volunteer ladies' committee of the hospital.

To raise money for its continuance, the committee is sponsoring a festive Christmas Arcade and gift sale in John Hancock Hall, St. James ave., Boston, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. There they will offer for sale in smart miniature shops and at prevailing prices the best gift suggestions culled from the best stores in the Greater Boston area.

Added attractions include colored motion pictures of debutantes engaged in their hobbies, daily luncheons, daily fashion shows, and valuable door prizes.

Local women working for the success of the arcade are Mrs. Burton Hamilton of Chestnut Hill, Mrs. C. Faulkner Kendall of Newton Centre and Mrs. J. Dexter Harris of Waban.

WEST NEWTON W. C. T. U.

The West Newton W. C. T. U. held an Evangelistic meeting at the home of Mrs. Harold D. Rich on Monday evening. Mrs. Christine Currie gave a most interesting talk on the different phases of the work of the Union mentioning especially the teaching of the Bible to young people.

A covered dish luncheon will be held at the home of Mrs. M. Millie Beardsley, 108 Crescent st., Auburndale next Tuesday at 1 o'clock.

Newton Youths At N. U. Receive Scholarship Awards

Four Newton boys who hold Hayden scholarships at Northeastern University were guests of Northeastern at a special luncheon last Tuesday (Nov. 5) at which J. Willard Hayden was the principal speaker. Dr. Carl S. Ell, president-elect of the University, was host.

Each of the 103 Hayden scholarship winners at Northeastern was presented with a scholarship certificate by Mr. Hayden, who is president of the Charles Hayden Foundation. James L. Richards, a member of the Northeastern Corporation and Board of Trustees, also spoke.

The following Newton boys received certificates: Joseph F. Ahearn of 194 Lowell ave., Joseph E. Piselli of 26 Lenglen rd., Kenneth MacDowell of 278 Waltham st., and John H. Ryther of 21 Bennington st.

GOLDEN WEDDING OF WEST NEWTON COUPLE

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Granger celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Oct. 25 at their attractive home, 445 Crafts st., West Newton, when a host of friends and relatives called to offer their congratulations during the day. A profusion of yellow chrysanthemums made an attractive setting for the party and a large wedding cake, with the traditional bridal couple, occupied the center of the table. Mr. and Mrs. Granger were married in Bradford, Vt., Oct. 25, 1890, and have resided in the Newtons for several years. They attribute their years and splendid health to an optimistic outlook on life and to the companionship of many faithful friends, from whom they received cards, lovely gifts and a generous purse on this happy occasion. They have no children.

Swedish Home For Aged at W. Newton To Have Benefit

One of the outstanding events of the season will take place in Horticultural Hall on November 21, 22 and 23 when the Swedish Charitable Society of Greater Boston will sponsor its biennial bazaar. Seventy-five booths will be sponsored by twenty-five various groups. American and Swedish colors will be used in the decorating scheme and special attractions have been arranged for during each day. Typical Swedish dishes will be served in the restaurant in the basement and on the platform "kaffe med dopp" and "smorgasor" will be served by attractive young ladies in picturesque national costumes of the land of the Vikings. Mrs. Ernest Giesler, 123 Clark st., Newton Centre, is the chairman of the Sophia Lodge Booth, one of the Vasa Lodges of America with a total membership of 80,000. The Swedish Square and Compass Club of which Ottar T. Haig, 75 Stearns st., Newton Centre, is the chairman has made extensive preparations for its booth in the center of the hall. A "Post Office" at which "Parcel Post" will be on sale will feature this table. Others who are assisting in the preparations are Mrs. Andrew Lindberg, Mrs. Claus Sandwall, Mrs. Daisy Stockwell, Mrs. Signe Olson, Mrs. Oscar Wickstrom, Mrs. Ottar Haig, Mrs. Clara Anderson, Mrs. Ebba Nelson, Hugo Nordstrom, Dr. Claus Sandwall and Ernest L. Giesler. The knitted, woven and embroidered articles were made and donated by the residents of the Home for Aged, 206 Waltham st., West Newton, which will benefit from the entire proceeds of the affair. The Home has been operated for the past thirty years and provides a comfortable home for aged citizens of Swedish descent. It is supported entirely by free will donations and charity events such as this. A great number of Newtonites have supported the Society in a number of ways during the past years.

Alice Keliher Addresses Parent Education Meeting

Alice V. Keliher, Director of the Commission on Human Relations of the Progressive Education Association, spoke on "The School as a Human Institution" at the Newton Parent Education Course in the high school auditorium on Monday night. She based her address on a demonstration she had conducted with 20 high school seniors who were shown part of the film "Captains Courageous." According to her, lack of common friendliness is lacking in the ordinary school, but Newton High School, she said, is an exception in this respect.

Miss Keliher contended that parents cannot demand respect from their children, but can get respect only if they respect their children. She advocated close family ties as essential to democracy, and said that too much responsibility cannot be given children.

Hit-Run Driver Appeals Penalty Of Year in Prison

Kenneth W. Fay, 31, of 82 Forest st., Watertown, was sentenced to serve one year in Billerica Prison by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Monday, and fined $25. He was found guilty of driving to endanger and leaving the scene of an accident with out revealing his identity. Fay appealed and was ordered to provide $1500 bonds pending his trial before the Superior Court.

On the evening of October 26 a car driven by Fay hit Joseph Coffey, 9, of 105 Pearl st., Newton, as the boy was crossing that street near his home. The boy was tossed onto the front bumper and fender of the car, which did not stop. The boy was carried for about an eighth of a mile, about to Bacon st., where someone shouted, the car swerved, the boy was shaken off, the car ran over him, and then continued on. The boy received a broken leg, brain concussion, and a severe head injury.

Patrolman Goddard testified that Fay had talked with him after the defendant surrendered to the Newton police on Monday morning, October 28. According to Goddard's testimony, Fay stated that the last he remembered about the afternoon of the accident was—that he had been in Cambridge drinking, and that at the time of the accident he was on his way to see his father, but instead, he went to Weston. Fay said that he read of the Coffey boy being hit in Boston newspapers the next morning, observed there was a broken headlight on his car, and inferred it was the automobile which had hit the boy. Sergeant Burke testified that Fay had told him he had taken three or four drinks of whiskey on the evening of the accident, and didn't remember hitting the boy.

Fay's attorney, Joseph Abrams, asked for leniency for his client, that he be given a suspended sentence as his employer had promised to retain him on his job, and if given a jail sentence, Fay's wife would be the innocent victim. Judge Mayberry replied that he would do no trading on the question of disposition of the case. The judge said that the accident in itself was bad enough, and that the admission that Fay had been drinking only aggravated the case against him.

Accurate Prophecies by Five-Year-Old Child

In miniscul Trucksville, Pa., (pop. 200), near Wilkes-Barre, live Harry Harding, a manufacturer of rubber typewriter pads, his wife, and their four children. The youngest child is 4½-year-old Faith Hope and her father, Mrs. Harding, and her daughter were in New York and photographers' flashbulbs were popping around Faith Hope Charity as thick as fireflies.

Little Faith Hope Charity was in New York to be examined by an assortment of psychic researchers and mediums who were excited by her alleged powers of prophecy. A bright little child who looks like any normal girl, she has startled the world by her series of remarkably accurate prophecies, all duly recorded by her mother. Among them: The war in Europe, the Hitler-Stalin pact, the burning of the Trucksville school, the attack on the duchess of Kent, the loss at sea of Richard Halburton.

Faith Hope Charity first disclosed her gift, says Mrs. Harding, at the age of 18 months when she exclaimed: "Mummy, Frank McGwigin is dead." McGwigin was a friend of the family. Upon calling his office, Mrs. Harding was assured that he was on a trip to New York; next day, she learned he had fallen dead the day before in a New York hotel. "I've got so now that when Faith's predictions seem important I have them notarized," said Mrs. Harding. "As a rule the most important prophecies come to her at night. She may be almost awake, in a trance or just on the borderland. Whoever she speaks through calls herself an Entity. Often she uses words I've never heard and usually talks in old English."

Since she came into the national headlines, Faith Hope Charity—or The Entity—has made one prediction that can be checked by millions of persons. Franklin Roosevelt, she said, would be drafted for a third term, and will run. She did not forecast the name of his opponent or the outcome of the election.

When a famous horse was taken to the clubroom and downstairs again without mishap, he died in Loughborough, England. He was 39 years old. He served through the entire war and attended territorial camps every year until 1935. At his burial former members of the Leicester-shire Yeomanry wept. Songster was buried with the Mons Star, the General Service medal, the Victory medal and two Territorial long service medals.

Cautious Beggar
Beggars may not be choosers, but they should at least be careful, believes Patrick Murray. When Judge Edward Luczak of Chicago fined Murray on a begging charge, the jurist asked why Murray carried two pairs of rubber gloves. "A man can't be too careful about money these days," Murray said. "So much of it has germs on it."

'War Jitters'
"War jitters" are responsible for the alarming increase in automobile accident deaths, according to the National Safety Council.

'Jumpy' Type Should Not Smoke, Says Med'cal Group

Little heat reaches smoker's mouth if he smokes slowly and throws away that last third, but if he puffs away like a blast furnace and burns the tag right down to the cork tip, the heat may reach 140 degrees or even 190 degrees on a cigar stub—and that, considering that 212 degrees is boiling, is hot. Such heat is more injurious to the tongue, mouth and lips than the chemicals in the smoke, according to summary of recent European and American medical observations.

The study relates that smoking increases blood pressure in some individuals and lowers it in others, is harmful to persons with stomach ulcers because it increases acid content of digestive fluids, and is a handicap to recovery in heart-arterial diseases and bronchial affections. The statement also is made that although there is no evidence to indicate that use of tobacco actually starts any diseases, it may be responsible for many cases of cancer of the lip and tongue where there already was predisposition toward cancer.

The nervous, "jumpy" type, whose heart beats faster at the slightest excitement or stimulation, will often have a runup in pulse rate to as high as 90 on one cigarette, the study states. This type is advised not to smoke, but pessimistically informed that they are exactly the temperament which fills the ranks of chain smokers.

'One Husband, Inc.' for But Single Marriage

Under the leadership of Mary Rogers, daughter of the late Will Rogers, "One Husband, Inc." was recently organized in Hollywood. It is the nucleus of a nation-wide movement of members pledging themselves to a single marriage each. According to this association, husbands and wives have been switching in our divorce courts at the rate of hundreds of thousands each year.

One Husband, Inc., is facing the fact that more than 900,000 women were divorced in America last year and that in Hollywood alone, the ratio for 1939 was 24 marriages and 25 divorces. Hollywood beauties are not the only women given to changing husbands frequently. Virginia Cogswell, an Atlanta, Ga., girl, a "Miss America," has had nine ventures in the marriage game. But the American record for multiple marriages undoubtedly is held by Mrs. Cola Walker Truxter Smith Barnes Butcher Crow Whitely Forter, Lilley Swanson Yates Le Forge, a society woman of St. Louis, Mo.

A Slight Mistake
One of those absurd "white elephants" which are occasionally built by governments at a tremendous expenditure of public money was Fort Jefferson, in which a man who innocently helped Booth during his flight after the assassination, was imprisoned for years.

The fort was built on an islet on the Gulf of Mexico with the idea of protecting the United States coastline from foreign invasion. Its 50-foot walls enclose an area of 15 acres—and 50,000,000 bricks were used in its construction, at a cost, it is said, of a dollar apiece to the American public. On this colossal structure nearly 500 guns were mounted.

Truly a terrible and inaccessible structure you say? You may be right, but the trouble was that Fort Jefferson's designers had overlooked the fact that the waters round the islet were so shallow that no ships could approach to within anything like the range of the guns, even if they wanted to.

So the magnificent fort, pride of a nation, was turned into a prison!

Less German Studied
American educators generally have assumed that Nazi Germany has had few supporters among U. S. students. Recently figures showing the enrollment of New York city high school students in foreign language courses indicated this opinion was well founded. The figures revealed that for the sixth consecutive year—ever since Adolf Hitler rose to power in Germany—the number of students of German had declined. In fact, during the last six years enrollment in German classes has decreased 50 per cent—from 22,550 in 1934 to 11,517 this year.

Officials of the city school system's foreign language department pointed out that during the World War—another period when Germany was generally disliked in the United States—a similar situation had developed. In 1917, 23,598 out of 62,000 high school students were studying German. But by 1920, the number studying German had plummeted down to a mere 60, the lowest ever recorded.

Fish Fly
Literally speaking, even fish have taken to the air. Last year, thousands of fish traveled by plane to their new homes in the Sawtooth mountain range in Idaho, it was recently reported by the bureau of fisheries.

They rode in specially constructed cockpit tanks, aerated by windmills. These thousands of fish bailed out on reaching the lakes, which are inaccessible, in an unusual stocking experiment carried on under the national conservation.

Young People's Rally at Channing Church on Sunday

About five hundred young people from metropolitan Boston will gather at Channing Unitarian Church Sunday afternoon and evening to attend a rally on the general theme, "The Civil Liberties of Americans." The program, which begins at five o'clock in the afternoon, will continue until 8:15 o'clock in the evening. The general public will be admitted to the first session, beginning at five o'clock, and the last, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

The program of the rally will begin with an address by Professor Edwin Merrick Dodd of the Harvard Law School Faculty and the Harvard Defense Group, on the subject, "The Civil Liberties of Americans," at five o'clock. At 5:45 o'clock the young men and women will be divided into four discussion groups, as follows: I, Freedom of Speech, led by Mr. Orville Poland, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Massachusetts Civil Liberties Committee, affiliated with the American Civil Liberties Union; II, Freedom of the Press, led by Mr. Llewellyn Jones, Editor of the Christian Register; III, The Protection of Minority Groups, led by Mr. Stephen Fritchman, Executive Director of the Unitarian Youth Commission; IV, Freedom of Conscience, led by Rev. Duncan Howlett, minister of the First Congregational Society, Unitarian, in New Bedford, and a former Newton resident. These discussion groups will be followed by supper at 6:30 o'clock, and after supper the Hon. Charles B. Floyd, President of the Board of Aldermen, will bring the greetings of the City of Newton—in the absence of Mayor Paul Goddard. At 7:30 o'clock the rally will end with a Service of Worship, which is to be open to the general public. The service will be conducted by Rev. Ray A. Eusden of the Eliot Congregational Church in Newton, and Rev. Herbert Hitchen, of the First Unitarian Society in West Newton. The sermon will be given by Dr. J. A. C. F. Auer, Parkman Professor of Theology at the Harvard Divinity School.

Prison Term For 'Fixer' in Civil Service Department

Edward McLaughlin, 28, of High st., Waltham, a former employee of the State Civil Service Department, was sentenced by Judge Fosdick in the Middlesex Superior Court on Thursday to serve from 3 to 4 years in State Prison. McLaughlin was found guilty of taking $450 from Lawrence Quinn of Kensington st., West Newton by promising Quinn to "fix" his civil service rating so that the latter would get an appointment on the Newton police department. When the Newton police were made public on July 1, and Quinn saw his name was not included, he went to Civil Service Director Lupien and told his story.

District Attorney Bradford told Judge Fosdick that McLaughlin had taken money from several other men by falsely claiming that he would "fix" their civil service ratings and assure them of getting appointments.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Adam and Fallen Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, Nov. 10, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text is: "Unto thee will I cry, O Lord my rock. . . . Save thy people, and bless thine inheritance: feed them also, and lift them up for ever" (Psalms 28:1, 9). Other Bible citations include: "Then he called his twelve disciples together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diseases. And he sent them to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick" (Luke 9:1, 2).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Through discernment of the spiritual opposite of materiality, even the way through the key of divine Science the gates of Paradise which human beliefs have closed, and will find himself unfallen, upright, pure, and free, not needing to consult almanacs for the probabilities either of his life or of the weather, nor needing to study brainerology to learn how much of a man he is" (p. 171).

Movie Fans Miss Nothing
Movie fans are quite inquisitive souls according to Hollywood editors. Queries by the thousands stack their desks, about this and that. And some, with little patience, grab the phone to get the reason, or the answer.

Musical questions have increased, they say, which gives some evidence that the screen is filling some of the need for musical appreciation. One studio said that it received 15,000 inquiries about "The Unfinished Symphony," allegedly played in a recent picture.

Then there are the fans who see a face on the screen whom they think resembles a long-missing relative and write in for enlightenment. And the loner-hunters who find things wrong, or think they do, about historical or geographical incidents. And for those who understand foreign dialects, but can't make them out on the screen, one studio informs them not to rack their brains, as a great deal of it is merely gibberish, and doesn't mean a thing.

Saw First Worm
The first person, probably to see a germ was Athanasius Kircher, a monk, who in looking through a small microscope, saw what he called worms, in a patient's blood. This was in 1658.

Although regular senior and business men classes will not be held on Monday at the Y, the gym will be open from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m., for those who wish to use the facilities. Outside of these, the regular program will be carried on.

The Omicron Young Men's Club held a dinner meeting last Monday evening. Mr. Dale spoke briefly of his interest in the young men's program and stated that he expected and hoped many more activities would develop from this first group. A short business meeting followed the dinner, at which Morton Harrington, president, presided.

A "Young Men's Nite" will be held one evening during the latter part of this month. All young men in the membership between the ages of 18 and 30 will be invited.

Boys' Division

A very successful Halloween party was staged on Halloween night under the direction of Billy Graham and Francis Donalds. Mr. Joe Lorraine, World War entertainer, provided a program of songs, imitations and bell ringing. The following boys received prizes for their costumes: Norman Vincent, Terry Cron, Albert Marchioni, Fred Allen, Richard Burton, Irving Stewart. It was unusual to that two of the prize winners this year, Norman Vincent and Albert Marchioni, were also winners last year.

Because of the school holiday on Monday, the staff of the Boys' Department have planned a hike to Cabot Reservation in Waltham. The group will leave the Y at nine-thirty and on arrival at the Reservation will enjoy a program of games and sports. On their return to the Y in the afternoon they will have a period of swimming in the pool. In case of rain the boys will have their program in the Y followed by a wienie roast in front of the fireplace at noon.

The Craft Shop is a busy place these days with many of the boys making Christmas presents. Albert Olsen and Herman Klein are the craft instructors. The Watertown Hi Y held an Athletic Night last Monday evening and thirty-two of the members were present. Many events were held and in the basketball game that was held, the Seniors defeated the Juniors 12 to 11.

Standing of the tribes in the Cadet Division as of last Saturday is: Sagamore, 514; Tacomas, 528; Delawares, 411; Algonquins, 401; Creeks, 368; Eries, 335. Individual honors and points went to Robert Westmark, Grant Pollock and Charles Hancock, all three of whom secured four points.

Physical Department

A North Shore (Class B) Volley Ball League has been formed in which the Newton Y. M. C. A. has a team. All the games to be played at Newton will be held at 4 p. m. on Saturdays. The following Y. M. C. A.'s have teams in the league: Wakefield, Lynn, Beverly, Melrose, Newton and Somerville. Newton's team will be made up of the following members: Chas. Huxley, mgr., Harry Cikanek, Dr. Theo. Clark, Louis Kinney, Thomas Howson, Jack Murphy, Joseph Gonet and Harold Smith.

The Pre-Season Basketball Nut League has completed two evenings of play with the Do-Nuts leading the league after winning both games. The Peanuts and the Nuts are tied, each having won one and lost one. Cellular position is held by the Tough Nuts who have yet to win their first game. After two more evenings of play, playoffs will be held and prizes given to the winners.

Newton Merchant Dies Suddenly

Benjamin Idelson, 47, proprietor of the Soutage Shop at 306 Centre st., Newton, was found dead in bed in his room at 56 Boyd st., Newton, last Saturday morning. Local Archers Give Movie-Lecture Demonstration

Mr. and Mrs. Burton G. Howarth of Pine Ridge rd., Waban, gave a lecture-demonstration in archery last Saturday morning at the Woman's annual athletic conference of the Mass. State Teachers' College. Mr. Howarth showed movies of the 1940 National Archery Tournament while Mrs. Howarth lectured about the films. The shooting of Ann Weber and Russ Hoogridge, who broke all national records, was clearly shown. Slow-motion movies of Marvin Schmidt of Chicago, runner-up to the national champion, demonstrated the technique of archery. The films showed the main steps, in proper shooting, namely, draw, aim and release—the follow through and how the point of aim is mastered.

Biscoe, former vice president of the New York Central Railroad; and one son, Howard M. Biscoe, Jr. A private funeral service for Mrs. Biscoe was held at her late home on Wednesday. Interment was in Newton Cemetery.

Blocked Kick Brings Newton 7-6 Win Over Medford

Orange and Black Pull Out Last Minute Victory In Rain

On a rain-soaked and sodden gridiron before a handful of loyal spectators who braved the elements last Saturday, Newton High pulled out a 7 to 6 victory over a battling Medford eleven. The winning margin came in the last three minutes of play from a blocked Medford kick, a surging attack by Joe Beatty and Charley French, and the conversion of the point after touchdown by the educated toe of Gus Avantaggio. Bill Kaloudian and Phil Teschner teamed to provide the touchdown opportunity with the former blocking Harold Mahoney's punt which Teschner gathered in on the Medford 17-yard line.

The Newton touchdown wiped out a 6 to 0 Medford lead built up in the third period when the visitors capitalized on a Newton fumble to make their opportunity. A gallant goal line stand which saw five plays repulsed from the four-yard line by the Newton team almost thwarted the Blue and White offense but on the sixth attempt, the third following a two yard gain, the Newton team, Mahoney barely crossed the last white line. Failure to complete a Cannava to Mahoney pass for the point eventually spelled defeat for Medford.

Throughout the first period Newton threatened continually when Joe Beatty's kicking repeatedly sent the visitors deep in their own territory. In the second period Beatty got off one of the longest kicks ever seen on a Newton field. Standing on his 12-yard line, Beatty kicked far over the Medford 22-yard line for a 66-yard carry, the ball rolled a couple of yards over the Medford goal for a 90-yard overall boot.

Many fumbles marred the play of both teams due to the wet ball which officials wiped and covered with a towel between every play and time out. The Blue and White had a 7 to 4 margin in the first downs over the orange and black but Newton pressed throughout the game. Only in the third period did Medford seriously threaten and finally scored. Newton's prior opportunities were thwarted by fumbling but less than three minutes before the end of the game Newton determinedly seized what had to be its last chance. Five plays after Newton's touchdown the game ended.

An unusual play occurred early in the second period. In attempting a quick kick, Joe Beatty found Medford linemen blocking his punt. The ball caromed off a Medford pair of arms directly into the arms of Allen Hugo on the Newton scrimmage line. Hugo set out for the goal line and raced for 40 yards to the Medford 20 only to be called back as he was illegally carrying the ball, it having been touched by an opponent before crossing the line of scrimmage. Medford took possession where Hugo had caught the ball.

Starting his first game of the season, although having played a few minutes in one or two games, Charley French lived up to the early season promise which he had counted upon. A shoulder injury which was followed by an ankle injury. His return to the Newton line-up as a regular gave Joe Beatty the help he has needed on the Newton offense. This pair, together with the blocking of John Fahey and Gus Avantaggio, enhance Newton's prospects of completing the balance of its schedule without further defeat.

First Period

Healey kicked off for Newton, Cassava running the ball back from his 15 to the Medford 45. On this down Mahoney kicked with Beatty running the ball back 34 yards to midfield. On third down Beatty kicked, the ball rolling down on the Medford three-yard line and the visitors were in a hole. Mahoney kicked out with Beatty by a one-touchdown or a one-point margin (Newton 7-6). Then "Brookline to score at least once and give the up-staters (Fitchburg) their fifth straight defeat." (Brookline 6 to 0). "Lynn Classical by two touchdowns." (Lynn Classical 13, Lowell 0). We also had Quincy to win by a small margin (Quincy 13, New Bedford 0). Arlington was picked to top Brookton 13 to 7 but we did not figure the Shoe City team would be without Tammulevich and a couple of other regulars—hence the Arlington victory of 27 to 0 is not surprising.

The season record to date is 29 right, 13 wrong and 5 ties for a .690 percentage.

Newton Backfield Uncertain For Fitchburg Game

Beatty and French May Not Play Against Up-Statens

The Newton High football eleven goes out on Crocker Field, Fitchburg, tomorrow afternoon on the last third of the 1940 schedule. In its six games to date the locals have an even rating with three wins and three losses. Thus a victory for Coach Owen MacDowell's squad will put them over a .500 ranking for the first time this season as they lost to Quincy and Everett following a first-game won over Woburn.

Despite the fact that Fitchburg has won but one game in seven this season the Newton team will find the up-staters a hard nut to crack. Although all of Fitchburg's points this season were tallied in its 18 to 0 victory over Little Hyde Park the team has developed a defensive strength which held Brockton to one touchdown. An improved passing attack gives it a potent weapon of offense which will necessitate an alertness in the Newton backfield throughout the game. Added to this is the fact that Fitchburg is a large and strong team which has only been handicapped by inexperience and overpowering opposition. Newton, ranked the favorite by virtue of its victories over Brockton and Medford, cannot let overconfidence be rampant or the unexpected may well happen.

Coach Owen MacDowell is not certain of his starting backfield for the Fitchburg game due to the questionable condition of three of his foremost ball carriers. Joe Beatty has been nursing water on the knee this week. Wise-crackers have been wondering whether or not it came from playing in the rain against Medford (?). If not in shape the Newton coach will take no chances on having Beatty ready for Waltham and Brookline by giving the nod to George Norcross with Wendy Booth ready for use as an understudy. Charley French, whose playing against Medford was heartening support for Joe Beatty, is nursing a charley horse which had not been yielding readily to treatment. If he is not in shape his position will be filled by Phil Fessenden with Jim Brickett in reserve. John Fahey, who was forced to omit practice sessions the first of the week because of a bruised rib is expected to be in his berth as the blocking back. Gus Avantaggio, who has been nursing a leg, will complete the locals backfield quartet and once again it may be his educated toe that will provide the winning margin.

The Newton line which took the field last week will be intact with Dick Lowry at centre, Allen Hugo and Bob Bleiler as guards, Bill Kaloudian and Art Healey in the tackle berths, and Captain Bob Beatty and Phil Teschner on the ends. These two leads played a bang-up ball game last week and their continued high-grade play is an essential factor in a potential victory against Fitchburg.

Fourth Period

Mahoney punted but Medford was offside and had to punt again with Beatty running the ball back to the Newton 30-yard marker. A couple of exchanges of punts saw Newton pushed back to its 11-yard line on a bad pass from centre and Beatty kicked again to midfield. Fahey got through to nail Cervone for an eighty-yard loss. A bad pass from centre found Mahoney nosing out Bob Beatty in a dive for the ball for a loss of 12 yards and Medford was back on its 30-yard line with 30 yards to go for a first down. Mahoney dropped back to kick but the Newton forwards crashed through with Kaloudian blocking the ball and Teschner covering the oval on the 17-yard line. Beatty picked up five yards. French carried the ball for four. Beatty was stopped on an end run but French crashed the line for a first down on the three-yard line. French again hit hard and crashed over for the score. Avantaggio's try for the point was in the middle but the wet heavy ball just barely cleared the cross-bar for the winning point.

Following the kickoff Fahey intercepted a Medford pass and ran it back 12 yards to the Medford 40-yard stripe. French picked up five yards and Beatty clung tight to the ball for no gain on the final play.

Last Week's Predictions

The sports editor had a field day last week-end picking the games in which Newton's 1940 season opponents played. Six of the seven games were played before Monday night, the Everett-Waltham flit being put over Nov. 23rd. The "hits" in the six games with the Woburn-Melrose contest resulting in a tie, instead of the two-touchdown margin predicted for Melrose.

Three of the five "hits" were "on the nose." We said, "Newton to win by a one-touchdown or a one-point margin" (Newton 7-6). Then "Brookline to score at least once and give the up-staters (Fitchburg) their fifth straight defeat." (Brookline 6 to 0). "Lynn Classical by two touchdowns." (Lynn Classical 13, Lowell 0). We also had Quincy to win by a small margin (Quincy 13, New Bedford 0). Arlington was picked to top Brookton 13 to 7 but we did not figure the Shoe City team would be without Tammulevich and a couple of other regulars—hence the Arlington victory of 27 to 0 is not surprising.

The season record to date is 29 right, 13 wrong and 5 ties for a .690 percentage.

Tomorrow's Forecasts

Newton at Fitchburg—unless the orange and black becomes overconfident, Captain Beatty and his mates should have little difficulty in defeating the up-staters. Fitchburg has lost five straight and six of its seven games this season, scoring all of its 19 points against Hyde Park. Newton has begun to roll and with Charley French ably assisting Joe Beatty two or more touchdowns should result.

Waltham at Medford—on the basis of season records and on the basis of condition, the Watch City has an edge but Medford will give no quarters in an attempt to get back on the winning road. The Blue and White has lost three straight to Lynn English, Everett and Newton. Waltham lost to Lynn English by two touchdowns. Another common opponent, Somerville, was tied by Waltham and lost to Medford, 18 to 0. If Medford is in condition it should have a one-touchdown margin—if not Waltham might come through with a narrow victory.

Brookline at Belmont—both teams were conquered by Weymouth. Class C leaders, with Brookline the loser 14 to 0 and Belmont on the short end of a 26 to 7 score. On the other hand, Brookline edged Framingham 7 to 6, while Belmont had to be content with a 6-6 tie. Once again it may be Nixon's educated toe which provides the winning margin. Belmont will score but we predict a Brookline victory by one touchdown or one point.

Woburn at Watertown—Watertown packs a little too much power for this stubborn Woburn crew. A one-touchdown margin for Watertown.

Revere at Quincy—another close one with Quincy having an edge. Little Saugus rose up to smite Revere 26 to 0 last Monday night and Quincy may also get rolling.

Lynn Classical at Everett—Everett's power will offset Lynn Classical's smartness, although if Boley Danciel ever gets loose it may be curtains for the Glidia horde. This Lynn outfit has won six straight while Everett is nearing the point where it might be just a little bit too confident. We have to pick Everett by one touchdown but we also have a hunch that Lynn Classical may be the team that can turn the trick others have vainly tried.

Revolutionary Method

For Treating of Cancer

Cancer experimental subjects of cancer investigators are mice. On mice are tested serums, diets, rays, poisons—all manner of remedy and theory—before the treatment is made available for use on humans.

Two investigators who reversed this process are Drs. Temple Fay and Lawrence Smith of Philadelphia. They announced a revolutionary new method of treating cancer—the so-called "frozen sleep" treatment.

Working on the theory that cold would kill the growth of cancer cells in the human body, they packed cancer patients in cracked ice until their temperature dropped below 90—previously thought to be the lowest body temperature at which life could be sustained. Though the cold did not kill them, it put the patients to sleep, with their normal body processes dropping to a point near death. The patients were kept in their cold coma for five days.

The result of this treatment, declared Drs. Fay and Smith, was to check tissue damage caused by cancer and to promote healing in a number of cases.

Other successes were reported. Meanwhile, three cancer researchers in Santa Monica, Calif., decided to apply the treatment to cancerous mice. The report of Fritz Biscoff, Louisa Long and J. Jerome Rupp to the International Cancer Research foundation in Philadelphia disclosed that so far as mice were concerned, "frozen sleep" was a failure.

After subjecting mice to the cold coma (24 hours), it was discovered the size of the malignant growths in the mice had decreased, but only about as much as would have been expected by reducing the amount of food eaten. Most important, after a short time the cancer tumors regained their growth, thus proving the freezing had no permanent effect on the mice.

Dairy Industry to Make

America Milk Conscious

Dairymen of America have awakened to the fact that they are not getting their share of the nation's food dollar and they are going to advertise their product nationally.

Details of the campaign to make America a nation of milk drinkers were revealed by Dr. Robert Prior. "Dairying is America's largest industry," he said. "The sum of $3,500,000,000 is invested in cows and dairy farms with a cow population of 25,000,000. Yet this industry spent only $61,000 in advertising its products in 1939."

As a result, dairying is suffering from under consumption, he added. Surveys show that only 25 per cent of the adult population drinks milk steadily. A like percentage drinks it occasionally and 50 per cent are nonusers, he declared.

Replace Your Sink Top . . . and Keep the Cabinets

● Kitchen modernizing starts at the sink—and one of the improvements you can make at moderate cost is a new top for your present cabinets. Also, a new top can be installed directly on your slate sink without removing it.

● Tops are factory-built with battleship linoleum bonded to a heavy steel base, guaranteed watertight—will not warp, swell or buckle. Tops built to any size to fit any space. Porcelain or stainless steel bowl—single or double.

● Choice of ten linoleum colors—edges bound with heavy stainless steel flanges raised three-eighths of an inch above surface to prevent water flowing over edge.

Women's Club Activities

Newton Highlands Juniors

"Fabrics—Their Use in Interior Decoration" is the subject on which Miss Louise Webster will talk at the meeting of the Newton Highlands Junior Woman's Club next Tuesday evening, November 12. Miss Webster, a former member of the club, will have sample fabrics to show. Members are urged to attend this meeting as important business is to be voted upon.

The Auburndale Review Club

Mrs. George F. Howland of 31 Vista ave., will be hostess for the Auburndale Review Club on Tuesday morning, November 12.

At ten o'clock there will be a business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. James G. Patterson, and at ten-thirty, she will turn the program over to Mrs. Arthur G. Robinson, chairman of the morning.

Mrs. Robinson's own paper which comes first will be "Modern Mexico" and Miss Margaret Haskell will follow with one on "The City of Mexico." The last paper will be "Mexican Art, Architecture, Handicrafts" and will be read by Mrs. Basil Babcock. These papers are following out the program of study elected by the club for this year on "Our Neighbors to the South."

Newtonville Woman's Club

The American Home Committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club, Mrs. Walter F. Burt, chairman, will have as their guest Mrs. J. Anton de Haas, on Wednesday, November 13th at 2:30 p. m. at the clubhouse at 61 Washington park.

All club members and their friends are cordially invited to come and hear this charming person speak with authority on the subject "Timely Topics." Tea will be served.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

There will be a meeting of the Literature Group of the Newton Centre Woman's Club at the home of Mrs. Edward Levine, 60 Cedar st., Newton Centre, on Wednesday afternoon, November 13th, at two-thirty o'clock. Mrs. Samuel E. Wisner will review "As I Remember Him" by Hans Zinsser, and Mrs. Albert Haines, will review "White Cliffs" by Alice Dunbar Miller. Any member of the club interested in Literature is cordially welcome.

The first International dinner of the Newton Centre Woman's Club will be at the clubhouse on Tuesday evening, November 12th, at 6:45.

Roland Hall Sharp will speak on "South America and the World Crisis." He will tell of his recent extensive tour of the Latin-American countries and of his investigations as a newspaper correspondent of the Fascist penetration and of the political trend.

Dr. Carl S. Ell, the new president of Northeastern University, will be presiding officer for the evening.

Flint was presented with a centerpiece of beautiful bronze and yellow chrysanthemums by Mr. Eastman.

Newtonville Woman's Club

An unusual and fascinating program, "Puppetry Through the Years," was presented at the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday, November 6th, by Mabel Kingsland Head and Cedric R. Head, Originators and sole operators of the Kingsland Marionettes, and two of America's most noted leaders in this art.

A short history of Puppetry and an exhibition of puppets from foreign lands proved that puppetry is truly an art and as old as civilization itself. This brief description provided a delightful background for the appreciation of the program that followed.

The costumes and stage settings were complete to the smallest detail and Mr. and Mrs. Head thrilled their audience as they manipulated these interesting creatures with amazing skill. Included in the presentations was a Chinese story, "The Legend of the Origin of Shadow Puppetry," a series of short numbers and a color scene from the popular Gilbert and Sullivan "Pinafore."

Mr. and Mrs. Head were introduced in a charming manner by Mrs. Raymond Green, Chairman of the Program Committee, of the Newtonville Club.

Upper Falls Woman's Club

Mrs. Hobart F. Goewey, chairman of the Legislative Committee of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club, had charge of the meeting held at the Emerson School, Monday evening, November 4th. The speaker, Mrs. Max Ulin, chairman of the International Relations Committee of the State Federation, spoke on "The American Way" urging all to guard our Democracy zealously and calling attention to the fate of Europe and the gallant stand taken by Great Britain.

Miss Nellie M. Osborne was made chairman of work for the British War Relief and an all day sewing meeting will be held Friday, November 15, at the home of Mrs. Robert B. McLaughlin, 69 Waldorf rd., when children's dresses will be made. Mrs. Albert Proctor was the hostess of the evening.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

Miss Ruth Linrud, soprano and harpist, presented a program of classical and popular music at the Tuesday morning assembly.

"Hobbies in Science" was the title of the lecture at the Friday morning assembly given by Mr. Horace Taylor, scientist, naturalist and draftsman. On Thursday Mrs. Sypher gave one of her series of talks on current events.

"Information Please," with Lawrence Louis Frederick, Harry H. Hanson, Archibald G. Barron, Charles H. Meeker, John Edward Cox, Dr. Edward P. Leonard, Jr., in the guise of "Minute Man," was the program at Newton Rotary on Monday. The results of the Presidential Election was the quiz subject. President John J. Cahill presided.

Representative Douglass B. Francis, Rev. Ray A. Eusden, Harry H. Kay, Lyseom A. Bruce, Jr., Eugene J. Campbell, Rev. Raymond Lang, Stanley Newman, Norman A. Needy were interesting commentators.

The results of information given by the speakers showed that Willkie was leading President Roosevelt by a slight margin.

Frank L. Richardson made a plea for a united attitude and full cooperation by all with our next president whoever he may be.

NEWTONVILLE IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

The next meeting of the Executive Committee of the Newtonville Improvement Association will be held on Thursday evening, November 14th at the home of Mr. J. Mervin Allen, 19 Birch Hill rd. President Earl B. Millard will preside.

NEWTON DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

The regular monthly meeting of the Newton District Nursing Association of Directors was held on Monday, November 4, 1940, at the Community Room of the Newtonville Library.

Reports were given on the recent annual meeting of the Massachusetts Organization for Public Health Nursing by Mrs. John T. Croghan and Mrs. Louis W. Arnold. Mrs. Croghan spoke particularly of the Round Table Discussion for Board Members which was conducted by Miss Evelyn Davis, Associate Director of the National Organization for Public Health Nursing. This proved to be a grand opportunity for bringing to the fore many problems that beset District Nursing Association small and large, and was very helpful.

Mrs. Arnold spoke more generally of the work of the state association and its numerous committees among them the Legislative which keeps informed concerning new legislation, etc., that would have a bearing on public health nursing. There are also an Industrial and School Nursing Section which are concerned chiefly with the work of these nurses. Miss Hilga S. Nelson, Executive Director of the Newton District Nursing Association was appointed a director for three years of the Massachusetts Organization for Public Health Nursing. Miss Nelson was the chairman of the Program Committee for the very successful Annual Meeting.

The report of the nursing service for the month of October was given by Miss Nelson and showed an increase in nursing service. A total of 1728 visits were made of which 870 were for nursing care of the sick; 39 new babies were admitted to the Well Baby Conference and the total attendance at the conferences was 561, the largest attendance record.

The business meeting was followed by the showing of two educational films by Dr. Harold Chope, the first was a review of the work of the Health Department in reducing diphtheria in Newton and the other was one on the newer treatment for pneumonia.

Visual Survey at Working Boys Home Now in Progress

Visual surveys are now being carried on at the Working Boys' Home in Newton under the direction of the Massachusetts Optometric Clinic, according to Dr. Ralph H. Green, chief clinician. Preliminary surveys are made at the Home, and those in need of eye treatment are then given thorough examinations and necessary prescriptions at the clinical headquarters at 1112 Boylston st., in Boston.

Celebrate Mass In Honor of 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. McHugh of 936 Walnut st., Newton Highlands, were accorded an unusual privilege by Bishop Richard J. Cushing, pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre on Wednesday morning when he celebrated mass at their home in connection with their 50th wedding anniversary. The Bishop was assisted by Rev. Bernard Winn, curate at Sacred Heart Church. Fifty relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. McHugh attended the mass. After the service a breakfast was served to all who participated.

of the local Chapter for the coming year may send checks to Chapter Headquarters, 12 Austin st., Newtonville, or they may leave them with any Newton bank. Checks should be made payable to Newton Chapter of American Red Cross.

That interest is keen throughout the country is attested by the fact that the motion picture industry itself initiated special motion pictures which will be released during the two-week period beginning Nov. 10th, dramatizing the work of the Red Cross. Deanna Durbin will appear in one of these.

And on Sunday, Nov. 10th, Katharine Cornell, famous on stage and screen, will make her appearance in a coast-to-coast program over the three major networks, at 1:30 to 2:30 p. m., E. S. T. From time to time other radio programs will be given and these programs will be found in the radio lists.

Mayor Lauds Work Of Dr. H. D. Chope

The following letter was written by Mayor Goddard to Dr. H. D. Chope in accepting the resignation of the latter:

November 4, 1940.

H. D. Chope, M.D.,
Director of Public Health,
City of Newton, Mass.

Dear Dr. Chope:

You know, of course, that the officials of the City of Newton accept your resignation with extreme reluctance, for your service to the City has been outstanding. In cooperation with the Board of Health you have brought your department to a high degree of efficiency.

I am very much pleased that you intend to retain your residence in Newton and will continue to serve the Health Department as a consultant. We all wish you the best of success in your new work.

Cordially yours,
Mayor.

of us, and that such a policy was the only one which would preserve peace. Under it, he said, the Japanese war lords could not force their people to accept a war against the United States.

Finally he discussed "the truth regarding the condition of our national defense," which proved to be the controversial part of the speech. He painted a rosy picture than the aroused audience could accept. He stated categorically that the administration had not played politics with national defense, and again quoted naval and military authorities in proof.

Bombshell was his statement that national defense and foreign policy were themselves not real issues, but that "falsification" was. The most serious of falsified charges, he felt, was that our present foreign policy was leading us into war. He believed the exact opposite; that our present policy was insurance of peace.

His reasoning seemed to be that since our policies were slowly and consistently developed and applied, that since both major parties agree upon them, the real issue is not here. His assertion that national defense is being carried on with vigor and with as much speed as Congress will permit evoked audience protest.

Mr. Williams did not hold his audience's attention closely throughout his address until the import of his remarks began to arouse the ire of those who thought they detected outright partisanship. Some people actually left the auditorium feeling that nothing further would happen, but, as has so often been the case in the history of the Forum, the question period provided the real fireworks. The speech proved provocative and questions came thick and fast. Such questions as "Why have we continued to send scrap iron, oil, etc., to Japan?" "Will Willkie's advisers recommend appeasement?" "Will aid to Britain slow up our defense preparations?" are typical of those asked. He was plainly prepared for some questions, obviously balked for a moment by others.

He closed commending the audience for its maintenance of the democratic right to opinions.

Ushering was in the hands of the Junior Committee for the Forum, composed of young men and women largely from the high school and recent graduates, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Barstow. Fine music was provided by the Kovitz Trio.

At the next meeting of the Forum, on Nov. 17, Mrs. Vera Michele Dean, Director of Research of the Foreign Policy Association, will discuss "What Next in Europe?"

Forum memberships, in charge of Mrs. Ben T. Fawcett, are reported at 570 out of the 750 limited memberships.

Newton Building Report For Month of October

During the month of October 99 permits were issued by the Newton Public Buildings Department. The cost of construction to be done under these permits was estimated at $228,007. Of the permits 18 were for single residences valued at $106,000; 3 for two-family dwellings, valued at $19,500; 15 for private garages, valued at $5,190; 1 for a gasoline station to cost $14,700. The continued trend in the alteration of single residences was evidenced by the granting of 42 permits, the work under them to cost $45,901.

Kiwanians Told of City's Problems By Alderman Colby

At the meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club on Tuesday Alderman Clarence C. Colby delivered a lengthy address on the subject—"Our City." Among the topics in his address were the proposed changes in Ward lines to give equitable representation; taxation, reduction in valuations, reductions in city expenditures, and suggestions for improving conditions in the conduct of city affairs.

Alderman Colby stated that while Newton has had the lowest tax rate of any city in the State, it has had the highest per capita tax of any city in the State, except Boston. He said that if Newton paid taxes at the average rate of the 39 cities in this Commonwealth, there would have been a reduction of $11.30 in this year's tax rate. He stated that while he believes Newton people do not want a cut in the services the city gives, they would appreciate a reduction in taxes provided the services are not sacrificed.

According to Colby, a reduction in valuation of Newton real estate, which he believes are too high, would bring a reduction in State and County assessments on the city and these account for 12 to 15 per cent of the city's tax levy. He referred to the large assessment on Newton because of the Middlesex County T. B. Hospital. Last year it amounted to $45,289. Colby told of large increases in the cost of running the School, Street, Welfare and Treasury departments of Newton since 1933. He referred to the number of persons in the School Department who receive salaries over $3000, and that it has the highest per pupil cost of any school department in the State. He advocated a complete check on the Street Department to determine the efficiency and time of employment of its personnel, its operating costs, and its program. He said that in 1935 he tried to make a study of costs of snow and ice removal and asked the then Street Commissioner for data, and was told that records were so kept that only figures could be given for total payrolls, hired equipment and cost of sand purchased.

Regarding the Welfare Department, Colby said its cost has increased 100 per cent in six years. He said that the Director of this department had been hampered during Mayor Childs' administration. He advocates the creation of a Board to assist the Welfare Director.

Colby advocated the creation of a Cost and Research Department to provide information for the Mayor, Department heads and the Aldermen. At the same time he acknowledged that the City Comptroller has been most efficient and that his records are complete and accurate, but information obtained from him is of such a nature that it cannot be properly distributed as a basis for determining operation costs in various departments. He suggested that Newton adopt a system similar to that of Springfield in determining costs and using modern office equipment.

In conclusion Colby recommended the following:

- (1) The result obtained from Mayors depends upon their experience, ability to recognize and make use of sound advice, and maintain a high executive morale.
- (2) The Ward Lines should be changed to obtain fair and equal representation in the city government.
- (3) Newton pays the highest tax per capita of any city in the State outside of Boston.
- (4) A lower tax rate may be obtained: (a) Through a reduction of our assessed valuation; (b) Through a moratorium on Capital Expenditures; (c) Through economy of administration but (1) Economy of administration cannot be expected until (a) A new system of accounting is installed giving (1) Better budgetary control; (2) A record of operating costs of each department in addition to accounting showing record of payments made; (b) A new unit is established to collect and correlate facts, concerning department operations, to indicate where economies may be had; (c) More co-operative planning is arranged for certain large departments.
- (5) Investments of Home Owners should be protected by better zoning control.
- (6) A long range Capital Budget system should be instituted to provide more intelligent expenditure of funds for public improvements.

Fire In House on Newtonville Ave.

A fire which was discovered in the two-family house at 221-223 Newtonville ave., Newton, shortly before midnight on Wednesday caused damage of $800. Cracking of flames awakened R. W. McKee who resides in the first floor apartment. He aroused Mr. and Mrs. Chester Ricker who live in the second floor apartment. The fire was confined to the cellar, where it started, but smoke did considerable damage to the furniture in the apartments.

Stores Will Close On November 11

The Newton Chamber of Commerce has notified store owners and managers in the Newtons that no business place may be open on November 11, Armistice Day, between the hours of 7 a. m. and 1 p. m., except such places as can be legally kept open on Sundays. Most stores in the Newtons will be closed all day on November 11.

Newton Post, A. L. Armistice Service

Newton Post American Legion will observe Armistice Day by attending a service in the Memorial Building at 10:40 a. m. and by participating in the Armistice Day parade at Boston in the afternoon.

On Sunday, November 10, Newton Post will attend the 10 o'clock mass at Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre, and in the evening of that day will attend a service at the First Baptist Church in Lynn at 7 o'clock. Rev. Herbert McComble, former chaplain of Newton Post is pastor at the Lynn Church. For many years, since Rev. Mr. McComble left Newton, his comrades of Newton Post have journeyed each year to whatever city he has been located in to attend a special service at his church.

Did you buy YOUR car on "Millinery"?

YOU hear it said often nowadays that it's millinery that sells automobiles.

All right—let's put it up to one who knows. Did you buy your car on nick-nacks, trick devices, novelties?

We don't think so.

We believe that while considering style, and room, and comfort—you really picked your car on what it would do on the road!

Now, we take our hats off to no car for being smarter-looking than Buick. We'll match our product against any for room, for appointments, for fine finish, for the comfort of its all-coil springing and the safety of its Body by Fisher.

But beyond all that, we challenge the whole field to equal Buick on its downright all-round performance ability.

On its power—on its pull—on its pick-up—on its easy handling (including freedom from shifting)—yes, and on its thrift.

Nowhere will you find a car that does so much so well and so frugally—and we invite you to find that out for yourself.

You'll find novelties in the new

Buicks of course, but they're not the chief attraction. Instead you'll see the two big basic engineering developments of the year—FIREBALL design and Compound Carburetion.

They give you an automobile that packs a real thrill—and if that means more to you than superficialities, better come in and learn more about it.

Red Cross Roll Call Drive in Full Progress; Need Greater Than Ever

Every Family in Newton Urged to Join in Effort to Relieve World-Wide Suffering

His Honor, the Mayor of Newton, Paul M. Goddard, officially opened the campaign for funds in the Annual Roll Call, by being the first citizen of the city to enroll as a member of the Newton Chapter of American Red Cross, and on Monday last received from the hands of Margaret McCormick, Girl Scout, member of Troop 13, Newton Centre, the Red Cross button, which she bestowed upon him. Flags are flying, banners are waving the Newton Chapter of American Red Cross.

It is fitting, indeed, that this appeal for funds to support this genuinely American Institution should have been launched upon Armistice Day. War seethes overseas. National Defense is hastening. And to the American Red Cross the people turn for assistance in that defense. The American Red Cross stands ready to serve at home, or wherever there is need on in the breeze, posters are being displayed, and chairmen of the various branches of the city have arranged interesting and informative window displays, showing the activities of this organization, even of samples of the garments which are being sent to victims of wars overseas. And all this means that the American people are standing ready to support the code of American values which the Red Cross demonstrates—kindness and mercy, regard for fellowmen.

In order that this work for the people of the community may continue in its service and helpfulness, the Newton Chapter of Red Cross must have for its yearly budget between $15,000 and $20,000, and all of this is spent within the borders of home.

Over 17,000 letters were delivered Nov. 7th and 8th by Western Union, calling attention in every home in the city that their local chapter needed their continued interest and support. And it is hoped that every family in the city will be enrolled as members of this chapter before Nov. 30th.

In these critical days all Americans realize they must enroll under the Red Cross banner, not only for the safeguarding of humanity, but for National Defense, and for the services at home which only they can render. Already the Red Cross is the friendly link between the boys who are entering service and their families. Their experience in these fields makes it possible for them to assist in all ways. To their local citizens they must look for the funds and sustaining confidence which makes that service possible.

Every family in Newton a member of the Newton Chapter of Red Cross should be the high aim of our city in these stirring days. Those who desire to enroll may send checks to the Chapter Headquarters, 12 Austin st., Newtonville, or they may make their contributions through any Newton bank; checks being made payable to

Old Toys Wanted For Needy Children

The Newton Community Council is asking for old and not-too-badly damaged toys, which will be repaired, repainted, etc., by Mr. Harold Young's Newton WPA Toy-Repairing Project, and then distributed among the children of needy families in Newton approved by the City's Department of Public Welfare. Persons having such toys which they are willing to contribute, are asked to leave them at any one of the Newton Fire Stations, from now until Nov. 29.

Aldermen To Study Salaries of City Hall Employees

At the meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen on Tuesday night, Vice President Walker presided in the absence of President Floyd, who was serving as Mayor pro-tem, while Mayor Goddard was away from the city for a couple of days.

Alderman Walker, at the recommendation of Mayor Goddard, and the approval of the Board, appointed a special committee composed of Aldermen Inches, Barwise and Gaddis, to study the salary schedules of clerks at City Hall. During Mayor Weeks' administration a similar study was made and a classification of clerks and salaries followed. It is contended that since then inequalities have arisen, and the study is expected to result in more equitable salaries for those having like work and responsibilities.

Dr. Carl Ell To Be Inaugurated Head Of Northeastern

Dr. Carl S. Ell of Newton will be formally inaugurated as second president of Northeastern University on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 19, in the Boston Opera House. An Inaugural Dinner will be held in the evening in the main ballroom of the Copley Plaza Hotel.

Dr. Ell will succeed Dr. Frank Palmer Spence as president of Northeastern. He came to the University in 1910 after having received his Bachelor of Arts degree from DePauw in 1909. He received the Bachelor of Science degree from M.I.T. in 1911. Master of Education degree from Harvard in 1932 and Doctor of Science degree from DePauw in 1935.

Dr. Ell is chairman of the National Committee on Instructional Methods for the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education and is past chairman of the New England section of that society.

He is also active in many of the larger engineering organizations and a member of the Harvard Teachers' Association, the Massachusetts Schoolmasters' Club, the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the Massachusetts Civic League, the University Club, and the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

He is vice-president and trustee of the New England Deaconess Hospital, a life member of the Wesleyan Association, and permanent president of the New England DePauw Alumni Association. He has been a resident of Newtonville for some years at 21 Beaumont ave.

Seven Drafttees In First Quota From Newton on Tuesday

The first quota of drafttees from Newton will be inducted into army service on next Tuesday. All seven of the young men volunteered and by so doing caused others, some of whom were higher on the draft lists, not to be ordered into compulsory military training.

Three of the seven are from District 112, which comprises Wards 1, 2 and 3. They are Robert L. Cochran, 26, and Gilbert R. Cochran, 24, brothers, of 98 Jewett st., Newton. They are the sons of Francis Cochran who retired from the U. S. Navy in 1920 with the rank of petty officer, after he had served 35 years. Robert Cochran graduated from Northeastern University in 1937 and is a chemical engineer. Gilbert graduated from Newton High School in 1936. The third volunteer from District 112 is Russell Liscomb, 25, of 178 Cabot st., Newton.

The two volunteers from District 113, comprising Wards 4 and 5, are Maurice Cartier, 22, of 1659 Washington st., Auburndale, and Raymond J. Case, 25, of 20 Ward rd., Auburndale. Cartier is the son of Arthur J. Cartier, assistant U. S. District Attorney. He attended the Mass. School of Optometry, and for two years was a member of C. M. T. C. Camps, in the artillery training course. Case is the son of Rev. Herbert E. Case, a secretary of the Congregational Missionary Society. He is a graduate of the Bentley School of Accounting.

The volunteers from District 114, including Wards 6 and 7, are Robert V. Foley, 31, of 282 Langley rd., Newton Centre, and Charles T. Allen, 21, of 20 Rotherwood rd., Newton Centre.

Told Fake Story About Robbery

Edward Ronca, 23, of Katherine st., Jamaica Plain, reported to Brookline police on Wednesday about 3 a. m. that he had been robbed of his car by a "thunder" whom he had picked up on the Worcester turnpike. Brookline notified Newton police and shortly after Patrolmen Howley and Madden found Ronca's car abandoned on the reservation alongside Hammond Pond Parkway. Three of the car's tires had burst when it hit the curbing. Notified to come to Newton police headquarters, Ronca was questioned by police inspectors there and admitted that he had concocted the story of the robbery. The reason was—that Ronca's car was insured against theft, but not against collision damage. He said he dozed off while driving the car, and it went off the roadway.

Russian Woman at Community Forum Next Sunday

Vera Micheles Dean, Director of the Foreign Policy Association Research Department, will present her views of the future of Europe from her intimate knowledge of the situation gained by her travels in many countries. She will speak at the Newton Community Forum next Sunday afternoon, Nov. 17th, at 3:30 in the

Newton High School Auditorium, subject "What Next in Europe?"

Born in St. Petersburg, Mrs. Dean left Russia just before the Bolshevik Revolution to complete her studies in the United States. While studying at Radcliffe, from which she graduated in 1925, it will undoubtedly be of interest to many Newtonians to know that Vera Micheles Dean made her home on Mt. Vernon st. in West Newton. Mrs. Dean was given a Carnegie Endowment fellowship in international law at Yale and received her master's degree from there in 1926. Like many Russians, she has several languages at her command, and in the autumn of 1929 joined the staff of the Foreign Policy Association, specializing in Russian and Italian affairs.

Her European travels have taken her within the last few years to Austria, England, France, Germany, Switzerland, Norway, Hungary, Italy and Russia. As a member of the American delegation to the International Studies Conference in Paris and Bergen, Mrs. Dean made her headquarters in Paris until the last of 1939 when she returned to New York after the outbreak of hostilities with Germany. She has been in the European situation.

The Newton Community Forums are held at the Newton High School Auditorium twice monthly from November to February on Sunday afternoons at 3:30, to which all are invited.

Community Council Fall Dinner Meeting

The Fall Dinner meeting of the Newton Community Council, Central Planning Department of the Newton Community Chest, Inc., will be held on Tuesday, November 19, 1940 at the Newtonville Women's Club, Washington Park, Newtonville at 6:45. Mr. Harry Carey, Executive Director of the Greater Boston Community Fund will address the meeting on the subject of "Protecting the Home Front." All Council members are invited.

Middlesex & Boston Gets New Busses

Ten new busses have been received by the Middlesex & Boston Company from the American Car Company of Philadelphia. They are numbered 133 to 142. Six will be operated from the main garage of the company at Waltham and four from the Auburndale garage. They are of the same type as the busses received last March, but have several minor improvements.

Dial Telephones to Be Placed in Operation Sunday Morning at 1

Telephone Company Asks Subscribers Not To Make Needless Calls At Start

Promptly at 1 a. m. on Sunday morning, November 17, the shrill sound of a police whistle in the new Newton Telephone Exchange Building on Washington st. near Newtonville sq. will give the signal that the new dial telephone exchange is ready to be thrown into operation. A few minutes later more than twenty-eight thousand telephones throughout Newton will be ready to operate through the dial equipment.

The brief operations, carefully planned and rehearsed for weeks, will climax one of the biggest construction and installation projects the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company has undertaken in recent years. Hundreds of highly trained men and women, each a specialist in his or her field, have worked together to plan, build, install and test the equipment, recondition the entire telephone plant throughout the city, instruct thousands of telephone users in the correct use of dial service, train the operators who will serve Newton customers and change every telephone instrument in Newton for instruments carrying the familiar dial.

This program of cooperative effort has been so carefully carried out that it was possible to announce the date and time of the "Cutover" weeks in advance, and to plan the actual operation of changing service so efficiently that not a single customer will be without telephone service for more than a few seconds during the change.

Since all Newton Telephones are to be served from the new exchange building in Newtonville square, the buildings that now house the equipment for the West Newton, Newton North and Center Newton exchanges will cease to operate as a central office, although some auxiliary equipment will be retained in service at these buildings.

The honor of making the first call through the new dial equipment will go to Mayor Paul Goddard who will call Mr. Bernard McHugh, chairman of the Board of Selectmen in Watertown.

Immediately thereafter the work of disconnecting the "Manual" equipment now in use, and the simultaneous task of connecting the new dial equipment will begin. Signals by police whistle are to give each man his cue for each step in the work of cutting over.

Since few persons realize the magnitude and details of the work of providing dial facilities for so large an exchange as Newton, the story of the cooperative task is largely lost when customers begin to receive the benefits of their new and improved service.

In the case of Newton the first step was a careful analysis of the telephone habits of customers in that city, and the necessary surveys to determine the nature and extent of the equipment needed to provide adequate telephone service.

The studies showed that because of the rapid growth of Newton as a residential and business community in recent years, the present facilities soon would be inadequate. Further studies indicated that modern dial service is the swiftest and most efficient type of telephone communication yet devised and would best answer the needs of Newton people.

Plans were drawn up by the engineers for the type of building, central office equipment, cable and wire and other devices needed, and their plans and specifications were handed over to the Plant Department which handles the construction, installation and maintenance work of the company.

The necessary equipment was ordered from the Western Electric Company, manufacturers of all equipment for the Bell System, and the contract for the new building was awarded to the firm of Bowen Construction Company.

Construction of the building was started last summer. Meanwhile, dozens of Telephone people were working together on other phases of the work. Plant men were making the necessary changes and installations of Cable and reconditioning of the entire plant in the city to provide adequate facilities for the traffic expected between points in Newton and between Newton and the outside world.

Operators in the Traffic Department started an intensive period of training to master the technique of handling calls of all types that will require their assistance in the new exchange. Such calls as request for information, long distance calls and many other types where the will voice of the operator works with and through the automatic dial equipment.

A group of employees was trained in the work of instructing all customers in Newton in the methods of getting the best and most efficient sort of service from the dial equipment. Although most telephone users today are familiar with dial service, these lessons in correct usage are of great value in teaching how to complete calls with speed and accuracy. These instructors talked with nearly every customer's home, plant or office to give lessons and in addition taught thousands of children in groups at most of the public and parochial schools throughout the city.

Next a special crew of Plant men started the work of changing every telephone in the city from the old "Manual" to the new "Dial" type, and after a long and careful study of more than 1400 suggested names, the designations Lasell, Bigelow and Decatur were selected for the three new central offices.

The installation of the Central Office equipment as soon as the building was completed was one of the most complicated tasks that could be imagined, but under a group of highly trained installers it progressed steadily and without a hitch. It has been said that the equipment that provided dial telephone service is the most complicated and the most efficient mechanism yet conceived by the mind of man, and that it would take at least three days and three nights to explain its operation in detail.

The installation work required the most careful adjustments of power, operating equipment and cable wire routes to guide properly and without distortion immeasurably tiny amounts of electrical energy for distances from ten feet to around the world without distortion of energy loss. The connecting of the operating mechanism required the most careful supervision and continuous testing. The work of making the millions of soldered connections required took many weeks.

Men who had carefully followed each step of the installation work were assigned for the type of building, cen-

THE NEW DIAL SYSTEM

Sunday morning at one o'clock Newton will go on the dial telephone system. The dial telephone is simple and easy to use as well as fast and accurate. Some persons will require a longer time than others to accustom themselves to its use. A little patience will go a long way toward keeping calm and unruffled if one finds themselves in any difficulty whatever. The telephone company employees have worked long and arduously installing and preparing for the dial operation, designed to provide greater telephone efficiency. Efforts have also been made to educate telephone subscribers in its use. These efforts will be continued where necessary. If you, as a telephone user, experience any difficulty place the receiver back on the hook, remove it again and spin the finger-wheel, beginning at the word "Operator," as far as it will go in a clockwise direction, release it and the operator's voice will solve your troubles.

Letters To The Editor

DAY OF SPENDING PUT OFF

To the Editor of the Newton Graphic:
Keeping tabs on city affairs and various municipal activities which make for the well-being of Newton claims the attention of its citizens and organizations. Lately one group of residents has devoted sometime to the consideration of the financial setup and has made studies of how the municipal dollar is spent. Suggestions have been offered by the officers of the group as to changes that might be effected calculated to get more service for dollars appropriated.

Seeking to become passing familiar with current happenings in city government, I have tried to keep fairly conversant with affairs. Naturally my interest is aroused when any announcement is made relative to what is going on at City Hall. The following excerpt from the report (Oct. 17, 1940) of the Newton Taxpayers' Association, makes me wonder whether the members of the Public Buildings Committee of the Board of Aldermen have the same information.

"At the end of November of last year, the school committee recommended to the mayor that the boilers and engines at the Newton High School plant be replaced at a cost of $116,000. Your association publicly questioned the advisability or necessity for this burdensome expense, and we were asked by the chairman of the finance committee of the board of aldermen to offer suggestions and recommendations. A study was made of the engineering report and we offered recommendations, some of which were followed with a resulting saving this year of approximately $100,000."

About two years ago school authorities were concerned about the power and heating plant at the High School. Hall & Company, engineers, were called in and made a preliminary study at a cost of $1000. A 50 page typewritten report was submitted by the company copies of which were submitted to all members of the Board of Aldermen. The report suggested that to revamp the High School plant would cost around $116,000. In the fall of 1939, and early this year considerable discussion ensued among the aldermen, several organizations and engineers, as to the recommendations embodied in the Hall report. The need of doing something to reinforce the power and heating plant at the High School was felt to be urgent and an appropriation of $6000 was named as advisable to provide for plans upon which bids might be made. However, Mayor Goddard, after consultation with the Public Buildings Commissioner, refrained from making any recommendation although $12,000 was provided in the budget to use in the plant should trouble develop; other than the usual expenditures for upkeep amounting this summer to $1000, the high school power plant is about as it was a year ago but—over a year older, and one year nearer the time when it is liable to "let go."

Unless the quotation from the Taxpayers' Association has been misread it suggests that the High School plant has been given attention at a saving of $100,000 to the city.
JOHN TEMPERLEY.

ADVERTISING RESULTS

To the Editor,
Newton Graphic.
Dear Sir:

I have been in the advertising business for over fifty years, and am a believer in all kinds of advertising.

Every little while I hear of remarkable results from one form of advertising or another. This month's prize goes to the Newton Graphic.

A committee to arrange for the 50th Anniversary of the Class of '90 Newton High School sent the GRAPHIC a list of about 25 names of former class members (mostly "girls" who had married) and those addresses had been lost within the past 50 years.

The committee was surprised and pleased to receive replies from seven different readers of your paper giving us the desired information.

Many thanks to your readers and congratulations to the GRAPHIC.
Yours very truly,
H. B. WATERS.

ELIOT PLAYERS

"A Murder Has Been Arranged" by Emily Williams under the auspices of the Eliot Players at the Eliot Church, Newton, Friday and Saturday evenings, November 22nd and 23rd at 8:15 o'clock. As the title implies it is a mystery-drama and also as is implied from the name of the author, it is a play that in every way substantiates the thrill and excitement of Mr. Williams' other famous play, "Night Must Fall."

Miss Bessie M. Stratton is directing the play and the cast is as follows: Sylvia Bennett, Dorothy Howe, Roxanna Martin, Audrey Smith, Marion Story, Lawrence Fitzgerald, Herbert Fraser, Barnaby Smith and Roger Walen.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

Dr. Samuel W. Lindsay spoke on "The Power of the Imagination" Tuesday morning.

Tea was served from four to six on Tuesday when the Briggs, Chandler, Clark and Dillingham senior houses held open house for faculty, students and guests.

"China's New Wall" was the subject for an illustrated lecture given at the Friday morning assembly by Mr. H. Irving Olds.

The Lasell Dramatic Club presented the first play of the season, "Death Takes a Holiday," at Winslow Hall on Friday and Saturday evenings with members of the Harvard Dramatic Club playing the male roles.

Dr. Charles E. Park will conduct the Sunday vesper service.

Powers' Paragraphs

People in this section can sleep easier now. The Home Guard of Waltham is organizing an observation squad which will keep watch on Prospect Hill in that city for the purpose of "spotting enemy planes and making the observations necessary for the interception of invaders," according to a news item in the Waltham New-Tribune.

There are vacant parcels of land at Nonantum near industries there which could and should be rented or leased by these companies as parking spaces for automobiles owned by their employees. If this were done, the nuisance of all-day parking on streets, in front of persons' residences, would be eliminated, or largely reduced.

Heed the request of the Telephone Company. Don't practice on your new dial phones during hours when the telephone exchange is busy. Don't fail to turn the finger-wheel on the instrument all the way around to the right each time you twist it. Don't touch this finger-wheel while you are talking. And don't fuss too much at the dial system for the first week or two. You will eventually become accustomed to it, just as one does to bifocal eyeglasses.

On December 24, 1939 a lovable, old citizen of Newton passed from this life, John R. Prescott of Newtonville, who for 48 years had been a resident of this city and for 31 years a member of the Board of Assessors. Mr. Prescott was one of those rare souls who always appeared happy, and whose mission in life seemed to be an endeavor to radiate his gentle, good nature toward all his fellow men. The closing years of his long life were blessed with a pleasant task he assumed in making a considerable contribution toward the campaign for the raising of a fund to build the public library at Newtonville. As his part in helping to raise money for this fund, he wrote a little book about "Suburban Living at Its Best" and which he entitled "The Story of Newton, Massachusetts." On the inside of the front cover of this book, Mr. Prescott had printed the following excerpt from an editorial in the Boston Herald of December 4, 1933—"In the eighteen square miles which constitute this city (Newton), there is probably a greater measure of physical well-being, good citizenship, efficient administration, and general confidence than in any other section of the United States."

John R. Prescott's "Story of Newton" traced the development of this community from those days three centuries ago when the area which now comprises Newton was granted to the settlers of Cambridge as grazing land. After briefly sketching the development of Newton into a town, its early agricultural and industrial activities and its growth during the 19th century into Boston's most attractive suburb, Mr. Prescott concluded his little volume by telling of the various factors which have been responsible for making Newton one of the outstanding residential communities of this country.

John Prescott was not alone in his enthusiasm for Newton. Many thousands of us who were born in Newton, and other thousands who admired Newton sufficiently to select it as their home, have the same love and admiration for Newton that Mr. Prescott possessed. We appreciate the advantages we enjoy by residing in Newton, and we like to praise it. Most of us are reasonable enough to realize that Newton is not perfect, and that there are from time to time opportunities for improvements in the conduct of life here, and in the conduct of the city's affairs. Neither do we object to just criticism of the city or its officials or employees. But, the writer for one, does object to continual criticism of the city and its government, when such criticism is not warranted, and when its dissemination throughout the State cannot but have an injurious effect on the reputation of this city.

We have been hearing and reading much about "democracy" the past few years. New England with its town meetings and truly representative type of government has been long accredited as typifying real democracy. Newton to an outstanding degree has long been noted for good citizenship, and efficient administration, as the Boston Herald editorial stated. Prior to 1873, under the town form of government, Newton was governed by a Board of Selectmen. The first three chosen to administer the affairs of the town in 1679 were Captain Thomas Prentice, Sergeant John Ward and Deacon James Trowbridge. Each served 9 years. For nearly two centuries they were succeeded by sturdy New Englanders, who conducted the affairs of Newton frugally and efficiently.

In 1873 Newton was granted a charter as a city and its first Mayor, James F. C. Hyde, a descendant of one of the first settlers, served in 1874 and 1875. During the sixty-six years which have since elapsed, Newton has had twenty-one mayors, and not one of these high-type men was ever found to be dishonest in the conduct of his office. During these 66 years the type of men who served in the Newton Common Council and the Newton Board of Aldermen were also of excellent calibre. Newton has been unique among cities in the honesty and freedom from cheap politics of the men who have served in its city government. They have endeavored to make and keep Newton as an outstanding community, and they have succeeded with the co-operation of Newton citizens.

Until several years ago, the salary of the Mayor of Newton was nominal. Members of the Board of Aldermen of Newton have not and do not receive any salary. They have given freely of their time and energy in serving their fellow citizens. As one who has attended nearly every meeting of the Aldermen for 18 years, and who has been an Alderman, I can say from personal knowledge that, with few exceptions, every Alderman I have known has endeavored to serve conscientiously and without bias. The Mayor and Aldermen of Newton are elected because a majority of the people of this city have confidence in them, and choose them to conduct the affairs of Newton.

For three score years the affairs of Newton were managed by city governments in a way to bring envy from less fortunate communities, praise from State officials and confidence from the people of the city. Not being infallible, various Mayors and Boards of Aldermen made mistakes, and properly were criticized. But, on the whole, citizens and taxpayers of Newton believed that their city was being unusually well governed.

Several years ago this happy condition changed. Misgovernment and extravagance in the conduct of our State government, and in several cities and towns of this Commonwealth rightly caused the organization of Taxpayers' Associations, and one was formed in Newton. We believe in Taxpayers' Associations provided they are properly organized and conducted, are constructive instead of destructive, and that persons representing them do not attempt to usurp the duties of duly elected members of a city or town government.

For a couple of years after the Newton Taxpayers' Association was organized, it proceeded unobtrusively. But, for the past couple of years, methods used by this association have not redounded to the benefit of this city—or the association. During that time, the association (or its representatives), has been sending out publicity releases to newspapers in Newton and elsewhere in which statements were made indicating that this city was not being efficiently governed, and asserting that the Taxpayers' Association has been responsible for large savings in the cost of running Newton. There was a statement about the joke budget presented annually in Newton, and the allegation that it was ridiculed outside this city. There was a statement that Newton's alleged excessively high taxes had caused a large percentage of houses in this city to be "for sale," and that a feeling of defeatism exists among property owners in this city. The writer has lived and worked in Newton longer than the officials of the Taxpayers' Association responsible for this statement, and has been constantly in touch with residents of Newton, both rich and poor. And I never heard any psychology of "defeatism" in Newton until it was expressed in the statement from the Taxpayers' Association.

The many houses for sale in Newton are not the result of excessive taxes in this city, or extravagant management of city affairs. These houses are in large percentage, costly residences erected in the more attractive sections of Newton during the boom 20's; or big, outmoded dwellings erected a generation and more ago, and now too expensive for a person of ordinary means to maintain. The swank houses along Commonwealth ave. and other streets in this city which are for sale, were in many instances formerly owned by persons who made money quickly during the last war or in the few years following, and who lost money quickly in the depression years. Newton is not the only community in which houses such as these are for sale. To often the contention that Newton has many houses for sale, is the fact that for a score of years, including this year, Newton has easily been first in Massachusetts in the number and value of new residences erected. The impression still prevails outside of Newton that this city is a highly desirable place in which to build or buy a home.

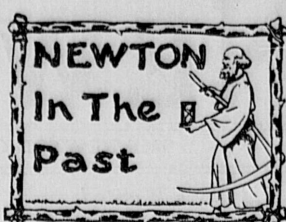

A year or more ago officials of the Newton Taxpayers' Association had placed in store windows throughout this city placards telling of that association being responsible for saving over $50,000 to taxpayers that year. At that time we criticized that claim, and stated the savings referred to was caused by the Finance Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen.

The annual statement of the Taxpayers' Association recently issued, claims this organization is responsible for large savings in the cost of running Newton this year. It mentions, for instance, that the association was responsible for the savings of $100,000 in connection with the heating and power plant at Newton High School. The misstatement of fact in this claim is shown by a letter written by Alderman John Temperley (chairman of the Public Buildings Committee), and printed in this issue of THE GRAPHIC. The report also credits the association with saving $10,000 in the garbage contract. We question the accuracy of this statement. The association has also, in its reports and publications taken credit for savings when that credit belonged to the Board of Aldermen.

At a meeting of the Board of Aldermen on March 18 of this year, Alderman McKay, chairman of the Finance Committee in detail referred to this fact.

Recently a bulletin published by the State Taxpayers' Association was sent throughout the State to members. Under the caption—"Better City Government" was an item stating: "Newton Taxpayers' Association in the

The trustees of the Newton Cottage Hospital held a meeting on October 27 in the parish house of Grace Church, Newton. The plastering of the hospital building on Washington st., Lower Falls was reported as finished and the building would be ready for use the first of the year, but its opening may depend on the completion of the circuit branch of the B. & A. All the expense of the building has been met except $2000 required for heating and plumbing, and grading the grounds.

Ex-Mayor Ellison started on Wednesday on a business trip to New Mexico.

Law makers should not be law breakers. Ordinance 111 reads that no person shall set fire to any tree, bush, leaves, grass, brushwood, rubbish or any other substance in the City of Newton. Our city officials have had bonfires burning in a street the past week, making a smudge not pleasant to the olfactories.

Combustible materials which had been ignited were found in the basement of the Baptist Church at Newton Centre a few days ago. This crime of "wilful fire raising" is in the laws of all countries a capital crime of deepest atrocity. In England the culprit is liable to penal servitude for life, or imprisonment for not less than 3 years.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, November 7, 1890

Mr. John Deery has resigned as driver of Steamer 1.

Wellington Howes, the marketman, is building an addition to his barn on Church st., due to increased business.

Miss Coffin's handsome pointer was killed by a train at the B. & A. crossing on Centre st. yesterday.

The beautiful weather of yesterday brought out the open electric cars on the Newton Street railway and two cars were used all the afternoon.

James McDonald found a pocket-book containing $50 at the depot last Sunday. By advertising it at the post-office he found the owner, and the lady gave him $5 for his honesty.

Murray & Farrell had one of their fine Goddard buggies on exhibition in front of Eliot Block on Monday. Mollie Swan, house mother; and Miss Mary Elizabeth Oetjen, English and biology teacher. The students who took charge of the preparation for the dance were Lora Standish, Priscilla Proctor, and Gwendolyn Gulle, all of Newton, and Mignonette de Vigny, of Philadelphia.

Vesper Service will be held as usual on Sunday, November seventeenth, at 4 p. m. with the Rev. Franklin Blackmer as speaker.

This city will save about $10,000 by constructing the filter basin at the water reservation under the direction of City Engineer Noyes, instead of building it by contract. The work is nearly completed and its cost can be pretty accurately estimated. It will be $10,000 under the lowest bid received from contractors. It shows that work by contract is not always the cheapest.

A correspondent wants to know why Newton's city government is taking no action on the abolition of grade crossing at B. & A. tracks. He points out the necessity of having the work on lowering the tracks done before the sewerage system will be completed.

Election returns were received direct at the Newton Club on Tuesday night by special wire through the courtesy of President Henry E. Cobb. There was a large number of members present and results from various parts of the State were received with mingled enthusiasm and gravity. When it became known that William E. Russell, the Democratic candidate, had won the Governorship, a number of wry faces could be seen perambulating about with an "I don't care" manner, while the features of Simon pure Democrats, tariff reform Republicans and Mugwumps were wreathed in smiles.

About twenty ladies belonging to the latest Newton Ladies Union went on Wednesday afternoon to visit the Women's Prison at Sherborn. A barge met them at Framingham to take them to the prison. Their visit was interesting, the prison authorities doing their best to entertain the ladies.

A number of hens were stolen from the farms of Conrad Decker and Mr. King at Oak Hill last week.

Why is it permitted in so thickly settled a community as Newton to build bonfires? For weeks each spring and fall they are so prevalent that the atmosphere is scarcely free at anytime from their disagreeable odor, even at night, and all nearby residences are permeated with the smudge and the most unbearable. The smoke clings to all articles of clothing and portieres for days after. In many instances invalids are seriously affected by this nuisance from which they cannot escape, as has been the case several times in this writer's family.

Why should the majority of the residents of this city, who have chosen homes here for the pure air supposed to be obtainable, be forced to breathe the old rubbish and dead leaves smoky contamination? The city provides for the removal of all rubbish, obviating any necessity for bonfires on anyone's premises. Yet this horrible nuisance is rapidly increasing. Is it not high time that a stringent law prohibit bonfires be enacted and thoroughly enforced? "NEWTON RESIDENT."

Examination For Assistant Cashier

A civil service examination for assistant cashier in the Newton School Department cafeterias will be held on December 7. The job, open to women, pays $1 each school day and the hours are from 11:55 a. m. to 1:35 p. m., plus whatever time it then takes to count cookies, candles and the other eatables, and replace them in the stockroom. The last date for filing applications is November 23.

LUCY JACKSON CHAPTER, D.A.R.

Members and guests of Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., filled the auditorium of the chapter house to capacity on Monday, November 11, to hear one of its own members, Sally Pfeiffer, speak on "Life on the Run."

Mrs. Pfeiffer, a well-known author and lecturer, told of the qualifications needed to become a reporter and the opportunities open to women in newspaper work. She gave sketchy reviews of several new books by women who began their literary careers as reporters or feature writers.

Tea was served by Mrs. Alton D. Adams and her committee, Mrs. E. B. Parker and Mrs. A. P. Dana poured.

Gifts were brought for Ellis Island, and a teaspoon shower for Crossmore School was planned. This school, in the mountains of North Carolina, is doing a magnificent work for underprivileged children and a box of clothing is being packed to send there soon.

It was announced that a beautiful quilt, hand woven and quilted, has been sent to the museum in Washington, where it will be displayed, and four hand-woven towels have been given by a member to the Floretta Vining Room in Memorial Continental Hall.

CHAPEL HILL HOLDS BARN DANCE

The Chapel Hill Club held a Barn Dance Friday, November eighth, at North Hall. The room was very artistically decorated with corn husks, lanterns, pumpkins, and leaves. About thirty couples were present dressed in country costumes which added greatly to the atmosphere.

Miss Rusk, in a gay peasant costume, presided over an apple cart and offered her wares to the guests.

Stillman Priest of Maynard called out the dances and demonstrated them with the help of Miss Barbara Maybay. Miss Irma Duhoe played the piano. The chaperones were Miss Katharine G. Rusk, principal; Mrs. Mollie Swan, house mother; and Miss Mary Elizabeth Oetjen, English and biology teacher. The students who took charge of the preparation for the dance were Lora Standish, Priscilla Proctor, and Gwendolyn Gulle, all of Newton, and Mignonette de Vigny, of Philadelphia.

Vesper Service will be held as usual on Sunday, November seventeenth, at 4 p. m. with the Rev. Franklin Blackmer as speaker.

SARAH HULL CHAPTER, D. R.

Sarah Hull Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, held their first meeting of the winter on Wednesday, November 13th, at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. William F. Bacon, 52 Hyde ave., Newton.

Mrs. Raymond S. Fosgate, the Regent, presided. The speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Ruby Winchenbach Stone, spoke on the topic, "Music in the United States of America Yesterday and Today."

A social hour followed, Mrs. Albert B. Hinkle, Jr., the State Regent, presiding at the table. The hostesses of the afternoon were Mrs. Albert B. Hinkle, Jr., Mrs. Herbert C. Le Buff, Dr. Marietta P. Reid and Mrs. Spencer W. Shephardson.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SPONSORING WAR CHARITY

The Newton Chamber of Commerce, appreciating the terribly anxious and difficult days the people of England are experiencing and realizing the suffering that many of the families of the City of London are undergoing as a result of the constant bombing which has brought the complete destruction of their homes and is depriving them of the common necessities of life and the means of providing ordinary food for themselves and children, are sponsoring the raising of a fund to purchase and send to the Lord Mayor and people of London a modern floating kitchen.

Donations may be sent to James B. Melcher, Treasurer "Floating Kitchen Fund," Newton National Bank, 384 Centre st., Newton.

NEWELL CLUB

The Newell Club met on Nov. 12 at the home of Mrs. Edwin P. Leonard, 18 Bellevue st., Newton.

Mr. Richard Hill Wilkinson, author of short stories, was the speaker of the afternoon. At the tea, which followed, the hostesses were Mrs. Roswell Furman, Mrs. Donald Gibbs and Mrs. Richard Brown.

BUILDING PERMITS

Arthur Cox, 55 St. Mary's st., Lower Falls; alterations, cost $250.

Packard Const. Co., 110 Winchester st., Newton Hds.; single dwelling, cost $5000.

Takes Final Vows In Carmelite Order

Miss Mary Elizabeth Stanton, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Stanton of Newton took her final vows at the Carmelite Convent in Roxbury on Saturday, November ninth. Solemn high mass was celebrated by her uncle, Rev. Joseph F. Sullivan, S. J., of Holy Cross College, assisted by Rev. Gerald Fitzgerald, C. S. C., superior of the Holy Cross Seminary at North Easton, deacon and by Rev. John O'Donnell, pastor of St. Anne's Church, Dorchester, sub deacon.

The Rev. Harry O'Connor of Holy Cross Cathedral was master of ceremonies. An inspiring sermon was given by Rev. Leonard Feeney, S. J. Sister Mary Elizabeth of the Trinity was educated at the Sacred Heart Country Day School in Newton and Emmanuel College in Boston. This ceremony marked the end of her novitiate in the Carmelite Order.

Most Reverend Richard J. Cushing presided at the ceremony attended by Monsignor Michael J. Spillane and Monsignor William Casey. Monsignor Spillane administered the vows.

Among those present were the Rev. Peter Dolin, S. J., Rev. John McElaney, S. J., Rev. Robert Hewitt, S. J., Rev. James Keyes S. J., Rev. Edward Stanton S. J., Rev. John J. McGary, Rev. Francis Clair, C.S.S.R., Rev. Charles Ring, Rev. Francis Driscoll, Rev. Conrad Gurbach, Rev. James Fitzsimmons, Rev. Francis Rogers, Rev. James F. Kelley, Rev. John Keohane, Rev. John Barry, Rev. Mrs. Pettie Leaves Requests To Friends

The will of the late Mrs. Grace M. Pettie of 65 Waldorf rd., Newton Upper Falls (widow of Otis Pettie) was filed at Middlesex Probate Court on Tuesday. She bequeathed $5000 to Mrs. Dorothy T. Matthews of 1129 Boylston st., Upper Falls, as a mark of esteem; and $2000 to Mrs. May R. Titus of Newton. The residue of the estate was left to her brother, Manton Maverick of Chicago.

DARTMOUTH WOMEN TO HEAR PRISCILLA FORTESCUE

The regular meeting of the Dartmouth Women's Club, Inc., will be held at the Hotel Vendome, Wednesday, November 20th. Dessert coffee at 1:15 o'clock followed by the business meeting with Mrs. Parker F. Soule presiding.

The feature of the afternoon will be Miss Priscilla Fortescue. Miss Fortescue has been a radio actress, writer and announcer for ten years in New England. She is at present on the staff of WBZ.

Miss Fortescue has also appeared at the Copley Theatre with Mary Young's New York company, and has taken part in motion pictures as well as writing for them. She has met, dined and visited with Spencer Tracy, Joan Crawford, Clark Gable, Shirley Temple and other prominent stars. She knows producers, directors, writers and technicians in various departments of the major studios. She tells how trick shots are made on location with stars—about fashions in Hollywood—palatial homes—costume designing and intriguing personalities.

LIQUID AIR DEMONSTRATION

The regular monthly meeting of the Eliot Men's Club will be held on Monday, November 18 at 7:45 in the chapel of the Eliot Church. A special attraction is planned in the form of some startling experiments in low temperature. Mr. Elliott James will give a liquid air lecture and demonstration which will be more amusing than magic although pure science. The evening program will be followed by light refreshments. Any men interested in attending this program will be most welcome.

W. C. T. U.

The West Newton W. C. T. U. will hold its regular meeting on next Monday evening Nov. 18, at 7:45 at the home of Mrs. Jessie M. Clarke, 21 Furber ave., West Newton. Reports of the County and State conventions will be given by the delegates, Mrs. Clarke and Mrs. Swenson. Miss Edna Cobb will be the assisting hostess.

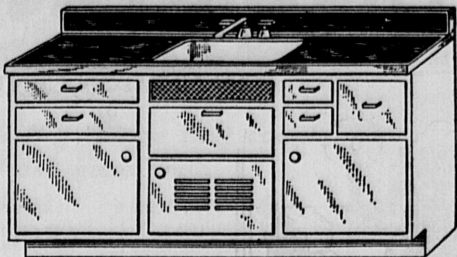

Sunbeam Chats

Do I love waking up from my nap now that I get a crispy, juicy apple to eat. Since I grew enough teeth to chew with the "nutritionist" told my mother I could have raw, unpeeled apple to eat provided it was washed well and the stem and bud ends cut off. Seems there's something sprayed on apples (and other fruits, too) to kill worms and the spray's no good for humans either. Believe me my mother is careful of all the poisons she is washed and cut off my apple.

(Sunbeam Chats are sponsored by the Newton District Nursing Association.)

On "Buying A PIANO"

Strange but true, people seldom think of the Piano Tuner as the one to whom to turn for advice on this subject?

Almost any second-rate instrument can be made to sound well if fully tuned and voiced, and a "pleasing selection" is rendered on it but wait till it gets in the home and is played on for a period. The lacking, eventually found, is previously known by the Tuner instantly he touches a few keys. TONE IS HIS LIFE. He is not easily deceived by the newness. In fact it is not necessary for him to even PLAY many pianos to know. He can tell by a glance at the method of stringing. (I speak of a competent tuner, of course.)

The enormous increase in piano sales over the past few years, while due to the increase in the desire for personal production of music as against the "canned music" era, is also largely influenced by the "Stylings" of the Cases, and the "reduction in size." These Cases have no value in the realm of tone; and the "sizzles" alone have driven them further from that realm. There are, however, good instruments among the new stylings if one knows what to look for, and there are few like the competent Tuner who does. The percentage of poor products is too great to warrant the uninitiated in taking a chance at purchase without this critical examination. Present-day Bargain Advertising needs serious consideration.

The Tuner wants more and more pianos sold, but he wants good ones, for only with these can the value of his tuning be shown. His desire, therefore, coupled with his critical knowledge makes him of inestimable value to you. I can be of substantial service to you with professional advice in the selection of an instrument.

Coming Events

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The regular meeting of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club will be held on November 19 at 2:30 o'clock. "Garden Highlights," colored pictures of gardens will be shown by Mr. and Mrs. Percy I. Merry.

Social Science Club, Newton

The Study Topic of the Social Science Club for the year 1940-1941 is "India." At the meeting to be held at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, November 20th, at Channing Church, Mrs. Richard H. Lee will read her paper "Legendary India Emerges." The hostesses are to be Mrs. L. S. Dillingham and Miss Miriam Drury.

Newtonville Juniors

An illustrated lecture on Youth Housing by Miss Charlotte Root will be given at the next meeting of the Newtonville Junior Women's Club on Tuesday evening, November 19 at the clubhouse. While touring Europe, stopping at hostels in every country, Miss Root was able to take photographs of the people and the quaint houses in which they live, and record the interesting customs which she observed. Since the idea has gained in popularity in this country, Miss Root has been able to explore many of our unheralded spots of beauty and interest.

Miss Barbara Davis is in charge of the program.

Miss Phyllis Stafford, Miss Dorothy Burke, and Mrs. Norman Woodruff will serve the refreshments.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The West Newton Women's Educational Club will hold an English Tea at the home of Mrs. James Messinger, 15 Aspen ave., West Newton, on Wednesday, Nov. 20th, from three to five o'clock for the benefit of the British Kitchen Unit. Business meeting at 2:30 p. m. Program at 3 p. m.

Tea will be served in the lounge, floral decorations by Mrs. Ralph E. Keyes.

Mrs. Lyscom Floyd, day chairman assisted by Mrs. Floyd H. Couchman, Mrs. Frederick Goode and Mrs. William White.

Community Service Club

A war relief committee with Mrs. A. F. Whiting as the chairman has been formed by the Community Service Club of West Newton with two immediate goals in view. The first being their contribution to the rolling kitchen, which the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs intends to have in England by Christmas. Also all kinds of woolen wearing apparel for men, women and children is to be collected, so that these poor people will know somebody is thinking of them during the Christmas season.

On November 20, the regular club meeting day Mrs. Louis E. Phaneuf, a member and past president of the Newton Centre Garden Club, will lecture on Christmas Decorations.

Mrs. Quincy W. Wales is in charge of the tea and social hour and a special greeting is to be extended to all new members.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

On Friday, November 22nd, the Newton Centre Woman's Club presents its first Departmental Meeting, conducted by the Legislative, Art, Community Service and American Home Committees. This is a new innovation offered to the club members. Coffee will be served at 9:45 a. m., and the program to follow at 10:15 a. m. Speakers will be Dr. H. D. Newton Federation of Women's Clubs

"Buy Only Tagged Christmas Greens" is the slogan adopted by the Conservation Committee of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs for this and future holiday seasons.

Last year the campaign for this purpose did not get under way in time to be effective, but this year the Newton Chamber of Commerce has approved of the measure and is co-operating fully. The shortage of tags which hampered the dealers a year ago and the inconvenience to which they were put to secure them from the State House in Boston, has been eliminated and the Chamber of Commerce will give them out at their headquarters, 634 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre.

It goes without saying that if the clubwomen throughout Newton demand that all greens which they purchase be legitimately tagged, the efforts of the Conservation Committee will bring results.

This measure has the backing of the Massachusetts Conservation Council, and was issued by the Massachusetts Department of Agriculture.

Seven points are emphasized in this measure:

1. To prevent bootlegging and stealing (more than one Newton resident has lost one or more wreaths from his door and windows, to have them sold to his neighbors.)
2. To protect the tax payer and benefit the landowner, and to get additional revenue from land.
3. To conserve fast disappearing varieties of Christmas greens.
4. To prevent wholesale and wanton destruction of Christmas green material.
5. To encourage reforestation of Massachusetts woodlands.
6. To further planting of holly, laurel and Christmas trees for market.
7. To be in step with other states who are officially tagging Christmas greens.

Upper Falls Garden Club

The Newton Upper Falls Garden Club met at the Emerson School Tuesday evening, November 12. Mrs. Alameda L. Brennan was warmly congratulated for her success with gourds; her exhibit at the recent Flower Show held at Horticultural Hall, Boston, received second prize.

After the business meeting Mrs. Frank G. Mordo showed pictures of her garden taken at intervals through the entire season. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Miss Grace G. Hunt and Mrs. Walter D. Pratt.

The Newton Hospital Aid Association

The Executive Board of the Hospital Aid Benefit Shop Committee were the guests of Mrs. Brewer Eddy and Mrs. Ralph Conant, co-chairmen and Mrs. Francis Williams, manager of the shop, at the home of Mrs. Conant on Kirkstall rd., Newtonville, Thursday morning.

Mrs. Eddy conducted the business session which included a report on the shop, located at 795 Washington st., Newtonville, by Mrs. Williams. She spoke encouragingly of the financial returns for the last months, but said that there was immediate need for children's shoes and outer clothing, and the truck would call for donations by telephoning Mrs. Raymond Perkins, W. N. 1774J. She also submitted plans for the Treasure Sale to be held later, and permission was given her to secure a place for holding the same and making necessary plans.

A get-together for the workers at the shop was discussed and it was decided to defer this until spring.

Owing to the omission of an Advisory Committee being chosen at the annual meeting last May, the same nominating committee which officiated then was asked to submit such names. Mrs. Dan Dutch and Miss Ethel Woodberry conferred with each other and the following names were submitted and elected: Mrs. Fred Hardy, Mrs. Edwin Rogers, Mrs. Ernest F. Drew and Mrs. Sterling Loveland. Also serving ex-officio are Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson, president, of the association, Mrs. Brewer Eddy, Mrs. Ralph Conant, and Mrs. Edward Sawyer, treasurer.

The members of the committee present besides the hostesses were Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson, Mrs. Dana Dutch, Mrs. Samuel Douglass, Mrs. Raymond Perkins, Mrs. Russell Coffin, Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, Mrs. Robert Whitehill, Mrs. Charles Bartlett, Miss Louise Sherman, Miss Ethel Woodberry, Mrs. John Coward and Mrs. Sterling Loveland. Mrs. George Talbot, a former president of the association and Mrs. Pitt Drew, a vice-president, were guests at the luncheon served at the close of the business meeting.

The Auburndale Review Club

Auburndale Review Club members might well imagine they were in a tiny corner of Mexico, when they entered the living room at the home of Mrs. George F. Howland of Vista ave. on Tuesday morning. Everywhere were beautiful specimens of handwork; embroidered dresses, towels, scarfs, gaily dressed dolls, many pieces of pottery, glass and china, and the always popular baskets.

Mrs. Arthur Robinson, chairman of the day, opened the program with her own paper "Modern Mexico." She explained that this country, the largest in population of our neighbors, was one of many paradoxes. She treated her subject from the economic, the political and the cultural side. Her own travels had resulted in contacts which gave a pleasantly personal touch to the paper.

Miss Margaret Haskell followed with a talk on "Mexico City." She, too, had pleasant memories of the place, and her paper dealt with the interesting sights which a tourist would seek. Even the tiniest and unimportant shops were colorful. This country has a romantic charm to be found nowhere else.

Mrs. Basil Babcock had the last topic "Mexican Art, Architecture, Handicrafts" and the display mentioned above had been brought from her own home. To give a more realistic touch, she wore a very colorful gown, the dress worn for best by the peasant class. She did not need her written lines to prove that this people excelled in many phases of art.

The president of the club, Mrs. James Patterson, had called a meeting of her Executive Board before the business meeting, and at their recommendation, the club voted to contribute to the Rolling Kitchen which the State Federation is sponsoring.

Study Salaries

Thomas Camp of 33 Copley st., Newton, appeared to protest against a petition of the Edison company for a permit to erect three poles on that street. He suggested that the poles be placed at the rear of houses rather than along the street.

The appointment of Dr. Ernest Morris of Fall River as Health Officer of Newton, was received from Mayor Goddard, and laid on the table for two weeks in conformity with the regulation. No opposition developed against the petition of the Gulf Refining Company for a two-car lubrication at 1366 Washington st.

A permit for a billboard on the roof of a building at 88 Needham st., Newton Highlands, was granted to the Donnelly Company. A petition from the same company for a permit for a billboard on the roof of a building at 1226 Chestnut st., Upper Falls, was denied. A group of Newton realtors came to City Hall in an effort to obtain further delay and study on the matter of establishing minimum sizes for building lots in this city. These realtors have been circulating petitions for the past few weeks obtaining signatures in their effort to postpone action.

Alderman Rawson, chairman of the Claims & Rules Committee, did not agree with the realtors' demand that another public hearing be held on this matter. Mr. Rawson said that four public hearings have already been held on this question, that the revised draft of the proposed ordinance is not more restrictive than the original. A change has been made affecting Farlow Hill in Ward 7, he said, at the requests of many property owners in that section. Mr. Rawson said that the committee is not quite ready to make a final report, but will do so at the next meeting of the Board.

At the request of the petitioner, Joseph Richardson of Dover, leave to withdraw was given on his petition that land at Boylston and Florence sts. be changed from manufacturing and private residence, to general residence zone.

To enable horses to be hired by the Street Department for use in plowing snow from sidewalks, $15,000 was appropriated. Other appropriations included—$6000 for a WPA project for a drain on land of the Woodland Golf Club; $900 for traffic signs; $139.64 for a pension for Donato Antonellis, retired Street Department employee; $1000 for completion of Dickerman brook drain; $450 for sewer in Waban Hill rd.; $3000 for improvement of Montrose st.; $2600 for sewers in James st. and Tamarac rd.; $5940 for water mains.

The Board voted to sell a lot of land on Parkway rd., Newtonville, to Charles Reardon for $400. It contains 5000 square feet and is assessed for $500. The Board turned down an offer of $100 from Edward Gallagher for a lot of land on Waltham st.

Dial System

signed to and rehearsed in their split-second job of "Cutting Over" the new equipment, while others were carefully trained in the equally important work of disconnecting the manual equipment in the four existing exchanges.

Men and women from the Business Office, which handles all transactions with customers, checked and moved the accounts of customers from the old to the new business office in order that all records might be preserved in order.

Innumerable tests were made, finally, to determine that all was in order. Special arrangements permitted telephone men to throw unusual loads of calls on the equipment and try it out under practically all conditions that may be normally expected.

Finally the new dial exchange is ready for operation. A monument to the cooperative efforts of more than 1500 men and women who have used their years of experience and careful training to provide Newton with the finest type of telephone service the world affords.

Manager E. J. Campbell announces that the local Newton directories containing the new telephone numbers will be delivered on Thursday and Friday, Nov. 14 and 15, respectively. The new directories are in a distinctively designed envelope with the request that they should not be used until Sunday morning, Nov. 17.

Newton-Fitchburg Game Ends In Tie

Many football games are decided by the referee's whistle. Frequently a zealous official is the object of much criticism because of blowing his whistle too soon and often he is criticized for being too slow. The Newton-Fitchburg high school eleven battled to a 6 to 6 game last Saturday at Crocker Field, Fitchburg, when the referee was "slow on the whistle (from the Newton viewpoint). It was a "break" for Fitchburg and "heart-breaker" for Newton, yet had the whistle been a "fast" whistle it would have been vice versa and Newton would have been returned the victor.

Newton led 6 to 0 by virtue of a late third-period touchdown, the result of a blocked kick on the Fitchburg 5 yard stripe and Phil Fessenden's plunge effort for the initial score. Avantaggio's try at the placement missed the uprights by a narrow margin, carrying off to the left. Midway of the final period Newton was again nearing the Fitchburg goal line when the game's complexion entirely changed. Norcross was hammering at the line when he found his progress blocked by a pile of players. With his forward motion stopped and with his back to the heap he tried to edge around towards the end and when the ball popped out of his arms directly into those of John Xarras, Fitchburg end. The 195 lb. Crimson wing was off in a trice to the Newton goal 67 yards away and not a Newton player near enough to overhaul him and the score was tied. Like the Newton try at goal the Fitchburg attempt failed. Nine times out of ten the play would never have come off as the whistle would have blown when the forward progress of the ball had stopped.

Yet Newton had other chances to win the ball game. And in justice to the Fitchburg eleven it should be said that the McDonough-coached eleven outplayed the orange and black. In justice to Newton it should also be added that the team was not at its full strength with French and Joe Beatty missing from its backfield. Beatty did play for a minute but the risk of further injury to his knee was sufficient to prevent his seeing further action. Fitchburg hung up 12 first downs to six for Newton to hold its edge while Newton distinguished itself by staving off each of several Fitchburg threats.

Arrested For Drunken Driving

William Miller Jones, 45, of 456 Lowell ave., Newtonville, was arrested on Tuesday afternoon by Traffic Inspector Dowling after the car he was driving had hit the traffic signal control box at the corner of Commonwealth ave. and Centre st. The control box was broken and the traffic signals put out of commission for a few days. A citizen took the registration numbers on the car and notified police headquarters. Inspector Dowling went to Jones' home, found that another man had driven the car there from the scene of the accident, and arrested Jones. The latter was arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday on charges of drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor. His case was continued until Nov. 22.

In court the same day Eugene Mulen, 56 Kensington st., Newtonville, was fined $10 for speeding; Paul Reid of Hillsdale rd., Wellesley, and Thomas Burbrick of Needham were fined $5 each.

In court on Thursday Judge Mayberry found Walter Kopeck of Washington st., Lower Falls, not guilty of selling an automobile without having procured transfer cards as required by law. According to the police, Kopeck sold the car to Raymond Uttaro of Grove st., Lower Falls, and the latter transferred it to his father on Aug. 26. Kopeck's lawyer argued there had been no actual sale of the car by Kopeck to young Uttaro.

Mr. Eugene Barnett, newly elected general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. National Council, will be honored in Boston on Wednesday evening, Nov. 20th, at a dinner at the 20th Century Club. Several members of the Newton Association are planning to attend.

The Two-State Older Boys' Conference will be held at Pittsfield, Dec. 6, 7 and 8. A list of the delegates from the local association, who will be in attendance, will be announced. Mr. Kenneth S. Dale, General Secretary, will act as a leader in one of the panel discussions.

A testimonial dinner will be tendered Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Bruton in the association building on Wednesday evening Dec. 4th. Mr. Bruton retired Sept. 1st as associate general secretary of the local association, after serving 20 years in this capacity.

Physical Department

Badminton enthusiasts will be glad to learn that beginning next Friday night and continuing every Friday night for the balance of the season, the gym will be turned over to all those interested in this game. Time for playing will be between 7:30 and 9:30.

Due to the recent change in schedule, the senior gym class, which has been held every Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights at 8:15, will be held every Monday and Thursday nights at the same time.

The preseason basketball Nut League drew to a close last week with the Do Nuts winning first-place honors. They defeated the Peanuts in the finals by the scores of 23-22 and 32-28. The following men on the winning team will receive gold basketballs: Fred Geogin, capt.; Gordon Bass, John Trumble, Francis Malloy, Ed McGuire, Tom Walker and R. Weaver.

Senior basketball practice will continue every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights. The first game will be played Tuesday evening, Nov. 26th, against the Cambridge Vandals.

Handball continues to hold forth as one of the most popular of the Y's many sports activities. Winners in a tournament held on Armistice Day were: Geo Petre, Carl Eschebach and Thurl Merrill.

The contest that has been held as part of the athletic program in the boys' department is entering the last half. The following boys are leading their divisions: High School Class, Francis Donalds, 430; Junior High, Robert Petrie, 39; Junior, Richard Barton, 453; Evening Class (High School), George Lombardi, 399; Evening Class (Junior High), Stan De Stefano, 353.

Boys' Division

Mr. John Andrew, acting Boys' Secretary, attended the sessions of the Two-State Boys' Secretary Conference in Providence, R. I., on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

The hike on Armistice Day to Cabot Reservation was taken by 28 boys under the supervision of Mr. Andrew. After returning to the Y at 4:30, the group enjoyed a swim in the pool.

A Junior Game Tournament was started Tuesday by Mr. Harrington, assistant in the boys' department. The first session found Allan Woodcock holding first place in Cuetoque and Louie Visco the best in ping pong. Other games will be added to the tournament shortly.

Newton-Waltham In Annual Grid Battle Tomorrow

Newton and Waltham High School football teams meet tomorrow on the Waltham Athletic field in the annual gridiron battle between the old rivals. Neither team is given much of an edge over the other and whatever margin of superiority one team may enjoy completely disappears in the traditional rivalry between the two elevens. Coach Owen MacDowell of Newton, in his second year at the helm of the orange and black, is seeking to even the 12 to 0 defeat of a year ago. Coach Jack Leary at the Watch City controls for twenty-one years has eight wins, eight losses, and two ties with no games being played in 1926 and 1927.

Three years ago Newton hung up a 26-6 win for its last taste of the sweets of victory which have been frequent since relations were resumed in 1928. In the 33 meetings between the teams the totals read 10 wins, 6 ties, and 17 losses for Newton.

Both coaches have been handicapped in preparation for this week's game by the continued rain, lack of practice, drill and work. However the light sessions have enabled some of the athletes who have been nursing minor bumps and bruises to get back into shape. The only doubtful starter among the Newton regulars is Joe Beatty, key man in the Newton attack. Charley French will return to fullback with Gus Avantaggio and John Fahey carrying the blocking duties. If Beatty is not ready his place will be filled by George Norcross who unquestionably will be a potent factor on next year's offense. If past situations develop Billy Betts will get the call. The Newton line is set to go with Lowry at centre, Hugo and Bieler as guards, Healey and Kalousdian in the tackle berths, and Captain Bob Beatty and Phil Teschner on the wings, as usual.

Coach Leary has done some shuffling around and may start Mal Juliano at end with former wing Bill MacDonald starting at centre. Both showed well in the 14 to 13 win over Medford last Saturday. Dick Bennett, Charlie Butler, Eddie Demarais and passing-ace Carmelo Milati will probably be the Watch City starting backfield. A punting duel between Bennett and Newton's Beatty looms up as a feature of the game. Tony Mancuso and Roy Flett are also scheduled to see action in the Waltham backfield. In the Waltham line there may be a few changes with Eddie Chandonait the only gridster who seems to have clinched his job at left tackle.

Both teams have only fair seasons with Newton winning in three victories, over Woburn, Brookton and Medford against three losses and a tie. Waltham has victories over New Bedford Vocational, Haverhill and Medford, losses to Rindge, Lynn English and Everett and ties with Somerville and Providence Central. Waltham has a more impressive scoring record with 87 points tallied against 53 for their opponents. Newton's rating is 39 for and 60 against. Most of Waltham's scores have been the result of a strong passing attack which clicked against Haverhill to win 39 to 6. Against its other opponents the Watch City eleven's count has been considerably smaller. Newton, on the other hand, tallied 13 points against Woburn for its largest one-day tally.

If you've been called into the service here's something to remember. Uncle Sam is going to provide you with food, shelter, clothing and medical attention and with a bank account, if you're as smart as a lot of Bay State boys were back in 1917. Thousands of them sent regular amounts from their monthly pay for credit to their savings accounts. When they returned home, tidy nest eggs had accumulated.

You can follow the same plan today. Before you leave for camp, see your local Mutual Savings Bank and learn just what to do. Begin with your first pay — continue to send money regularly. It works!

Traffic Bureau

A method which was proposed last year, when the Newton Traffic Bureau was being organized, will be put into effect by Chief Hughes. It will eliminate the practise of policemen who are the complainants against persons charged with violations of automobile and parking laws, appearing in the Newton court to testify against the defendants. Instead, a member of the Traffic Bureau will state the case against each defendant. Should a defendant plead "not guilty," the police will ask for a continuance so that the complaining officer may appear and testify.

The new method is calculated to prevent so many patrolmen being taken away from their regular duty, if they are day men, and to save night patrolmen men from having to give up their sleep and off time to appear in court. The disadvantage of the plan is—that if there is reasonable doubt as to a defendant's guilt, a judge might be more inclined to find the defendant not guilty, rather than bring him or her into court a second time.

Many Thefts

Among the thefts reported to Newton police over the week-end were—Saturday, bicycle from the yard of Conway Jenkins at 104 Eastside Parkway, Newton; Saturday, bicycle from the yard of Dr. Alfred Amendola, 304 Adams st., Newton; Sunday, fog-light from the auto of Clayton Stanley, Jr., while parked opposite his home at 65 Old England rd., Chestnut Hill; fog-light from the car of George Francis of 34 Capital st., Newton, while it was parked at 31 St. James st., Newton; two fog-lights from the car of George DeMars, 30 Melbourne ave., Newtonville, while parked on Beacon st., Newton Centre; moving-picture camera from the car of A. F. Muldoon, 480 Parker st., Newton Centre, while parked at 85 Waban Hill rd., Chestnut Hill; bicycle from the yard of Fred McHugh at 433 Parker st., Newton Centre. On Monday a candy store in the assembly hall at Andover-Newton Theological School was entered and candy and gum stolen; also $2.50 in cash.

RECENT DEATHS

HENRY WHITMORE

Henry Whitmore of 31 Sterling st., West Newton, died on November 14. He was born in Quincy, Illinois, 73 years ago and came to Newton with his parents when a boy. As a youth he became interested in the real estate business and for 12 years was real estate editor of the Boston Herald. He became associated with the real estate firm of Meredith & Grew in 1899 and was made a partner in 1902. He had been vice-president and director of this corporation. Mr. Whitmore was a member of Boston Chamber of Commerce, Dalhousie Lodge of Masons, the Brae Burn, Tuesday and West Newton clubs of this city. He was a former president of the Boston Real Estate Exchange. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Edith Whitmore; a daughter, Mrs. Ada Hartman of Seattle, Wash.; a son, Henry Whitmore, Jr., of West Newton, and five grandchildren. The funeral service will be private and burial will be in Newton Cemetery.

ALICE GOULD

Mrs. Alice A. Gould of 291 Lake ave., Newton Highlands, widow of William H. Gould, died at the Newton Hospital on November 11. She was born at Brandon, Vermont, 91 years ago. Her father, Amasa Collins, was a member of an old Newton family, residing in that part of the city which later became Waban. Mrs. Gould moved to Waban when a small child. She was the last of the original organizers of Newton Hospital, and had been a trustee of the hospital for 55 years. She was also an organizer and on the Board of the Newton District Nursing Association. Many of Newton's early charitable movements had been started in Mrs. Gould's home. She is survived by a son, Amasa Gould of Newton Highlands. Her funeral service was held on Thursday afternoon in Union Church, Waban. Rev. Dr. Cutler, a former pastor, and Rev. Joseph McDonald officiated. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

HERBERT C. VENO

Herbert C. Veno, a resident of Cohasset for the past four years, died Monday in the Chelsea Naval Hospital, following a long illness. He was born in Shrewsbury, Mass., 49 years ago, a son of Samuel and Elmira (DeFee) Veno, and previous to coming to Cohasset, had made his home in Newton for several years, where he was engaged in the lumber business under the firm name of H. C. Veno & Co., from which he retired about six years ago.

He received his education in the Parochial Schools of Waltham and was graduated from St. Joseph's College in Memramcook, New Brunswick. During the world war he served in the United States Navy.

Surviving are his wife, Genevieve A. (Ryan) Veno, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Veno of Greenfield and two brothers, Alfred Veno of Littleton and Ernest Veno of Cambridge. The funeral was held from his late residence, Castle Gate Road, Cohasset, Thursday, at 8:15 a. m., followed by requiem mass in St. Zephirin's church. Interment followed in St. Zephirin's cemetery.

ELIZABETH ROHMER

Mrs. Elizabeth Rohmer, wife of Anthony Rohmer of 4 Laudholm rd., Newton, died on November 6. She was born in Philadelphia 64 years ago and had lived in Newton for 11 years. She is survived by her husband; a son, Francis C. Rohmer of Needham; a daughter, Mrs. Madeline Alcott of Waltham; a sister, and two brothers. Mrs. Rohmer's funeral service was held on last Saturday at Our Lady's Church, and burial was in St. Joseph's Cemetery, West Roxbury.

GERTRUDE FITZGERALD

Miss Gertrude Fitzgerald of 150 Cherry st., West Newton, died on Nov. 13. She was born at Briggs, Newfound-land, 49 years ago, and had resided in this city for 45 years. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Thomas Reynolds of Woblesley, and two brothers, Daniel and Stanley Fitzgerald, both of West Newton. Her funeral service will be held at St. Bernard's Church on Saturday morning, and burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

All Right—why DO we buy Automobiles?

*Buick SPECIAL
Sedan, $1052. White sidewall tires extra

THIS is just between you and us and this newspaper, so we can be both frank and honest.

Don't you really buy a car for what it can do?

Doesn't the big kick come from getting off the mark at the first tweet of the cop's whistle—winging up hills as though they weren't there—going through tough going with a "so-what" indifference?

There's only one place in the world you can get such things—from a power plant that's up to its job.

for the Business Coupe

*delivered at Flint, Mich. State tax, optional equipment and accessories—extra.
Prices subject to change without notice.

But here's the interesting thing the new Buick proves: With enough power, you can have that flashing action—and economy too!

Our FIREBALL design and Compound
Carburetion let us use a standard high gear that has the same economical result as so-called gas-saving devices.

They step up mileage as much as 10% or 15%, wing you down the road at 50 on a 30-mile fuel diet.

They even make driving easier, since they give so much reserve power that you'll have less need for shifting gears, whether it's to top a hill or pick up quickly in slow-moving traffic.

HERE'S MODERN ECONOMY

You can see how Compound
Carburetion steps up miles-per-gallon in this chart. It shows the mileage
at 50 miles an hour for our 1937 SPECIAL, our 1939 SPECIAL and the 1941 SPECIAL with Compound Carburetion.

We're not saying style and comfort and size don't count. We wouldn't have worked out "mass-stream" styling, BuicOil Springing and Buick's new roominess if they didn't.

But when you can get these and pacesetter performance too—hadn't you better at least drive a Buick to find out about it?

Newton Telephones Go On Dial System in Record Time In 42 Seconds

Subscribers Take to New Method Readily

The change or "cutover" to the new dial service in Newton was a pronounced success, according to Mr. E. J. Campbell, local Manager of the New England Telephone Company. The change occurred at 1:00 A. M. Sunday the seventeenth and it only took 42 seconds to replace the former exchanges with the new Bigelow, Lasell and Decatur exchanges.

The local telephone people saw the results of their past two years of industry become an integral part of the country-wide system. There was a touch of sadness in seeing the familiar exchanges "go dead" but according to one of the men it was akin to the feelings experienced on New Year's Eve. The new exchanges have a fine future ahead of them in the Newtons.

Actual work of cutting over was well organized with 75 men in the three older buildings ready to disconnect the lines and 75 men in the new building on the "qui vive" to release the new machinery and pick up the calls as the former exchanges went into oblivion.

Wire Chief, Aiden Edwards, in the new building and Wire Chief, George Hicks, in charge of the forces at the former exchange buildings, with the direct help of Cutover Supervisor, William Woods, completed an intricate "forward pass" plan involving 28,000 telephones.

Miss Mary Connell, Chief Operator, and her operators, with Mr. Wilnot Smith, Traffic Manager, were waiting for the "operator" calls at the switchboard on the second floor of the new building.

The local telephone folks are proud of the technical success in changing over the new system from three former exchanges located in various parts of the city. The problem presented difficulties not immediately apparent to the casual observer but visiting officials were unanimous in their praise.

Manager Campbell expressed his appreciation for the co-operation of the Newton customers. He states that the cutover was successful because Newton people were careful and accurate in their dialing. Comparatively few "slipped up" by calling old numbers or dialing incorrectly. It would seem that almost every customer corrected their personal calling list with the new directory.

Major F. T. McCabe Returns To Army

Major Frank T. McCabe of 3 Lewis st., Newton, former member of the Newton Board of Aldermen, departed from Newton yesterday to resume active duty in the United States Army. He retired from active service in 1933 after having been in the army for 33 years, 11 as an enlisted man and 22 as a commissioned officer. As an enlisted man he served in the 14th Cavalry, and as an officer in the Philippine Constabulary and the United States Infantry. He has been assigned to Fort Bliss, Texas.

Major McCabe has three sons and all are in service of the U.S.A. Lieut. Frank M. is on the Coast Guard ship "Aurora" at San Pedro, California; Capt. Robert E., who graduated from West Point, is in command of Company A, 1st Armored Regiment at Fort Knox, Kentucky; Arthur P. is a graduate student at M.I.T., preparing for a degree in aeronautical engineering, and is a lieutenant in the Engineers' Reserve.

Better Lighting On Walnut Street

The relighting of Walnut st., Newton, first step in a "safety with light" campaign in that city, is attracting widespread attention both in the community and among civic authorities in the greater Boston area. The new safety program will be applied progressively, beginning with all main arteries and numbered routes in the city.

Mayor Paul M. Goddard and John D. Haughey, Street Commissioner, chose that portion of Walnut st. between the Worcester Turnpike and Beacon st. to initiate the program after an extended study developed through highway traffic research. Four factors of particular interest with relation to Walnut st. were shown by the study:

Of all main arteries and numbered routes, Walnut st., accounted for 8.3 per cent of all traffic. 11.5 per cent of all accidents. 9.3 per cent of all personal injuries. 14 per cent of all pedestrian accidents.

The new lighting was installed with special consideration to the mounting height of fixtures, their location over the road and spacing, to provide maximum night visibility under all weather conditions. The light source is located within an inverted reflector to which the globe is attached. In this manner, the observer's eye is not exposed to glare and the major portion of the light is reflected up and down the street, at the same time shielding the buildings.

The lamps are 1000 candle power, which enables car drivers to perceive persons, objects or other hazards at substantially safe distances. Mayor Goddard hopes that the next step in this safety work will see the continuation of Walnut st. to the Watertown line relighted in the same manner.

California Street Parking Limit

At City Hall next Monday night the Traffic Committee of the Board of Aldermen will hold a hearing on a petition from residents of California st., Newton, which asks that parking on that street, between Allison and Jasset sts., be limited to one hour on the south side of the street. The petitioners claim that employees, or persons connected with a nearby factory, park their automobiles all day long in front of residences on the South side of California st., and even block driveways. It has been suggested that the industrial establishments affected, procure a parking space for the automobiles.

No Lay-Off At Present For City Employees

A rumored lay-off of Street Department employees will not be made this year according to Street Commissioner Haughey. He stated on Tuesday that there will be work enough to keep all the employees on for the balance of this year. The projects ahead and in progress include—construction of Philmore rd., Marshfield rd. and widening Washington st., West of Beacon st. Mr. Haughey stated that by reorganization of the department, twelve employees who have been pensioned during this year, have not been replaced by other employees.

MAYOR GODDARD MAKING FIRST DIAL PHONE CALL

Newton Draftees Given Send-off

Newton's first quota of draftees, seven young men who volunteered and thus took precedence in entering military service, departed from City Hall, Newton Centre, on Tuesday morning after they had been given an official farewell from Mayor Goddard. The Mayor was joined by members of the Newton draft boards in extending good wishes to the seven who form the van of Newton's share of the huge "army to be." He posed on the steps in front of city hall with the group. Relatives and friends of the registrants who enlisted were also present.

The seven are—Robert and Gilbert Cochran, brothers, of 98 Jewett st., Newton; Russell Liscomb of 178 Cabot st., Newton; Maurice Cartier, 1659 Washington st., Auburndale; Raymond Case, 20 Ware rd., Auburndale; Robert Foley, 282 Langley rd., Newton Centre; Charles T. Allen, 20 Rotherwood rd., Newton Centre.

There was plenty of transportation to take the seven men to the Irvington street armory in Boston. The three from District 112 were passengers in a car driven by Roy S. Edwards; the two from District 113 were passengers in a car driven by Albert B. Root, and the volunteers from District 114 were taken in a car driven by Mrs. Charles B. Floyd. At the armory in Boston the seven recruits for the army were presented to the induction officers there by Roy Edwards. The five volunteers from Districts 112 and 113 passed the physical tests given by the army physicians. The other two did not.

Selected in their place from District 114 are William M. W. McLeod and Carl E. Tucker, the latter residing at 61 Westbourne rd., Newton Centre.

Automobile Accidents

A truck loaded with waste paper and driven by Hyman Mielman of 23 Beech st., Nonantum, and a car driven by Bernard Pepe of Leicester st., Brighton, collided at California and Nevada sts., Newtonville, at 4:25 p.m. Tuesday. The truck overturned and Mielman received injuries to his head and legs. He was taken to Newton Hospital in a police car. Someone pulled an unnecessary fire alarm from Box 282, located near the scene of the accident.

City Hires Horses To Plow Sidewalks

Next Monday 60 horses will arrive at the three stables of the Newton Street Department to be used, if necessary, in hauling plows over sidewalks after snowstorms the coming winter months. The horses are obtained through Charles E. Malone, a contractor, and the city will pay $1 per day for the privilege of having the steeds on hand in case they will be needed. Malone will provide feed for the horses and care for them. The animals will be exercised by Street Department employees.

The city formerly used its own horses to haul sidewalk plows, but for years past has been gradually replacing horses by automotive equipment. Last April the Street Department sold its remaining 22 horses. For some winters past the city has hired horses for the Street Department. Such horses are not trained in pulling plows on sidewalks and are not as good in this work as horses accustomed to it. Moreover, the Street Department has comparatively few men now who are experienced in driving horses.

Lower Falls Imp. Asso. Has Meeting

The Lower Falls Improvement Association held a meeting at the Hamilton School on Monday night. Col. Henry D. Corns, substituting for Gen. Daniel Needham, spoke on National Defense, and the part Massachusetts will play in it. Clyde Cassidy, chairman of the Civic Committee, reported that Chief of Police Hughes had assured him that Lower Falls is receiving police protection equal to that given other parts of Newton. Some of the members present stated that the district is not receiving adequate police protection, and the matter was referred back to the Civic Committee. The committee also reported that the M. & B. Bus Company's increased service will be provided for Lower Falls children who are attending Newton High School.

Perambulate Brookline-Newton Boundary Line

The Newton-Brookline boundary line was perambulated on Tuesday by representatives of both communities. According to law, such a perambulation must be made each five years. Representing Newton were Aldermen Jamieson and Lee, City Clerk Grant, City Engineer Harvey and Street Commissioner Haughey. Representing Brookline were Selectmen Dane and Bowers, Town Clerk Shimmers, Walter Devine, Town Engineer, and Oren Moulton, assistant engineer.

Community Council Told About Union With Boston Body

For the first time as Chairman, Harold P. Carver led the semi-annual meeting of the Newton Community Council, held at the Newtonville Women's Club on Tuesday, November 19. Nearly eighty representatives of the 49 member-organizations, following a Dutch Treat Dinner, reviewed with him the reports submitted by the Governing Board.

Mr. Carver then introduced Harry M. Carey, Executive Director of the Greater Boston Community Fund. In view of the fact that this year, for the first time, Newton is joining with Boston in its Annual Community Chest Campaign, Mr. Carey's address was especially appreciated.

In an interesting analysis of the forces that tend to break down society today, Mr. Carey showed the vital need of what organizations such as the Newton Community Council and the agencies of the Newton Community Chest are doing, to maintain what we look upon as the American way of life. "A strong nation," he said in part, "is a nation of strong communities. Armaments above are not enough to defend our nation. Through cooperation, we can accomplish infinitely more than we can accomplish separately."

In the course of the general discussion that followed, Lyscomb A. Bruce, Jr., Executive Director of the Newton Community Chest and Council, stressed the fact that the new arrangement with Boston was an act of cooperation, and not a merger. The Newton organization will be maintained entire; the Chest is joining with Boston in its money-raising campaign only.

To his new position as Chairman of the Council, Mr. Carver brings several years' experience in many important offices on the Council. Through his able management of diverse financial and organizational problems, he has won the high confidence of his associates and the Council looks forward to working under his direction.

Newton Police Ask Day Off In Six

A committee of Newton policemen, which included Sergeant Michael Sullivan, Inspector Lyons, Patrolmen Condren, Purcell and Turner, went to Mayor Goddard's office at City Hall last Thursday and asked that he recommend one day off in each six for members of the Newton police department.

The committee argued that the action of the people of Newton on Nov. 5 in voting by a large majority to establish the two-platoon system for Newton firemen, and a favorable referendum vote a few years ago in granting two-week vacations to city laborers, proves that the public trend toward better working conditions for city employees. The committee explained that Newton policemen now receive one day off in eight and that most police departments grant a day off in six. The committee also called attention that Newton policemen on the night platoon also have to do school traffic duty daytimes. They stated the policemen in Newton are willing to continue this extra duty if granted the day off in six.

To Make Survey of Fire Department

The following statement was received from the office of Mayor Goddard:

In view of the fact that the people of Newton have voted for the Two-Platoon System in the Fire Department calling for increased expenditures on the part of the City, a survey has been started by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. This survey will be conducted in co-operation with the Chief of the Fire Department, the Mayor, and a special committee of the Board of Aldermen. By this means the services of competent engineers are secured at no cost to the City, and at the same time the problem will be studied in conjunction with City officials. Attention will be given immediately to the Two-Platoon System and subsequently the survey will include the broader problems of our Fire Department.

Tells Forum Audience Of Conditions Planned By Hitler and Nazis

Says We Must Plan for Peace and Should Not Enter Present War

Discussing the possibilities that lie ahead on the continent, before the Newton Forum last Sunday, Mrs. Vera Micheles Dean, Director of the Research Department of the Foreign Policy Association, stressed the fact that to gain peace and stability in Europe common political experiences must be shared by all nations of that continent. She also stated that we must look forward and plan for a peace in Europe which will bring about a new order and will satisfy those who, although they do not agree with Hitler, do not approve of the European status quo of August 1939.

Briefly reviewing the attempt of unification in Europe, Mrs. Dean showed that a peaceful unity cannot be attained while the countries of Europe are in different periods of development. The Nazi plan of unification, she explained, is that small states, especially those having large territorial possessions, have no right to exist, but should be ruled by the master race. Germany will rule all of Europe except Russia, Italy and Spain; Africa will be governed jointly by Germany and Italy; and the Far East will be left to Japan. Under the new order the United States, dominated by Nazi principles, is expected to control the Americas. With the political aspects of the new order explained, she went on to show the economic difficulties Hitler will face because of the lack of food, rubber, oil, and tin for which he will need to draw on the resources of North and South America.

Expressing her opinion on Germany's victories over the conquered countries of Europe, Mrs. Dean stated that they lost because they had no faith in their principles and institutions and were open to Nazi ideas. She held that England has been able to withstand the Nazi attack because her people believe in the things they fight for. It was pointed out that even if England is able to withstand air attacks she must invade the continent and must keep her rule of the high seas.

Mrs. Dean believes that Hitler plans to gain control of Suez Canal by conquering the Balkans and Turkey in order to attack from the east while the Italian forces push through from Africa. What bearing Greece has on the matter Mrs. Dean is not certain of at the present moment but she believes that it would have to be conquered eventually to carry out the plan against Suez.

She feels that Russia is very human, its political misadventure being self-interest interpreted by Moscow. She said that Russia weighed her chances in 1939 and decided to make terms with Germany since neither France nor England were likely to help her. Mrs. Dean also believes that it was Russia's hope that France, England and Germany would exhaust themselves and leave the way free for Russia, but as France succumbed, a new policy, namely to stay out of war had to be adopted.

Stating her views on the American policy Mrs. Dean said that our influence cannot be fully realized until we are responsible for our actions. She feels that we expect a perfect solution to be handed to us and this is impossible. She stated the three possibilities which are open to us at present. They are (1) to enter the war now; (2) to recognize Hitler's new order in Europe; (3) to follow the path we are now taking; that is to send aid to Britain and China and remain out of war. She believes that if we follow the last possibility we shall be aiding Britain more than if we were to enter the war.

It is the opinion of Mrs. Dean that it is not enough to fight or help to fight but that we must plan for peace. If we do not want to accept responsibilities after the war we should not fight in aid, or back any conflicts in Europe or Asia. We must remember that after peace is made we shall have 80,000,000 Germans; that Britain must be responsible for actions on the continent; and that millions of people who hope for a Nazi defeat do not want the status quo of August 1939. She believes that an alternative must be found and that we have the imagination to solve this problem.

Due to the absence of Dr. Mather, Mr. Green, Principal of the Newton High School, acted as temporary chairman. Mr. Green was introduced by Mr. Taylor, the Executive Secretary of the Forum. Mr. Taylor announced that by his own choice this

THANKSGIVING DAY

Massachusetts will observe its traditional Thanksgiving Day next Thursday. More than three hundred years ago the Pilgrim forefathers paused in their daily occupation to give thanks to all that a new promised land had given them. On that promised land they built a new country, a country that will survive the chaotic conditions of the world because its peoples have instilled in them the principles of faith, liberty and individual rights.

Next Thursday let us pause to be thankful for all that we have and enjoy today. Thankful for that faith to carry on through all the material aspects of life, thankful that we are Americans, thankful that we have liberty, thankful that we have individual rights which are unequalled in any other part of the world. And above all let us be thankful for those principles and traditions which have been inherited from the Pilgrim forefathers and which they so firmly implanted in the roots of this land that nothing will ever destroy them.

THE GRAPHIC IN A NEW DRESS

We present this issue of the GRAPHIC in an entirely new dress, designed for better appearance and greater readability.

Other things being equal, that newspaper serves both itself and its readers best, which can give the greatest amount of news in the least space, in a type which can be read easily by young and old. Presumably every type designer has aimed at legibility. But not all type faces are equally legible. It is a matter of fact that the measurable differences between many types are infinitesimal. But the aggregate of these differences is instantly discernible.

The Regal type face is not the result of any individual inspiration or private opinion. Regal was designed by the Intertype Corporation of New York scientifically for easy reading without sacrifice of spatial economy. Created originally for the Chicago Tribune, it is a skilful blending of the best features of many designs, intended to meet the variety of requirements common to newspapers. Exacting tests followed the general approval of type experts and optical specialists of wide repute. Naturally, while legibility and space economy were the prime requisites, the smooth, even texture of a column of Regal type shows that attractiveness was given particular and successful attention. Yet beauty has not been permitted to override utility. In both the roman and italic, the letters are wide and open, especially those most apt to be confused, such as the a, c, e and o, the m, n, and u.

The bold companions provided are carefully weighted to avoid filling up, are crisp and orderly, with a nice balance between hairline and stroke. The italics are especially interesting in the unique design of the e, and in the opening effect of such rotund characters as the a, c, o, w, e, q, b, and s have on the general weave of the text.

For modern advertising emphasis and display, including heading for its articles, the GRAPHIC has selected Bodoni Bold, one of the progressively heavier weight types designed by Giambattista Bodoni, in Parma, Italy, which earned for him the title of "King of Typographers and Typographer of Kings." With its thickened strokes and thinned hairlines, it produces a "sunlight-and-shadow" effect and carries the modern roman type to its heights.

In coming to our readers in a new dress the GRAPHIC once again demonstrates why it has been so aptly termed "Newton's Leading Newspaper." In addition the GRAPHIC gives its readers one hundred per cent local news and only on rare occasions uses "filler" material, which many local newspapers find necessary to fill up their regular weekly columns. We hope all, readers and advertisers, will like the appearance of this new and finer NEWTON GRAPHIC.

Powers' Paragraphs

Some years ago the so-called "circumferential highway" was started to circle Metropolitan Boston. Some sections of this highway are within the Metropolitan area, one of them in this city. Some of the most needed parts of Route 128 have yet to be constructed, and heavy automobile traffic is brought over the completed sections into thickly settled districts in Newton, Waltham and elsewhere to cause highway congestion in business districts. Now, another "circumferential highway" is proposed at a distance of 20 to 25 miles from Boston. Before any money is expended on this latest, proposed highway, all of Route 128 should be completed, and Route 117, that narrow, curving State Highway between Waltham and Maynard, should be widened and curves eliminated.

Another petition has been presented to the Board of Aldermen asking that trucks be prohibited on Centre st., Newton, between the hours of 11 p. m. and 7 a. m. For years residents of Centre st., particularly those along the hilly stretch between Church and Sargent sts. have been bothered by the noise of heavy trucks during early morning hours. Big trucks, especially gravel trucks, went over the street in considerable numbers, and gears had to be changed as they went up the grade. Also, the big trucks came down the hill at too high speeds.

We sympathize with residents of Centre st. who lived there for years, who were there before the nuisance caused by heavy trucking at night started. We don't sympathize so much with those residents of Centre st. who moved there recently, and who now are attempting to change a condition which has existed for years. Heavy trucking during late night or early morning hours is a nuisance on any residential street. But, if trucks are prohibited on Centre st., which is the main traffic artery between Newton and points North, and points South, including the Newtons, Needham and Route 128, where will such trucks go? If they travel over Park st. and Waverley ave., toward Ward st. and Commonwealth ave., protest will properly follow. If the trucks were detoured along Washington st. to Newtonville, and thence over Walnut st., residents of Walnut st. would have the nuisance shifted to their street, in addition to the traffic now going over Route 128, and they would properly protest. There is only one practical way to stop heavy trucking on principal streets at night—and that is to pass a Federal or State law forbidding night travel by trucks. It would be ridiculous to expect such a law to be passed. It is also quite improbable that a large network of highways for heavy trucks will be built in all directions within the near future. Persons who erect apartment buildings on streets where there is heavy traffic, cannot expect to have drastic ordinances passed to meet their desires.

The proposal made on Tuesday by Tax Commissioner Henry Long has raised a storm of protest, as Mr. Long probably expected. There are several articles on the list he suggests should be taxed that we do not think ought to be included in the list, such as blankets costing more than $3, shoes costing more than $5, automobile tires, coffee and cocoa. But, there is one item that Mr. Long wants taxed 3% that can be taxed 75% as far as the writer cares—and this is lipstick. When the writer was young, the only persons we saw wearing lipstick were circus clowns. And many of the ladies, young and not so young, who daub carmine and other gaudy colors on their lips look more funny than fascinating to the ordinary man.

Mr. Long's tax proposal calls attention to the fact that the voters of Massachusetts at the November 5 election voted (in the districts where this referendum was on the ballot) by overwhelming majorities in favor of a State lottery to raise funds for old-age assistance. Even Newton gave a majority to this referendum. It would not surprise us, however, if some of the Senators who refused to vote at the last session of the Legislature for the increase in the State's share of the receipts of dog-racing tracks, will refuse to vote for a State lottery. A State lottery might compete to some small degree with the pari-mutuel racket.

President Conant of Harvard University who has during the past year given evidences of being war-minded, gave a radio talk on Wednesday night which was broadcast over the nation. The distinguished head of the Cambridge institution of learning asserted that "our way of life can be secured only by a defeat of the axis powers." Few persons of intelligence will disagree with Mr. Conant on this point. He continued by saying—"It then becomes a matter of strategy, and strategy only, when if ever, material aid (to the allies) must be supplemented by direct naval and military assistance. It then becomes purely a matter of strategy whether at some later time active belligerency is required." Dr. Conant said that "there are people who do not realize that we today are witnessing an event in human history analogous to the sweep of Mohammed and his followers 13 centuries past." We believe that most intelligent persons realize this fact even as Mr. Conant realizes it.

President Conant refers to "the allies." Who are the allies? Unless one includes tiny Greece, dubious Turkey, and China, Britain has no allies. It is fighting a lone battle against a combine of powerful nations. And just what is the military strategy Mr. Conant refers to? It has repeatedly been asserted in recent months by military leaders of the U. S. A. that this nation is utterly unprepared for war, that it will take at least two or three years to become prepared. It has also been repeatedly stated that it will take 4 or 5 years to build the planned two-ocean navy for the U. S. A. The struggle between Britain and the axis nations will be over long before four years or three years if the destruction in Europe and Asia continues at its present pace. Does Mr. Conant, who wants the U. S. A. to become embroiled in the war between Britain and the axis powers, believe that the Nazi leaders will be obliging enough to wait for two or three years until the U. S. A. acquires the airplanes, tanks, artillery and other war equipment which is "On order," and until this country will have trained millions of young men for military service? By what sort of "strategy" does he think we are going to fool the leaders of Germany, Japan, Italy and Russia?

Other men as wise, or perhaps wiser, than President Conant, if not as erudite, have asserted (and we agree with them) that whether the axis powers win or lose, our way of life will be greatly changed, whether we wish it or not. Since history began, and since man was created (or evolved), the way of life has constantly undergone changes. And one of the greatest changes in the history of mankind is now in rapid progress. This country cannot stop it. By preparing as rapidly and efficiently as possible, it can preserve for this continent (and we hope this hemisphere) as much of the better things of our way of life as possible. By preserving our independence and that of the other nations in this hemisphere, the U. S. A. can be of great assistance in rehabilitating a ravaged Europe and in helping people there to rebuild a society on real (not pretended) Christian principles. To accomplish this something more than "strategy" will be required. That something is armed might to offset the armed might of Germany and its allies. At present the U. S. A. does not possess that might. So, we had better not plunge into war overseas until we have it to a reasonable degree.

Kiwanis Club

The officers and directors elect who will serve during 1941 were the speakers at the meeting of the local Kiwanis Club held last Tuesday at the Charles River Country Club. Those who spoke, and the offices to which they have been elected, are as follows:

President, Raymond Green; First Vice President, Edward Pease; Second Vice President, James Riggs; Treasurer, Leo Noel; Directors, Frank Battles, James Daley, Tom Donnelly, Walter Hood, William Jasset, Dr. Herman Norton and George Van Buskirk.

President-elect Green in his talk stated that the purpose of the club during the coming year would be to assist in the work of helping underprivileged children, and who dedicated the club to this purpose.

Wilfred Chagnon, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, held a special meeting of his committee to complete plans for a special evening meeting which will be held in the near future.

Dr. Whorisky, Lt. Governor-elect of the New England Division of Kiwanis, was present and gave a short address. He also announced that on Dec. 3 all local officers-elect are requested to meet at the Hotel Touraine in Boston for a training class.

NEWTON WILLARD AUXILIARY

The Newton Auxiliary of the Frances E. Willard Settlement will meet on Monday, Nov. 25th, at the Llewellyn Lodge in Bedford. Llewellyn Lodge is one of four Friendly Houses maintained by the Settlement. Others are the Frances E. Willard House in the West End of Boston, the Ann Judson Ross Home in Northboro, and the Marietta Worthen Memorial, also in Bedford.

Officers of the Newton Auxiliary are Mrs. Robert Bishop, president; Mrs. Roger Tyler, vice-president; Mrs. Roger Preston, secretary, and Mrs. Davis Ripley, treasurer. Members attending the meetings include Mesdames Francis T. Munroe, Charles H. Myers, George Lovejoy, Durham Jones, William King, N. Boynton, Jr., Robert Bishop, Harold P. Carver, Howard W. Marshall, Joseph F. Wogan, Lucius Thayer and William I. Fearing.

Editor, Newton Graphic:

May I call attention to the burning of leaves on the sides of Newton streets? I ride a great deal and Newton seems to be the worst offender in this matter, particularly Waverley ave., Newton. It is not only against the city ordinances to burn leaves on streets, but it is a nuisance to motorists as they pass through the smoke, and the danger of a spark from a bonfire igniting the upholstery of automobiles.

There are several ways of taking care of leaves at small expense. They can be burned in an incinerator, carted away, or best of all—a mulch can be made of them that will come in very handy the following Spring.

Ward 7 Resident.

55 YEARS AGO

November 8, 1885

November came in with an inch of snow on the ground. Cold and blustering weather has prevailed since.

During the reception to Mr. Blaine near the Newton railroad station on Monday afternoon, pickpockets worked through the crowd, and secured two watches and a pocketbook. G. L. Whitney of Newtonville lost a gold watch valued at $250, and Mr. Vose of Newtonville was relieved of a pocketbook containing $15.

The Newton Boat Club will begin the season's entertainments on Wednesday evening, November 18, with a grand concert at City Hall, West Newton. The Beethoven Club of Boston has been engaged for the occasion. No finer musicians have been heard in this city.

The muddy streets and the threatening weather prevented a large turnout last Saturday evening for a torchlight parade by the Republicans at Auburndale. This was regrettable as many of the residents were finely illuminated.

Newton gave Presidential candidate James Blaine an enthusiastic reception on Monday night. A crowd estimated at 7000 was densely packed in the streets around the Newton depot, and in the windows and on roofs of neighboring buildings. Eliot Block blazed from the street to its cupola with candles and Chinese lanterns, and all the blocks nearby were illuminated. A large platform had been erected in the depot yard. A committee including Ex-Gov. Clafin, Mayor Kimball, Aldermen Henry E. Cobb, I. T. Burr, L. G. Pratt and Robert Bishop had met Mr. Blaine at Natick. Mr. Blaine alighted from the train escorted by Mayor Kimball. He appeared fatigued as he mounted the platform. The platform was crowded and had been built with more haste than judgment. As Mr. Blaine started to speak, one of the supports gave way, the platform settled to the ground, and Mr. Blaine was hurled headlong. He was quickly picked up unhurt, and springing onto a piece of the framework, he said—"My friends, there is always enough left of a Republican platform to stand on." This remark caused a storm of cheers and laughter. Mr. Blaine then spoke briefly, and boarded his train to continue to Boston.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Tuesday evening Rev. Dr. Furber was granted a permit to enlarge his stable on Grafton st.; Jeremiah Meeney a permit to move a house from "Snake Hollow" (Tremont st. and Waverley ave.—Ed.) to Watertown st.; and Patrick Carr a permit to move a house from "Snake Hollow" to the Brighton line.

The Common Council met on Thursday evening to consider the estimates of next year's expenses as submitted by the Finance Committee. The total was $490,000 and the Council cut the estimates $18,000. Included in the expenses are—Alms-house expenses and repairs, $4000; poor outside almshouse, $8000; Board of Health, $2300; conveyance of school pupils, $250; City Hall expenses, $1600; City Engineer's department, $6650; drains and culverts, $13,000; evening schools, $550; fire department independent of salaries, $7695; Highway Department, $69,000; improving public squares, $6000; interest on loans, $25,200; interest on water bonds, $53,100; indigent soldiers and sailors, $1000; Free Library, $7500; police department, $18,700; public property, $10,000; removal of ashes, $3500; salaries, $14,500; school incidentals, $9500; school house notes, $5150; sidewalks and street crossings, $6500; sinking funds, $37,800; street lights, $27,500.

Newton Graphic, Nov. 14, 1890

Donations to the Pomroy Home, Newton, for the month of October included clothing, pears, apples, beans, vegetables, milk, potatoes, and rye meal.

Thomas Cotton fell from a tree on the Valentine place at West Newton yesterday afternoon, fracturing a limb. He was taken to his home in one of Hill's hacks and was treated by Dr. Woodman.

On account of a defective flue in one of the furnaces at the Hyde School, Newton Highlands, notice was given to some member of the city government having the care of school houses as early as June 1. Up to this time nothing has been done to remedy the trouble. The consequence is—there have been no sessions of school in some of the rooms on several days during the past month. The salaries of the teachers go on and the precious time of the pupils is squandered. Such a state of affairs ought not to exist.

At a special meeting of the Newton Club on Saturday evening at Newtonville it was decided to build a new club house. President Henry E. Cobb was authorized to appoint a committee of nine, to represent the different parts of the city, and William J. Follett was appointed chairman. It was decided to purchase the lot of land owned by

"We must get into this war to save our skins while we have allies," stated W. Stuart Howe, a director of the Federal Union, Inc., at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club Monday, Nov. 18th at the Brae Burn Country Club.

Mr. Howe spoke on "The Defense of Democracy by Federal Union," advocating a social union of all the democracies including common citizenship which would result in freedom of movement, freedom of press and a common currency among these nations.

According to the speaker, such a union would be powerful since all the people would govern and not representatives of each government. He stated that the World Court, a movement in this direction, was too weak, and that the League of Nations failed to work, not because the United States was not in it, but because the members failed to live up to the rules. He maintained that if a Federal Union was brought about, future wars would be avoided. According to the speaker, the desired result could be reached only by defeating Hitler and that the United States must get into the war to bring this about.

First prize for prognosticating the results of the national election was given to Louis Bachrach and "booby" prize was awarded to Albert Waugh. Harold Gores, assistant to Superintendent of Schools Julius E. Warren, was inducted into membership by Orville Clapper.

John J. Cahill presided at the meeting and Charles Meeker introduced the speaker. Carl Switzer played the piano for group singing.

Fought Policeman; Gets Jail Term

William DeCoursey, 34, of 68 Waltham st., Boston, was sentenced in the Newton court on Monday to serve 30 days in Billerica prison. He appealed. Patrolman McCormick testified that on Saturday afternoon the defendant created a disturbance at the Newton Centre railroad station, and placed him under arrest for drunkenness. As they neared the subpass station in Engine 3 house on Willow st., DeCoursey began to struggle and was battling McCormick when three firemen went to the policeman's assistance and the prisoner was subdued.

MOUNT HOLYOKE CLUB BRIDGES

Mrs. Margaret W. Thompson, 83 Ripley st., Newton Centre, community chairman of the Newtons for the Mount Holyoke Club of Boston, heads a Newton group which had planned the opening of three homes for an evening of bridge on Tuesday, Dec. 3rd. The club's student aid fund will benefit.

A home in each of the Newtons will be opened for the evening. In Newtonville, Mrs. Albert P. Everts, 114 Kirkstall rd., will be the hostess; with the chairman for the evening of play at her home, Mrs. Earl Millard.

Mrs. Clinton W. Tylee will open her home, 53 Bigelow rd., West Newton, where Mrs. F. Forest and Mrs. John S. Franklin, 3rd, will be co-chairmen. Third home for the bridge will be that of Miss Marian E. White, 33 Beverly rd., Newton Highlands, where the chairman will be Mrs. Joseph Everts.

The evening's play will begin at 8 o'clock, and all Mount Holyoke College alumnae, their husbands and friends are invited.

BOSTON COLLEGE CLUB

The Boston College Club will hold their annual dinner at the college on Wednesday evening, December 4 at 6:30. Charles E. Coyle, president, has appointed Thomas J. Lyons acting chairman. Assisting on the committee are Thomas D. Lavelle, Raymond Henderson, John H. Flynn, Thomas Bresnahan, John A. Spelman, John J. Miskella, Jr., Frederick J. Shea, John S. Keohane, W. Wallace Mathison, Frank McQueen, Richard Tenney, Edward Birtwell, John P. Curley, John A. Duane and Dr. William T. O'Halloran. The entire coaching staff of the college will be the guests of the club and a very fine athletic program is being prepared. The proceeds are to go to the scholarship fund. The general public is invited.

Sunbeam Chats

Gee! it's getting snappy and nice outside. I love to go out to play 'cause Mummy doesn't dress me too warmly. She knows how hard it is to move around with too many bulky clothes on. She says she doesn't want me to perspire for then I might get chilly and catch a cold. She buys me warm, lightweight clothes. Guess I wouldn't catch cold very easily tho' 'cause I'm so healthy and strong. Hurrah! I'll see all our folks next week at Grannie's, it's Thanksgiving!

GIFFORD—WINSOR

Miss Adelaide Winsor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kennard Winsor of 51 Middlesex rd., Chestnut Hill, was married to Benjamin Chase Gifford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gifford of Fall River at four o'clock on Saturday afternoon, November 9, in the First Parish Church, Brookline. Rev. Abbott Peterson performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride wore a gown of cream satin with a veil of antique lace over tulle and carried a bouquet of bouvardia. She was attended by Mrs. Daniel S. Cheever of Southboro as matron of honor and by her sister, Miss Sylvia Winsor, as maid of honor. They wore gowns in two shades of green and matching hats. The bridesmaids were Miss Olivia Ames, Miss Cordelia Baker, Miss Ruth Edmunds, Miss Antissa Dana, Miss Louise Gifford, sister of the groom, and Mrs. J. David Lannon of New York. They wore gowns of wine and pale blue with matching hats and carried chrysanthemums and blue larkspur.

Richard K. Hawes, Jr., of Adamsville, Rhode Island was the best man. The ushers were William P. Rogers, Jr., Edward B. Borden and Robert Truesdale of Fall River, Donald Prouty of Cambridge, Leonard H. Dowse of Kendall Green, Whitney Wright of Brookline, Edward W. Lawrence of Boston, Alden M. Arrested For Theft of Watch

Winton Burns, 19, of 17 Robbins st., Waltham, was arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday on a charge of having stolen a watch, and also on a charge of having received stolen property. The watch was stolen on July 20, 1939, from the home of Patrolman Robert Stevens of the Newton police. He resides at Dana rd., West Newton. It was the property of Mabel McDonald. The watch movement, which had been transferred to another case, was recovered on Oct. 2 in a Waltham pawnshop. The man who pawned the watch told police he had borrowed it from a chef in a Waltham luncheon. The chef said he had received the watch from a youth who owed a bill for food amounting to $1.65. Suspicion pointed toward Burns. The police had him identified by the chef, and his arrest on Tuesday night followed. The case was continued to Dec. 4th, when Burns pleaded not guilty.

Reversed Ruling
Deprives Newton
Of Waltham WinOfficial Makes Four Rulings on Touchdown-
Fumble

The tense rivalry always engendered in a Newton-Waltham football game was further enlivened in the scoreless gridiron battle between the two schools last Saturday when an official ruling as to whether or not Newton scored a touchdown was reversed back and forth more frequently than the most complicated of double-reverse football plays ever attempted. The situation developed when Joe Beatty plunged over the line late in the third period for what would have been the only score of the game. Following Beatty's plunge the ball emerged from the pile of players and rolled about in the end zone where it was covered a moment later by a Waltham player. Referee Cronin, who had signalled a touchdown, which was also designated by the usual motion from Head Linesman Berry, placed the ball on the two-yard line for the anticipated try for point. Prior to permitting play to proceed the officials went into conference. It was later revealed that Umpire MacPherson informed the referee that in his opinion Beatty had fumbled the ball before crossing the goal line. Both Referee Cronin and Linesman Berry were on the line of scrimmage, inches from the Waltham goal, while Umpire MacPherson, while nearer the play, was behind the line of scrimmage. Following the official huddle, Referee Cronin carried the ball out to the Waltham 20-yard line, ruling the play a touchdown. Coach Owen MacDowell of Newton went onto the field to consult the officials as to the ruling and to protest the reversal of the original decision by the referee. Apparently intending to stand by his original decision, Referee Cronin again picked up the ball and carried it back to the Waltham two-yard line in front of the goalposts. Coach Leary of Waltham then came onto the field and after further talk between the officials and the Waltham coach, the ball was again taken to the 20-yard line and play finally resumed.

Football debaters, who witnessed the occurrence, will argue for many weeks as to Newton's right to a touchdown. Many eye-witnesses, including persons connected with football in other schools, and it is rumored, some of the Waltham players admit that the touchdown was legally scored and Newton was deprived of victory. Joe Beatty, who carried the ball, stated that in going over the line he was turned over by the im-pect and looking upwards saw the referee's touchdown signal. He then relaxed and the pigskin was knocked from his grasp.

Throughout the game Newton had a marked advantage over their Watch City rivals but on the soggy, rain-soaked, and muddy field were unable to produce the solid punch that carried clear-cut victory. On only one occasion, late in the game, was Waltham in possession of the ball beyond the midfield stripe. Much of the game was a kicking duel between Joe Beatty and Dick Bennett with Beatty having a slight edge. His edge came on one beautiful punt that carried for over 60 yards with Bennett in pursuit for another ten yards to be nailed in his tracks by Bill Kalousdian. The punt was more remarkable in that the ball was rain-soaked and punted from one of the muddiest parts of the field. Newton's advantage was further noticed in its 10 first downs to four for the Watch City outfit, a 134 total yardage rushing against 58 for the Crimson, while on passing the Newton figures were 12 attempts, 5 completed for 48 yards and one interception against Waltham's 2 passes of which 1 was incomplete and the other intercepted.

From the opening of the game Newton was continually in Waltham territory. Newton kicked off and Waltham took to the air only to have Newton intercept the ball. Newton was its first down territory but lost the ball on downs when Waltham held. Obtaining the ball near midfield, Newton again started but was forced to kick. Again deep in their own territory, Waltham again staved off the Newton pressure by Bennett's kick to midfield. Thus the battle saw-sawed throughout the first half.

Midway of the third period Beatty's long kick, made from his 20-yard line, set the stage for Newton's dislodged and dislodged. Bennett was nailed by Kalousdian on his nine-yard line. Two plays later Butler fumbled and John Fahey recovered to give Newton its opportunity. With Beatty, Phil Fessenden, who had relieved Charley French when the latter had hurt his shoulder, and Fahey alternated and carried the ball to a first down on the Waltham three-yard line. Fessenden hit the line for a yard and was then replaced by French who carried to within six inches of the goal. Billy Betts, who had replaced Gus Avantaggio when the latter suffered a dislocated shoulder in the first half, called on Beatty to carry. The Newton back hit the line hard to go over but lost the ball and the touchdown ruling followed.

In the fourth period Newton again made a serious bid. One advance was stopped at the Waltham 21 and Waltham punted out to midfield. Starting to roll, Newton swept to the Waltham 6-yard line aided by a ruling of pass interference on Waltham's part which gave Newton a first down on the 17. Once more the Waltham defense tightened and an end sweep lost four yards. Art Healey was called back from his position at tackle to try a field goal but the try was blocked by Goldman. Bennett kicked out to midfield and time expired before Newton could get rolling again.

The usual battle of Newton and Waltham bands was missing when the Waltham musicians did not appear. Newton's band was on hand and played between the halves when the rain ceased and the clouds broke away for a time. To protect their instruments the band left them in the buses. The explanation of the absence of the Waltham band was that the band had assembled for pregame practice at 11:45 under its assistant leader who dismissed the group because of the rain. Later, on the arrival of the band director, it was impossible to reassemble the individual players. It is also stated that had the Waltham band assembled in their uniforms, the rain would have caused considerable damage to the brilliant capes of flannel, dyed scarlet.

Newton-Brookline
Evenly Matched
In Annual Game

Thanksgiving Day morning the 1940 schoolboy football season will come to a close with the annual Newton-Brookline gridiron battle at the Dickinson Stadium, Newtonville. On the basis of season's results the game is very much a toss-up with the victor being the team which is up to par on that day. Both teams have had their ups and downs and when they have been up they have been among the best in eastern Massachusetts and when they have been down they have met defeat.

The Wealthy Towns, who incidentally are seeking another designation than that title, has won six and lost two of its eight games to date. Newton has won three, lost three and tied two. The Brookline victories were over Winthrop, Quincy, Boston Latin, Framingham, Fitchburg, and Belmont while it met defeat from Watertown and Weymouth. Newton's victories were over Woburn, Brockton and Medford, and its losses to Everett, Quincy and Lynn Classical, while ties resulted in the Fitchburg and Waltham contests. Thus, on paper, Newton has met the stronger teams, all but two being rated as Class A, while Brookline has met Quincy for its only opponent rated above Class B.

Common opponents of the two teams have been Quincy and Fitchburg with Brookline holding 7 to 0 and 6 to 0 victories while Newton lost to Quincy 0-7 and tied Fitchburg 6-6. But the margin between the two is even smaller than the scores designate because Newton outplayed Quincy and was tied by Fitchburg on a "break" of the game.

As usual Brookline scheduled no game for last Saturday taking its usual nearly two-week rest before meeting the orange and black. Newton on the other hand lost the services of Gus Avantaggio by his shoulder injury in the Waltham game and may also be without a couple of other dependables. Alan Hugo, starting right guard, is nursing a leg injury which should respond in time for him to be able to play. Charley French is another doubtful starter because of an aggravated shoulder injury but expects to be in shape. Frank Brock, reserve tackle, recovered from his neck injury in the Waltham game but hurt his ankle playing basketball in the school gymnasium this week and may have suffered a possible fracture. With the exception of these four the Newton regulars are expected to be rarin' to go.

Many of the boys will be playing their last game as they will graduate next June. These include Captain Bob and brother Joe Beatty, Phil Teschner, Bill Kalousdian, Hugo and Bleiler, guards, Phil Fessenden and John Fahey, backs. Among those who will return another year are Art Healey, tackle, Dick Lowry, centre and Charley French, half-back, who probably will succeed to the triple threat mantle now worn by Joe Beatty although French will have considerable assistance from George Norcross and others.

Should French be unable to start next Thursday, his place will be taken by Phil Fessenden with Paterson taking Hugo's position at guard if the latter is still hors de combat. Billy Betts will start in the quarterback position formerly filled by Gus Avantaggio while Fahey and Joe Beatty will round out the backfield.

A rally will be held in the school auditorium next Wednesday morning at the usual assembly period as a send-off to the team in its last game of the season. Playing on its home field, the orange and black has done well under Coach Owen MacDowell, winning three out of four games, while on the road the record has not been so good. The only defeat suffered at home was at the hands of Lynn Classical, rated as among the best in the state and a leading contender for the State title.

Next week's game will be the 42nd consecutive meeting between the two schools and the 44th since 1897. In this period Newton has enjoyed a marked advantage of 24 wins to 13 for Brookline with 6 ties. In the past ten years Newton has won five, tied two and lost three and it has not been since 1925 and 1925 that Brookline has won two games in a row. Thus with the 20 to 6 Brookline victory on the records for last year a continuation of past experiences should indicate a Newton victory.

A real game is in prospect with both teams eager to close the season with flying colors. The usual large enthusiastic crowd is promised by the "pick-up" of both teams from more recent years. All that is needed is good weather to provide one of the most exciting and thrilling Newton-Brookline contests in their long and traditional rivalry.

BOWLING LEAGUE LEADERS IN CLOSE RACE

An exceptionally close race has developed in the Newton Centre Bowling League for the individual high average. Don McGrath with 102 holds the edge over the Independent's anchor man, Head, whose 101 just tops Dick Clancy's 100. Fractional figures separate the three by less than two pins per string. Team handicaps went into effect Tuesday night for the first time and it is expected that the race for supremacy will produce some excellent bowling before the season ends. Thirteen bowlers topped the 300 mark this week, with Carl Johnson's 331 leading off. Team standings are as follows:

Haig J. Nargesian Again Heads Young People's Council

Haig J. Nargesian of Newtonville was re-elected president of the Young People's Council of the Norumbega District at the 20th annual conference at the Second Congregational Church, West Newton, yesterday. It marked the first time in the history of the organization that a president was re-elected for a second term.

The need of a national defense program capable of meeting any emergency was stressed by Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, presiding bishop of the New England Area of the Methodist Church, who was the principal speaker at the meeting which was attended by about 400 young people of the district.

"The world cannot continue to exist," half totalitarian and half free," Bishop Oxnam said in his speech which criticized isolationists. He urged recognition by Americans of the fact that their responsibilities to world order calls for co-operation with the remaining democracies in withstanding fascism and nazism.

Following the address by the bishop, the conference split up into discussion groups led by the following: Clarence E. Churchill, principal of Hyde School, Newton; Kenneth S. Dale, general secretary of the Newton Y. M. C. A.; A. Edward Grimes, business man; Rev. J. Lester Hankins, pastor of the Glendale Methodist Church; Rev. Richard P. McClintock, rector of the Messiah Episcopal Church of Auburndale, and Rev. Randolph S. Merrill, minister of the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville.

The discussion which followed the banquet in the evening was led by Dr. Herbert Gezork, professor at Andover Newton and Wellesley College, who is a former secretary of the Baptist Youth Movement in Germany. Dr. Boynton Merrill of the Second Church presided at the Communion service.

Other officers of the council elected for the coming year were Miss Josephine Carney of Newton Centre, secretary; Miss Mildred Durhan of Needham, chairman of registration; Robert Harris of Newton, representative to the Greater Boston Youth Council; Miss Virginia Hardy of Newton, chairman of publicity; Joseph Yarbott of Newtonville, chairman of promotion.

Rev. Otis R. Heath of the Immanuel Baptist Church, Newton, is director of the council and the members of the advisory committee are Miss Luliana Barker and Miss Virginia Brown.

GERTRUDE HODGSON

Mrs. Gertrude (Reynolds) Hodgson of 96 Shorncliffe rd., Newton, wife of Edgar W. Hodgson, died on Nov. 15. She was born in Boston 72 years ago and had lived in Newton for 35 years. She is survived by her husband; three sons, Maurice L., Robert D., and Norman B., all of Newton; two daughters, Mrs. Montgomery Reed and Miss Carolyn Hodgson, both of Newton, and a brother, George L. Reynolds of Waban. Her funeral service was held on Monday at her late home. Rev. Mr. Murray of Channing Church officiated. Interment was at Dover.

MARY VALUKIS

Mrs. Mary Valukis of 18 Williams st., Newton Upper Falls, passed away on Monday, Nov. 18. Mrs. Valukis, who was the widow of the late John Valukis, is survived by four sons, Anthony of Natick, John and Joseph of Newton Upper Falls, and Charles of 751 Boylston st., Newton Highlands; also by a sister in South Boston. Funeral services were held from the home of her son, Charles Valukis, on Wednesday, Nov. 20, at 8 a. m., followed by a high mass of requiem at Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church at 9 a. m. Burial was in Mount Benedict Cemetery, West Roxbury.

MARTIN F. RYAN

Martin F. Ryan, 52, of 181 Parmenter rd., West Newton, died suddenly of heart disease on Monday morning while driving his car on Main st., Waltham. He endeavored to stop his car when he was stricken, and was steering it toward the side of the street when he collapsed. It collided with a parked automobile. He was taken to Waltham Hospital and pronounced dead upon arrival there. He had been employed as an automobile salesman. Mr. Ryan is survived by his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Ryan; and a sister, Miss Mary Ryan. His funeral was held on Thursday and burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

The forerunner of the 10,380 Y. M. C. A.'s in the world, London Central, was destroyed by a land mine recently, according to word received today by Kenneth S. Dale, general secretary of the Newton Y. M. C. A. Occupying an entire block on Great Russell st., London, the loss of London Central was a blow to members and service men who found refuge and companionship there during raids on Great Britain. Founded 1844, the association had been located at its present address since 1912, when it was erected at a cost of $1,250,000 as a memorial to Sir George Williams, founder of the Y. M. C. A. Ten members lost their lives and forty are still hospitalized. The "Y" will be closed in all departments on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 28th.

All friends of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bruton are invited to attend the testimonial dinner in their honor at the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday evening, Dec. 4th. Mr. Bruton recently retired after serving as a secretary of the local association for 20 years.

The "Young Men's Nite" will be held Wednesday evening, Dec. 4th, in the "Y" building. Announcement of the speaker will be made in the near future. All members of the Y. M. C. A. between the ages of 18 and 30 invited.

The Omicron Young Men's Club held its regular meeting last Monday evening. Morton Harrington, president, presiding. Plans were made for future meetings. At the next meeting, on Monday night, Dec. 2, the club will have an athletic program, followed by a short business meeting.

The bowling league has almost completed the first round and team No. 2 still clings to the lead. Bowling for the leaders are: Harold Higgins, L. Billings, J. Higgins, Willard Frye, Edwin Bosworth.

Plans were mapped out at a meeting of the Educational Committee held this week for conducting a series of Informal Educational Classes as part of the Y. M. C. A. program. These classes will begin in January.

Physical Department

Leaders in the Boys' First Semi-Annual Athletic Contest as of Monday of this week are: High School, F. Donalds; Junior High, R. Petrie; Evening Class (High School), Joe Arsenault; Juniors, Nick Lupo; Evening Class (Junior High School), Jerry Tramotozzi.

The 500-point Aquatic Program is being used in the Physical Department of the local Association. This is the approved Aquatic Program adopted by the Massachusetts and Rhode Island Y. M. C. A.'s. Events are classed under "Junior and Intermediate" and "Advanced." There is a new swimming event each week that must be passed by the individual and after he has secured his 500 points, he is entitled to a Swimming Emblem.

HI Y

The following young men, all members of the Hi Y, are planning to attend the sessions of the Older Boys' Conference at Pittsfield on Nov. 6th and 7th: Phillip Teschner, William Rangnow, Charles Coyner, Donn Ashley. There will be other delegates also from the Boys' Division.

RECREATION DEPARTMENT

On Monday evening, November eighteenth, a meeting sponsored by the Newton Recreation Department was held at the Workshop in Newton Highlands for the purpose of acquainting the public with trends and developments in the field of recreation. Preceding the formal meeting an exhibition of metal work being done in classes in Newton, Newton Highlands and Newton Lower Falls was on display.

Representatives from the various villages of Newton, introduced by Commissioner F. E. Wilson, spoke briefly of different phases of recreation work being done in Newton. Mr. Robert McLaughlin of the Newton Upper Falls Improvement Association told of the increasing interest being shown in the many activities in his village, new impetus having been given through the functioning of a lay committee organized to back up and assist the Recreation Dept. Mr. Kenneth Pryor, a member of the effective speech class being conducted at the playground house in Newton Centre, under the direction of Mr. Wallace G. Starthern assisted by Mrs. Ragna Hovgaard of the Recreation Department, spoke of the personality and character-building development which had been achieved through the director's approach to the subject of public speaking, encouraging even the least talented members of the group to become proficient in expressing his thoughts well in public.

Mr. Everett Brooks from Newton Lower Falls told of the enthusiasm for badminton among a group of adults using the Levi Warren Jr. High School. He also stated as his conviction that the enormous amount invested in the public school buildings and the resulting cost to the taxpayers of Newton justified the demands by citizens for their use to the fullest extent in such recreational pursuits as the Recreation Department might see fit to recommend.

Miss Margaret Cotter of the Newton Upper Falls Centre with which Mrs. Margaret Hills is connected, spoke of the unusually successful Halloween party given at the Emerson School for 150 boys and girls of junior high and high school ages.

Mr. Charles Brightbill of the National Recreation Association, gave the featured talk of the evening, explaining in a most interesting way the present day conception of recreation as an opportunity for every member of a community regardless of age, race, religion, interests, capabilities or financial status, to use his or her leisure time for the fullest development of physical, mental, moral and spiritual values through all kinds of pursuits and skills.

Mr. Theodore R. Lockwood, a member of the Board of Aldermen, expressed his appreciation of this newer conception of recreation as against the old idea of the adequacy of a ball-and-bat program. Mr. George Rawson, also of the Board of Aldermen, voiced approval for the way in which the Newton Recreation Department is being administered and the co-operation which it is receiving from the public. Mr. Donald McKay, as chairman of the Finance Committee, questioned the speaker, Mr. Brightbill, in regard to the cost of financing certain recreational pursuits. Mr. Fernald, of the School Committee, clarified a point of liability insurance in case of use of school buildings for recreational purposes.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by recreation workers from an attractively decorated table. Members of the Recreation Department in attendance were: Mrs. Louis H. Marshall, Mr. Howard L. Rich and Mr. John H. Underhill of the Commission, Mrs. Ragna Hovgaard, Mrs. Margaret Hills, Miss Gladys Forbush, Mrs. Sheila Parker, Miss Helen Anderson, Mrs. Pauline Teschner, Miss Claire McCarthy, Miss Margaret Cotter, Mr. Caleb Scully and Mr. Ralph Hamilton. Various civic groups from all sections of Newton were also represented.

The Recreation Directors' Association held their annual meeting and election of officers with the following result: president, Mr. Nicolas Tedesco; secretary, Miss Gladys Forbush; treasurer, Mr. R. W. Hamilton.

Ten boys from the Stearns district attended the Saturday sessions of the N. E. Puppetry Conference. They gave two shows, the Pepper-mint-stick Boy with Edmund Dangel and Mr. Hamilton manipulating the puppets and Rumpelstiltskin with Louis Arcese, Louis Messina and Edmund Dangel manipulating. Others of the group who attended were: Joseph Cotia, Joseph Caffarelli, James Piselli, and Edward di Santis.

The Boston Public Library is holding an exhibition of puppets and the process of their manufacture. The

On "Buying A PIANO"

Strange but true, people seldom think of the Piano Tuner as the one to whom to turn for advice on this subject?

Almost any second-rate instrument can be made to sound well if fully tuned and voiced, and a "pleasing selection" is rendered on it but wait till it gets in the home and is played on for a period. The lacking, eventually found, is previously known by the Tuner instantly he touches a few keys. TONE IS HIS LIFE. He is not easily deceived by the bass. In fact it is not necessary for him to even PLAY many pianos to know. He can tell by a glance at the method of stringing. (I speak of a competent tuner, of course.)

The enormous increase in piano sales over the past few years, while due to the increase in the desire for personal production of Music as against the "canned music" era, is also largely influenced by the "Styling" of the Cases, and the "reduction in size." These Cases have no value in the realm of tone; and the "sizers" alone have driven them further from that realm. There are, however, good instruments among the new stylings if one knows what to look for, and there are few like the competent Tuner who does. The percentage of poor products is too great to warrant the uninitiated in taking a chance at purchase without this critical examination. Present-day Bargain Advertising needs serious consideration. The Tuner wants more and more pianos sold, but he wants good ones, for only with these can the value of his tuning be shown. His desire, therefore, coupled with his critical knowledge makes him of inestimable value to you. I can be of substantial service to you with professional advice in the selection of an instrument.

"Honduras and Nicaragua" will be the countries discussed at the next meeting of the Auburndale Review Club on Tuesday morning, November 26, with Mrs. Paul H. Tardivel, at her home, 59 Maple st.

At ten o'clock, Mrs. James G. Patterson, will preside over the half hour of business at which time announcement will be made of what the gift of the club was towards the Rolling Kitchen sponsored by the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Ernest Braithwaite, chairman, will open the morning program at ten-thirty, with a paper on the above topic, after which Mrs. Edward Kelly will talk on some of the products, "Rubber, Chickie and Waxes."

Mrs. Grace H. Fiske during the last part of the program told of the adventures of "The Enchanted Vagabonds Lamb and Cleveland."

Newton Federation of Women's Clubs

A memorial to Samuel Francis Smith, author of "America" will be discussed when the Executive Board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs meets on Monday forenoon, November 25, at the Library in Newtonville.

After reports by the Standing Committees, the president of the federation, Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, will present Mr. Donald MacKay who will explain his proposed plan to erect a memorial on the shores of Crystal Lake to this author, a former resident and pastor of Newton. The model which Mr. MacKay has built will be demonstrated at this time.

As has been the custom in the past, there will be no meeting of the Board in December, so all of the chairmen are expected to report at this time on subsequent activities.

Newton Highlands Garden Club

The November meeting of the Newton Highlands Garden Club will be held on Tuesday the 26th at 8:00 p. m., at the home of Miss Marion H. Dorr, 249 Lake ave.

A talk on House Plants will be given by Mr. John Ellis, President of the Gardener's and Florist's Club, who trained at the famous Kew Gardens of London.

Members will exhibit arrangements of any suitable material for a Thanksgiving table centerpiece.

The Professional Women's Club

Mrs. Harry W. Haley of Wellesley and Mrs. Arthur H. Kellom of Brookline are co-chairmen in charge of the Rummage Sale which the Professional Women's Club will hold on Saturday, November 30th from ten to five at Horticultural Hall in Boston.

The committee members include: Doris L. Babson, Ada B. Bruce, Anna B. Boynton, Gladys F. Batchelder, Clara L. Canfield, Irma B. Decker, Cora E. Giles, Zelia H. Hodgkins, Harriet Johnson, Hazel C. Lenk, Mary I. Law, Inez C. Lind, Ethel R. Limbach, Estelle G. Marsh, Mary Massa, Edith L. Munroe, Juanita F. O'Hara, Marie C. Phillips, Lilla J. Ryan, Clara A. Standenmayer, Irene H. Shannon, Mabel L. Street, Edith C. Thomas, Anabel P. Wood.

In addition to the usual Rummage Sale, there will be a table filled with things suitable for Christmas gifts.

Auburndale Woman's Club

Miss Mary Walsh lectured on "The Romance of Silver and the Art of Table Setting" at the Auburndale Woman's Club on Tuesday before an attractively arranged dinner table, with formal settings of silver, glass, linen and china. The floral center piece was arranged by Mrs. Ralph Keyes.

Miss Walsh's lecture was most interesting, revealing the tradition of silver which today is unsurpassed for beauty and decorative qualities.

Mrs. Austin Fisher presided at the business meeting. Mrs. E. W. Orrel and Mrs. Herbert Farrier of the Art Committee furnished the attractive stage setting. Mrs. Lyscom Bruce was chairman.

Newton Community Club

Alton Hall Blackington presented his illustrated lecture, "Way Down East" to a large and appreciative audience at the Newton Community Club on Thursday afternoon, November 14th, in the Underwood School hall. Walter Kidder sang several songs accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ray Eusden. His special selection was a poem by Badger Clark from his book "Sun and Saddles" called "The Westerner." The musical setting was by Miss Edith Temple, daughter of one of the club members.

Miss Temple was present and was applauded with Mr. Kidder for her delightful music which he rendered so beautifully.

During the social hour which followed Mrs. William V. Burnett served tea assisted by Mrs. John T. Alden, Mrs. George F. Wilson, Mrs. Richard H. Smith and Miss Ida P. Harrington.

The table decorations were arranged by Mrs. John A. Arnold and Mrs. Leon Avak.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

"Clay, Spode and Fire" was the title of the moving picture illustrating the manufacture of Spode given at the meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club in the Emerson School Monday evening, November 18. The process carried on in England by the present descendants of Josiah Spode who originated the business in the eighteenth century, was pictured from the digging of the clay to the final inspection of the beautiful china.

The second part of the program, The Romance of Lace, was featured by an interesting exhibit and gowns made of both old and new lace were modeled by members of the club. Mrs. J. K. Hemphill lent several lovely old dresses and a variety of types of lace. Mrs. Edward B. Wildman lent a beautifully crocheted tablecloth, a copy of the machine made cloth used on the tea table. Mrs. Walter Martin exhibited a christening robe over a hundred years old and Mrs. James E. Tully also contributed many pieces of lace for the event. Mrs. Albert Davis was the commentator for both the China and the Lace episodes.

At the business meeting reports were read of the American Home and Conservation Conferences and donations for the usual Thanksgiving baskets were brought in. Miss A. Gertude Osborne and Mrs. Frank G. Mordo were chairmen of the evening and refreshments were served by the Hospitality Committee under the direction of Mrs. George W. Braceland.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The Garden Club was the guest of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon, their second meeting in November. They were entertained by colorful motion pictures shown by Mr. and Mrs. Percy I. Merry of Newton Highlands. Their lecture began with early spring views of plantings of spring flowering bulbs and shrubs, extending through scenes showing thousands of narcissus in a naturalized setting, primroses by a brook, iris, choice varieties of lilies, the new hemerocallis, roses, asters, chrysanthemums and finally orchids. The intimate vistas on the large estates were of especial interest and proved inspirational to the audience.

Formal and informal tables decorated for Thanksgiving were exhibited in the Art Corner. Mrs. Elwood I. Clapp and Mrs. Walter E. Decker of the Art Committee were responsible for the formal table done with Crown Derby china in the Mikado Pattern with a Rose centerpiece. Mrs. Eldon Hamilton Sager and Mrs. Richard H. Farrell used for their informal table Willow Ware and a original center decoration of fruit and vegetables done by Mrs. Joseph H. deVieq.

The Club Chorus directed by Mrs. Thomas G. Ginn sang several selections and Dorothy Waite, Soprano, added to the pleasure of the afternoon.

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

At the meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. to be held next Monday evening at the home of Miss Adelaide R. Webster, 10 Chester st., Newton Highlands, the study of "Civilization of the United States the Last Fifty Years" will be continued under the leadership of Mrs. Francis Rugg whose special phase will be "The Immigrant in America" and "American Politics." Current Events will be given by Mrs. E. G. Swift.

NEWTON LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Miss Louise Walworth, chairman of the committee on Government and Foreign Policy of the Newton League of Women Voters, will preside at the next meeting of the league on Monday, Nov. 25, at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Albert P. Everts, 114 Kirkstall rd., Newtonville. "Problems with Our South American Neighbors" is the subject which will be discussed by Miss Marie Carroll, Research Director of the World Peace Foundation.

Following the meeting, tea will be served with Mrs. Carrol J. Hoffman and Mrs. Joseph J. Heard pouring. Mrs. Harold R. Keller, hospitality chairman, and her assistant, Mrs. John R. McCann, with their capable committee including Mrs. C. G. Caseley, Mrs. Fred D. Bond, Mrs. H. G. MacDougall, Mrs. W. Lloyd Allen, and Mrs. Kristin A. Juthe, are in charge of the tea.

LASELL TEA

A faculty tea was held on Monday afternoon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Guy M. Winslow.

Two films, Aida and Away with the Wind, were shown at the Tuesday morning assembly.

The traditional ceremony of taking caps and gowns was performed at dawn on Tuesday morning when the class appeared for the first time in cap and gown, serenading the President's house and junior dormitory.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

Newtonville, Mass.

NOTICE TO DEALERS

Sealed proposals for the furnishing of school supplies required by the School Department of the City of Newton will be received at the office of the School Committee, Technical Building, Elm Road, Newtonville, Massachusetts, until 2:30 P.M. on Monday, December 9, 1940.

Proposals must be plainly marked on envelope—"PROPOSAL FOR SUPPLIES".

Proposals must be accompanied by a certified check upon a National Bank or Trust Company doing business in Massachusetts for the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars ($250.00) payable to and to become the property of the City of Newton if the proposal which it accompanies is accepted and the bidder neglects or refuses to execute the contract within six days (Sundays excepted) from the date of the notification of acceptance of proposal.

Proposals made hereunder shall be open for acceptance by the City any time within sixty (60) days of the date of bids.

A surety bond for the faithful performance of the contract in a penal sum equal to one hundred per cent (100%) of the accepted bid will be required.

Specifications can be obtained at the office of the School Committee, Technical High School, Elm Road, Newtonville, Massachusetts.

Any alteration or addition to the terms of the specifications and form of contract may be considered by the City as cause for rejection of the bidder's proposal.

Quantities shown on specification are approximate and are used for comparison of bids only. The City reserves the right to increase or decrease the amounts shown, according to need.

SAMPLES OF EACH ARTICLE UPON WHICH PRICES ARE QUOTED MUST ACCOMPANY THIS BID.

Quality and price will be taken into consideration in the awarding of contract and the Department reserves the right to accept or reject any and all bids or any part of a bid and to award the contract entirely in the best interests of the City.

A SEALED COPY OF ALL PROPOSALS MUST BE DEPOSITED WITH THE COMPTROLLER OF ACCOUNTS, CITY HALL, NEWTON CENTRE, MASS.

Bring Thanksgiving To The Red Cross By Joining At Once

Of the American Red Cross the United States Government at Washington has asked vital support in carrying forward its National Defense Program. This means increased duties for this revered humanitarian organization, and with it there is increased need for more funds in every community to assist in that service. To the American people, therefore, who vest the power at Washington of maintaining our country, the Red Cross turns in its Annual Roll Call for the funds necessary for the coming year.

Conditions overseas are becoming more and more appalling in the suffering of humanity. Our boys are about to entrain for camps where they may be prepared to keep intact this great democracy of the United States. To war victims who need clothing, knitted garments, surgical dressings, medical supplies, the Red Cross is sending succor, as fast as the women of America, in Production departments of local chapters countrywide, can fashion them, or money purchase them. To the boys at camps, as to the boys in Veterans' Hospitals, gifts of various kinds will be sent. The Gray Ladies, also, will serve them and their families with every friendly and hostess assistance.

Local chapters have handled during the past year 41,000 inquiries as to the fate of relatives in war areas. To these refugees they have given every aid, including financial.

The people of the United States responded magnificently to the appeal from the National Red Cross last May, when twenty million dollars was asked to help the stricken people in war areas abroad. It should be borne in mind that all contributions in this city toward this Fund went to the National Organization, except 15 per cent which was used locally in Newton for materials needed here. In addition the Newton Chapter paid all expenses connected with the appeal here from its Chapter Funds.

In the production of garments, materials will be supplied from Washington, but all findings and expenses for boxes and shipment must be paid for by the Chapter. The expense of the present Sewing quota alone will amount to $1000, from the Chapter Funds.

In enrolling as members of the Newton Chapter, contributors may know that fifty cents of their dollar goes to the National Society. The full amount of a Life Membership, $50, also goes to Washington. Other contributions, such as the $5 Contributing, the $10 Sustaining, and the $25 Supporting Memberships, go directly to the Newton Chapter for local use.

The Newton Chapter will need for its annual budget between $15,000 and $20,000, to carry forward its increased duties. Its work touches the lives of every family of the city, and every family should respond to this opportunity to continue this work within its midst.

It has been truly said of the Red Cross that its work is to save life. Clothing and feeding the destitute from war; nursing the wounded; teaching First Aid and Home Hygiene to students in schools and to adults that they may safeguard their homes; transcribing Braille for the blind; sending gifts to soldiers, sailors and veterans; teaching Swimming and Life Saving; transportation of the ill and convalescent to and from hospitals or physicians' offices; and in the Home Service department, families assisted through countless patient hours.

Make Thanksgiving Day a day of gratitude, indeed, in your local Chapter. No country in the world, no peoples, have so great a cause for Thanksgiving, this November 1940. And the American Red Cross helps to make possible this Thanksgiving.

Checks should be made payable to the Newton Chapter of American Red Cross, and sent to Headquarters, 12 Austin st., Newtonville; or contributions may be left with any Newton Bank.

Newtonville Man Fined $25 For Shooting Cat

William G. Starkweather, 70, of 17 Gibson rd., Newtonville, was fined $25 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court last Friday for shooting a cat owned by Mrs. Ethel Mitchell of 60 Clyde st., Newtonville. She testified that on the morning of Nov. 5th her cat returned wounded to its home, that Dr. R. A. Lombard, a veterinarian, was called, and he found it necessary to kill the cat because of its condition. Mrs. Mitchell offered as evidence a .22 calibre bullet which was found in the cat. She also testified that Starkweather had told her grandson that he would kill the cat. Mrs. Ariana Curtis, Mrs. Mitchell's daughter, testified that she had let the cat out of the house about 9 a. m. on Nov. 5, and that the animal returned home badly wounded 20 minutes later.

Two agents of the M. S. P. C. A. testified that they had interviewed Starkweather, and that the latter had admitted he shot the cat as it was about to pounce upon a bird on his property. Agent Fuller testified that Starkweather had told him that for the past 5 years he had been shooting toward cats that entered his property, not to kill them, but to scare them away.

Mr. Starkweather told the judge that his wife owns 30,000 square feet of land adjoining their home, and that they have tried to maintain it as a sanctuary for birds, which they love. He said that the birds are constantly being menaced by stray cats. He said that when he shot toward Mrs. Mitchell's cat. He also denied ever having cruelly beaten any animal, as charged in the complaint. Asked by the judge—"Didn't you know you had no right to shoot at a cat?" the defendant replied that he did not intend to kill the animal.

Father Pays $60 Fines For Student Who Disappeared

Ian Thompson, 20, a Harvard student, who gave a false name to a Newton policeman when he was stopped for speeding in this city a few weeks ago, and thereby caused his friend Frederick Van deRogers to be summoned into Newton court, became so worried over his act, that he disappeared. This information was revealed when Thompson's father, Thomas Thompson of New York, appeared in the Newton court and asked Judge Mayberry to be permitted to pay whatever fines might be imposed on his son. He told the judge that the youth's whereabouts were not known, that young Thompson's mother is distracted by his absence, and the parents hoped that if the case were settled, their son might come to his home.

Van deRogers permitted Thompson to take his car and when the latter was stopped by Patrolman Whelan, he posed as the car's owner and said he had left his driving license at his room in Cambridge. When Van deRogers was arraigned in the Newton court on Oct. 30, he quickly proved he was not the person driving the car when Whelan stopped it. Complaints were then issued against Thompson, but when Newton police tried to serve them on the latter the next day, they learned that Thompson had left Cambridge.

Judge Mayberry agreed to allow the defendant's father to act as proxy for his son if pleas of guilty would be agreed to. An attorney who appeared, with Mr. Thompson, started to argue, but Judge Mayberry said he would permit no argument because of the guilty pleas. He imposed fines of $25 each for not stopping when signalled by a policeman, and for giving a false name; and fines of $5 for speeding and driving without a license.

Numerous Thefts Over Week-End

Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Bruno Kunnerth of 68 Maple st., Newton, left her home for about an hour, someone, who apparently knew of her absence, entered the house through an unlocked window and stole a watch and a bank containing eight dollars.

Over the week-end the garages of Elizabeth Malley at 496 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre, and F. D. Robertson at 58 Grafton rd., Newton Centre, were entered and cars therein ransacked. Garages of J. F. Clune of 23 Channing rd., Newton Centre, and Robert Allingham at 93 Bowdoin st., Newton Highlands, were entered over the week-end. A spare wheel and tire were stolen from a car in each garage. The store of J. P. Kenney on Washington st., Lower Falls, was entered Saturday night or Sunday. Cigarettes, candy and gum were taken.

Accosted Girl; Sent to Prison

Richard Burke, 27, of 51 Cummings rd., Newton Centre, was sentenced by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Saturday to serve 30 days in Billerica prison. Burke was found guilty of accosting a person of the opposite sex. He had pleaded not guilty. Miss Norma Lincoln, 19, of 19 Crofton rd., Waban, testified that on the night of Nov. 4, as she was walking home, she was accosted by Burke at the intersection of Commonwealth ave. and Fuller st. She told the judge that Burke first

Players Inc., Present 140th Production

The Players, Inc., are presenting their one hundred and fortieth service this week in the Newton High School Auditorium. The play is "Susan and God," by Rachel Crothers, author of many stage successes, and is a spirited comedy of American life. Dealing with a situation that invites the playwright's keen powers of satire, both shrewd humor and thoughtful substance are effectively combined.

Those taking part in the performances on Thursday and Friday evenings of this week are Elizabeth D. Dunker, Inez Fitz, Elizabeth Littell, Martha Roope, Hazel H. Sholley, Elsie M. Walsh, Gordon L. Leach, Jack Purple, Fay Roope, A. L. Wakefield and Albert J. T. Woll.

L-O-F WINDOW CONDITIONING (Storm Windows). Helps keep cold out and heat in. Thousands of home owners have proved this effective form of insulation alone will cut fuel costs up to 30%—in some localities, even more.

ATTIC INSULATION when applied in homes already Window Conditioned, effects additional savings.

Let us show you how these two simple insulations can save up to 50% of your fuel bill. How Window Conditioning, alone, will give you more winter comfort, greater fuel economy, than any single improvement of comparable cost. And the cost is low—and may be financed under F.H.A. More Power to Thrift— more Thrift from Power

WE think most people would rather own a bigger, solidier, steadier, roomier, better automobile. Most of them would be willing to spend a little extra for what Buick has to offer—style, size, room, steadiness, durability—if part of that extra could be paid back through lower operating costs.

Especially they would like really satisfying performance—quick take-off, easy hill-climbing, sure power, fast response—if they could have it in a car that's stingy with gasoline.

That's what we've given them—through the extra power in this 1941 Buick.

The added wallop of FIREBALL engine design and Compound Carburetion lets us use more thrifty gear ratios, saving money without complicating extra gears or mechanisms.

And the tremendous reserve-power in these Buick engines—at 40, for instance, you have as much as 85% of your power "on call"—still permits the flashing get-away, the swooping hill-climb, the sure lift out of pinches you once had to buy with heavy gasoline consumption.

So we say—more power to thrift—

HERE'S MODERN ECONOMY—

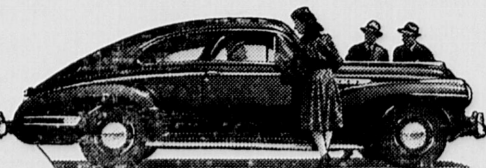

You can see how Compound Carburetion steps up miles-per-gallon in this chart. It shows the mileage at 50 miles an hour for our 1937 SPECIAL, our 1939 SPECIAL and the 1941 SPECIAL with Compound Carburetion.

it helps put Buick thrill and comfort within easy reach.

And the reason is—more thrift from power—from abler engines.

It all adds up to the sensation of the year—the car you ought to see first—the brilliant, able beauty your Buick dealer has waiting for you.

Saltonstall Loses 81 Votes In Newton Recount; Court Action Probable

Representatives of Saltonstall and Dever Protest Ruling of Registrars

Governor Saltonstall lost 81 votes in the recount in Newton which was started Tuesday morning and completed at noon on Wednesday. The Registrars of Voters assisted by clerks from the City Clerk's department, and a number of other young women, worked until 9:30 Tuesday night, at which time 21 of the 26 precincts in the city had been recounted. The other five were recounted Wednesday morning, and figures checked, and tabulated shortly after noon.

Assistant Attorney General Edward O. Proctor officially represented Attorney General Paul Dever at the recount, assisted by ex-Alderman Dennis Cronin and a score of other observers. Governor Saltonstall was represented by C. Ray Cabot and John V. Spaulding, and numerous observers.

The Registrars ruled that Saltonstall lost 77 votes in the recount, and Dever gained 4, a net gain for Dever of 81. Most of the changes in the ballots were caused by the positions of the crosses nearly opposite the Governor's name, which was at the bottom of the list of candidates for Governor. The Governor's representatives claimed that if any part of the cross was above the line in the last space, the intent of the voter was clearly to ballot for Saltonstall. It is probable that court action will be taken, as the Saltonstall representatives protested the ruling of the Registrars on 46 ballots, and the Dever representatives protested on rulings on 58 ballots.

The changes are as follows: Ward 1, Saltonstall lost 2, gained 3; Dever lost 9. Ward 2—Saltonstall lost 8, gained 8; Dever lost 5, gained 2. Ward 3—Saltonstall lost 11; Dever lost 3, gained 2. Ward 4—Saltonstall lost 7; Dever lost 4. Ward 5—Saltonstall lost 27; Dever lost 1, gained 12. Ward 6—Saltonstall lost 23; Dever gained 11. Ward 7—Saltonstall lost 10.

Aldermen Confirm New Health Officer

By a vote of 19 to 1, the appointment of Dr. Ernest M. Morris as Health Officer of Newton, was confirmed by the Board of Aldermen on Monday night. Alderman Inches, who was temporarily absent from the room, when the secret ballot was taken, asked to be recorded in favor of Dr. Morris, so that places 20 of the Board in favor of Dr. Morris's appointment, and 1 opposed.

Dr. Morris, who succeeds Dr. Harold Choje, is a former Fall River man, has been associated with the State Health Department for several years, and was in charge recently of the Westfield Sanatorium.

Belmont Man Dies In Auto at Newton

Richard Jason, 36, of Perthshire rd., Brighton, died suddenly of heart disease on Tuesday afternoon about 4 o'clock while in his automobile at Newton Corner. He managed to guide his car through Hall st. and to a stop on Centre st. before collapsing. In the car with him was his 4 year old daughter. A passer-by noticed Jason slumped in the car, and police were notified. He died while on his way to Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

Mr. Jason was a graduate of Bridge-water Normal School and was a teacher at Belmont Junior High School. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Jason; his daughter, and a two-weeks' old son.

Christmas Health Seals Now On Sale

Thanksgiving Day opened the 1940 Christmas Health Seal sale and well over twelve thousand letters containing the bright and cherry seals have been mailed to Newton residents.

The dollars spent for Christmas Health Seals have been a real investment in health for our own community — 85 per cent of all money received being used in Newton.

Milk, as well as a summer at camp for children in whom doctors fear a development of tuberculosis is provided from these dollars. Through the work of the rehabilitation worker those discharged patients are being fitted to take their places in the community without facing the danger of a return to the hospital. A continuous year-round program for the education and prevention of tuberculosis is also being carried on.

This work is under the supervision of the Health Committee of the Family Service Bureau of which Dr. Edward Mellus is chairman. Other members are Dr. Alton S. Pope, Dr. Henry D. Chadwick, Dr. Harold D. Cope, Mrs. Charles A. Riley, Dr. George F. H. Bowers, Mrs. Chester W. Tudbury, Rev. John A. Sheridan, Julius E. Warren, Mr. Robert S. Bowen, Miss Adelaide B. Ball, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay.

The sale of the Christmas Health Seals is conducted by the Federation of Women's Clubs for the Family Service Bureau, and is affiliated with the Massachusetts Tuberculosis League. The committee for the 1940 sale has Miss Adelaide B. Ball as general chairman, assisted by Mrs. Paul H. Drake, Newton; Mrs. Frank L. Aurelio, Newtonville; Mrs. Ethel P. Leach, West Newton; Mrs. Susan Tuttle, Auburndale; Mrs. Harold Busse, Newton Lower Falls; Mrs. E. Payson Upham, Waban; Mrs. William A. Camp, Newton Highlands; Miss Doris Brown, Newton Upper Falls; Miss Grace L. Rogers, Newton Centre; Mrs. Reuben Grynish, Chestnut Hill.

"Iolanthe" To Be Given Dec. 13-14 At Newton Centre

On Friday and Saturday evenings, December 13th and 14th, at 8:15 o'clock this, the fifth in the series of Gilbert and Sullivan Operas, will be presented at the Newton Centre Woman's Clubhouse. Iolanthe was first produced simultaneously at the Savoy Theatre, London and the Standard Theatre, New York, on Saturday, November 25, 1882.

Perhaps the finest orchestration of them all is found in this opera with its lovely Arcadian setting and always whimsical, clever and witty dialogue. For Sir W. S. Gilbert's lyrics, Sir Arthur Sullivan has written some of his daintiest and most tuneful melodies. You will leave the auditorium humming the stirring March of the Peers or the lilting Finale Waltz.

To add greatly to the brilliance of the production this year, there will be a Fairy Ballet by a group from the Sands-Welch School of the Dance with Ruth Randolph as solo dancer.

As formerly the opera will be coached and conducted by Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock and the accompanist will be Mrs. Reginald Eastman. The production staff and cast are as follows:

A PROCLAMATION

The people of Newton well know the fine work which is carried on as a result of the sale of Christmas Seals. The campaign against tuberculosis must go on, and the purchase of these Seals not only provides necessary funds, but serves to remind our citizens of the necessity of this important health measure.

The cooperation of Newton citizens in the purchase of Christmas Seals is earnestly solicited.

Upper Falls Folks Claim City Has Discriminated

Residents of Keefe ave. and Pennsylvania ave., Newton Upper Falls, came to city hall on Monday night, some to favor a petition to have Keefe ave. improved and accepted, others to object to the petition. The majority were in favor. Mrs. Fannie Schiavone, of 28 Keefe ave., told the Aldermen that the street is located between two other unaccepted streets, is an inlet and outlet to the Upper Falls playground, carries much traffic and is in a deplorable condition. She said the city raised the land where the playground is located, and since water from there flows into Keefe ave. During the summer months this water remains in holes on Keefe ave. and becomes stagnant. She stated that although Pennsylvania ave. is an unaccepted street the city has placed a hard surface on it, and the water from it also drains onto Keefe ave.

Leonardo Candella of 18 Keefe ave. said he has resided there since 1908, and since the city built a wall along side the playground, Keefe ave. has been a river after each storm. He says there is water on the street all the year, and it causes sickness. In summer the dust is so thick, residents on that street cannot open windows in their homes. Mr. Candella said that each Spring the Street Department patches up Pennsylvania ave., and the steam roller has been used to hard surface that unaccepted street. He said that Pennsylvania ave. residents get everything from the city, perhaps because they have a pull, while Keefe ave. is neglected. On a show of hands, 18 present expressed themselves in favor of having that street improved.

Arthur Scipione of Newtonville appeared as attorney for owners of three properties on Keefe ave., who object to the improvement of the street. Scipione argued that his clients would lose their properties if they have to pay the betterment assessments, as they receive small wages and owe taxes now. He stated that only 40% of the street's frontage is owned by those wanting it accepted.

Three Newton Teachers Resign

At the meeting of the Newton School Committee on last Monday night resignations of three teachers were accepted. Dorothy Carle, special teacher of reading, resigned to accept the position of supervisor of elementary education in the Gloucester schools. Others whose resignations were accepted are—Helen T. Winslow of the Williams School; and Ruth Malambre, science assistant at Newton High School. Carl Chase, teacher of industrial arts at Newton High, was granted a year's leave of absence to serve as a captain of Coast Artillery in Virginia.

The School Committee approved October expenditures as follows: regular schools, $117,574; trade school, $6847; training program salaries, $1299; other expenses, $1195.

Community Forum Will Discuss Youth

Jack R. McMichael, Jr., a student at Union Theological Seminary in New York City and for two successive terms Chairman of the American Youth Congress, will have as his subject "What Youth Wants" at the Newton Community Forum next Sunday afternoon in the High School Auditorium. A panel of young Newtonians, all graduates of the Newton High School, will discuss what youth wants with Mr. McMichael.

This meeting should be of interest to adults for finding out how youth feels and thinks about current affairs to youth for getting a different point of view on its own problems, to all civic-minded people who feel that the future of our country is in youth's hands.

Want Playground Developed For Use At Newtonville

The Newtonville Improvement Association has sent a communication to the Newton Recreation Department asking that part of the 18 acres of land purchased by the city two years ago from Percy E. Woodward of Highland ave., Newtonville for playground purposes, be developed at once for such a purpose. The communication specifies that the land to be developed is that located at Watertown st. and Albemarle rd. and extending along Albemarle rd. for about 500 feet. A playground for children, and an athletic field for pupils of the Frank A. Day Junior high school is desired.

Much of the 18 acres purchased two years ago by the city was used as a part of the Albemarle golf links, and four holes of the golf links are now on this land. The area which the Improvement Association asks the city to develop at once, is not that on which the golf links are located.

Lasell Orchestra To Give Concerts

The first of three concerts scheduled for this season by the Lasell Community Orchestra will take place 8:15 on Tuesday evening, December 3 at the Winslow Auditorium of the Lasell Junior College on Maple st., Auburndale.

Mr. George S. Dunham, conductor of the orchestra for the past three seasons has selected a varied and interesting program which includes: Haydn's "Symphony No. 8 in B Major" and Tchaikovsky's "Andante Cantabile from Symphony No. 5."

Miss Barbara Mauroyenis, appearing as soloist in Puccini's well-known aria from Madame Butterfly, is a senior at Lasell Junior College and is studying voice under the direction of Miss Mary Williams.

Past performances by the Lasell Community Orchestra have attracted capacity audiences and those desiring the best seats are urged to come early. As always, there will be no charge for admission and everyone is cordially invited.

New Ordinance Creates Minimum Size For Home Sites In the Newtons

Aldermen Act In Accord With Demand To Stop Crowding of Houses

The Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night, by a vote of 18 to 3, took the most important step to assure Newton's continuance as an attractive residential community since the zoning ordinance was passed in 1922, when they accepted the new ordinance which divides the city into five residential zones, and established minimum lot sizes for residences. The details of the new ordinance are printed elsewhere in this issue of the GRAPHIC.

Alderman George Rawson, as chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee, spoke at length on the new ordinance. He said that for many years it had been customary for real estate developers in this city to keep gentlemen's agreement with the Planning Board on laying out new developments, and matters had worked out satisfactorily. In recent years, however, outsiders had been developing real estate in Newton and in a number of cases, which he cited, they had not conformed to plans they had agreed to with the Planning Board, but had subdivided old estates into small lots. He said that in 1938 Alderman Colby had referred to this as a detriment to the city's future, and the Aldermen then accepted a State law which gave the Planning Board power to control the laying out of new streets. However, this Board did not have power to order house lots to be of minimum sizes, so, in 1938 the Planning Board and the Aldermen agreed to engage the services of Professor Adams of M. I. T. to make a survey of the city preparatory to establishing minimum sizes for house lots in varying sections.

Mr. Rawson said that Prof. Adams made a very careful study of the city, and his recommendations were based on the average sizes of lots in each section of Newton. Mr. Rawson said that three public hearings on the proposed ordinance were held last May after having been duly advertised, and these hearings were largely attended. At them the proposed ordinance was favored by large numbers of citizens, including about every improvement association in this city. He told of the action of the Aldermen on Oct. 11 in ordering a final hearing on Nov. 4. Four hearings were held when the law only requires one. He said that he had received a great many letters and phone calls favoring the ordinance, but that a group of Newton realtors started to oppose the ordinance after the last hearing had been ordered. Mr. Rawson said these objectors had been requested to make suggestions in writing, had done so, but the Claims and Rules Committee and the Planning Board did not judge the suggestions constructive enough to adopt.

Mr. Rawson told how persons who had objected to the zoning ordinance in 1922 later became strong supporters of that ordinance, and that Mayor Childs, who twice vetoed the 1922 zoning ordinance, also became a co-operative in furthering stricter zoning of Newton. Rawson said it is time that action should be taken on specifying minimum sizes for house lots in Newton. He told of former Newton residents moving to Weston and Wellesley because these towns restrict lot sizes to a much greater degree than the Newton ordinance will do. Mr. Rawson said that many persons had signed petitions recently circulated by some Newton realtors opposing the ordinance because they had been misinformed. He referred to one man who had been told he could not rebuild his two-family house if it were burned, when such is not the case. He also said that ample provision is made in the new ordinance to grant building permits on lots under the specified sizes when conditions call for such waivers. Rawson said the Aldermen are trustees of Newton's future, and should pass the ordinance to prevent much bad real estate development in this city in the future.

Alderman Hoffman asked that action on the ordinance be postponed. He admitted that there had been plenty of time given to the consideration of the ordinance, but some of those now objecting had not given the matter much attention. He argued that the Aldermen might have a tendency to look down on real estate brokers, even as Congress looks down on financial brokers. He said that if an old estate must be subdivided into 4 lots instead of 6 lots, less will be received for the property, and the city will receive less taxes. He claimed that of all cities assessed for high values, Brookline and Newton are the only two where assessments are above the market value, and this is the cause of the high cost of government in these two places. Hoffman moved that the matter of the lot zoning be placed on the table and action postponed.

Alderman Temperley agreed in principle with the report of the Claims and Rules Committee on restricting lot sizes and referred to the monstrosities of houses which have been built in Newton the past few years. He said we can't be too strong against too small lots, but we must bear in mind that property owners are more concerned than the Aldermen. He agreed with the realtors who want a 6000 square foot minimum instead of the 7000 minimum. Alderman Hoffman's motion to lay the matter on the table was Rawson said the Aldermen are trustees of Newton's future, and should pass the ordinance to prevent much bad real estate development in this city in the future.

Alderman Colby referred to the intimation made by some real estate men that the Aldermen were trying to put something over on the citizens. He repeated the details given by Alderman Rawson of the long period over which the proposed ordinance had been discussed, the numerous hearings and the publicity which had been given this matter in a number of newspapers. He commented that if the realtors opposing the ordinance now, had read the newspaper, they would have known what the Aldermen were doing, and it was only last month they asked for further postponement on this matter. Referring to the placing of the Farlow Hill section in Class A, single residence zone, Colby said that nearly all the property owners in that section had asked for such action after they had become aroused by the building of three houses in that neighborhood on lots with 50 feet frontage, and near costly residences. He told of several large estates in that district owned by old persons, which will probably be on the market in the near future, and the apprehension that they might be subdivided into small lots, unless precautions were taken. Mr. Colby told of having been phoned that day by a real estate man who opposed the ordinance because it would allegedly cause him to lose some commissions. Colby said he had a much stronger duty toward the thousands of home owners in this city, and he hoped the Aldermen would vote unanimously in favor of the ordinance.

Alderman Hoffman asked that action on the ordinance be postponed. He admitted that there had been plenty of time given to the consideration of the ordinance, but some of those now objecting had not given the matter much attention. He argued that the Aldermen might have a tendency to look down on real estate brokers, even as Congress looks down on financial brokers. CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE

With the end of November our thoughts turn to the approaching Christmas season. There is one letter which most of have come to accept as a tradition of the season. It is the letter that brings our Christmas seals. It is a little thing to do when we send back our dollar to our local chairman of the Health Seal campaign. Yet it is a thing which accomplishes a great deal of good. Tuberculosis is not yet conquered but the battle against it has been a winning one. Through the years we have conquered the despair that once was associated with the mention of the dread disease. We know that if we suspect its presence early enough and start the battle against it in time that much can be accomplished. More persons from the teen age to forty-five are its victims than from any other disease. It is statistically estimated that one person dies from the disease every eight minutes. Tuberculosis can be eradicated if every one will take part in the campaign. Your contribution by the purchase of Health Seals for Christmas is used locally. Do your part.

A BELOVED CHARACTER

Ninety-six years of one of the most beautiful lives which it has been our privilege to know has come to an end. Mary E. Soden has gone home. Words could never describe her character. To say that she was kind and gentle is far from adequate. To say she was thoughtful and sympathetic is far from truly expressive. Her personality radiated all that is finest and best in this material world. Her life was an inspiration to her legion of friends and acquaintances. She touched the hearts of many. Though she has gone from this earth the memory of her beloved character will remain in the hearts and minds of those who were privileged to have known the beauty of her life.

THANKSGIVING DAY SERVICE

On Thanksgiving Day morning at 10:45 o'clock First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newton, held a Thanksgiving Day service in the church edifice, 391 Walnut st., Newton.

Following the prelude, the congregation joined in singing the hymn, "Praise, my Soul, the King of heaven; To His feet thy tribute bring," No. 280 in the Christian Science Hymnal.

The Thanksgiving Proclamation by the Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts was then read by Mr. Paul R. Cormack, the First Reader.

The Scriptural selections were read by the First Reader. The congregation then united in silent prayer which was followed by the Lord's Prayer with its spiritual interpretation from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

Hymn No. 342 "This is the day the Lord hath made, Be Glad, give thanks, rejoice"; was then sung by the congregation.

This was followed by the Lesson-Sermon especially prepared for Thanksgiving Day. The subject of this Lesson-Sermon was "Thanksgiving" and had for the Golden Text: "Rejoice in the Lord, ye righteous; and give thanks at the remembrance of his holiness" (Psalms 97:12).

After the responsive reading which consisted of passages taken from the Scriptures, Mrs. Mary D. McKee, the Second Reader, read the citations from the Bible while Mr. Cormack, the First Reader, read correlative passages from Science and Health.

Among the Scriptural verses was included: "Rejoice in the Lord always; again I say, Rejoice. . . Be careful for nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God" (Philippians 4:4, 6).

Among the citations from Science and Health was: "The earth, at God's command, brings forth food for man's use. Knowing this, Jesus once said, 'Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, —presuming not on the prerogative of his creator, but recognizing God, the Father and Mother of all, as able to feed and clothe man as He doth the lilies" (p. 530).

A solo "Make a Joyful Noise" by James G. MacDermid was sung by Mrs. Virginia Sadtler after the Lesson-Sermon had been concluded. Testimonies appropriate to the occasion were then given by Christian Scientists in the congregation. Expressions of gratitude for healings and benefits received during the past year filled the time given to this part of the service.

The closing hymn was No. 150 "In mercy, in goodness, how great is our King," and was followed by the Scientific Statement of Being from the Christian Science textbook, and the correlative passage from I John 3:1-3 read by the First Reader.

The service was concluded with the benediction from II Corinthians Chapter 9 Verses 8 and 11.

Similar services in observance of Thanksgiving Day are held by The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, and its branches throughout the United States.

Cautious Beggar

Beggars may not be choosers, but they should at least be careful, believes Patrick Murray. When Judge Edward Luczak of Chicago fined Murray on a begging charge, the jurist asked why Murray carried two pairs of rubber gloves. "A man can't be too careful about money these days," Murray said. "So much of it has germs on it."

EDWARD H.

Powers' Paragraphs

It seems to us that Congressman Martin Dies and his committee could accomplish more in checking alleged subversive influences if the Congressman eschewed so much publicity. Incidentally, Mr. Dies is giving more attention to Nazi and Fascist influences now than he did in the past, when Communist activities appeared to concern him more.

The "scare" at the Charlestown Navy Yard on Monday, caused by a telephone message from a drunk that someone would plant a high explosive there, was somewhat ridiculous. To prevent a recurrence of such an episode, it might be possibly considered that the workmen at the navy yard carry their lunches in transparent boxes, or wrapped in cellophane.

On Monday night 18 of the Newton Board of Aldermen voted in favor of a new ordinance which establishes minimum sizes for house lots in this city, and zones Newton into five types of residence districts, according to size of house lot, setbacks from the street and side lines, and frontages. It is quite probable that the percentage of Newton property owners and residents who favor the ordinance is at least as large in proportion as the percentage of the Board of Aldermen who voted for it.

The new ordinance is the result of demands by Newton property owners over a period of several years for protection against the exploitation of this city by real estate developers, nearly all of whom were non-residents of Newton, who have been acquiring old properties and subdividing them into as many small lots as possible. Those who have been doing this have no pride in Newton's standing as one of the most attractive residential communities in this country, and care nothing for its future. They realized the popularity of Newton as Boston's outstanding suburb, and would use it to make as much profit as possible. If something were not done to check them, Newton would rapidly deteriorate from a city of attractive houses, surrounded by yards of fair size, into a residential community of less attractive homes, built closely together on small lots. It would cease to be a Newton which has attracted more home builders than any other city in this State over the past 20 years, and would evolve into a community resembling Boston's less attractive suburbs where mushroom real estate developments have been prevalent.

The writer has resided in Newton over a half-century and has seen it change from a city where many large, beautiful estates were located, into a community of homes built on moderate-size lots, but as yet not crowded. It is still the "Garden City." Members of the Planning Board, Aldermen Rawson, Colby and their colleagues, deserve commendation for conforming to the wishes of most Newton property owners in passing the ordinance which will curb those who are concerned with how much profit they can make on Newton's past and present attractiveness and have little or no concern for the city's future. We believe that any reasonable application which will be made to the Board of Aldermen in the future for exemptions in minimum lot sizes, will be granted without undue hardships being imposed on property owners.

Over 23 years ago Col. Henry D. Cormerais led Newton's own National Guard, Company C of the 101st Infantry, into action with the 26th Division in France as its captain. He and the Newton boys had a sufficient number of gory experiences in the World War of that period for the remainder of their lives. Col. Cormerais thought when he settled in an attractive old-fashioned home on Boylston st., Upper Falls, that he would live in peace for the remainder of his days. But, he was mistaken. That superhighway, the Worcester pike, was constructed along Boylston st., passing the Cormerais home. Since then, the Colonel has on frequent occasions, some of them during late night and wee morning hours, been disturbed by automobile accidents in front of, and near his home. Accidents in which a number of persons have been killed and many injured. He has endeavored for years to have a pedestrian signal installed at the bus stop on the turnpike near his home, a location where several pedestrians have been killed and injured. Traffic engineers of the State Department of Public Works agree that a signal should be placed there, but some lack of co-operation between city and State officials has delayed the installation of such a signal. Col. Cormerais also states that there should be a flashing light at the jutting masonry which divides the turnpike from the ramp leading down toward Chestnut st. and that traffic signals along the pike in Newton should be kept in operation all night long. We agree with him.

Last Saturday we had the privilege of another outing with our old friends Louis Gibbs and Leverett Bentley. Both are veteran newspaper men, and have had long experience in political life. Mr. Gibbs was formerly secretary to Congressman Gillette, who was Speaker of the House of Representatives. Mr. Bentley has for many years been State House representative of the Boston Globe. Both are ardent admirers of New England scenery. It would be difficult to find two more interesting companions. As we travelled through Middlesex County on our way toward North Leominster, where Louis had found a good place in which to eat, we went through Ayer and the days of 1917 and 1918 came back to us as we observed numerous young men in the familiar khaki uniforms.

Most of these new soldiers were clean-cut, intelligent appearing young fellows. None of them had been at Camp Devens over a few days. I wondered if they are not thinking the same thoughts as Devens over a score of years ago. Thinking of their transition from peaceful pursuits into an environment where they will be trained for that mass homicide which is known as War, and pondering why such a thing has to be. Most of the young men who enlisted or who were drafted in 1917 and 1918 were law-abiding, friendly youths who had never even committed assault and battery on a fellow human, much less had a desire to kill any man. It was abhorrent to most of them to be trained in the use of bayonets, rifles, and machine guns, but they dutifully engaged in this gruesome educational course because they were assured that they were to be participants in a war to end all wars, and to make this world safe for democracy. They helped to win that war, but in winning it, they did not end all wars, and they certainly did not make this world safe for democracy.

The young men now at Camp Devens are not being told that they are being trained for the purpose of ending all wars. They have been told that they are being trained to preserve democracy in this country at least. But, if these new members of the United States military forces will be plunged into war in the near future, it is probable that not only will such a war not end all wars, but it will also end democracy in the United States of America.

Not only is the U. S. A. at present burdened with the staggering cost of our National Defence Program, but now Britain is asking this country to finance its cost of continuing the war against the axis powers. If we become definitely involved in the contest for world domination between European and Asiatic empires, financing Britain as well as the U. S. A., will bankrupt this country, and as Ex-President Hoover and many other leading men have warned, will end democracy here.

We would suggest to those who want the U. S. A. to enter the war, that they read the "Declaration of Independence of the U. S. A." opening paragraphs of this immortal document can certainly be applied to Germany now, as they were applied to Great Britain in 1776. But other of the charges enumerated in that Declaration of Independence can still be applied to Britain, insofar as its domination over conquered, alien peoples is concerned. The war in Europe and elsewhere is not primarily a war in the interest of democracy. It is primarily a war between empires.

Unquestionably the British form of government, the British way of life, is more akin to ours than those advocated and practiced by the dictatorial governments of Germany, Italy and their allies. Unquestionably the great majority of the people of this country desire that Britain would win this war. But if Britain cannot withstand the increasing attacks by Germany on her homeland and her shipping, without the U. S. A. entering the war, and if the admitted unpreparedness of this country to engage in war means that by so doing, we shall either court defeat, or change our form of government from a democracy to that of a totalitarian country, might it not be well for those advocating that we enter this war, to ponder on the farewell address of George Washington. It is better that we remain a citadel of democracy for the present at least, than be sucked into the vortex of Nazism, Fascism or similar isms.

Our worthy citizen, Hon. Leverett Saltonstall of Chestnut Hill has been appointed Collector of the Port of Boston by President Cleveland. Mr. Saltonstall is a lawyer by profession and a graduate of Harvard, but he has not been engaged in active practice for some years. All Mt. Holyoke College alumnae, their husbands and friends are invited.

A correspondent who is evidently suffering from malaria wants to know how the candidates for Mayor, Mr. Pettie and Mr. Hibbard, stand on the sewerage question, and who of them thinks that Newton has enough of a population already, or that an increase is desirable? We cannot answer this question, but as Mr. Hibbard is now building two houses on the Silsbee estate, Hunnewell Hill, and plans to build six more, we assume he is in favor of an increase in our population, especially of good tenants who want all modern improvements. Our correspondent is in error when he speaks of deserted houses in Newton. A hundred more houses could have been rented in Newton Corner this autumn.

The members of the Omicron Young Men's Club are leaving late tomorrow afternoon for Camp Frank A. Day, where they plan to spend the week end. Two dinner affairs are scheduled for next week. The first will be a dorm dinner on Monday night, December 2nd and the second, the testimonial dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Bruton on Wednesday night. Both affairs will begin at 6:30.

The quartette has been meeting for the past few Wednesday nights for their regular practice. After the first of the year it is planned to have the group sing at some of the Y. M. C. A. functions.

The following boys are signed up for the Older Boy's Conference which is being held at Pittsfield on December 8, 9, 10: Robert Holmes, Donald Weeks, Carl Eschelbach, Bob McKenna, Billy Graham, William Rangan, Phil Teschner, Donn Ashley, Charles Coyer. Mr. Dale and Mr. Andrew, secretaries, will accompany the group.

A large group from the boy's division went into Boston this morning on a conducted tour of the Conkock Stained Glass Co.

The following boys lead in their respective tribes for number of coups earned: Creeks, Fred Rosena; Algonquins, Peter Uhlin; Delaware, Guy Ricker; Eries, Edgar Jett; Tacomans, J. Humphill; Sagamores Lawrence Wood.

The annual boy's department Christmas party will be held on Friday evening, December 20th, at the Y. The Cadet Division will hold their Christmas party on Saturday morning, the 21st.

55 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Nov. 14, 1885
It is well worth the price of admission to the Japanese Bazaar of the Channing Church to see the decorations. The banners are the work of A. C. Brackett, the designs being taken from examples of Japanese art.

It seems to be the wish of parents in Wards 1 and 7 that the public schools for the afternoon sessions begin at 1:30 and close at 3:30 instead of beginning at 2 and closing at 4. The light becomes very dim at 4 in the winter months. This change will soon take place in the Bigelow, Underwood and Lincoln schools.

The ministers of all religious bodies in the city are requested to give notice of the collection for the Newton Cottage Hospital. In most of the churches it will be on November 22. About $3000 per year will be needed to carry on this institution.

A carryall belonging to Mrs. S. A. D. Shepard of Belmont st. was badly wrecked on Monday by collision with a milk wagon driven by Edward Leahey.

Do not forget the testimonial concert to be given in Eliot Hall on November 16 for Mr. George Scates, a blind resident of Newton. Most of the performers will be blind persons. A large number of tickets have already been sold and the hall should be crowded.

The eighth anniversary of the Newton Y. M. C. A. was held in Eliot Hall last Sunday afternoon. Hugh Campbell conducted a praise service, Rev. Dr. Calkins read the Scriptures and Rev. J. B. Leonard led in prayer. A male chorus sang two pieces with great acceptance, and Mr. Lamb of Lowell sang two solos, "Cast Thy Bread Upon the Waters" and "We Have an Anchor." These were performed beautifully and had a marked effect upon the large audience. The treasurer's report showed receipts of $500 for the year.

A clothes-line thief, supposed to be a colored man named Frank, who had been working for Ben Perkins of West Newton, took the week's wash belonging to John Hawley last Monday.

The impostor with a hemorrhage has been in Auburndale, but unfortunately was not at once recognized as such. It was perhaps worth while to those he imposed upon to get him out of the village, if he went as far as his health as he said he was going to do.

The famous steam-shovel that fills a gravel car every time that it empties itself, has been at work on the new Circuit branch of the Boston & Albany the past week. Three hundred gravel cars a day take the loads into the Back Bay for filling. It is hoped that early next year the passenger cars will be running.

Our worthy citizen, Hon. Leverett Saltonstall of Chestnut Hill has been appointed Collector of the Port of Boston by President Cleveland. Mr. Saltonstall is a lawyer by profession and a graduate of Harvard, but he has not been engaged in active practice for some years. He has been a Democrat since the disruption of the Whig party and for many years has been a delegate from Massachusetts at national Democratic conventions.

Richard Morse of Newton Highlands caused his horse "Charlie" to be killed the past week. The animal had arrived at the good old age of 32 and up to the last showed good courage.

The annual boy's department Christmas party will be held on Friday evening, December 20th, at the Y. The Cadet Division will hold their Christmas party on Saturday morning, the 21st.

The Y basketball team got under way last Tuesday evening with an impressive win over the Cambridge Impediments. Next Tuesday the journey to Pawtucket for two games with the Smithfield Club and on Thursday to Lowell for a game with the Y team. The Hyde Park team will play here next Saturday.

In the swim contest, which is one of the events of the Semi-Annual Athletic Contest conducted by the Physical Department for the members of the boy's department, the following boys headed their respective divisions: Junior High, E. Cody; Evening Class, A. Gontile; Juniors, J. Carver; Intermediate, G. Lombardi; Seniors, A. Leone.

Seven events have been run so far in this contest and the leaders in each division are as follows up to last Saturday: High School, J. Coffey; Junior High, A. Stewart; Evening Class (High) V. Galvagno; Evening Class (Junior High), S. DeStefano; Juniors, R. Campbell. This contest still has several weeks to run, before it is completed and the winners decided.

This week completes the first round of the Bowling league with team 2 still in first place, but tied with them is team 3. Record for the high single to date is Sherman Irving with 131. Biggest score for 3 strings was rolled by John Ward, who totaled 334 in the league two weeks ago. Pat Layden and Harold Hugg, both members of team 8 hold the high average of 98.

Three homes in the Newtons will be opened on the evening of Tuesday, December 3rd, for a bridge to benefit the student aid fund of the Mount Holyoke Club of Boston. Mrs. Margaret W. Thompson, 33 Ripley st., Newton Centre, community chairman of the Newtons for the Boston Club, has arranged the evening of play, to begin at eight o'clock.

In Newtonville, Mrs. Albert P. Exerts will open her home at 114 Kirk-stall rd., where Mrs. Earl Millard will be chairman of the evening of bridge. At Mrs. Clinton W. Tylee's home at 53 Bigelow rd., West Newton, Mrs. F. Forest and Mrs. John S. Franklin, 3rd, will be co-chairmen. Third home to be opened for the bridge, will be that of Miss Marion E. White, 33 Beverly rd., Newton Highlands, with the chairman there to be Mrs. Joseph Barr.

All Mt. Holyoke College alumnae, their husbands and friends are invited.

A correspondent who is evidently suffering from malaria wants to know how the candidates for Mayor, Mr. Pettie and Mr. Hibbard, stand on the sewerage question, and who of them thinks that Newton has enough of a population already, or that an increase is desirable? We cannot answer this question, but as Mr. Hibbard is now building two houses on the Silsbee estate, Hunnewell Hill, and plans to build six more, we assume he is in favor of an increase in our population, especially of good tenants who want all modern improvements. Our correspondent is in error when he speaks of deserted houses in Newton. A hundred more houses could have been rented in Newton Corner this autumn.

The members of the Omicron Young Men's Club are leaving late tomorrow afternoon for Camp Frank A. Day, where they plan to spend the week end. After a devotional service on Sunday morning, led by Curtis Haug, club advisor, the club will have a meeting in which to discuss some important future plans. The group returns to Newton Sunday night.

Mr. Burt Shurtleff, formerly a professional football player and wrestler, will speak on "Wrestling Revelations" at the first Young Men's Nite, scheduled for Wednesday night, December 11th. He will demonstrate the many holds and answer all questions on any phase of this sport. Dinner will be served at 6:30.

Last Call To Serve
Newton Red Cross
In Roll Call Funds

The Newton Chapter of Red Cross has greater need of funds to carry forward the many branches of its vital work than ever before. The Annual Roll Call, which takes place yearly during the month of November, is the opportunity for Newton people to show their appreciation of the value of this organization. During the next few days there must be prompt and generous response if the budget so sorely needed is to be secured. As yet only about a third of the quota has been obtained, with only 3600 having joined as members. In order to fulfill obligations at home and to give the assistance asked for by the United States Government in its program of National Defense, its budget is increased nearly one third, as may be easily realized it would be.

So much information has been given during the past few months as to the work of the Production Department, of which Mrs. Carl H. Hanson is general chairman, and Mrs. David B. Galloway, chairman, of knitting; Mrs. Stanley Livingstone, chairman of sewing; and Mrs. William L. Young, chairman of Surgical Dressings; that there is hardly need to repeat the splendid avenues of work in this field.

The service of the Gray Ladies, of which Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Jr., of Waban, is chairman, has also been brought to attention so recently that this, too, remains in memory. Two Gray Ladies have served during the past year 179 hours at Bedford Hospital, doing kindly things for the veterans there; writing letters, reading to them; arranging flowers and gifts. At the Newton Hospital others have served.

The classes in First Aid, in Home Hygiene; the work in Braille, also have been in the public eye recently. But there is other splendid, efficient, generous service going forward quietly which has not been brought to mind for sometime, and it deserves mention. In the Motor Corps Department, in charge of Mrs. Joel M. Barnes, Captain, seventy different drivers in the past year have given 1605 hours, and made 3457 calls, in assisting patients, to the number of 1274, and 381 attendants, to go to 42 hospitals, sanatoria, clinics, and doctors in Boston, as well as in Newton. It can never be realized what the blessings and assistance to the ill and to their families have been through this branch alone of activity of the Newton Chapter.

Today a picture accompanies this item which presents some of the women who have accomplished this splendid task. Their work has been greatly augmented by the war work of knitting, sewing, and surgical dressings, for the eleven villages in Newton. The G. A. R. parade on the 30th of May was supplied, too, with five cars to carry the colors and the veterans and others unable to march.

The children must not be forgotten in their Red Cross Junior work, too. And the Home Service Department which aids so greatly many Newton families in various problems.

In the Life Savings work, during the past year, in order that young people might learn to swim and to save life, 974 hours were given to boy non-swimmers and 640 hours to boy intermediates. Not to mention many other courses.

That all these branches of vital work for the people of Newton may continue, those who can join the Roll Call should do so at once, and send their contributions to Chapter Headquarters, 12 Austin st., Newtonville, with the knowledge that they are aiding one of the finest organizations of America to function in their home city.

LYDIA PARTRIDGE WHITING
CHAPTER, D. A. R.

A cooking demonstration is to be the next activity of the Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R., under the auspices of the Boston Consolidated Gas Co. in the dining room of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church on December 6th at 10:45 a. m.

Miss Margaret P. Fossett will have for her subject "Holiday Entertaining."

"Morning Coffee" will be served by Mrs. Frank A. Shute and her committee. Mrs. Harris W. Langley, Mrs. Richard E. Pope, Mrs. Richard A. Cody, Mrs. Frank G. Voorhies, Mrs. Loren F. Fletcher, Mrs. Charles S. Logan, Mrs. Norman W. Davidson, Mrs. H. F. LaFayette, Mrs. Robert Pillow, Mrs. Edward W. Egan and Mrs. Myron L. Cudworth, also the door prizes will be drawn. Tickets may be obtained from members of the committee or at the door.

The November meeting of the Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R., was held at the "Work Shop" of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands. Dessert was served at 1:30 p. m. by Mrs. Harris W. Langley assisted by her committee. Mrs. Jas. Cooper, regent in the chair, called the meeting to order. A peace message was read by Mrs. Esmond S. Rice. Mrs. Ruth B. McHale of Stoneham, Mass., accompanied by Mrs. Harlan Cook of Maynard, Mass., sang a group of songs. The speaker of the afternoon Captain Wallace F. Safford, was introduced by the regent. His subject was "Natural Defense and International Affairs," which was very enlightening—and gave one much food for thought. A question period followed, at the close of which Mr. Donald McKay spoke briefly on his proposed plan to erect a memorial on the shores of Crystal Lake to Samuel Francis Smith, author of America, a former resident and pastor of Newton.

Mr. McKay exhibited a model of the proposed park and memorial. Mrs. Ruth B. McHale closed the afternoon by a second group of songs.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

Mr. Elliott James, lecturer, presented Liquid Air Demonstrations at the Tuesday morning assembly. The foods class of the Home Economics Department was at home to members of the faculty on Tuesday afternoon.

The Thanksgiving recess began Wednesday afternoon, and students will return to their work on Monday morning.

Recent Weddings

IVERS—JOHNSON

Miss Helen Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton G. Johnson of 4 Charlotte rd., Newton Centre, was married to John J. Ivers of New Haven, Connecticut, at 8 o'clock, on Saturday evening, November 23, in Christ Church, Cambridge. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edmund A. Steinle and Rev. Norman D. Gothering. A reception was held following the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of ivory satin with a long white net veil caught to a coronet and carried a white bible with orchids. The maid of honor, Miss Dorothy Cederberg of Cambridge, wore turquoise blue trimmed with dubonnet and carried talisman roses and dubonnet chrysanthemum buds. The bride's mother wore wine velvet and the groom's mother wore turquoise blue.

William B. Horton of New Haven was the best man. The ushers were Henry Ebinger of Rawley, Robert Ivers and Thomas Ivers of Newark, Conn., and Philip Johnson of Newton Centre.

The groom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ivers, is assistant manager of the Eastern Engineering Company at New Haven. He is a graduate of Yale University.

ROBBLEE—GARRITY

Miss Frances A. Garrity of 42 Grove st., Chelsea, was married to William J. Robblee, son of Mrs. Jane Robblee of 1492 Washington st., West Newton on Saturday morning, November 23, at a nuptial mass in St. Rose's Church, Chelsea. Rev. Thomas P. Garrity, pastor of St. Polycarp's Church, Somerville, a cousin of the bride, performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Robert D. Garrity. She wore a gown of white satin in princess style and a veil was caught to a Juliet cap of pearls. Her bouquet was of white chrysanthemums. Miss Marie E. Garrity, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore powder blue taffeta and carried gold chrysanthemums. Harold F. Robblee of West Newton, brother of the groom was the best man. The ushers were Thomas F. Garrity of Medford, brother of the bride, and Thomas C. Hughes of Newton, cousin of the groom.

Rev. Joseph Brocken of St. Patrick's Church, a cousin of the bride, and Rev. Thomas Boland of West Newton were seated within the sanctuary.

The bride attended St. Rose's School and the Chelsea High School. Mr. Robblee attended the Newton High School.

Olde Englede Relives in Colorful St. Mary's Bazaar

Quaint Towns, Carol Singers (in old English garb), Plum Puddings and Burning Yulelogs glorify the setting for the "Yuletide Bazaar" to be held by the St. Mary's Church of Newton Lower Falls on December 3rd and 4th from ten in the morning until ten at night. This will be the first event to take place in the newly completed Parish Hall.

Candy canes, eight feet tall, decorated the Sweet Shop where there will be "goodies galore" to tempt patrons of the Fair. Mrs. Fred Spring and Mrs. Howard Lewis are co-chairmen.

Gingerbread men sit atop a rustic tavern front of the Food Booth of which Mrs. Herbert Greenhalgh is chairman, while gleaming red candles illuminate carol singers heading the "Old Crafts" Booth. A quaint little Plum Pudding offers for sale a book of "Olde English Recipes," chairman, Mrs. Schofield and to climax it all the men of the parish will hold forth in well spaced off corners of the new parish hall with turkey winning games of skill and a professional game which has taken the country by storm "Dictator." Fun is in store for everyone from the youngest to the oldest with Marionette shows staged twice daily—and a festive holiday dinner and clever side tickling dramatic sketches. This bazaar will prove to be an innovation in church Fairs.

Salvation Army

Clergymen, business and professional leaders, and well known women make up the sponsoring group of the annual appeal of the Salvation Army, in Newton. The objective is $5000, with Douglas B. Francis, of 35 Meadowbrook rd., Newton Centre, again leading the backers of the financial effort and William M. Cahill, of the Newton Trust Company, once more serving as treasurer of the campaign.

During this week hundreds of Newton men and women are receiving a letter signed by Mr. Francis, in which he begs a favorable response. The letter reads, in part:

"Your participation in the 1940 annual appeal of the Salvation Army in Newton is invited. In the year that marks the sixtieth anniversary of the Army's work in the United States and the seventy-fifth year since its founding, your help is asked so that the Army may continue its work of restoring faith and hope in hearts of friendless men and women."

"The Evangeline Booth Home and Hospital will continue to reach out to every part of the State so that unmarried mothers and their babies may find a haven. The homeless man—the woman who has been lost in the economic turmoil of our day will be given food, a place to sleep, yes, clothing. You will be aiding to stem the tide of juvenile delinquency through the Army's boys' club program and the service rendered to boys, girls, tired mothers and their babies, at 'Wonderland,' the Fresh Air Camp at Sharon."

The sponsoring committee includes: Paul M. Goddard, Charles L. Abbott, Miss Bertha W. Allen, J. Weston Allen, a member of the Greater Boston Advisory Board of the Army; Rev. M. Russell Boynton, D.D., William F. Chase, Edwin O. Childs, Mrs. Herbert M. Cole, Frank A. Day, Frederic B. Eastman, John N. Eaton, Rev. Ray A. Eusden, D.D., Edward J. Frost, William A. Brookline Scores
Twice To Offset
Beatty's Kickoff Run

The 1940 high school football season is now history. The local schedule was completed yesterday morning at the Dickinson stadium in the annual Thanksgiving Day battle between Newton and Brookline High Schools. Coming from behind the visiting Brookline eleven in the second period evened an opening-play score by Newton and punched across another tally in the third period to grab a well-earned 13 to 6 victory. It marked the first time since 1926 that a Brookline team has chalked up two consecutive wins over Newton in their annual grid-fest.

Francis Kelly was the "skating" star of the morning performance after Joe Beatty has raised the curtain with an 85 yard touchdown run that sent the Newton fans into an ecstasy of delight. Kelly tossed the pass which brought the Brookline equalizing tally, scored the winning touchdown and generally was the thorn in Newton's side all morning, carrying on three of every four plays. The visitors outshone Newton piling up nine first downs to the locals five and gaining 306 yards from scrimmage to Newton's 64. Joe Beatty's punting repeatedly turned back Brookline threats. The Brookline defense halted Newton, batting down and intercepting passes at vital moments. The visiting eleven completed but one of several passes but that completion was perfectly accomplished.

First Period

Captain Ed Nixon's kickoff nestled into Joe Beatty's arms on the Newton 15-yard line. The Newton star headed straight up the center of the field. Timely blocking helped to clear his path and he reached the end zone without a hand being laid upon him to put Newton out front 6 to 0. Newton fans were convinced it was going to be another orange-and-black day. But they reckoned without the knowledge of the inspiration which Kelly put into his mates. Following the Newton score the teams battled back and forth with Kelly punting at the Newton line. The period came to a close Joe Beatty set Brookline back on its heels with a quick kick which rolled into the end zone. Putting the ball in play from their own 20-yard line Brookline started. A couple of plays were run off before the teams changed ends of the field.

Second Period

Kelly threw the bit right back into Newton's teeth with a long bounding, skidding punt that came to a stop on the Newton 10-yard line. Shortly after Brookline gained possession of the ball on a return punt to midfield. Taking to the air Brookline found Dick Lowry, Newton's centre, intercepting a Kelly pass on the Newton 45 yard line. Brookline cheer leaders brought out brooms and carpet sweepers painted a bright scarlet and began cleaning up parts of the field. Newton's band formed a turkey as part of their maneuvers which brought applause from the stands.

Third Period

Joe Beatty brought the kickoff back to the Newton 30 where he slipped on an icy spot and was downed. On the next play Newton fumbled and Bill Bowen recovered for Brookline. Kelly split the line for 5 yards and a Newton holding penalty brought Brookline to the 8-yard line for a first down and scoring territory in sight. Two cracks at the line by Kelly brought the ball to the three yard line. On a short side play to the left Kelly headed for the line but cut sharply around end to beat the Newton secondary to the goal line in the far corner of the field. Nixon's placekick try was good although Newton seemed to have extra time to block the ball as the pass from centre was none too good.

Fourth Period

Newton again rallied in a vain attempt to tie the score. Two opportunities in the final period went a glimmering. Captain Bob Beatty gave Newton its first chance by recovering a loose Brookline ball on the visitor's 35 yard stripe. A pass play found Johnny Nason, Brookline end, Johnny-on-the-spot, spearing the ball with a one-handed grab to turn the tables. Late Newton received a punt on its own thirty. A Beatty kick of 13 yards and a Beatty to Fahey pass for 20 yards more put Newton again into Brookline territory but once more a pass interception spoiled the march with Joe Guley, Brookline centre, the Brookline hero of the moment. The game ended a few plays later after Brookline had punted to the Newton 20 and McLoughlin, Brookline reserve end, covered a fumble in the Newton backfield.

HIGHLIGHTS

The field was in surprisingly good condition following the storm. Clearing weather came Wednesday in time for Newton officials to get the essential work of clearing the field accomplished with the assistance of the recreation department. Seventy one boys under the supervision of Director of Physical Education Frank Simmons tackled the task of clearing seats in the stands. In a four-hour stretch of duty some 3400 seats were available. From the top of the stadium the playing field looked like a huge hockey rink with snow banked sides.

The morning sun and the players' feet melted much of the thin glaze of ice which the night's drizzle had left and the excellent drainage system in the field found many parts of the field in fair condition. Patches of snow and ice here and there made several players slip and fall.

The snowbanks around the field made it nice for the players when forced off the field. Instead of being tossed to the ground, they nestled into the soft snow like scurrying rabbits taking to a wily fox.

One of Joe Beatty's kicks over the Brookline goal bounded over the snowbank at the end zone and skidded another thirty-five yards across the snow chased by an assistant manager, equipped for such an emergency with high boots.

Between the halves the usual battle of bands took place. The Brookline cheer leaders brought out brooms and carpet sweepers painted a bright scarlet and began cleaning up parts of the field. Newton's band formed a turkey as part of their maneuvers which brought applause from the stands.

Malicious Damage To Patrolman Taffe's Car

Some vandal, who apparently had a grudge against Patrolman Ray Taffe of the Newton police, poured emery dust into the oil inlet of Taffe's automobile while it was parked in the driveway at his home, 58 Southgate Park, West Newton, last Friday night. When Taffe drove the car on Saturday, the emery dust worked into the motor of the car, ruining it. Patrolman Taffe and Sergeant Bannon are endeavoring to learn the identity of the vandal.

RECENT DEATHS

MARY E. SODEN

Mrs. Mary E. Soden of 5 Park pl., Newtonville, died on Nov. 27. She was the widow of Arthur H. Soden, for many years one of the owners of the Boston National League baseball club. Mrs. Soden was born in Saxtonville, 96 years ago, and had resided in Newtonville for 72 years. During that long period she had been a member of the Newtonville Methodist Church, and for 25 years was president of the Women's Society of that church. She was a charter member of the Newtonville Women's Club. At the age of 85, she compiled a grandmother's scrapbook, and she wrote a poem for her 90th birthday.

Mrs. Soden is survived by three granddaughters, Mrs. Edith R. Coleman of Philadelphia, Mrs. Alysce S. Rust of Newton Highlands, and Mrs. Marjorie Y. Corliss of Sunapee, New Hampshire; and two brothers, Charles Simpson of Westway and William Simpson of Westwood. Her funeral service will be held at her late home on Saturday at 2 p. m. Rev. Lawrence Emig and Rev. J. Franklin Knotts will officiate. Burial will be in Newton Cemetery.

JOSEPH HARRIS

Joseph Harris of 185 Highland ave., Newtonville, died on Nov. 22nd in his 92nd year. He was born in East Greenwich, Rhode Island, and was a descendant of Roger Williams and William Harris, settlers of Rhode Island. Mr. Harris as a young man was engaged in business in Providence for 20 years, and was a founder of the Providence Lithograph Company. He then became associated with the Lockwood, Green Co. of Boston and became treasurer of that corporation.

Mr. Harris had been prominently identified with Baptist church activities. He was a charter member of the Cranston Street Baptist Church of Providence, for 30 years a deacon of the Winter Hill Baptist Church in Somerville, and a member of the Boston Baptist Social Union. He is survived by two sons, J. Roy Harris of Somerville and Gorham Harris of Newtonville, and four grandsons. His funeral service was held last Sunday at Boyce Brothers Funeral Chapel in Providence, and interment was in Old North Cemetery in that city.

ELLA J. PROUT

Funeral services for Ella J. Prout, widow of Captain John Prout, of Bridgeport, Conn., were held Monday, Nov. 25th at the funeral home of Henry E. Bishop, Fairfield ave., Bridgeport, Conn. Mrs. Prout passed away Nov. 22nd at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edward Pease of 45 Shorecliffe rd., Newton.

She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Edward Pease of Newton, by two granddaughters, Doris Pease of Newton and Mrs. Paul Meyer of Bridgeport, Conn., and by two great-grandsons, Paul Meyer, Jr. and Peter Meyer of Bridgeport, Conn.

MARY E. DUNN

Miss Mary E. Dunn of 97 Adams st., Nonantum, one of that district's most respected residents, died suddenly of heart disease at her home on November 21. She was born in Nonantum 72 years ago, the daughter of Patrick and Ellen (Gaffney) Dunn. She was a member of the Sodality at Our Lady's Church. Her funeral service was held at that church on Monday morning. Rev. Russell Haley was the celebrant of the solemn requiem mass, and read the committal prayers at St. Patrick's cemetery in Watertown. Miss Dunn is survived by several nephews and nieces.

ROBERT MacGREGOR

The funeral of the late Robert MacGregor, who died of pneumonia on Nov. 22, was held on Sunday at the home of his son, Donald, at 117 Summer st., Watertown. Mr. MacGregor was a retired employee of the Boston & Albany Railroad, and a former resident of Newton. He is survived by three sons, Robert G., Donald M., and Archibald of Whitier, Calif., and a daughter, Catherine, who is Mrs. Ernest Kirkbride of Los Angeles, Calif.

Newton Autoist In Wild Drive

A motorist who identified himself as N. C. Smith of 16 Marlboro st., Newton, created considerable excitement on Sunday in Brookline and Jamaica Plain when the car he was driving hit several automobiles and he was pursued by operators of the cars damaged. Smith's car first hit an automobile driven by Sydney Brodie of Harvard ave., Allston, ripping off a door. Next, according to police, Smith's car hit an automobile on Harvard st., Brookline. The next target of Smith's car was a car driven by Samuel Gorsky of Brookledge rd., Roxbury. Gorsky tried to bring Smith's car to a stop by turning off the motor. He grabbed the ignition key, but did not turn off the motor and Smith continued on.

The fourth car allegedly crashed by Smith's veering automobile was one driven by Ernest Stahl of Jamaica Plain. Following this crash, Smith drove his car into a pasture on the large Brandegee estate at Jamaica Plain, where it was pursued and surrounded by cars driven by several angry motorists. Smith locked the doors and windows of his car, his pursuers notified the police and they arrested Smith.

Autoists Fined In Newton Court

Inspector Dowling of the Traffic Bureau was the complainant against seven autoists in the Newton court last Thursday on charges of speeding. Daniel Leone of 13 Faxon st., Nonantum and Ernest Systrom of Kysling rd., Wellesley each were fined $5. The cases of the others were placed on file because it was their first appearance in court as defendants. Included among them were Hailon Nargisian, 56 Central ave., Newtonville; Raymond Finnegan, 40 Myrtle st., West Newton; George Pierce, 37 Radcliffe rd., Waban.

In court last Friday Mrs. Pauline Kieven of 1181 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre was fined $5 for not stopping her car before entering a through street. A charge of speeding against her was dismissed by Judge Mayberry because she pleaded not guilty on this complaint which had been made by Patrolman Madden. Under a new method placed in effect recently by Newton police the complaining officer does not appear in court, and is represented by some policeman from the Traffic Bureau. When this method was instituted the police planned to ask for a continuance of the case if a defendant pleaded "not guilty." This would necessitate bringing the defendant into court a second time.

For the same reason Judge Mayberry in court dismissed a case against Samuel Rottenberg of 340 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre on a charge of driving by a traffic signal when pedestrian lights were on. He fined Rottenberg $5 for driving without a license in his possession.

In the Newton court last Friday Orlando Cassiani of 360 Langley rd., Newton Centre was fined $5 for not stopping at a traffic signal. In court the same day Walter Hartshorn of 950 Centre st., Newton Centre, Ralph Morrison, 158 Cabot st., Newton, and Frank Signore, 364 Boylston st., Newton Centre, were found guilty of not stopping their cars before entering through ways. Because they had no previous convictions, their cases were filed.

Automobile Accidents

Last Thursday night a car driven by Louis Sabetti of 20 Churchhill st., Newtonville, hit Florence Melgieri, 18, of 190r Adams st., Nonantum, at Watertown st., near West st., Nonantum. She received injuries to her arms and legs and was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital for treatment. Sabetti reported that the girl alighted from another car and ran in front of his.

On Thursday evening, November 21, as Mrs. Elizabeth Murphy of Homer st., Brookline, was crossing Middlesex rd., Chestnut Hill, she was hit by a car driven by Joseph Aube of Boylston st., Brookline. She received arm and shoulder injuries. Aube reported that he did not see the woman until his car hit her.

Gino Ficcardi of Needham was slightly injured last Friday when the car he was driving collided at Lowell and Highland aves., Newtonville with a car driven by Salvatore Palato of 361 Parker st., Newton Centre. His car overturned.

Mass. Taxpayers Meeting Dec. 7

The ninth annual meeting of the Mass. Federation of Taxpayers' Associations will be held at Hotel Statler, Boston on December 7. The morning session, beginning at 10:30, will be given over to the annual business meeting, at which delegates from city and town associations will elect directors of the State Federation, and will establish the legislative policy of the Federation.

Speakers of the meeting will include Governor Saltonstall, Dewitt C. Poole of Providence, former director of the Princeton School of Public Affairs; Reginald W. Bird, President of the Federation; and Norman McDonald, Executive Director of the Federation.

Burglaries in The Newtons

Newton police started an investigation last Friday of a burglary at the home of Simon Brodny, 188 Beacon st., Chestnut Hill. The house was entered during the absence of the family. The loot included a moving picture camera, two gold watches and a gold bracelet.

They also started an investigation of a burglary the preceding day at the home of Norman McCutcheon, 29 Gammons rd., Waban. Mrs. McCutcheon reported that she left her home at 11:15 a.m. and returned at 1:15 p.m., and during that interval someone entered the house and stole jewelry and silverware valued at $1500. It is supposed the intruder entered through a cellar window, and a supposedly ferocious watch-dog was in the cellar at the time.

When the family of Charles Meeker, 20 Adella ave., West Newton, returned to their home on Saturday night, after having been away for a couple of days, they found the house had been ransacked. They reported to the police that jewelry and clothing valued at $500 had been stolen.

JOE E. BROWN PRESENTED ARCHERY PARAPHERNALIA

A hobby of collecting all kinds of sports paraphernalia used in championships contests has given Joe E. Brown, noted actor and comedian, one of the most unique and interesting collections in the world. Until last week this collection contained no article pertaining to archery. Mrs. Anita Howarth of Waban, a member of the National Archery Publicity Committee and secretary of the Newton Archers, this week presented him with archery equipment used in winning the National Archery Tournament at Amherst in August. Among the articles presented were a steel arrow photographed by Ann Weber, ladies champion; a wooden arrow used by Mass. State ladies champion Thelma Phillips of Newton Centre; finger tips used by Henry Schrieder, men's State champion; Jim Waterman's bow with which he broke three world's records and used in winning several international and State championships; an arm guard signed by Bob Goldich of Newtonville, several times junior champion and the youngest Newton men's champion; flight arrows and a quiver used by other prominent archers.

Kiwanis Club

James P. Gallagher, International Vice-President of Kiwanis was the speaker at the meeting of the local Club held at the Charles River Country Club Tuesday noon. He took for his subject, "The Current Urge for Gambling." In addition, he gave a report of the last meeting of the International Board of Kiwanis.

Five turkeys were awarded to Ed Hickey, Dr. Norley, Charles Barrows, Archie Bellinger and James Gallagher.

President-elect Raymond Green presided at a meeting of the Officers and Directors who will serve the local Club during the coming year. Plans for the 1941 local program were formulated.

A special penny sale and Ladies' Night meeting of the local Club will be held Wednesday evening, December 4, at the Charles River Country Club, a steak dinner, entertainment and dancing will be enjoyed. This meeting is under the direction of the Entertainment Committee, which comprises Wilfred Chagnon, Archie Bellinger, Clarence Hutchings, Box Wilcox, Ed Welch and George Van Buskirk.

BUTTON CLUB

The regular monthly meeting of the recently-formed "Bay State Button Club" was held at the Newton Centre Woman's Club on Monday evening, November 25th. This club was formed during the summer so that enthusiastic collectors of old buttons could meet regularly to study and discuss buttons in their various aspects, both as to history and manufacture. The original meeting in July had 9 in attendance and now has 50 paid members.

The officers of this new club are as follows: President, Mrs. Edythe M. Doe, Swampscott, Mass.; vice-president, Mr. William A. Hewitt, Newton Centre, Mass.; Secretary and Treasurer, Miss Grace Codman, Waban, Mass.; Chairman, Mrs. Eugene Ashley, New Bedford, Mass.; Program Committee, Mrs. John C. Codman, Waban, Mass.; Mrs. James T. Hodnett, Newton Centre, Mass.; Mr. Carl Crummett, Newtonville, Mass.

New members are cordially invited to attend and should communicate with the secretary at 646 Chestnut st., Waban.

of the first and few certified jewelers in Boston, from Shreve, Crump and Low Company. Mr. Tyack for years has made a study of the value, beauty and history of precious stones, and is an outstanding authority in the field. Members of the Senior Women's Club have been invited to hear Mr. Tyack, who will be introduced by Miss Virginia Codman, tell of the glamor and romance of gems.

A presentation of films of the Newton Community Chest will follow, and Miss Dorothy Loud and her committee will serve refreshments.

Miss Dorothy Stuart, Miss Barbara Swenson, president; and Miss Virginia Mosser gave bridge parties in the interest of the club's charity: the Peabody Home. A basket was also prepared for a large Newton family for Thanksgiving; and one is being planned for Christmas. Proceeds from the large sale on chances for a portable radio, given by a friend of the club, will go to swell the Mes-sachusetts Federation fund for a Rolling Kitchen for England. The extra activities each month prove popular, and the evening of bowling planned for December will be one of the best.

Waban Woman's Club

The Waban Woman's Club will be entertained on music day, Monday afternoon, December 2nd, at 2:30 o'clock at the Neighborhood Club by three members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, as well as by Zaruhi Elmassian, lyric soprano, and Leo Bitwin, piano accompanist. The Symphony artists, Norbert Lauga, violin, Einar Hansen, violin, and Boaz Piller, cello, will present a program of chamber music. The tea hour will be under the direction of Mrs. Vincent O. Harkness and Mrs. B. Alden Thresher and Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller will pour. For this meeting an exhibition of unusual paintings in water colors by Polly Nordell has been arranged by Mrs. George L. Reynolds of the Art Committee and Mrs. Gordon S. Pinkham, Art Chairman.

The International Relations Committee will sponsor a lecture by Dr. Barnaby Keeney of Harvard University at the Neighborhood Club on Tuesday morning, December 3rd, at 10:15 o'clock. The lecture "Can America Be Defended?" will be followed by a discussion. Coffee will be served by the committee in charge, namely Mrs. Charles S. Hoyt, chairman, Mrs. Walter H. Heath, Mrs. Granville A. Bennett, Mrs. Chester L. Churchill, Mrs. Milton W. Heath, Mrs. Jack Wright, Mrs. Phillip L. Warren and Mrs. Charles L. Ziegler.

This committee are also making arrangements for a series of lectures and discussions on South America, which will take place on alternate Tuesday mornings in January and February, as well as preparing a bibliography of reading matter on South America with other reference books which will be on a special shelf in the Waban Library.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The International Committee are having an informal supper meeting at the Club House on Monday evening, December 2 at 6:45. After the supper at 7:45 Dr. Bhakar Hivale of Wilson College, Bombay, will speak on "India and the International Picture of Today" explaining India's place in the British Empire.

Reservations for the supper are being taken by Mrs. Henry A. Thomas, Jr., until Saturday, November 30th.

On Thursday, December 5th, at 10:15 a. m. Mrs. Marion Rudkin will be the speaker in the second of the series of talks sponsored by the Literature Committee. Mrs. Rudkin will speak at the Newton Centre Woman's Club, giving a review of the late fiction and non-fiction.

On Wednesday afternoon, December 11th, at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. C. Peter Clarke will be hostess to the afternoon study group of the Literature Department of the Newton Centre Woman's Club. Mrs. Gardner C. Walworth and Mrs. Edward Levine will give reviews of a late non-fiction and fiction. Members of the club interested in this study group are cordially invited but are asked to notify the hostess of their intention to attend.

All members are asked to save the evening of December 10th for a dinner in Chinatown. Further details will be announced at the meeting.

Recent Events

Newtonville Garden Club

A delightful meeting of the Newtonville Garden Club was held on November 21st at the home of Mrs. George Edmond, 100 Bullough park.

The usual Garden Gossip (by Group III) was called for, preceded by a paper by the former president, Mrs. C. M. Dunham, given in her own charming fashion, humorous, yet authoritative. The title "Weeds for Food"; and much interesting information was offered, bolstered occasionally by Mrs. Dunham's own experience.

The members furnished a beautiful display of autumn foliage arrangements which were judged by two capable members of the club. The resignation as Librarian by Mrs. Horace P. Coleman was heard by the members with sincere regret.

The club has made a contribution of fifteen dollars toward the ambulance which the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts is sending to Great Britain.

Mrs. Walter F. Adams of the Newtonville Garden Club gained a second prize for her attractive buffet arrangement in Class Six of the Christmas Decorations Exhibit of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, at Horticultural Hall, November 7-10.

Community Service Club

A very successful food sale was held at the regular monthly meetings of the Community Service Club of West Newton. Mrs. A. F. Whitling, chairman of the club's war relief committee, was ably assisted by Mrs. Edmund Anthony and Mrs. A. C. McKenna. The receipts from this sale will go toward the club's contribution to the rolling kitchen to be sent to England and to enable them to carry on their extensive war relief work.

A large committee has been formed to carry on this work effectively.

Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs

"The Presepi and the Christmas Spirit" will be the subject of the guest speaker, Miss Clara Lake when the Club Institute meets on Thursday, December 5, at 10:30 a. m. in the auditorium of the Y. W. A. Boston.

Mrs. Joseph H. Burnett, Chairman of Club Institutes will open the meeting and introduce Mrs. Raymond V. Wheeler who will tell about the Division of American Citizenship which she is chairman. Mrs. Josephine Bruce-Chapin, chairman of Press, will speak on the "Green Round-Up."

The Forum topic will be "Deed of Kindness." Mrs. Patrick J. Dun can, president of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, will discuss the Guiding Light Club, Mrs. John S. Light, Chairman of the Waltham Woman's Club. From the Juniors, Miss Josephine R. Bruno, Department of Junior Membership.

Mrs. Cordelia Bartlett will present Parliamentary Procedure and there will be reports about the Rolling Kitchen which the Federation is giving for British Relief.

Miss Clara Lake, the guest speaker, is from Chicago and is well known as a world traveler and lecturer. She made yearly trips abroad up to the outbreak of war and has lectured at the Art Institute in Chicago, and colleges and universities throughout the West.

The Auburndale Review Club

"Honduras and Nicaragua" was the subject of the first paper to be given at the meeting of the Review Club on Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Paul H. Tardivel of Maple St.

Mrs. Ernest Braitheate, who was chairman of the day, gave a historical sketch of the countries, and told interesting things about the people. Honduras was pictured as a country rich in mineral wealth and possessing the most up-to-date methods of travel.

Nicaragua, too, was pictured favorably, her people welcoming new ideas. A country of fine traditions, it has much artistic talent of which it is justly proud.

"Rubber, Chickles and Waxes" was the next subject by Mrs. Edward Kelly.

Mrs. Grace H. Fiske brought the program to a close with her review of "Enchanted Vagabonds" a thrilling story of adventure from start to finish.

A business meeting over which Mrs. James G. Patterson presided, had preceded the program at which time the final collection was taken for the Rolling Kitchen sponsored by the State Federation of Women's Clubs, and the treasurer of the club, Mrs. Arthur Freeman, announced that the gift from this club of forty members would be about ten dollars. After the president had extended best wishes for a happy Thanksgiving, the meeting adjourned to meet on Tuesday, December 10, with Mrs. Freeman at her home, 45 Cheswick rd.

The Newton Federation of Women's Clubs

An attractive model showing a park with trees and shrubbery bordering on a small body of water, caught the eye when the delegates to the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs entered the Community Room of the Newtonville Library on Monday morning for their monthly board meeting.

Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, who presided, presented her first vice-president Mrs. H. P. Forte, who explained that this represented the proposed park which many residents of Newton hope will be laid out on the shores of Crystal Lake and which will be dedicated to the author of "America." Later she introduced Mr. Donald MacKay, one of the aldermen of the city of Newton, under whose direction this model had been made. Mr. MacKay explained that the land chosen for this memorial was the site formerly occupied by the ice houses, and that action by the board of aldermen on a permit to erect a gas station on the same site, was being delayed until action had been taken by this group.

Explaining the appropriateness of such a memorial to Dr. Smith, he reminded his audience that the author of this song which is second only to the national anthem among all creeds and nationalities, was born in Boston, but lived for fifty years in Newton. He served for twelve years as pastor of the Baptist Church in Newton Centre during which time he baptized his parishioners in Crystal Lake.

While the speaker felt that the money necessary for such a project could easily be raised in Newton, he felt that at this time, when patriotism was running high, it might easily be made a nation-wide memorial. Following this talk, the president asked for discussion, and the board voted to go on record as approving the proposed plan.

Reports by the Standing Committee followed, and at the request of the president, each gave the highlights of the Round Tables held the previous month. Mrs. Forte, who had conducted the one for club presidents, brought three recommendations from that group. They were as follows: first, "That the last Monday in October be set aside each year by the federation for its fall meeting, hoping thereby to avoid conflicting dates with the State Federation"; second, "That a Roll-call be included as a part of each board meeting, thus making each delegate feel her presence counted"; third, "That reservations be made for members of the federation attending the Annual meeting of the State Federation each spring at Swampscott." The first two recommendations were discussed and the board voted to adopt them. The last suggestion will be discussed later.

Mrs. Pearson reminded her board that the December meeting would be omitted, and after reading a poem on Thanksgiving, she closed the session with her best wishes to each for a happy holiday season.

W. C. T. U.

The West Newton W. C. T. U. will hold their regular Evangelistic meeting at the home of Mrs. W. E. Blake, 40 Lincoln Park, West Newton on Monday evening, Dec. 2 at 7:45 o'clock. Mrs. Blake will be the leader and Mrs. Helen M. Merriam will be the assisting hostess.

AUBURNDALE CLUB PLAYERS

Auburndale Club Players will present "The Post Road," a comedy in three acts by Wilbur Daniel Steele and Norma Mitchell, on Friday and Saturday evenings, December 6 and 7, 1940, at 8:30 p. m. at the Auburndale Club House. The play is being produced under the direction of Mrs. Lester Reed.

Mrs. Ridgely Scammons will play the feminine lead as Emily Madison, and Mr. Clinton W. Elwell will play the masculine lead as Rev. Wesley Cartwright. Mrs. Eric J. Kermath will play the part of May Preble, and Mr. Eric J. Kermath will play the part of George Preble.

It takes Wallop to make a Champ

YOU don't have to be a sports fan to get this:

You've got to have what it takes if you hope to be a standout in this man's country!

Lots of men—and lots of cars—have looked the part and talked the part—but just weren't there when the chips were down.

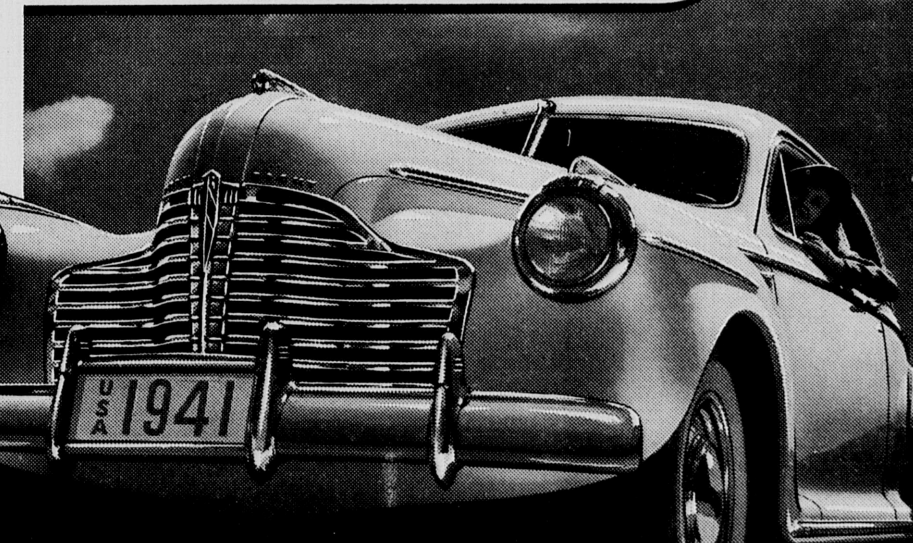

That's why you find Buick has dodged special devices and shortcuts in its great 1941 line of cars.

That's why we went right to the heart of the matter—and packed a bigger-than-ever wallop in that husky Dynaflex power plant.

It's that wallop that's making Buick the value champion all over the country today.

The wallop that lets you travel farther on every gallon of gas—as much as 10% to 15% more miles on each gallon!

The wallop that swings you up the hills without ever touching the gearshift, that lets you throttle down in traffic to creep-speed, then lift away again still in high.

The wallop that shoots you off like a flash, pulls you through tough going with "so-what" indifference, makes every steady, silken mile a thrill to be remembered.

It's an exclusively Buick wallop—the wallop of FIREBALL design and Compound Carburetion, available in no other car on the market!

And if you think we're kidding about what these two things do, we're ready to show you with cold-turkey demonstration any time you say.

HERE'S MODERN ECONOMY

New Ordinance On Zoning and Sizes Of Lots In Newton

Section 571 of the Revised Ordinances of 1939 is hereby amended by striking out that section and inserting in place thereof the following:

Section 571. The City of Newton is hereby divided into districts of seven classes, to be known respectively as:
Single Residence A District
Single Residence B District
Single Residence C District
Private Residence District
General Residence District
Business District
Manufacturing District

The districts are indicated on the plans accompanying this ordinance, entitled "City of Newton, Massachusetts, Zoning Plan," dated December 27, 1922 as amended from time to time, signed by the City Engineer of said City, and these plans and all explanatory matter thereon are hereby made a part of this ordinance.

Streets, commons, the public greens, parks, playgrounds, public school grounds, cemeteries, railroad locations, water works reservations, used as such, and lands of the County and Commonwealth, used for County or State purposes, are not included in any district, provided that, if the uses above specified are temporarily or permanently abandoned no building or structure shall be used and no alteration of any building or use of any land shall be permitted until the land, buildings, or structures so changed in use shall have been zoned by the Board of Aldermen.

Section 572 of the Revised Ordinances of 1939 is hereby amended by striking out the first five words in Paragraph B thereof and inserting in place thereof the following four words: "In Single Residence Districts."

Section 572 of the Revised Ordinances of 1939 is hereby further amended by striking out the first five words of Paragraph C thereof and inserting in place thereof the following four words: "In Single Residence Districts."

Section 577 of the Revised Ordinances of 1939 is hereby amended by striking out the said section and inserting in place thereof the following:

Section 577.
A. In Single Residence Districts A, B, and C there shall be provided for each dwelling hereafter erected the following minimum lot areas and minimum lot widths respectively:

Single Residence	Lot Area	Lot Width
A 15,000 sq. ft.	100 ft.
B 10,000 sq. ft.	80 ft.
C 7,000 sq. ft.	70 ft.

B. In Private and General Residence Districts there shall be provided for each dwelling, apartment house or apartment hotel where such use is permitted, hereafter erected, a lot area of not less than 7,000 square feet and a lot width of not less than 70 feet.
C. In the case of a rear lot not having the required frontage on the street, or a lot fronting on a street line having a curvature with a radius of less than 200 feet, the required lot width shall be measured respectively along the rear line of the lot or lots in front of it or along thereof shall read: "In Business and Manufacturing Districts."

BOSTON EDISON COMPANY

Invitation for Proposals for Purchase of Bonds

Proposals for the purchase as a whole of an issue of $53,000,000 First Mortgage Bonds, Series A, Due 1970 of Boston Edison Company, a Massachusetts corporation, will be received at the office of the Treasurer of the Company, 182 Tremont Street, Boston, Massachusetts, up to eleven (11) o'clock in the forenoon Eastern Standard Time on December 2, 1940. The Bonds are to be dated as of December 1, 1940, to be due December 1, 1970, with interest payable semi-annually on the first day of June and December of each year at a rate either of 2 3/4% or 3% to be determined after proposals have been received, and are to be issued under a proposed Indenture of Trust and First Mortgage to be made to State Street Trust Company, State and Congress Streets, Boston, Massachusetts, as Trustee. For redemption and sinking fund provisions (other than the redemption prices which in each case will depend upon the bid), for a description of additional bonds which may be issued under and secured by the Indenture for the property subject to the lien of the Indenture and the nature and extent of lien, and for other terms of the Bonds and of the Indenture, reference is made to a draft of the Indenture, copies of which may be examined at said offices of State Street Trust Company and of the Treasurer of the Company. Copies of the official Prospectus, including a statement of the method of determining said redemption prices, may also be obtained at said offices of State Street Trust Company and of the Treasurer of the Company. Temporary bonds will be delivered on the delivery date, to be determined later, in bearer form without coupons, registrable as to principal only, in the denomination of $1,000, and will be exchangeable for permanent Bonds in coupon form, registrable as to principal only, in the denomination of $1,000, or in fully registered form without coupons in denominations of $1,000 or authorized multiples thereof.

Each proposal shall be for the entire issue and shall state: (1) the names and addresses of all persons participating therein, and if more than one participant shall designate one or more representatives authorized to bid for and execute the underwriting or purchase agreement in behalf of all those participating; (2) the price which it is proposed to pay for the entire issue, which price shall be not less than $53,000,000, plus accrued interest, and if more than one participant the commitment of each participant; (3) the rate of interest (which shall be either 2 3/4% or 3%) upon which the price proposed is based; and (4) whether if the proposal is accepted the bidder proposes to resell to the public. Any bidder may submit bids at both 2 3/4% and 3%, but each bid at either rate must be for the entire issue.

Any proposal from an underwriter must be accompanied by a statement of its relationship, or the relationship of its officers, to State Street Trust Company or its officers, so that the Company may determine whether, under the provisions of Section 310 (b) of the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, State Street Trust Company would be disqualified from acting as Trustee under the Indenture if such proposal were accepted.

The bidder whose proposal is accepted will be required to execute an agreement to purchase the Bonds and to furnish information which is required by law to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Forms of agreement, instructions to bidders and a statement of the information required may be obtained at said offices of State Street Trust Company and of the Treasurer of the Company.

The Company reserves the right to reject any and all proposals. This advertisement is an advertisement for proposals only and prior to the acceptance of any proposal the bidder will be furnished with a copy of the official Prospectus.

the set back line; and in all other cases along the street line. In the case of corner lots the width when measured on the street line shall run to the point of intersection of the two street lines.

D. No new buildings shall be constructed and no existing buildings shall be altered, extended or reconstructed to provide living quarters for more than one family for each 3,000 square feet of lot area in Private Residence Districts and for each 1,200 square feet of lot area in General Residence, Business and Manufacturing Districts.

E. Paragraphs A, B, and C shall not apply to lots not in compliance therewith which, prior to October 11, 1940, were shown as separate parcels on the Assessors' Plans, filed in the Assessors' Office and were assessed as such, or were so shown on subdivision plans approved by the Planning Board, acting as the Board of Survey or were so shown or described in plans or deeds duly recorded with the Middlesex South District Registry of Deeds; provided, however, that the said paragraphs shall apply to any such lot, the lot lines of which shall have been changed since October 11, 1940. The lot lines of a lot shall be deemed to have been changed if they are so shown or described on a recorded plan or conveyance, or if the said lot is combined in use with other land as the site of one dwelling house, or apartment house where such is permitted.

Section 581 of the Revised Ordinances of 1939 is hereby amended by inserting between the words "business" and "manufacturing" in the first line thereof the word "and" and by striking out in the second line thereof the words "and unrestricted" so that the first clause of said section shall read: "In General Residence, Business and Manufacturing Districts."

Section 584 of the Revised Ordinances of 1939 is hereby amended by inserting between the words "business" and "manufacturing" in the first line thereof the word "and" and by striking out from the first line thereof the words "and unrestricted" so that the first clause

A. In Single Residence and Private Residence Districts the set-back line shall be twenty-five feet, and in General Residence Districts and in the case of dwelling houses in Business and Manufacturing Districts the set-back line shall be fifteen feet; except that no building need be set back more than the average of the set-backs of the buildings on the lots adjacent thereto on either side, a vacant lot or a lot occupied by a building set back more than twenty-five or fifteen feet respectively being counted as though occupied by a building set back twenty-five feet in the case of Single or Private Residence Districts and fifteen feet in the case of General Residence, Business and Manufacturing Districts, but in no case shall any part of a building in a Residence District except nearer any street line than ten feet. For the purposes of this section the distance to the street shall be measured from the nearest point of the building, not including steps. No building shall be erected on a rear lot nearer than 25 feet to the rear line of the lot or lots in front of such rear lot.

B. In Single Residence A Districts no dwelling house shall be nearer to any side lot line than twelve and one-half feet or nearer to any rear lot line than 25 feet, except that no rear yard shall be required to be greater than twenty-five per cent of the depth of the lot. In all other districts no dwelling house shall be nearer to any side lot line than seven and one-half feet or nearer to any rear lot line than fifteen feet. In no Residence District shall an accessory building be nearer to any lot line than five feet. Said distance shall be measured to that portion of the house or accessory building nearest the line.

The Revised Ordinances of 1939 are hereby further amended by inserting after Section 592 the following new section:

SECTION 592A. In case the application of the provisions of Sections 577 or 587 hereof unreasonably restricts the use of any lot and the character of the surrounding neighborhood is such that desirable relief may be granted without substantial detriment to the public good, and without substantially derogating from the intent or purpose of this ordinance, the Board of Aldermen in accordance with the provisions of Section 593 may grant permission for such variance from the provisions of said sections as they may deem proper; provided, that in all cases arising under this section notice of the application for such variance shall be given by the City Clerk to the Planning Board at least ten days prior to final action by the Board of Aldermen; and if the Planning Board shall fail to approve said variance prior to such final action, it may be granted only by a three-fourths vote of all the members of the Board of Aldermen; otherwise it may be granted by a two-thirds vote of all the members of the Board of Aldermen. Before any variance is granted the committee considering any application under this section shall in its report recommending such variance set forth the character of the surrounding neighborhood and the reasons why the application of either of said sections unreasonably restricts the use of said lot.

Newton Rates 5th In October Building

The report of the State Department of Labor and Industries for the month of October shows that Newton was seventh among Massachusetts cities in building activities insofar as residence construction is concerned. Boston was first with $1,738,500 (including the Federal housing project at Jamaica Plain to cost $1,493,000); New Bedford was second with $700,000 (including a Federal housing project of $690,123); Belmont third, $157,150; Worcester fourth, $153,825; Winchester fifth, $143,800, including a $66,000 apartment building; Cambridge sixth, including a $120,000 apartment house; Newton seventh, $125,000. Excluding the cities where large housing projects are in progress, and the two where apartment buildings are included, Newton ranks fourth.

In general building construction Newton rated fifth, with $227,611. It was exceeded by Boston, New Bedford, Worcester and Lynn.

50th Reunion of High School Class of 1890

The coming celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Class of 1890, Newton High School, brings to the mind of some of the “old time” Newtonites recollections of one of the highest rated athletic classes ever to represent the Newton High School.

In its freshman year the class consisted of seventy girls and eighty-five boys.

School, and last, but not least the Marions of Brookline, then the finest amateur team in the state. Arlington High was the only club to beat N. H. S. '90.

Several years after graduation the '90 team played each year's regular N. H. S. nine and it was only after ten years that '90 finally went down to defeat. The '90 team was made up of the following players: Bangs,

Starting the football season the freshman class organized its football team. The schedule adopted was perhaps over-ambitious in the selection of opponents. Most of the games played were with older and heavier players, but despite this handicap, the boys put up a rugged battle and while victories were few and far between, they commanded the respect of their opponents and the school. In the tennis tournament E. Ray Spere took first prize from players from all classes. But it was the baseball team which gave the class its fine athletic reputation. Disdaining to play mere freshman teams from other schools its schedule included games with regular high school nines. The following regular High School teams were played and defeated: Newton High, Needham High, Cambridge Latin—also N. H. S. '89, Allen

c. Waters, p; Harkins, 1b; Burrage, 2b; Smith, ss; Coffin, 3b; Stacey, lf; Morton, cf; and Ballou, rf. Substitutes Allen Davis and Fitz. Much of the success of the team was due to its battery, Bert Waters and Charley Bangs.

Roomer Robs Landlady Of Jewelry And Radio

Mrs. Ann McCarthy of 54 Park st., Newton, reported to the police on Saturday that a man about 26 years old hired a room at her house on that day. Later that day, during her absence from the house, the new roomer stole jewelry, a radio set, and $10 in cash from the house and made his escape. The loot was valued at $200.

Protest Against Gasoline Permit

A petition of Mrs. Kathleen Grant for a permit to install a tank for the storage of 250 gallons of gasoline at her property, 467 California st., Newtonville, was given a hearing before the Board of Aldermen on Monday night. John Maguire, as attorney for Mrs. Grant stated that his client had first asked for a permit to store 500 gallons of gasoline, but had reduced this quantity. He said she is a widow with four children dependent on her, and is carrying on the business conducted formerly by her late husband. He stated that before zoning was established an express business was conducted at the California st. address by Arthur Gibson, and that Mr. Gibson continued in business at this locus until several years ago, when Mr. Grant bought the property.

Ex-Alderman Dennis Cronin appeared to protest against the petition. He said he represented 18 owners of nearby properties. He told the Board that the petitioner has given up an office she rented at 327 Washington st., Newton, and proposes to conduct the express business at 467 California st., which is in a residential zone. He contradicted the statement made by Attorney Maguire that there had been a non-conforming express business conducted by Mr. Gibson at that locus. Mr. Cronin argued that Mrs. Grant works at another occupation during the day, and that there would be a fire hazard with children at her home and a large quantity of gasoline stored in the yard. He said that to permit the express business there, would be an opening wedge for other business in that neighborhood, and that values of nearby properties would be injured. He urged that the zoning ordinance be upheld.

Mrs. Grant, in reply to Mr. Cronin's statement, said the express business had not been carried on at the California st. address. She said she now has an office at 345 Washington st. A letter of protest against the petition was received from the Newtonville Improvement Association.

Girl Loses Eye In Auto Crash

Miss Frances Hammell, 19, of 22 Lafayette rd., Newton Lower Falls, received such a severe injury to her left eye early Sunday morning, that the eye had to be removed in an operation at the Newton Hospital by Dr. Virgil Casten of 1038 Centre st., Newton Centre. Miss Hammell was riding in an automobile driven by Joseph Kelley, 22, of 42 Chesley rd., Newton Centre, about 2:30 a. m. Sunday when the car collided at the intersection of Walnut and Watertown sts., Newtonville, with a milk delivery automobile driven by Mesag Aseberkian, 50, of Framingham. Kelley was driving North on Walnut st. The milk truck was going West along Watertown st. Kelley reported that he stopped his car in conformity with the flashing red light, and was proceeding in second speed when the crash occurred. Aseberkian said he was driving only 5 miles an hour.

Kelley reported that he, Catherine York, 153 Linwood ave., Newtonville, and Charles Cassidy, 59 North st., Newton Centre, both riding in his car, were also injured, but they did not go to the hospital. Garabed Kherderian, 60, of Nichols ave., Watertown, riding in the milk truck, was slightly injured, and was taken to Newton Hospital.

Merchant Marine Vets Get Charter

The U. S. Merchant Marine Vets, 1917-1918, last Friday night received a charter to institute Captain Alexander C. Corkum Post, World War Veterans of the United States Merchant Marine at Bay State Hall. The Charter was presented by National Adjutant W. K. Nelson. The work of instituting the new post was performed by National Senior Vice-Commander John Bettencourt, who was assisted by National Junior Vice-Commander George Walsh of Newton.

Guest of honor and honorary member was Captain Alexander C. Corkum of Waban, who recently crossed the 80th Meridian of Life, and in whose honor the post was named. Captain Corkum was accompanied by members of his family. He recounted his experiences in the World War when his exploits twice earned for him the thanks of the British Admiralty and was personally complimented by Admiral Wells, Admiral Napier and Admiral Jellicoe.

Former Mayor Edwin O. Childs of Newton was the principal speaker. Officers of the Captain Alexander C. Corkum Post, Newton, are J. Kenneth Goggin, Commander (Walton); Emory Douglas, Brighton; Senior V. C. Hollis Wyman, Auburn; Jr. V. C., George Gilman, West; Adjutant, Charles Berard, Watertown; Quartermaster, Henry Keefe, Watertown; and William Fitzpatrick, Newton Lower Falls, Sergeants-at-Arms; Patrick North, Watertown, and Walter Miller, Newtonville, Directors.

Found Not Guilty Of Drunken Driving

William Miller-Jones, 45, of 456 Lowell ave., Newtonville, was found not guilty in the Newton court last Friday by Judge Donald Mayberry on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. Inspector Dowling of the Traffic Bureau testified that about 5:30 p. m. on November 12 a car driven by the defendant hit the traffic-signal control box at the corner of Center st. and Commonwealth ave., breaking it. The traffic signals, as a result, were out of commission for a couple of days.

Dominic Caliguri of Riverdale ave., Nonantum, testified that he was driving a car behind that of Miller-Jones, saw the defendant's car knock over the control box and continue on, that he followed the other car, obtained the registration numbers, and reported the matter at police headquarters a few minutes later.

Inspector Dowling testified that upon getting the numbers from Caliguri he went to Miller-Jones' residence, and found his car had just pulled up in front of the house. It was operated by an employee of a Newton Centre filling station who told Dowling that shortly before the car had been driven into the filling station with two occupants, and he had been asked to drive it to the Lowell ave. address, and that the owner was in the back seat. Dowling testified that Miller-Jones was seated in the back seat of the car, drunk, and that when he was asked by the officer if he had hit the control box at Newton Centre, the defendant had replied that he “had just grazed it.” Dowling then placed the defendant under arrest. Dowling also testified that there was a quart bottle of whiskey in the car, partly empty, and a couple of cans of beer. Miller-Jones' attorney argued that the police had not offered sufficient evidence to warrant the conviction of his client on the charge of driving a car while under the influence of liquor. Judge Mayberry found the defendant not guilty on this charge. He found him guilty on the charge of drunkenness and placed the case on file.

then put and lost. Alderman Rawson then asked Hoffman what useful result would come from delaying action on the matter. Alderman Hoffman replied that the city would get more support from those now opposing the ordinance if their desires were recognized, and that exceptions to the ordinance would be less numerous. Rawson asked Hoffman if he had not attended the first three hearings and observed the large majority in favor of the ordinance.

The question was then put and carried. Those voting in favor were: Aldermen Barvise, Colby, Cronin, Eaton, Everts, Fahey, Inches, Jamieson, Lee, Lockwood, McKay, Rawson, Schipper, Walker, Whidden and Floyd. Those voting in the negative were: Aldermen Hoffman, Hughes and Temperley.

December, Not June

December is the month of marriages in Alabama's capital city and county. Figures released by the state health department disclose that Montgomery county had more December marriages for the past three years than for any other single month.
